SELLS BROTHERS CIRCUS.

It is a Great Show and Delights Thousands of People.

Greenville was just a moving mass of humanity on Friday. People were here from everywhere and filled the stores, windows, tops of buildings and every available place of view. The women and children were here in force. Everybody was bent on seeing the elephants and old John Lowlow the famous clown. The colored brother with his sweetheart, holding her by the hand, was parading every part of the town to see the sights. The young man with his best girl was going back and forth up the streets for fear he would not see it all, making inquiry as to when the parade would start.

There must have been fully 10,000 people on the streets by 11 o'clock. The parade was a grand affair, the animals in their respective cages were excellent specimens and in fine condition, the cages neat and new. The horses looked splendid. The show was up to what was on the bills. 5,000 people were under the tent. John Lowlow the prince of clowns was in good trim, though somewhat showing age from his forty years career in the ring. He has perhaps brought smiles to the faces of more people than any other living man. In addition to being chief clown, Mr. Lowlow is also the special Press Agent of the circus and in this capacity comes in close touch with the newspaper men. He took such a liking to the REFLECTOR household that he dropped in several times during the morning and came back after supper to sit with us while his train was making up to leave. He is as social, pleasant and entertaining as any gentleman we ever met. He is a gallant Southerner, a Georgian by birth and was educated at the University of North Carolina.

Mr. Whichard says that he found no cigar at the Atlanta Exposition that could equal the Southern Leader, at D. S. Smith's.

RICHER AND HANDSOMER

Than any ever produced. My Clothes, Hats and Furnishings, I'm talking about. Look over the stock; it's complete now, and see if you don't agree with me. One of two things I always mean to do: To sell you better goods than you get elsewhere for the same price; to sell you the same goods lower than you get them.

The King Clothier.

SEVERAL FIGHTS.

Knives, Sticks and Guns Come Into Play.

Friday evening and night there were several disturbances here. Just before night two colored men had a fight out near the depot. One cut the other badly on the arm and head, which so enraged the cut man that he pulled a pailing off the fence and beat his assailant almost into insensibility. Parties rushed to the scene in time to prevent a possible murder.

After night a fight originated in the bar room near the depot between some of the circus laborers and some negroes. The fight continued outside and another man was cut and one or two knocked down.

Later in the night two white men from near the border of Pitt and Edgecombe went to a house of ill repute on the river. As they went to leave the house some one secreted on the outside fired at them with a gun, filling them both pretty full of bird shot. At last accounts Dr. Laughinghouse had picked 40 shot out of one of the men and 27 out of the other, and there was still lead in them.

EVERY AFTERNOON (EXCEPT SUNDAY)

Thursday an earthquake shock was felt in many places from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico. It commenced at 6 o'clock and lasted forty five seconds. It was severe in Ontario, and in Jackson Mississippi, It was perceptible in Atlanta, Washington, D. C., and in Charleston and Raleigh.

Fitzsimmons and his manager are both under arrest and there was no prize fight at Hot Springs on October 31st as billed. The athletes say now that the fight will come off next week. Governor Clarke seems to be master of the situation and says there will be no fight as long as he is governor and the sports will save time and money by believing this and acting accordingly.

The campaign in Maryland has reached fever heat. It is conceded now that the majority in Baltimore will determine the election. If the usual Democratic majority is given in this city Mr. Gorman will triumph if not he will be beaten. Both sides agree that this is the situation and in consequence Baltimore is stirred from Canton to Druid Hill Park with a turmoil unparalleled. Every issue of the city papers are sensational with charges of what is to be done on both sides on the day of election. The city must give at least ten thousand Democratic majority to save the State and the Democrats are confident of this and some to spare.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 1st.

President Cleveland has, in accordance with his usual custom, moved from the White House out to his suburban residence in order to be able to put in more time upon his message to Congress than he could possibly when liable to almost constant interruption from callers whom he would not care to decline seeing. These he is entirely free from at his suburban residence, as no one goes there to call upon him, unless specially invited. While not stated as a certainty, there are good reasons for the belief that his annual message to Congress will not deal with the diplomatic controversy with England over the application of the Monroe doctrine in Venezuela, farther that to say that the whole subject will be fully treated in a special message which will follow the annual message and be accompanied by the diplomatic correspondence. The President and every member of his cabinet are well pleased with the present status of this Venezuela matter, and very confident that they will be still better pleased a little later. A diplomatic victory is preferable to one achieved by the use of powder and ball, in some cases. And this is one of the cases.

If proof were needed that the real purpose of the public meeting held last night, for the avowed purpose of expressing the sympathy of the citizens of Washington for the Cuban revolutionists, was to embarrass the administration and make republican partisan capital it was furnished in great big chunks by the names of those who controlled the meeting, made the speeches and wrote the resolutions adopted. Every man of them was a republican. The presiding officer was the notorious "corporal" Tanner; the writer the resolutions was Dr. Rankin, president of the Howard University, the negro college which is partly maintained at public expense, and the only woman speaker was Mrs. John A. Logan.

Ex-Congressman Bynum, of Indiana, is one of the few men who regards Mr. Harrison's chances for the republican nomination as being ahead of either those of Reed, McKinley or Allison. He says Mr. Harrison is stronger with his party in Indiana than ever before and that the Indiana Republicans are going to get him nominated, if such a thing is possible. Speaking of the Democratic nomination Mr.

Bynum said: "On the Democratic side there is much talk in favor of Col. Morrison, and he has many friends in all parts of the country. My opinion is that eventually Democratic sentiment will center on Secretary Carlisle. He is well liked in the north and east, and in the south his nomination would create tremendous enthusiasm.

Representative Foreman, of Illinois, who has been on the stump in Kentucky, Maryland and New Jersey, arrived in Washington this week. He says he hasn't the slightest doubt that all three states will go Democratic.

Secretary Olney has received a copy of the proceedings of the french court martial which sentenced the negro Waller, who is Ex-U. S. Consul, to twenty years imprisonment under the charge of having betrayed french military movements in Madagascar, and the wife of the imprisoned man has given the Secretary all the information in her possession, documentary and otherwise. It cannot be stated what Mr. Olney thinks of the case, but others who have had access to the information regard the outlook for Waller as a bad one, and say that the case has been misrepresented for political effect by certain Republican newspapers.

Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador, and Secretary Olney are engaged in negotiating a convention to determine the amount of damages sustained by the owners of Canadian sealing vessels which were seized in Bering Sea by this government before the arbitration of the claims of the two countries. It is expected that it will be completed before Congress meets.

THE MEMORY.

How the Annoying Habit of Forgetfulness May Be Broken.

A habit of forgetfulness is one of the greatest hindrances in all business and social relations, but our modern style of life and education is certainly injurious to the memory. The old methods of learning by rote have fallen into disfavor, and there was much to say against them as a hindrance to originality, but there is a time in every child's life when learning by rote is a useful thing, and it is at a very early age, for, the minds of the young children not being occupied with so many things as those of their elders, they are in a receptive condition, and their memory is more retentive than later on. Every mother has been struck by her child of 2 or 3 years remembering, perhaps for some months, where a certain thing was placed or some little event, and it is a matter of common experience that we remember the events of our early youth more forcibly than those of even a few months back.

It is possible to begin to cultivate the memory as soon as a child can talk, when it should be made to describe everything it has seen during its morning walk, or to repeat some little story that has been told to it, or a short lesson that has been learned. Every teacher before beginning a new lesson should make sure that the lesson of the day before has been retained and understood, for the more we overcrowd the little brain in the attempt to force knowledge upon it the less we impress upon it for future use. It is the experience of all those who have crammed for examinations that as soon as the examination is over the undigested knowledge passes away, and similarly through life. Unless an item of knowledge is assimilated it becomes as useless to the mental system as an undigested article of food to the bodily system, and in both cases they act as an irritant, interfering with the proper digestion of other matters.

In a well ordered mind facts remain and points are, as it were, pigeonholed in such a way that they can be brought out immediately when required. There are untidy brains, in which the objects or knowledge is confused and not ready at hand, so that it may turn up at unexpected moments, but not just when wanted, in the same manner as there are untidy drawers, wardrobes and rooms, and to cultivate a habit of mental order as well as one of physical order should be the earnest desire of every mother and teacher.—Home Notes.

A Persistent Dun.
 An aged lady complained to a London magistrate that because she was a little behind in her rent her landlady followed her to church and asked for it there. The landlady came into a pew alongside of her and when she was joining in the responses was constantly whispering to her about the rent. When it came to the response, "Incline our hearts," the landlady would add, "To pay our rent." The magistrate said that it was very annoying, but there was nothing illegal in it.
