TELEGRAPH NEWS.

Cholera has broken out in Constantinople.

Fire at Utica, N. Y., destroyed $100,000 worth of property.

The Bodmann leaf tobacco warehouse, at Cincinnati, was destroyed by fire, loss on stock estimated at $500,000 and on building at $60,000.

The Governor of South Carolina has discovered that nearly every dispensary keeper in the State is short in his accounts, the shortages ranging from $800 to $1,500.

F. D. Miller and his six-year-old son were burned to death in their home at Pittsburg. Other members of the family escaped by jumping from the second story of the burning building.

Robbers boarded a Santa Fe train while it was stopped at a coaling station in Kansas and instead of blowing open the express car in the regulation manner, went through the passenger coach and ordering "hands up" relieved passengers of all valuables about their person.

THE LEGISLATURE.

TUESDAY.

The most important new bills were as follows: To provide for the beginning of all court terms on Tuesday instead of Monday; to allow corporations to become guardians and give bonds; to incorporate the South-Atlantic Life and Endowment Company of Raleigh; to prevent the adulteration of food and drugs; to satisfy certain judgments against the university trustees; to amend and enforce the State's anti-trust laws; to maintain the Colored Agricultural and Mechanical College; to increase the appropriation to the Colored Orphanage at Oxford; to lessen court costs by cutting off long speeches of lawyers; to provide for local assessments in aid of public schools.

There was a long debate in the Senate on a bill to improve the roads of the State by taxation and convict labor, no women to be thus employed, and the Superintendent of the Penitentiary shall have charge of the health and diet of said convicts. The bill passed—30 to 10—Democrats voting nay. It proposes to abolish the penitentiary farms.

Bills passed the House allowing convicts to be worked in several counties on the roads, no females to be thus employed, and no convicts to be whipped; to amend the charters of Elizabeth City and Edenton so as to make them Republican; to amend the charter of the Atlantic and Lanville railway; to incorporate the Carolina Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Charlotte.

Here It Is.

Getting a daily paper such weather as this ought to be appreciated by our people. In rain, hail, snow or sunshine it goes to you every day giving you the news fresh. Don't you think it is your duty to give us enough patronage so we can make this paper even better and larger?

It seems that the Republicans are on top in Raleigh. They oppose the cumulative plan of voting. Messrs. Butler, Skinner and Co. are heartily in favor of it. Mr. Butler has met his first defeat and is somewhat discomfited. The Republicans are determined to have the county government bill like they want and the Populists are going to yield unless we are mistaken. Poor deluded creatures! They are being led in a body into the Republican party, and yet a few years ago they had nothing but abuse for that party.

Mr. Lusk, of Buncombe, made a fool of himself in the House Tuesday over the bill to work convicts on the public roads. One would have thought that he was the guardian angel of one Sarah Taylor, colored, whom it is said was possessed of seven devils and whom Mr. Lusk said was whipped because she refused to work in his county. He charged heinous crimes to the Democratic party. When Messrs. Ray, Peebles and McClammy came to the defence of the Democratic party they made it warmer for Mr. Lusk than he has felt since he has been in Raleigh. They held him up in a very unenviable position and poured in hot shot upon him until he left the House. The News & Observer helps a little along this line by showing that this same Lusk wanted Zeb Vance hung, and is the same scoundrel that Randolph Shotwell caned publicly in the streets of Asheville. What a leader!

The Supreme Court has granted licenses to twenty-three new lawyers.

A Revolution in Cotton Manufacture.

Cotton and cotton manufacture has had as much to do with the development of the United States as any other cause. Cotton was once dubbed as king, and now when the Cotton Mills have sought the dethroned King and joined him in his home, it looks as if the King would be restored to his authority.

Northern Cotton Manufacturers are flying or preparing to fly from their Northern homes to the home of the Cotton fields, where the new cotton will be at the door of the cotton factories, where labor is abundant and cheaper than at the North, where the light of day is longer and fuel cheaper and more convenient and where the rigors of the climate are not so severe. The South welcomes the new comers. Every part of the South holds out its hands of hospitality and liberality. The locality that secures the plant will be first and most greatly benefitted, but every part of the South will feel the impulse of the establishment of the great cotton factories.—Elizabeth City Economist Falcon.

Oh! Deliver Us.

Rev. Dr. Creasy is nothing if not progressive. At his communion service Sunday he inaugurated the cup system in serving the wine. He had fifty small glasses, in each of which was put a teaspoonful of wine. After fifty persons had been served the glasses were taken in the church parlor, washed, and brought back ready for fifty more. The individual cups for communion have been agitated and urged no little as a safeguard against bacteria. Dr. Creasy is the first Charlotte pastor to adopt the system—Charlotte Observer.

We have too many kinds of money in this country and too little of it. If our legislature would put gold and silver on an equality, issue Treasury notes in quantities sufficient for business purposes, and repeal the tax on state banks we believe times would get better.—Charlotte Times.

NORTH CAROLINA NEWS.

Happenings Here and There Over the State.

It is reported that General Robinson, Commissioner of Agriculture, has tendered his resignation to the Board of Agriculture.

General Rufus Barringer, who during the war commanded a well-known brigade of North Carolina cavalry in the Confederate service, died at Charlotte Monday, aged 73.

The colored secretary of the Republican executive committee of Union county has been sentenced to one year in the penitentiary for stealing $65 from another darkey.

Gov. Carr has ordered an election on the 12th inst. in Warren county to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Dr. S. A. Williams, member of the House of Representatives from that county.

Shakespeare and the Farmer.

Ex-Senator Palmer, of Michigan, tells a good story of an old Michigan farmer to whom he lent a volume of Shakespeare's works. After allowing time for a perusal of the book the senator asked the man one day what he thought of the book. "Well," said the Michigander, "there is some mighty good reading in it, and I see the old man has some of my ideas."—N. Y. Mail and Express.

Severe Cold Wave.

It took two telegrams to Observer Heilbroner, following each other in quick succession, to get the weather bad enough for tomorrow. More snow is on the programme for to-night, with cold gales knocking the temperature away down below freezing by morning. This promises to be the worst snap yet.

Widening Out.

Improvements continue to be made on Dickerson Avenue. Sheriff R. W. King, Mrs. E. M. Williams and Mr. R. A. Tyson have recently moved in their fences to give room for a sidewalk between Greene and Washington streets, and Mr. W. H. White has put out shade trees in front of his lot. We also hear that one or two parties are negotiating for lots on the avenue to build residences thereon. Ere long the avenue will be the prettiest street in town.

When the train going south pulled out from here Wednesday night there was not a passenger in the first class coach, something that has not occurred in a long time before.

A Bad Day.

The weather bureau hit the nail square on the head this time. It snowed enough last night to cover the ground then light rain fell on top of this and sleeted. This morning a harder rain set in and things are generally slushy and disagreeable.
