THE LEGISLATURE.

MONDAY.

The most important new bills introduced in the Legislature today were: To provide for a railway from Murphy up the Hiwassee river to the Georgia and Tennessee lines; to amend the charter of the Plymouth, Washington and Kinston railway; to regulate the hours of opening and closing bar-rooms, and forbidding screens in front of them; to revise and digest the public laws; to provide for the levy and collection of an inheritance tax; to regulate labor hours in cotton factories; to prohibit the use of profane and indecent language; to provide Superior-Court stenographers.

The Senate passed the bill, and it is now law, to provide for the equipment of the new buildings at the Raleigh insane asylum. The Senate passed on third reading, after a spirited debate, the bill to employ State convicts on public roads, each county being allowed twenty five. An amendment adopted was that no applications for convicts are to be considered unless the convicts are not needed on the State farms. The bill to prevent prize-fighting also passed final reading. The House passed after much debate an important bill to prevent delays in freight shipments. It provides that whenever suit is instituted against any railway doing business in this State for violation of any of the laws requiring prompt handling of perishable freight, and the railway loses the suit, it shall pay all costs and expenses, including attorney's fees if the value of the property does not exceed $10.

Badly Hurt.

Mr. Frank Speight met with a serious accident this morning. He was at work at the public school building and while hewing a piece of timber with a hatchet it glanced and struck him on the knee, splitting his knee open.

D. J. WHICHARD, Editor.

Subscription 25 cents per Month.

Entered as second-class mail matter.

The office of the Carolinian, at Elizabeth City, was destroyed by fire Sunday night and all of the printing outfit but one small job press lost. Editor John had but little insurance on the plant. He ordered a new outfit at once and will continue the paper. This is the second time he has been burned out.

Colonel Julian S. Carr, of Durham, N. C., president of the Durham Tobacco Company, Durham, N. C., has subscribed $10,000 to the American University, which is to be erected in Washington by the Methodist Episcopal Church. Colonel Carr is the first southerner to contribute to an educational enterprise north of the Potomac since the war.

Mr. L. L. Smith, Democrat from Gates Co., was unanimously declared entitled to the seat which he now holds in the legislature. The whole State is to be congratulated upon this fact. Mr. Smith is thoroughly fitted for a legislator, and has already aided much in preventing the passage of the pernicious legislation that has been introduced in the present legislature.

Judge Robert W. Winston, of the Fifth Judicial District, has resigned and will remove from Oxford and locate in Durham. He will become a member of the law firm of Fuller & Fuller, the firm becoming Fuller, Winston & Fuller. Mr. W. W. Fuller, the senior member of the firm, will locate in New York City. He becomes counsel for the American Tobacco Company. Mr. Winston has made a splendid Judge and it is a pity that he has resigned. There is not a brighter young lawyer in North Carolina.

He Wanted A Kiss.

A certain young man in Greensboro was out calling yesterday afternoon.

It was late when he started to leave and he wanted a kiss. All of his importunities were unavailing, however; but after a time the young lady said to him: "If you will first kiss that axe lying at the wood-pile, I'll kiss you—I will sure."

She didn't dream he was going to do it, but the "galoot" went for it, grabbed it up and socked his lips to it. Then he suddenly commenced backing and grunting like a dog with a bone fast in his jaw, all the time holding to the axe with both hands.

Before he could get away the girl's mother had to get some warm water and apply it with a "dish-rag." When he was released all the skin was off his lips and his tongue was in a frightful condition. He didn't ask the young lady to forfeit her promise, but he won't likely kiss any more axes, especially in cold weather.—Greensboro Record.

There are nine classes of people who are no good to a town: First, those who go out of town to do their trading; second, those opposing improvements; third, those who prefer a quiet town to one of push and business; fourth, those who imagine that they own their town; fifth, those who think business can be done without advertising; sixth, those who deride public spirited men; seventh, those who oppose every movement that does not originate with themselves; eighth, those who oppose every public enterprise that does not benefit themselves; ninth, those who seek to injure the credit of a fellow townsman. Some men possess more than one of these characteristics and a few all of them. The fellow having more than one is a dead drag to the town.—Salisbury Herald.

The Monroe Enquirer says that a few days ago there were twenty prisoners in Union jail, and while it is not supposed that a jail bird has any politics, yet that crowd congratulated itself upon the fact that there was no Democrat in the whole lay out.

There is more solid comfort in hustling about for a day trying to make a dollar than there is in loafing on the street a month. The man who is always hustling is happy whether he is making anything or not, and he is generally making something, while the loafer and croaker are forever discontented.—Salisbury Herald.

Three prisoners set the Stanley county jail on fire and made their escape. The building was destroyed.

She Resented the Criticism.

A young man and a lady were walking in the lobby of the Herald Square theater, New York, the other night, discussing DeKoven's "Rob Roy." During their talk the words: "It is plagiarism, mere plagiarism," were spoken audibly by the gentleman. Straightway a lady behind him exclaimed: "I dare you to say that again!" The gentleman, surprised, looked around and ventured to remark mildly that he had a right to his opinion. "I dare you to say that again!" repeated the lady, with flashing eyes. "I am Mrs. DeKoven!" There was nothing more to be added, as the reader can imagine, and further criticism of "Rob Roy" was deferred until possibly under more favorable conditions.—Philadelphia Press.

You ought to appreciate this.

When a man gets blue and feels poor and decides to eat down his expenses, the first thing he does is to shave down his church money, and the next thing is to stop his paper. How a man can expect to prosper with neither re-
