WASHINGTON LETTER.

Reed uses the Muzzle—Printers Don't Like the Civil Service—Russia Offers to Come to Uncle Sam's Rescue.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 27 '95.

Speaker Reed's muzzles are in prime working order. He muzzled the members of the Ways and Means committee and compelled them to report two bills prepared by him; one increasing the tariff upon wool, woollens and lumber to 60 per cent of what it was in the McKinley law, and raising the tariff upon everything else, excepting sugar, 15 per cent above present rates, and the other providing for the issue of three per cent coin bonds to replenish the gold reserve whenever the Secretary of the Treasury deems it necessary, and of $50,000,000 in three per cent 3-year Treasury certificates, or so much thereof as the Secretary of the Treasury may need from time to time. He muzzled the objecting republicans who wanted the bills submitted to a caucus before being reported to the House, and lastly he muzzled the House and had his bills passed, notwithstanding that the democrats did all the protesting they could under the Reed rules, against the railroading of such important legislation through the House without debate. When one of his own party went to Mr. Reed and asked that a reasonable time be allowed for debate on the bills before they were passed Mr. Reed dismissed him by saying sharply; "The House isn't a debating society." In fact, for all practical purposes there is no House. Its powers have all been usurped by Mr. Reed and its only important duties are to obey his orders.

But there are neither Reed rules nor methods in the Senate, to which these bills have now gone, and the country may count upon their being thoroughly debated before they are acted upon. It is doubtful whether either of them can pass the Senate at all, and certain that neither can get through without being materially amended.

In creating three election committees to bounce those democrats whose seats are being contested by republicans and to give those republicans who are holding seats which are contested by democrats a valid title to their seats, Mr. Reed overlooked one thing that is already making trouble. The committee on elections has but one room, and each of the three committees claim the right to use it.

The union printers are not so glad about the extension of the Civil Service rules to the Government Printing Office as they were. Already four non-union printers have secured positions in the building by passing the required examination, and there will be others, until their number grows so great that the office will have to be classed as non-union.

The report, although not yet officially confirmed, that Russia had offered to loan the United States $400,000,000 in gold, without interest, has probably created greater consternation among the European gold kings who have been squeezing enormous profits out of the United States under our present bad financial system than did President Cleveland's bold announcement in behalf of the Monroe doctrine. Already an agent of the Rothschilds has been to Washington to assure Secretary Carlisle of their willingness to furnish all the gold this government might need, notwithstanding their assertion made after the Monroe doctrine message was published that American securities of all sorts had been put on the black list. Of course there is no probability that this government will accept Russia's offer, but it was none the less a very friendly and gracious act on the part of Russia, and it furnishes the administration with a weapon that will inspire fear in the minds of the European gold kings, who know by experience what Russia can do in the financial line in opposition to them. Russia has not only made itself independent of the aforesaid European money kings, but while doing it has accumulated $800,000,000 in gold. More than half of this gold, for which Russia has no particular use, is deposited in European banks outside of Russia. That is the gold that she is willing to loan us. Its withdrawal from Europe would be a knockdown blow for the gold kings.

JOHN BULL'S CHEAP JACK SHOW.

ROBERT W. CHAMBERS.

I.

The same old game of grab.

John Bull?

Of "heads I win and tails you lose?"

The old, old trick of snatch and nab?

Now what's the use,

John Bull?

II.

Your circus tent is rent,

John Bull;

Your thimble game no longer draws;

Your old trick lion's not worth a cent;

We've clipped his claws,

John Bull.

III.

We've fixed his paws and claws,

John Bull;

We've lately learned a thing or two;

Your cheap-jack show is bust because

We're onto you,

John Bull.

IV.

Your bunko game we know,

John Bull;

We've seen you fleece your weaker kin

Who ventured in to see the show—

You needn't grin,

John Bull!

V.

We've seen you rap the Jap,

John Bull;

We've seen you throw the Russian down;

We've seen the Spaniard take his slap

And rub his crown,

John Bull.

VI.

The French you've whanged and banged,

John Bull;

You've worked your green-goods on the Dutch;

But if we're flim-flammed I'll be hanged!

Oh, no; not much,

John Bull!

VII.

So tack and pack your sack,

John Bull;

Pick up your thimble-ring and git,

And heed your Uncle—don't come back!

You might get hit,

John Bull.

VIII.

Therefore, enough of bluff,

John Bull;

Your tent, cheap lion and show must go.

The law for thieves is rather rough

And tough, you know,

John Bull.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 27TH, 1895.

Frank Thornton, the largest merchant of Fayetteville, has made an assignment.

Congress has passed a bill by a vote of 205 to 81 to temporarily increase the revenue to meet the expenses of the government, and to provide against a deficiency.

Give a boy a gun and you run a great risk of making a fool out of him. In most instances a boy is careless with a gun and shows but poor judgement in selecting an object to shoot at. Two brothers at Salisbury, aged 18 and 14 years respectively, went out with a gun Tuesday evening and made a target on the side of a powder magazine. They were warned of the danger of such sport but regarded not the admonition of older heads. A lead slug from the gun went through the side of the magazine and a terrific explosion followed blowing a 12-foot hole in the ground, tearing up trees by their roots worse than the severest tornado, breaking hundreds of window lights from buildings in the town near by, and doing other damage to property. And this is not the worst side of the story. The older boy was blown into fragments, his body being scattered hundreds of feet around, every vestige of clothing except one shoe, small patches of undershirt on each shoulder and his coat collar being torn off, while the younger boy was so badly injured that his recovery is doubtful. The magazine contained 2,200 pounds of dynamite and 25 kegs of powder. The explosion was heard and the shock felt for miles around.

SALT OF THE EARTH.

What Two Men Did For the Cause of Christ.

A poor brick mason, W. F. Finger, during the financial panic was thrown out of employment, yet was unwilling to be idle, so he proposed to his Methodist brethren that we build a nice brick church here at Asbury church, near his home in Lincoln county instead of our old, ugly and dilapidated house. They pleaded "hard times and no money." But undismayed by his unpropitious environments and his poverty, he went to work alone, made the brick and put them in the walls, until a nice, stylish brick church worth $1,500 now stands as a monument of his labor and generosity. His neighbors admiring his pluck under difficulties, came to his aid and while he did the brick work, they hauled lumber and assisted him, in his imposed labor of love. He alone did $1,000 worth of work, and the other church members bore about one-third of the cost, say $500: Here is what one man, a poor mason and a Methodist hero, can do! Let others follow the example of W. F. Finger, a bright young man who looks like a boy. This church begun last year has recently been finished.

Here is another example worthy of imitation. A modest, timid and quiet man, whose modesty is only exceeded by his merit, Mr. Vogler, of Lincoln, saw and appreciated the need of a home or parsonage for the Methodist itinerants and resolved that Lincoln Methodist church should have one, so he bought a nice residence for $650 and had it renovated and remodeled, making the total cost $1,000 for a two story parsonage and made a present of it to the Methodist church. Such men are the salt of the earth.—Shelby Aurora

Little Drops of Water.

The coming to the Auditorium of the Prussian Sampson, Sandow, calls to mind an experiment made upon him some few years ago in Vienna. He was sitting in a cafe talking with a number of German students, when the conversation turned upon physical endurance and the different modes of punishment in vogue among the Pagan people. One of the Chinese modes of punishment, especially when a confession is wanted from a criminal, is to place him where a drop of water will fall upon a certain spot in his shaven crown for hours or days, if necessary. Few men have been able to withstand this awful strain. The torture it inflicts is proven by the experience of Sandow. A student offered to bet him that he would not be able to let a half-litre of water drop upon his hand until the measure was exhausted. A half-litre is about a pint according to our measurement. Sandow laughed at the very idea of his not being able to do this, so a half-litre measure was produced and a hole drilled in the bottom sufficiently large to let the water escape drop by drop. The experiment began, there were many anxious faces, but Sandow laughed and chatted gaily at first, and the student kept count of the number of drops. At about the two hundredth Sandow grew a little more serious, soon an expression of pain crossed his face. With the entrance into the third hundred his hand began to swell and grow red, then the skin burst. The pain grew more and more excruciating until finally at the four hundred and twentieth drop Sandow had to give up and acknowledge himself vanquished. He paid the bet, but his hand was sore for several days afterwards.

Young Men's Best Opportunities.

If the young men of the present day who are starting out in life would combat the modern tendency to go to the great centres of population, and cast their lines in some of the smaller cities it would be better from them, writes Edward W. Bok in the October Ladies Home Journal. I know of no young man whom I envy more to-day than he who having energy and ability, has the wisdom and the determination to remain in one of these smaller cities, or go to one of them, and start upon a business career with any sort of prospective success. The happiest kind of life is before him. With a more limited field before him than in a vaster and to him more meaningless city, he can concentrate his efforts and cement his connections in a way that is impossible in a large city. With honest dealings as his watchword every step he takes is noticed. Every advance counts just so much for him. He is in direct touch with the people who make up the life of his community; his acts are known of all men. He grows with the community, and in time becomes part of its best life, and the degree of his success depends entirely upon his own efforts and opportunities.

EVERY BOY.

Wants or should want an Education,

And The Eastern Reflector is Going to help one Boy in that direction.

We will give absolutely free of charge a scholarship entitling the holder to free tuition in all the English branches for the entire spring term, 1896 (5 months) of Greenville Male Academy.

This is the best school for boys in Eastern North Carolina, and the boy will be fortunate who wins this prize.

CONDITIONS.

This 5 months scholarship is to be given to the boy who will get the largest number of yearly subscribers for between now and 6 o'clock P. M. on Jan 11th, 1896. Two subscribers for 6 months or four subscribers for 3 months will count the same as one yearly subscriber. This is no catch penny device but a bona-fide offer, and if only one subscriber should be brought during the time specified the boy who brings it will get the scholarship. Of course we expect more than one subscriber to be brought in, for this is a prize worth winning and many boys will work for it.

The Eastern Reflector

In order that there may be an incentive for every boy who wishes to enter this contest, we offer a cash commission of 10 per cent on all subscribers, so that those who fail to get the scholarship will be paid for their work, but the one who wins the scholarship will not get the commission. Now boys get to work with the determination to win this prize. You can get as many sample copies of the REFLECTOR as you need by applying to the office. If you decide to enter this contest send us your name as we wish to know how many boys are working for the prize. We will publish the result of the contest with the name of winner in the issue of the REFLECTOR of Jan. 15th, 1896, giving the successful boy time to enter school on the opening day of spring term Monday, Jan. 20th.

ECHOES.

Christmas is Gone, But The News Comes on.

It looks like there might be snow.

This is the last Saturday of the year.

Now the days will begin to lengthen slowly.

Light showers to-day and to-night. Sunday fair.

Greenville had an exceedingly pleasant Christmas.

There have been a number of dances and parties this week.

The little folks are not done talking yet about what Santa brought them.

FOUND.—Pair of steel rimmed eye glasses, which have been left at this office for owner.

Some of the turpentine men from South Carolina and Georgia are here hiring hands.

Will you need a ledger for the new year's business? The Reflector Book Store has all sizes.

The Reflector Book Store has account paper in tablets, the very thing for taking inventory on.

The prettiest line of 5 and 10 cent tablets we ever had were received today at Reflector Book Store.

The Methodist Sunday School had a gay time at the party in the Star Warehouse, Thursday night.

Attention is called to the advertisement of land sale by W. B. Wingate, administrator of J. L. W. Nobles.

The boys touched off the old cannon several times Wednesday night and made the windows around town rattle.

Mr. Merchant, let your plans for the new year embrace an advertisement in the REFLECTOR. Don't try to do business without it.

In a few days I will have 50 head of fine horses and mules, and they will be sold cheap. It will pay you to see me. J. F. KING.

Things have looked dull on tobacco row this week with the warehouses closed and the boys away. They will open business again on January 1st.

If you want any magazines for next year you can leave your subscriptions at the Reflector Book Store and save the trouble of ordering them yourself. We can give discounts when several are ordered for one person.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR resumes its visits to you to-day. The coming year we shall endeavor to make the paper better than ever, and to accomplish this we ask the cooperation of every one interested in the advancement of Greenville.

THE ROUND-UP.

Mr. H. M. Hardee, of Greene county, has purchased through Mr. Henry Sheppard, real estate agent, the Smith store building now occupied by Mr. M. R. Lang. Mr. Hardee will come to Greenville and engage in merchandising.

Other parties having purchased the store building now occupied by Lang, necessitating his removal to another store, he will begin on January 1st, disposing of his stock at cost to save trouble of moving goods. See advertisement.

THE MUSICALS.

Greeted by a Large and Appreciative Audience.

A very large audience attended the musicale in the Opera House Friday evening, and were well pleased with the entertainment. The musical was given under the direction of Miss Ione May, of Farmville, who was assisted by Miss Marietta Swan and Mr. M. M. Swan, of New York, Miss Petronella Pate, of Goldsboro, and Misses Hortese Forbes, Annie Sheppard and Sarah Hooker, of Greenville.

The following programme was rendered:

Piano Duet—Overture, "William Tell," Misses Forbes and Hooker.

Song—"The Flight of Ages," Miss May.

Cornet Solo. (a) "Forest Concert," (b) "The Elf," Mr. Swan.

Song—"Fleeting Days," Miss Pate.

Vocal Duet—"Love Divine," Misses May and Swan.

Piano Solo—"Etude de Style," Miss May.

Vocal Solo—"Ashore," Miss Swan.

Cornet Solo. (a) "How Wonderful is the Power," (b) "The Last rose of Summer," Mr. Swan.

Instrumental Trio.

Vocal Duet—"O, That we Two were Mating," Misses Swan and May.

The encores to Misses May and Swan and Mr. Swan were enthusiastic, Miss Swan having to respond the third time. She has a charming voice. Miss May deserves much credit for the success of the entertainment.

"THE DYING SWAN."

MR. EDITOR:

We are told by ancient tradition that the swan never sings except when it is dying. This is not true, and many of the citizens of Greenville can bear testimony to that truth. We heard on Friday night a most beautiful strain of a most beautiful living Swan and the echoes still linger in our soul. We would be delighted to hear this living Swan sing in her own exquisite style "Then You'll Remember Me," for surely the good people of Greenville will long remember the Swan's down in the Xmas holidays of '95. X.

Run Over and Badly Hurt.

Thursday evening just before night little Leon Pender, son of Mr. L. H. Pender, went to cross the street in front of his father's store when he was knocked down by a passing vehicle. The horse struck him first, and as the little fellow went to raise up the animal kicked over the right eye, then both wheels of the buggy passed over him. Mr. Pender rushed out to pick his little son up and carried him into Wooten's drug store where Drs. Zeno Brown and Charlie Laughinghouse were called in to attend him. They found a fearful cut over his right eye and bad bruises about his head and face. Fortunately no bones were broken, but he had a narrow escape. The little fellow is reported to be getting along very well.

What Two Think.

The Daily Greenville REFLECTOR is one year old and a credit to Greenville. Bro. Whichard is a hard worker and has talent. His town should stand by him.—Burlington News.

The Greenville DAILY REFLECTOR, a spright and interesting little daily paper, is one year old. Bro. Whichard is a mighty good fellow, and all the success that comes his way is not too good for him.—Lexington Dispatch.

No Passengers on Freight Trains.

The Atlantic Coast Line authorities have passed an order that on and after Monday, January 6th, no passengers will be carried on the freight trains running between Weldon and Kinston. This rule may take much responsibility off the shoulders of the railroad officials and employes, but we believe it will work a great inconvenience to people living along the road.

Sale of Valuable Town Lot.

In obedience to an order made by the Board of County Commissioners at their meeting on the first Monday in November 1895, directing me as the Clerk of said Board to advertise for sale the lot belonging to the County of Pitt, known in the plan of the town of Greenville as lot number 102, it being the lot now used by the town of Greenville, as a Market House with the permission of the Board of County Commissioners, I William M. King, ex officio Clerk of the Board of Commissioners of Pitt County, do hereby give public notice that said lot will be exposed to public sale to the highest bidder, in front of the Court House door, at 12 o'clock M. on Monday the 6th day of January 1896. The terms of sale will be one third cash and the balance to be secured in two equal instalments, payable in one and two years, with six per cent interest on deferred payments, with privilege to purchase to pay the whole at any time and take his deed. Title reserved until the whole of the purchase money is paid. The board reserves the right to affirm or disaffirm said sale. Notice is also given that the town government will be permitted to remove the Market House and other buildings erected on said lot by the town, in accordance with the agreement entered into at the time permission was given by the Board of County Commissioners to the town Commissioners to erect and use said buildings. The lot will be offered in three alternate ways which will be shown in detail on a plan on file in the office of the Register of Deeds and can be seen by the public at any time and will also be announced on day of sale. W. M. KING, Clk. Bd. of Com. of Pitt Co.
