LITTLE BITS.

Cream of Local News Boiled Down for Busy Folks.

To-morrow is Old Christmas.

A new fence has been built in front of the Methodist parsonage.

This morning's train had the smallest number of passengers of any day this week.

It is time for giving in purchase taxes, a job that the merchants take to very reluctantly.

The cold weather brought more wild duck up the river than are usually seen in this section.

For Seed, Second Crop Bliss Triumph $3.50 per bbl., for ten days only, at the Old Brick Store.

Broken new year resolutions not received a subscription at this office. They are out of date now.

Remember your good resolutions and keep them, that is until you are real thirsty, or must have a smoke.

The farmers of Robeson county are making up a car load of corn to be sent to the people of Nebraska.

We are glad to learn that Mr. Herman Wilson has received an appointment in the U. S. mail service. His run will be from Washington to Charleston. He will go on duty in a few days and has two days on and four days off.

Rev. J. N. H. Summerell, of Tarboro, will preach in Falkland to-morrow morning and in Greenville to-morrow night.

The Raleigh News and Observer says the condition of Mr. J. H. Barnhill, who was recently sent from this county to the insane asylum, is much improved.

There is an old saying that a good fruit year follows a sleet or freeze between Christmas and New Year. Then there ought to be an abundance of fruit this year.

Three marriage licenses issued by the Register of Deeds to-day. H. S. Corbett and Mittie Mills, Abram Crandall and Fannie Langely, John Baker and Carrie Harris.

Services Tomorrow.

Dat Ends It

A colored man walked twelve miles to Greenville to-day for the purpose of procuring a marriage license so he could get married to-morrow. A friend went with him to the Register's office to make the proper application, and everything moved along well until Deputy Rip Ward asked the age of the girl. "Sixteen was the reply. This caused a hitch in the proceedings and the deputy explained that a license could not be issued for a girl of that age without the written consent of her folks which the prospective groom was told he would have to go back and obtain. The darkey left muttering "No, sah! Ef I got ter walk way back for dat and cum ergin, dat ends it right now."

D. J. WHICHARD, Editor.

Subscription 25 cents per Month.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

John E. Woodard has again declined the appointment as Solicitor of this district, tendered by Gov. Carr, and W. P. Shaw, of Henderson, was appointed. W. C. Douglass, of Carthage, was appointed in the seventh district.

The News and Observer says the Fusion clans are already gathering in Raleigh making ready for the Legislature which convenes next Wednesday. The office seekers are there in great numbers and opening their headquarters.

Rev. Irl Hicks, of St. Louis, the man who hits the weather forecasts on the head more accurately than any other of school of prophets, says that the roughest and worst part of the present winter is to come in February and March. If it is to be any worse than the past week we are not anxious to see it.

The Newbern Journal, in publishing the statement of the Commissioners of Craven county, notes the fact that when the Democrats took charge of the county finances, there was a debt of $165,000 which had been saddled upon the county by Republican Commissioners. The Democrats have kept up the interest, reduced the debt to $50,945.53, and will shortly pay $25,000 on this amount.

We welcome the DAILY (Greenville) REFLECTOR to our table. We consider Editor Whichard one of the best editors of the North Carolina weekly press, and he is giving his readers a bright little daily.—Washington Gazette.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 4, 1895.

President Cleveland has not fully decided to send a special message to Congress urging the necessity for financial legislation at this season, but he has had the subject under consideration and will gladly send in a special message if he thinks it will aid the cause of currency reform. As there are a considerable number of Democratic members of the House who have not yet returned to Washington, it is probable that the decision as to the proposed Democratic caucus on the Carlisle currency reform bill will go over to next week, general debate on the bill continuing meanwhile in the House.

The idea of the Democratic leaders in the House is to try to meet all reasonable objections to the Carlisle bill by amendments and then to put the bill through the House by a majority so large that the Senate will be compelled by public opinion to act upon the measure. They wish to get the fullest possible attendance at the caucus and to have every objection to the bill frankly stated. There is no desire to muzzle anybody, or to ask anyone to vote for the bill who cannot be convinced that it is at least a step towards relief.

Notwithstanding all the wild talk about Democratic opposition to the Carlisle bill, your correspondent unhesitatingly predicts that when the bill is put upon its final passage in the House there will not be 25 Democratic votes recorded against it. But the bill may be considerably changed by amendments before it is voted upon. Whatever is done with it, it should in the end be passed (even if it did not deserve to be on its merits), as a vote of confidence by a Democratic Congress in a Democratic administration.

Treasury officials now only await the appropriation to start the machinery for the collection of the income tax, and there is no doubt of the final passage of the bill containing that appropriation by the Senate—it has already passed the House—but it will be delayed by some Republican buncombe speeches against the tax.

Woman at the Helm.

The San Francisco Examiner made an interesting experiment recently. It turned over one entire issue to a woman's benevolent association. The paper was made up entirely by women, only the mechanical part being done by men, and the entire proceeds of the edition were given to charity. Every department was under the direction and control of a woman. A woman presided in the business office, a woman acted as editor-in-chief, all the writers and even the "office boys" were women or girls. Woman was boss in the composing room, in the press room, the mailing room—everywhere. The bright and energetic women who undertook this task accomplished it most successfully. The paper came out on time, was full of news and interesting editorial comment. A great deal of curiosity had been aroused to see how the amateur women journalists would succeed, and consequently the sales of the paper were unusually heavy. The Memphis, Tenn., Commercial will try this experiment on St. Valentine's Day with the object of starting a fund for erecting a woman's temple in that city similar to the building of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union in Chicago. Memphis has a host of bright women and there will be no lack of volunteers from their ranks to assist in getting out the woman's edition of the Commercial.

DON'T BORROW TROUBLE.

Borrowing is a poor business at the best; but of all the unsatisfactory, nor return for your pains occupations, the worst in the world is borrowing trouble. To begin with, it is based on fancy, crankiness, vaporings, undue nervousness or the mental or moral idiosyncrasies that should have been trained out of the individual long before the years of childhood were passed. There are few people in the world more depressing and disheartening than those who are always seeing some shadow of coming evil.

The world is somber enough even at the best, and it is scarcely worth while to go out seeking for shadows or to conjure up purely imaginary ones. As a matter of course, everybody must die some day, but that is no reason why there should be a constant apprehension and never ending weary lest ill befall them even while they are yet in good health. However hard and wearisome the path of life may be, no one yet made it easier or smoother by worry. It means nothing more or less than paralysis of all the brighter side of many natures.

Of course, those who worry do so because they are very unhappy and concerned about somebody, but it may be easily questioned whether those they are worried about are not made quite as unhappy as the worriers themselves. Take it all in all, philosophyizes the New York Ledger, it may be put down as fundamental rule of life that the old saying about never crossing bridges before one gets to them has as much profound philosophy in it as is possible to put into the same number of words.
