OUR BUYERS.

Some of Those Who Have Carried Their Part of the Burden in Pushing Greenville Forward.

We have on the market now one buyer that has been identified with Greenville since the Greenville Warehouse was built and that one is

W. T. MANGUM.

While Mr. Mangum is not a very extensive buyer yet he has at all times carried his part of the purchases at good prices and there is no one, no not one, that is today connected with the market that since its earliest history has stuck closer to Greenville than Mr. Mangum. During the first year of the market he was one of our buyers and no doubt lost money as did the rest who bought that year trying to establish a market. He spent the summer of the second year at his home in Granville county, N. C. but early in the fall returned again and was ready at the opening of the second season to again number one of the buyers for Greenville.
He cultivated a crop of tobacco for his own account the third year, on the farm of Mr. B. A.
Tyson about nine miles from town. After curing and stripping his crop he and Mr. Tyson bought some tobacco on this market and when the spring opened he again returned to the farm and cultivated another crop. This year after he had cured his crop he employed a man to take charge of the stripping and he and Mr.

Tyson came regularly on the market. This year Mr. Mangum occupies one half the prize house in which T. E. Roberts & Co. did business last year and on the grades that he is buying he makes the boys pay outside prices before he lets it go to any one else.
We hope that he will build up a lucrative business. As above stated he is the pioneer tobacco buyer of the Greenville market.

Run-a-Way.

There was a lively run-a-way out in the tobacco quarter Tuesday afternoon. A horse that was tied to a buggy wheel took fright at the steam whistle of Gorman's factory, and ran down the street, dragging the buggy with him.
The buggy was turned bottom side up, but strange to say was only slightly damaged.

A Long Trip.

J. B. Tripp and his wife, in a two-horse hack, went tripping thro' Durham today from Carlisle, Ill., going back to his home in Pitt county, this State. They do not travel on Sunday, and have been on the road 28 days.
They expect to reach their destination next Tuesday. Mr. Tripp went to Illinois about fifteen months ago a free and festive young man. He married out there and is going back home to settle down in the Old North State.—Durham Sun.

Fresh arrivals: Grits, Hominy, Beans, Mince Meat, Dates, Citron, Seeded Raisins, Currents,
Canned Cranberry Sauce. Aunt Sarah's Catsup at S. M. Schultz.

Arizona pays the women teachers in her public schools the high-

WINTERVILLE.

A Thriving Little Village.

Editor of Reflector.

Allow space in your paper and I will give a sketch of Winterville. It is situated on the Scotland Neck and Kinston branch of the W. & W. R. R., five miles from Greenville and four miles from Ayden, in the midst of a good agricultural section that is peopled with as upright and God fearing people as can be found any where in the great county of Pitt. Winterville has not had a case of chills and fever or any other malarial diseases during the fourteen months of its existence, for we have as pure water here as there is in the State. The famous Cox Cotton Planter is manufactured here, there is also the largest tobacco hogshead factory here east of the W. & W. R. R. Wagons, carts, the Economic Back Band and building material of all kinds are manufactured here. Winterville is a busy place when age and size are considered.

Mr. A. G. Cox is going to put in a new boiler and another corn mill, as one mill cannot do the grinding he gets to do.

Mr. John Ormond has contracted to build the colored Missionary Baptist church at this place.

Mr. John Manning and Mr. S. White will complete the Winterville school building soon.

Mr. Rick Dixon had the misfortune to stick a ten penny nail in his foot, but he is out of danger. Hix.

Fusionist Justice.

We are informed that a Fusion magistrate here had a claim on a brother Fusionist. He held court, sued the man before himself, and gave judgement for himself for the amount of claim and costs.

Great is Fusion!—Rutherfordton Democrat.

THEY SAY.

That an impertinent question is often decidedly pertinent.

That a meek deportment is a great mistake in the world.

That a girl don't have to be athletic to throw a fellow over.

That every man has more sense than he shows in his actions.

That it is best to bury dead issues and resurrect live principles.

That it does not pay to be a good fellow, as no good fellow ever gets rich.

That the chestnut season is at its height and the comic weeklies thrive.

That every man who has fallen off a bicycle will agree it is a hard, hard world.

That it is a glorious thing to have money. It enables one so to despise riches.

That you should always live within your income, or some day you may have to live without it.

That the meanest man on record tried to pacify his baby with a poker chip dipped in peppermint.

That a new river has been discovered, but as there is nothing but water in it, no excitement was created.

That one political party does not possess all the virtue, any more than the other possess all the vice.

That when the new woman proves that she can sharpen a lead pencil, it will be one point in her favor.

That an excellent example of faith in Christianity, is taking an umbrella to church, and leaving it out in the vestibule.

Making Them Work for Their Living Does Hens Good.

Some valuable advice to farmers is given by G. H. D. Lire, who is a great chicken raiser and egg producer in Lower Alsace. His plan in brief is to make his hens work for a living. Mr. Lire says:

"It is necessary to make hens scratch for a living.

"I accomplish this by feeding corn on the cob instead of shell-

it. I take what I consider a necessary number of ears, split them up into small parts and throw them to the chickens, leaving the grains of corn on the cob. This makes them work in order to secure a meal, and work of this kind is absolutely requisite to the production of eggs.

"I have observed this principle of feeding for some years and have been satisfied with the results, because my hens lay in the fall and winter, when eggs are high in price."
