Give the Tobacco Market Your Hearty Support.

We have heard it commented upon that the business men of Greenville as a whole, do not take the interest in the tobacco market here that the business men of other town are taking in their markets. In Kinston they offered premiums aggregating several hundred dollars to farmers selling on that market. A market was recently started at Goldsboro, and finding that prize houses were needed the citizens held a meeting and subscribed $3,000 to build two. At Tarboro the market has the general co-operation of the business men of the town. And this should be the situation in Greenville. The market should have the hearty co-operation and encouragement of every one. There is no need of arguing what the tobacco market has done for the town and the increased business that results—everybody sees this. The town is now reaping some of the benefits predicted by the REFLECTOR several years ago when it first began advocating tobacco culture in this section and the establishment of a market here. There are many ways the business men can aid the market—by working for it, saying a good word whenever they have opportunity, advise and encourage the tobacco farmers to sell here, help advertise the market, help to get some tobacco factories started, or in various other ways that might suggest themselves or be presented to them. Now, let everybody get to work for Greenville. We already have the best and most substantial market in eastern Carolina, but it can be made to surpass what it is. There is no reason why this town should not become in a few years the equal of Winston, Danville or Lynchburg in amount of business and number of factories. Proper co operation will do the work.

My store will be closed Saturday, 28, for holiday.
S. M. SCHULTZ.

WE WON'T OFFEND

Your judgment by offering you something for nothing. Good Clothing is always worth a fair price. We spare no pains to give you the best at a small profit.

FRANK WILSON,
The King Clothier.

Do Not Take the Baby's Hand.

How many mothers realize the injury they are doing their children by holding their hand as they walk? You see a little tot of eighteen months or two years with its little hand and arm lifted high above its head to hold the hand of some grown person, sometimes one at either hand, and the poor little creature in this unnatural position, with a strain on the heart muscles, to say nothing of the arms, is dragged along the street, and if that were not enough, the child is obliged with its tiny feet and legs to keep up with the pace of the parents or nurse, who never realize how many steps the little fee have to take to their one. Let any grown person see how long he could walk with his arms raised higher than his head, without hurrying and then let him try being dragged along at full speed by some giant, four times his own size. I am afraid few could endure the strain for more than a few minutes. And yet I daily see mothers scolding their little children for crying at being dragged long distances in this barbarous manner. Children who can walk at all should be allowed to walk alone or holding the hand of some child near their own size. It is better for them in every way, and will save many a crying fit caused by over-strain of the nerves and muscles.—Exchange.

EVERY AFTERNOON (EXCEPT SUNDAY)

The President has issued an order placing all grades of the consular services with a compensation between $1,500 and $2,500 under a modified form of civil service.

The non-partisan silver convention was held in Raleigh Wednesday, and as we predicted Tuesday, did nothing. In stead of being non-partisan it was so partisan that some of the Democrats who had gone to Raleigh to attend the convention remained at the hotels and took no part in the proceedings. The convention was controlled entirely by Butler and his followers. The body is said to have been composed of 230 Populist, 27 Democrats and 13 Republicans. The resolutions passed recommended to the people that they vote for no man for congress, or for electors to elect a President but men who are and who openly declare for silver. Some of the Democrats present believed that this was beyond the province of the convention and in consequence took no part in the work. This resolution was the product of Mr. Butler's brain and his purpose in proposing it was apparent, and he had it passed but when Mr. Cooke offered a resolution that silver only should be made the issue in the next campaign Mr. Butler said no, and it failed to pass. Just as he wanted it so it must be.

Holding the Breath.

It is a physical impossibility for a man to kill himself by holding his breath.

Individuals differ greatly in the length of time they can hold their breath, and what practice and determined effort combined with natural great lung capacity, can do in this direction is shown by the long periods for which champion divers can remain under water.

If a man succeeded in continuing to hold his breath, in spite of the physical discomfort in which he had placed himself, the result would simply be to induce a state of coma.

When this state was reached nature would reassert herself, and the breathing functions would again resume full activity, preventing a fatal issue in spite of their owner's desire.

Profits of The Syndicate.

The New York Tribune figures up the profits of the Belmont-Morgan syndicate which went out of business Saturday at $2,161,150. This is much smaller than has been generally supposed, but it may be that the cost of supplying gold to the Treasury reduced the contemplated big profits. The Pittsburg Dispatch figures the profits of the syndicate to be four million dollars and says that "the profits to individual members of the syndicate will probably never be known." The New York World figures "the government loss and banker's gain" at $10,822,930. The Herald puts the profits at $4,330,313.

Values of Certain Coins.

After electing officers at the fifth annual convention of the American Numismatists to-day, coins of almost priceless value were displayed.

As viewed from a numismatic standpoint it is the condition of a coin which fixes its value. It is not the date or age except in less than 30 instances, that is sought for at the big quoted premiums.

Pierced, plugged, badly worn, scratched coins, or those on which the dates are illegible, have no particular value.

A perfectly uncirculated cent of 1799 would easily bring $100, whereas a good cent of the same date can be purchased for $10.

For gold there is but a limited numismatic demand, and the supply is greatly in excess of that demand. The double eagle of 1849 is worth about $300. All gold dollars are at a premium, and are worth from $1.20 to $1.40 each. Those dated 1863, 1864 and 1865 command from $2.50 to $4 each, and 1875, $8.

The bulk of numismatic transactions are in silver coins. A dollar of 1804 is worth $400, a half dollar of 1797 brings $40, and a quarter of 1827 demands $40. The dime of 1804 is the most valuable, being worth $0, and the half-dime of 1802 easily holds the record at $63. A large copper cent of 1799 would bring $15, and a half-cent of 1796 is in demand at $30.

The thin silver half dime of 1802 was bought by its present holder for $63, and has sold at $75. — Washington Dispatch, 20th.

It Should be Fixed.

Again we call attention of the city Council to the condition of Dickerson avenue. This is the most public thoroughfare in our town, and the necessity of its being in good condition for public travel is too manifest to be discussed. One dollar spent now is worth more than two dollars when the bad weather of the winter begins, as it surely will begin. The condition of the street is deplorable, even in the dry season. A few thousand bushels of oyster shells would make a great improvement on it.

Why He Called Him Pop.

A boy in Kansas was pulling a dog along the road by a rope. The boy called to his dog, "Come along, Pop, you ornery cuss."

A bystander asked him why he called the dog Pop.

"For short," answered the boy.

"What's his full name?"

"Populist."

"Why call him Populist?" asked the stranger.

"Well, sir," the boy said, "because he is just like a Populist. He's the orneryist dog in Kansas. He ain't worth a darn only to set on his tail and howl."

On Monday night Oct. 6th., at the next regular meeting of Greenville Lodge, No. 284, A. F. & A. M., a full attendance is earnestly requested as there will be business of importance. By order of ZENO MOORE, W. M.

AUTUMN ANATOMY.

People Going and Coming These Early Fall Days.

H. W. Whdebee went to Wilson today.

Miss Ella Monteiro went to Baltimore today.

J. H. Tucker, of Asheville, arrived Thursday evening.

J. B. Stokes, of Windsor, left on the train this morning.

Miss May Harris, of Falkland, is visiting Miss Novella Higgs.

S. M. Schiltz went to Rocky Mount today to spend a few days.

J. T. Worthington and W. B. Quinerly, of Grifton, were here today.

Mrs. R. R. King and child, who have been visiting the family of Sheriff R. W. King, left for Goldsboro today.

Judge McIver left this morning for Littleton to spend a few days before going to his next court at Henderson.

Miss Kate Elington, of Reidsville, who has been visiting Miss Sallie Cotten, at Cottondale took the train here today for her home.

Ex-Senator Jarvis, Congressman Harry Skinner and Deputy Clerk J. A. Lang returned from Raleigh Thursday evening where they went to attend the silver convention.

At sunset this evening begins Yom Kippur, the Jewish day of atonement. All the places of business of our Hebrew citizens will be closed tomorrow and they will observe the day by fasting and prayer.

Never has there been such a growth of business in the town as this season has produced, and now that cotton has reached 8 cents per pound, there is hope of a still greater increase of the business centering in Greenville.

Never before in the history of our present generation, so it is said, did it happen that not a drop of rain fell during court week. It is much commented upon, and we hope is ominous of a better time coming in the near future.

Now that court is over, all eyes are centered on the tobacco market, and the races that come off Oct. 3rd. There is great interest being taken in the track, and the races will be a success. Twenty-six horses from different sections of the State are here training for the occasion.

John R. Chany, owner of the Looping patent, for hanging tobacco primings, will be in Greenville Wednesday and Thursday of next week, Oct. 2nd and 3rd, to collect for farm rights. He desires to meet the farmers in person and talk with them.

The silver convention was a complete fiasco, and there are more discredited "leaders of thought" in North Carolina this morning than ever before. What ever benefits accrued from the convention all go to the credit of Mr. Marion Butler and the Populist party.—Charlotte Observer.

SEPTEMBER SAYINGS.

Briefs That Inform You What is Going on.

Cotton still climbing upward.

Not much fruit left, except grapes.

These moonlight nights are lovely.
