

CLINTON CREDIBILITY: A CONTRADICTION IN TERMS

LIL WILLIE CENTER SPRING CARNIVAL

Why are Democrats tolerating Hillary Clinton's selfish juggernaut to destroy the Democratic Party? They're sitting around allowing their nomination process to be corrupted, then asking, "Why can't Obama close the deal?" Open your eyes, Democrats! The man is fighting Hillary, Bill, the entire Republican Party, plus Rush Limbaugh and the entire FOX news staff.

No wonder Democrats can't win an election. The Republicans must be falling down backwards laughing at their stupidity. Isn't there anyone left with enough common sense to see that their acting as accessories to Hillary's collusion with the Republican Party to sabotage the November election?

Even the corporate media couldn't avoid reporting the unprecedented numbers of Republicans that crossed over to vote democratic in the Pennsylvania primary. ABC news quoted Bill Meck, a Republican voter for 41 years, as saying, he crossed over to vote Democratic because, "I wanted to be a part of the choice." That's Republican shorthand for I wanted to choose the Democratic nominee.

ABC news went on to report that "many new registrants spoke openly about changing their party affiliation to give McCain "a better shot in November." The report indicates that in Pennsylvania's Perry and Northumberland counties - "historically conservative, having voted for Bush in 2004 in wide margins"- officials said that many voters said they were crossing over to help the Republican Party. The report indicated that crossover voting was "proportionally large" this year, and "the pattern echoes in the Republican crossovers in the run-up to the Texas and Ohio primaries." Thus, they are effectively invalidating the results of the remaining primaries.

The Republicans are openly manipulating the Democratic Party's selection process. And Hillary Clinton not only realizes that, but is just as openly colluding with the Republicans to blackmail the Democratic Party. She's forcing the Democrats to either dance to her music, or face the prospect of a fractured party and a possible defeat in the November.

Hillary's using the clout that's being gleefully provided to her by her Republican comrades as leverage in an attempt to completely overrule the Democratic

WINPOP "Women In Pursuit of Purpose"

Minority Voice - May 23 - May 31, 2008pg9

Pastor Sheila Ingram

Women on the Rise Ready Willing and Able recognized as an orphan, and her life changed in a moment, a circumstance of sorrow. Mourning the death of her parents, uprooted and sent to her cousin to be raised. The name Ester means "Star". She was lovely and beautiful, but as an orphan she was recognized as one of the four most beautiful women in the world.

Ester's position in life was one that was simple without the trimmings and the riches of life. That's why you can't concentrate on the circumstance and what you have today. Your faith and the word of God empower you to look past your yesterday and take control and position yourself for something better. That means staying in a place of honoring God, of prayer and Worship. This is the formula that pushes burdens off. This is the formula that will push back the hand of the enemy and allow the heaven to flow down blessings, peace and strength.

You may be in a situation right now and have given up thinking you have been forgotten, you belong to God and his desire is to see you run the race with strength. You may be wondering when it is going to be my turn to receive, why do I feel as if I'm overlooked and forgotten. I came to remind you that you need to remember who you belong to and the script for your life has already been written and no devil, no person of thing can alter it. Only you can change the course by decision you make and the refusal to change positions. Are there any women reading this article willing to rise up and take a stand for their life? Are there any women who are READY, WILLING and ABLE...? "For you can do all things through Christ who strengthens you". For he is the hope of Glory. And because he lives in you lean on his strength and what he says you can do and stop focusing on your weaknesses. Rise up and take your place. There's a shift going on. There's healing right where you are. Our God said he would never leave us nor forsake us so he's there right now with you. There's power right now.

There's an assignment attached to your life, something you laid down a long time ago the lord is telling you today pick it up and run with it in my ability not yours. Refuse to listen to doubters. Hang with people that celebrate you not tolerate you.

Paul taught that it's not always an instant victory, Victory only comes through battle, and the triumph only fools the trails. Psalm 28 vs. 8 The Lord is their strength and he is the saving refuge of his anointed. The thunder gives birth prematurely. But in the temple of God there is a vantage point where all in safety and security can see the awesome power of God and respond with applauding shouts of glory. 2nd Corinthians 9 and he said to me "My Grace is sufficient for you, for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Therefore most gladly I will boast in my infirmities, that the power of Christ may rest upon me".

There is a process in beholding the beauty of God. Its qualifications are different from the standards of the world. You may not see your answer you're looking for right away but know whenever Satan buffets you it's just a process to build character. You can boast in your weaknesses because Jesus grace and strength is sufficient to enable you to continue in your walk with the Lord. For when you are weak you are made strong in him. Without strength you will not be able to endure you will not be able to be prepared for the King in spirit and truth. Ester's process was no different from ours her walk was a hard long one but she allowed the preparation for the presentation on the Queen to manifest in beauty and in strength.

It is now time of strategic planning and positioning. It's a time of seriousness and preparation for change, preparation for reaping from seed that has been sown in times past. The year 2008 represents the year of new beginnings. It's a time that will benefit those who recognize that you must position yourself and get hooked up with those with vision and purpose. In 2007 it was the year the Jewish people took a rest, it was their sabbatical year, and they recognize the principle of sowing and reaping. It's the year they take a break to receive the rest to receive the blessings of the Lord that have been held up. I've come to let you know circumstances that appear to look like the end is coming, can in fact be the beginning of a good thing. This is why the word of God tells us to call those things that be not as though they were. If we continue to see through the natural eye we will surely miss our spiritual blessings. Never judge yourself on where you stand today, never settle for what you think about yourself; but instead focus on who God says you are, what God says you can have. God has already spoken of who you are from the foundation of the world. While in the secret place it was there that the Lord places your unique blend and mixture as a women being different and bringing different qualities to the table. Creating you from nothing for in creation we understand that it didn't exist before. As the Lord began to form you it was the formation that put the curves the forming and shaping of your life. It was from the rib of man that you were brought forth, the bible says from the rib of the man also known as the chamber. Studying chamber you will find it to be a secret place, a place that is commonly know to be found in a palace. So in knowing this we recognize that even when we were in the rib of the man the Lord tucked us away in a chamber a private place, a chamber fit for a queen. Circumstances try to speak louder than the voice of the Lord. The negative tries to smother the gifts and callings that were placed in you from the beginning of time. For you are fearfully and wonderfully made. The natural mind will always bring conflict to the spirit. So if you are a believer you must believe the report of the Lord concerning your life, there must be a faith tank operating in you that cannot get low. Prayer will keep you full in the overflow; your worship will keep you flowing in the overflow. I've come to remind you of the power that rest in you. I've come to challenge you to cut off anything and anyone who stops the plans and purpose of God for your life.

National Committee, and the agreement that all Democratic candidates signed—including herself—not to count the votes from Florida and Michigan for violating the Democratic Party's rules. But now using those very results, of the Florida and Michigan primaries, to claim that she's ahead in the popular vote—and that's in spite of the fact that Obama wasn't even on the ballot in Michigan.

From Hillary's point of view, her collusion with the Republican Party is a win, win situation—it keeps her campaign viable in the primaries, and as she sees it, gives her two shots at becoming president. It gives her the time to damage Obama as much as possible. As a result, she concludes, she will render Obama so damaged that even if she doesn't get the nomination this year, Obama will lose in November, and she'll still be young enough to run again in 2012.

The Republicans benefit from this arrangement because they desperately want to run against Hillary. They know that she's severely damaged goods. Sen. Obama is so clean that the Republicans know that the only way they can go after him is by trying to smear anyone that he's ever said good morning to. But they can easily show that Hillary has a propensity for lying, and thus, cannot be trusted.

If Hillary became the nominee, the Republicans can show that she flat-out lied about the Bosnian incident, and then once she was caught in the lie, she told another lie about why she lied. In addition, even while she was telling middle-class workers whose jobs had been outsourced that she was against NAFTA, it was revealed that she not only supported NAFTA, but even as she was speaking, both her top campaign advisor, Mark Penn, and her husband, Bill, were being paid by the Colombian government to lobby for yet another such agreement on it's behalf. Then, after claiming to fire Mrk Penn, she simply took his name off the door.

An further, they can show that Hillary's unethical conduct goes all the way back to the very beginning of her career. Jerry Zeifman, who employed Hillary while he was chief counsel for the House Judiciary Committee during the Watergate hearings, indicated that he fired Hillary and refused to give her a letter of recommendation due to unethical behavior when she lied in a legal brief for the committee, and thereafter, attempted to cover it up by removing documents from the public domain.

And now we find that Los Angeles Superior Court Judge Aurelio Munoz has required Hillary Clinton to testify in a 1.2 million FEC civil fraud case brought against the Clintons by California Millionaire, Peter Paul. Judge Munoz ruled, however, that Hillary wouldn't have to testify until after the November election. In making the highly unusual ruling, Judge Munoz remarked to David Kendall, Hillary's defense attorney, Say hello to, my friend, Bill.

Yet, in light of all of this baggage, Hillary has gone before the American people, the Democratic Party, and the superdelegates and said, "I'm most electable." It has become abundantly clear that this lady doesn't even have a passing acquaintance with credibility, and it is past time for the superdelegates to bring this madness to an end.
