Another Officer Shot At.

Shooting at police officers is becoming too common around Greenville. At this term of court B. L. Cooper was tried for shooting at the Chief of Police, and was sentenced to two months in jail. This sentence was afterward changed to a fine and costs, and Cooper left town Friday. The same day a strange negro put in his appearance here. He gave his name as Walter Smith and said he was from Boston. He grew rather boisterous around the Market House and was brandishing a pistol when the chief went to arrest him. Smith ran, and as assistant police Fred Cox coming along riding about that time went in pursuit of him. He overtook the negro at the corner near the Methodist church, and as he alighted and went to arrest him the negro, who kept the pistol in his hand as he ran along the street, fired at the officer but did not strike him. The officer used his biller, and knocked the negro insensible at the first blow. As soon as Smith recovered he was taken to the lock up and confined.

Edward Greene Hurt.

Edward Greene, of this town, who has been in Norfolk for some weeks, was right badly hurt in that city on Wednesday night. He boarded at Hotel Norfolk, and about bedtime started to his room to retire. In company with another gentleman named Henderson he was going up in the elevator to the third floor of the hotel on which his room was located. As the elevator reached the landing and was about to stop the cable broke and it shot rapidly to the bottom, a distance of 40 feet. Both gentleman and the elevator boy were hurt, Mr Greene's injuries being about the leg. The accident caused great excitement among the guests of the hotel. R. Greene left this morning for Norfolk to look after his brother.

A Few Serious Thoughts.

It seems strange that women who do not fancy work often do fancy work.

There are lots of folks who have an aversion to ghosts, but those who like spirits are in the majority.

It is a well known fact that oil and water will not mix. If this were only true of milk and water how happy we would be.

Everything goes at a rapid pace these days. Even the makers of stockings boldly assert that the colors are fast.

A slipper used judiciously will often make a dull child smart.

A man who tries to reform his life on the installment plan generally gets behind in his payments.

It is evident that the poetess held something better when she wrote "we want no kings."

A dentist may be a good jolly fellow, but he has a way of looking down in the mouth that is contradictory.

A photographer has a way of taking things that would not be tolerated in any other line of business.

A musician never knows how much his efforts are not appreciated until the folks in the next flat complain to the janitor.

There is no easier way in the world for one to lose a good name than to have it engraved on the handle of an umbrella.

When men are taken to prison they are treated like clothes in a laundry—they are washed and then ironed.

There are some things a dwarf cannot do, but when it comes to taking cold he can catch one as big as a giant's.

The law permits a man to use his wife's name to rob his creditors, yet it is argued by some that marriage is a failure.

Ancient Bracelets.

Among the Greeks bracelets were worn only by women, but among the Romans they were regarded as a military decoration, and in monumental inscriptions the number of bracelets conferred on the subject is often stated. They were of thin plates of bronze or gold. Sometimes gold wires spirally wound were used. Some bracelets weighing 20 ounces have been found.

A Nevada hunter spent three months looking for a grizzly bear, and the man's relatives spent three months looking for him. They think he must have found the bear.

There are pictures in every heart—portraits of people who have attracted your attention and filled your life with love. These are faces ever fresh and fair, soft, sweet and sunny, to whom you are instinctively drawn by the force of personal magnetism, and they can never be obliterated from the gallery of the heart. — Orange (Va.) Some people croak for the fun of it, some from the habit of it, and some for the cussedness of it. They never enjoy what is set before them, because they can't eat, take or carry away all on the table before the neighbors. The great Southern Exposition, at Atlanta opened on Wednesday with magnificent splendor. There were 25,000 people present to witness the massive machinery being put in motion in response to the touch of an electric button by President Cleveland at Gray Gables, his summer home in Massachusetts. North Carolina is well represented by exhibits at the Exposition and there is no need of fear that our State will suffer in the least through comparison with others.

Hon. J. W. Judd, U. S. District Attorney for Utah, is visiting Washington. He says: "There is much in the situation in Utah to make the democrats hopeful of electing their State ticket and two U. S. Senators. I believe that it is not putting it one whit too strong to say that our chances of success are fully equal to the opposition. Utah has enjoyed two successive seasons of good crops, and the condition of business is satisfactory. The people are feeling very good over the return of better times, and that will inure to the benefit of the democracy. If we carry the Territory this year it is almost a sure thing that it will go the same way in 1896."

READY MADE SHOES.

Many Sizes, but Poor Shapes and Heels For Women and Children.

Selling ready made shoes is a very different thing now from what it used to be, when many thousands who now buy them had their footwear made to order. Sizes in ready made shoes have been greatly multiplied. Not only do men's shoes run up to No. 13 in length, but they vary in width from AA, the narrowest, to EE, the widest. A salesman must know all about sizes and be able to make a pretty good guess at what a customer needs, but must as well know what makes of shoes run wide or long for their numbers.

Before all these niceties of shading were invented, the matter of fitting ready made shoes to a customer's feet was a very simple one. Perhaps it would be more accurate to say that there was no such thing as a fit in ready made shoes save for persons of normal and average feet. The long, slender foot was not provided for, and neither was the short, thick foot. The numbers of men's shoes most called for now are 7, 7½ and 8, with the widths A, B and C. In women's shoes the numbers in length most in demand are 3, 3½, 4, 4½ and 5, with the widths A and B. But the unusual sizes above and below these are provided in large numbers. There are many calls for 13 at the large concerns, where unusual sizes are provided. It is difficult in small concerns to get anything above 10½. The difference in price for size is little or nothing, save that what are called "misses' shoes," which run pretty high, are for some reason sold cheaper than women's shoes of like size. Some women know this and profit by it.

Women have from time immemorial been abominably ill shod, and most of them are so still. The makers of ready made shoes unhesitatingly cater to fashion, and it is difficult for us men to find a ready made shoe with a low heel and a roomy toe. Nine women out of ten have wretchedly abused feet, and the condition of their walking shoes at the end of six weeks' use is such that their brothers or husbands would not for a moment think of wearing them. Working women stand or walk all day long on French heels, partly through vanity, partly because better shaped shoes have to be made to order at a comparatively high price. Children's shoes, save in rare instances, are still made in defiance of hygiene and are responsible for half the pains of learning to walk. Doctors are recommending that infants be brought up barefoot.

The man or woman of normal and average feet is always welcome in the ready made shoeshops, because such persons can usually be fitted in less than ten minutes. It would hardly be possible to carry on business were there not comparatively few feet of abnormal size or shape, for a man or woman with such feet consumes from half an hour to an hour of a salesman's time and often goes away without buying. There must be small profit in selling ready made shoes to such people.

The man that wears, say, 11½ AA is a most unwelcome visitor at any shoeshop, though in all the large concerns salesmen manfully struggle to fit such customers. On very busy days the man or woman of abnormal feet meets with an early intimation that there is no fit to be had. Such persons come to be known in the shops and to be dodged by the salesmen.—New York Sun.

SIGHTS IN ROME.

The Vatican, Works of Art and the Ravages of the Vandals.

Just outside the Vatican is a shop stocked with bushels of rosaries, crosses, crucifixes, medals and portraits. The shopkeeper and his wife enjoy a prosperous trade, because every Catholic who comes to the Vatican and St. Peter's wishes to take home with him some of the church symbols which have been blessed by the holy father. Any one purchasing beads or a crucifix writes his name or the name of the person for whom the symbols are intended in a register and is given a certain number. The goods are left with the shopkeeper, who, at 12 o'clock noon, sends them into the Vatican to be blessed. The pope, in going to his midday meal, passes through a number of compartments, and in one of these is placed each day many articles sent to him to be blessed. Each rosary or other symbol is delivered by the shopkeeper, with a certificate showing that it has received the blessing. These cards are much prized, as they represent an indirect blessing from the pope, whom it is practically impossible to see.

The most astounding stories which have been told of vandalism and barbarism as displayed by visitors to the art galleries fall short of the truth. It does not seem possible that any human being could deliberately walk up to a chaste marble and scrawl his name in lead pencil, yet there is not a masterpiece in Rome or Florence which has entirely escaped this defilement. The bust of Donatello, the sculptor, in the Church of San Croce, has been literally blackened by names and dates in pencil marks. Even the Apollo Belvedere at the Vatican museum has been decorated all over the back and down the legs with wretched scrawls. It must be a gratification to every American traveler that his countrymen take no part in this idiotic practice.

Occasionally the passion for scribbling takes a vindictive turn. On the wall of the topmost room in the dome of St. Peter's some one has written in large letters, "Vive Luther, vive Jean Huss, vive Zwingli, vive Wyclif," and so on, giving the names of all those who have fought the Catholic church. Below some one 225 writes in pencil "mercy!" and thus the discussion ends. Ordinarily one gets the impression that people who desecrate such places are simply stupid or nastily ignorant. Occasionally the vandalism is Napoleonic, as in the case of the young man who climbed up and broke off the arm of the wooden virgin in the chapel of Hugomont, on the battlefield of Waterloo. He went away with the relic sticking out of his pocket, and those who knew of his performance were so stunned that he was allowed to escape.—Chicago Record.
