Weather Bulletin.

Rain followed by fair Thursday, slightly colder, probably severe local storms Wednesday afternoon or night.

NEWS OFF THE WIRE.

Served by our "Leased" Underground Cable—(Limited).

Two hundred negroes sailed from Savannah for Liberia yesterday.

Conductor Goodman, the murderer of Col. Parsons, in Virginia, has been acquitted.

The city council of Atlanta decided that base-ball games are a nuisance and refused to grant a permit to a club to play inside the city limits.

Jake Kilrain, of Baltimore, and Steve O'Donnell, of Australia, better known as Corbett's sparring partner, fought eight rounds at Boston and the contest was declared a draw.

Two young white men, brothers, were teasing a negro when the latter fired on them with a pistol, instantly killing one and fatally wounding the other. This occurred at New Orleans.

A 14-year-old Virginia boy, whose parents were dead, tried to procure a license to marry a woman of some 30 years of age. Being refused by the county clerk he consulted a lawyer to see what could be done in the matter.

NEARER HOME.

What is Happening Over the State.

The report of the State Agricultural Department shows that while for the season ending Mar. 18th last year the receipts from sales of fertilizer tax tags were $21,000, this season to the same date they are only $13,000, thus showing a remarkable falling off in fertilizer sales this season.

Otho Wilson says that he has gone to farming. We fear Otho will need some coaching in this line, it has been so long since he was engaged in this pursuit.—Raleigh Press.

The Working People.

It looks almost like a small army to see the hands after work hours these evenings coming in from the direction of the warehouses, the prizeeries and the mill. These give just a small forecast of how things would be if Greenville had a few factories.

New Buildings and Improvements.

Greenville continues to gain new buildings. Mr. G. E. Harris is preparing to erect a residence on his lot on Cotanch street, and Mr. C. T. Munford has just contracted for three new dwellings on his Forbestown property. The building record for this year bids fair to be as good as last year.

Mr. W. T. Godwin is enlarging his workshop on Dickerson avenue.

Mr. W. L. F. Cory is making improvements to his buildings on Second street.

Work has commenced again on the store building near the Planters' Warehouse and it will soon be completed.

Mr. Charles Cobb fell in the river while fishing, and is laid up to-day with a cold that resulted from the wetting.

DID YOU KNOW?

Well. Look at these Names and Then You Will Know.

Mr. J. R. Smith, of Ayden, spent to-day here.

Mr. C. M. Bernard went to Williamston to-day.

Mr. W. S. Christian returned this morning from down the road.

Rev. J. C. McCall will preach at the Methodist church to-night.

Mr. M. Westheimer, of Philadelphia, arrived in town this morning.

Hon. J. E. Moore returned last night from Williamston and resumed his place on the bond case.

Mr. W. O. Shelburn, of Richmond, arrived last night to visit his brother, Mr. E. H. Shelburn.

Mr. M. H. Quinerly, of Kinston, spent yesterday here, and accompanied by Mrs. Quinerly returned home last night.

Night Policeman J. L. Daniel has been confined to his home with sickness for a few days. Mr. J. H. Kinion is on duty in his stead.

Ayden Items.

AYDEN, N. C., Mar. 20.—The house of Mrs. Rawls is rapidly going up.

The business managers of Carolina Christian College were in session here yesterday.

Mr. J. C. Cox, of Winterville, was on our streets yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Coward, of Greene county, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Cr. Dixon.

A petition with 98 signatures—31 of the people in town and 67 people of the surrounding community, was sent this morning to the Postmaster General requesting the department not to change the name of Ayden office. Four-fifths of the white patrons of the office signed the petition. How is this for sentiment?

Mr. Butler writes a letter for the Atlanta Constitution which is full of praise for the last Legislature. We suppose Mr. Butler thinks it the best Legislature the State ever had because they elected him Senator and then allowed him to control all legislation. We are sure of one thing and that is that North Carolina never has had any Legislature that would have disgraced the State by electing Butler Senator before this one.

If the two members of the Arrington legislative investigating committee who have been on a protracted spree, one a Populist and the other a Republican, have any respect for themselves or one iota of pride left, they will sober up, reform and get to work. If they do not, we advise their friends to send after the remains.—Raleigh Progressive Farmer.

The men who compose the above committee are Campbell, of Cherokee, Bryan of Chatham, and Rev. J. T. Phillips, of Pitt. When the Progressive Farmer writes this about its own members it is time for all people to be disgusted with such action. In fact it is a disgrace to North Carolina. As for that, about all the Legislature did was along the same line.

Giving the Devil His Dues.

Keep the devil away from the children and he will soon have to give up the saloon.

The man who knows that God is with him will always be very careful where he steps.

Our neighbor sees our faults, but he hasn't seen the bitter tears they have made us weep.

The devil is proud of a grumbler, no matter whether he belongs to the church or not.

Look into the drunkard's home if you would see tracks that have been made by the cloven hoof.

We hate our own sins most when we see them walking around in the shoes of somebody else.

All lies have the smell of brimstone on their garment, no matter whether they are white or black.

Every time the devil makes a hypocrite he has to admit that love is the greatest thing in the world.

If the devil ever rubs his hands with satisfaction it is when he gets a good man to oppose a good cause.

God often shows the sinner that he is wrong by bringing him in contact with somebody who is right.

There are people who seem to think that God only expects them to keep the Ten Commandments on Sunday.

As long as the devil can have his way about the saloon he will have one claw run through the church.

Going out on a wet night to hear election returns is one thing and going to prayer meeting in the same kind of weather is another.

A Chain of Persecution.

George—No matter how things go, the poor always suffer. Jack—"Yes, the nabobs who own railroads think nothing of running over a poor man's horse." "Yes, and the man who can afford to own a horse runs down a poor fellow on a bicycle." "Just so. And the poor fellow on the bicycle runs down the poor fellow who has to walk." "That's it. And the man who walks stumbles against the cripple who goes on crutches." "That's the way. And the cripple on crutches spends most of his time jamming his sticks down on other people's corns. It's really a selfish world."

A Horse's Eleven Requests.

1. Don't pound or beat me.
2. Cover me when I am too warm or cold.
3. Don't stand me in a draft.
4. Don't overload me.
5. Don't compel me to work when I'm sick.
6. Don't cut my feet too much when I'm shod.
7. Don't over-drive and under-feed me.
8. Remember that I have feelings.
9. Don't water me when I have been driven a long distance, until I have am cool.
10. Talk to me kindly.
11. Treat me as you would like to be treated if you were a horse.—Our Dumb Animals.

Since the finishing of the W. N. C. R. R. to Asheville in 1881, the property in the six counties through which it passes, namely Buncombe, Graham, Swain, Macon, Madison, Haywood, Jackson, Cherokee has appreciated from $3,457,000 in 1880 to $15,962,000. The State of North Carolina issued $1,250,000 of bonds on account of the Western North Carolina Railroad. The increase of revenue from the six counties above mentioned have, it is said, more than paid the interest on the bonds.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Personal Abuse in Old Politics.

Nothing in modern times can equal the virulence and the apparent exacerbation of the presidential campaign of 1828, when Andrew Jackson was formally entered in the presidential race against John Quincy Adams. Personal abuse was rife. Adams, the impeccable, the frigidly just, was accused of a variety of crimes, one of the least of which was that he acted as procurer for the czar of Russia. Clay was branded as an unprincipled adventurer, a professional gambler, a libertine and an accomplice of Aaron Burr. Jackson was stigmatized as a murderer, a dueling man-slayer, a cockfighter and a turf sportsman.—Scribner's Magazine.

He Was Not Accommodated.

An English journal tells a good story at the expense of the earl of Derby. While walking on land belonging to the earl a collier chanced to meet the owner. His lordship inquired if the collier knew he was walking on his land.

"Thy land? Well, I've got no land myself," was the reply, "and I'm like to walk on somebody's. Where did tha' get it fro'?"

"O," explained his lordship, "I got it from my ancestors."

"An' wheer did they get it fro'?" asked the collier.

"They got it from their ancestors," was the reply.

"And where did their ancestors get it?"

"They fought for it."

"Well, begad," said the collier, squaring up to the earl, "I'll fight thee for it."—Interior.

Handsome Than a Hat.

The fashion of taking off hats in theaters and other public halls is becoming more popular in Baltimore. The men think the top of a lady's head looks far better than the summit of a high bonnet.—Baltimore

Mr. O. L. Joyner found a herd of hogs in his newly planted potato patch Tuesday. He says that patch of potatoes is all up.

Bolting doors, barring windows and examining fire-arms was popular last night. Probably half the houses in town were ready for a visit from burglars.

Mr. B. D. Evans received a postal card last night informing him of the death of a brother, Mr. Evan Evans, which occurred at Brooklyn, N. Y., on the 14th. His brother was in his 78th year.

A man walked in the REFLECTOR office to day just as three printers were standing at our elbow yelling "copy," and when asked if he knew any news said "I heard up town that it was raining." The boys were pulled off of him in time to go to press.

We frequently meet up with a queer combination of names in our exchanges. It is now stated that a man name Spunk has married a western girl named Spink. By this union we have the past tense, spink; present tense, spunk; future tense, spank.—Durham Sun.

The DAILY REFLECTOR has entered upon its fourth month. There is not a daily in the State that gives more local news for the size of the town than the DAILY REFLECTOR. It is a bright and clean sheet and Brother Whichard is to be congratulated upon his success.—Greenville Tribune.

Money Saved is Money Made.
