GIRLS OF TO-DAY.

CHARLOTTE PERKINS STETSON.

Girls of to-day! Give ear! Never since time began Has come to the race of man A year, a day, an hour, So full of promise and power As the time that now is here:

Here at the gates of gold You stand in the pride of youth, Strong in courage and truth, Stirred by a force kept back Through centuries long and black, Armed with a power threefold!

First: You are makers of men! Then be the things you preach! Let your own greatness teach! When mothers like this you see Men will be strong and free— Then; and not till then!

Second: Since Adam fell, Have you not heard it said That men by women are led? True is the saying—true! See to it that you do! See that you lead them well!

Third: You have work of your own! Maid and mother and wife. Look in the face of life! There are duties you owe the race! Outside your dwelling-place There is work for you alone!

Maid and mother and wife, See your own work be done! Be worthy a noble son! Help man in the upward way! Truly, a girl to-day. Is the strongest thing in life!

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Near Lockport, Ill., 200 pounds of dynamite in a magazine was blown up but no one hurt.

Four men held up a street car in San Francisco and a row ensued in which three passengers were hurt and one robbed of a considerable amount of money. Three of the robbers were caught.

Baltimore was visited by another large fire on Friday night. Armstrong, Cator & Co., were large losers. The fire is estimated at $350,000.

The damage by water in Missouri is estimated at $5,000,000. In some places a famine is feared.

While a Jewish dramatic company was performing in Baltimore, a stampede was caused by the cry of fire and twenty-three persons were killed and several wounded.

By a vote of 170 to 136 the House Saturday passed the section of the bill introduced by the Committee on Ways and Means authorizing the issue of 3 per cent coin bonds to maintain the gold reserve. Forty-seven Republicans voted with the Democrats against the proposition as did all the Populists.

They Say

That the doctor's motto is "patients and long suffering."

That a long word used to describe a short condition, is—insolvent.

That no one can arrest the flight of time, but any one can stop a minute.

That the "ocean of life" which the poet speaks of is not always, pacific.

That the man who wears loud clothes, is apt to have the girls' snails upon his suit.

That a man may be said to break fast before he gets up—when he takes a roll in bed.

J. C. Greene and Edward Greene went to Washington on their bicycles Saturday and returned Sunday evening. Jim says that a breakdown and prospect of having to walk 14 miles on the return trip kinder made him feel down in the mouth but he borrowed a blacksmith shop, patched up and got home in good shape.

RECORD OF A YEAR.

What Greenville Did in the Way of Building Improvements in 1895.

You may talk about what a town is doing in the way of progress, and say it is doing thus and so, but giving the proof of it is sometimes a different thing. The REFLECTOR has had much to say during the past year about what Greenville was doing, and has frequently pointed out new buildings going up here and there, but to-day we are enabled to give the figures that speak for themselves and show that there is no myth about the advancement Greenville is making.

Capt. J. T. Williams, one of our contractors, has very kindly furnished us with a list of buildings, which is as follows:

|---|--------|
| J. L. Sugg, dwelling, | $ 900 |
| Higgs Bros., tenant houses, | 800 |
| Jesse Proctor, dwelling, | 700 |
| J. R. Moore, tenant houses | 800 |
| Chas. Cobb, store | 400 |
| Greenville Lumber Co. mill and fixtures | 20,000 |
| O. Hooker, two prize houses | 3,000 |
| Eastern Warehouse Co., enlarging warehouse | 750 |
| Hooker & Bernard, improvements to prize house | 600 |
| Forbes & Moye, prize house | 1,200 |
| Ed Briley, dwelling | 300 |
| Mrs. Evans, dwelling | 250 |
| J. A. Dupree, dwelling | 1,250 |
| H. C. Edwards, dwelling, | 700 |
| Rodntree, Brown & Co., warehouse | 2,600 |
| C. T. Munford, three dwellings | 4,000 |
| Mrs. Knion, dwelling | 150 |
| A. Forbes, school house | 200 |
| Mrs. Daniel, dwelling | 600 |
| Dr. C. J. O'Hagan, improvements | 1 50 |
| Dr. F. W. Brown, office | 300 |
| Vaults in Court House, | 3,200 |
| Elliott Bros., improvements | 200 |
| D. J. Whichard, improvements | 150 |
| S. M. Schultz, enlarging store | 900 |
| Cory Bros, two dwellings | 1,500 |
| Joseph Whitty, store | 700 |
| H. F. Harriss, improvements, | 125 |
| A. C. Line, enlarging depot | 2,000 |
| P. H. Gorman, improvements to prize house | 250 |
| R. L. Humber, dwelling | 900 |
| Small jobs, estimated | 2,500 |

Capt. Williams says that this estimated work represented in the $2,500 embrace several buildings put up for colored people whose names he could not obtain and a number of small jobs of repairing where the amount expended was less than $100. There are also several buildings upon which work was recently commenced but not advanced far enough to include in the report for this year.

Upon the whole it shows good progress for the town and indicates that Greenville is enjoying a healthy substantial growth.

There may possibly have been some omissions from the above list of which the REFLECTOR will gladly make note if our attention is called to any.

A Nice Treat.

The REFLECTOR office was made happy this morning when friend George Harrison walked in and handed the editor a box of cigars with the "compliments of the season." They are of the famous Southern Leader brand and every cigar wrapped in tinfoil, alternating in gold and silver color. There is no likelihood of our "swearing off" from smoking when such delightful cigars as these are on hand.

IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Matters of Interest Over the State.

The Gastonia Gazette says there is a man 63 years old in Gaston county, who has bought a blue back spelling book for his own use.

A team of mules belonging to Kelly Woods were drowned at W. A. Bailey's ferry on the Yadkin river, in Davie county. The animals took fright from the master hollowing for the ferryman. They dashed in the river and were drowned in a few minutes.

The town of Liberty, Randolph county, was visited by a very disastrous fire Thursday night. The fire started in a ware room, how it is not known, and as there was no protection whatever against it the flames spread until nothing was left for them to feed upon. Every store in the town was burned. The loss is about $100,000 with insurance of about one-fifth that amount. Several dwellings were also burned.

Union at Washington.

Rev. C. M. Billings returned from Washington. He says the union meeting there was a very pleasant and profitable one. The pulpits of all the churches of the town, except the Episcopal, were filled by Baptist ministers Sunday morning, and they worshipped together in the Opera House Sunday night. A resolution was adopted that the Roanoke Union would take up the work and complete the church building at Washington.

Journalism the Higher Standard.

A newspaper of one party cannot "support" a candidate of another party without the loss of reputation and a suspicion of having sold out; but a good Democratic lawyer can take a contract to deprive a Democrat of an office to which he has been elected, and give it to a Republican, and it is regarded as legitimate law practice. This is the difference between the two great professions of law and journalism. The standard of morality is higher in journalism than in any profession short of the ministry.—Hopkinsville Kentucky.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 30TH, 1895.

The Newport News shipping and Dry Dock company gets the Government contract for constructing both the new battleships that are to be built, the Kearsage and her unnamed mate. This is a great triumph for the South and another incontrovertible proof of her present and increasing magnitude of industrial affairs.

Hon. Alfred M. Waddell writes the following manly sentiment to the Wilmington Messenger: "I notice in the proceedings of Congress that a resolution offered in the Senate by Mr. Call to permit ex Confederates to serve in the United States army, and a similar suggestion in the House by Mr. Meredith, of Virginia, were in the one case objected to and in the other ignored. Under these circumstances the ex-Confederate who would offer his services to the country is a hound of the meanest variety."

The South Ignored.

A careful examination of the composition of the committees of the House by Speaker Reed shows that not a single first or second or third class chairmanship is given to the South, and that in all the States that seceded in 1861 only one little tenth-rate chairmanship is bestowed. New England got clever, including such important committees as the Ways and Means, Naval Affairs, Banking and Currency, Patents.

The South gets one little insignificant committee, that of Expenditures on Public Buildings, it going to Mr. Settle, of North Carolina. This is not the committee on Public Buildings, as has been proposed. That important committee goes, of course, to a New Englander, Mr. Milliken, of Maine. The committee, of which a North Carolina is chairman, merely examines and looks after the expenditures on public buildings, and is about the most insignificant committee in Congress. Mr. Settle deserved better than this. The 18,000,000 people of the South deserved better representation, if they were to be given anything at all.

If Speaker Reed had studied to ignore and insult the South, he could not have succeeded better.

And yet the Southern men are advised that if they want the recognition they merit, they ought to go into the Republican party. That advice was taken in some of the Southern States last year, with the recognition above stated.

Mr. Settle's pride and his public exhibition of toadyism to Reed will shut his mouth, but the people of all parties in the South will be indignant at the Speaker's studied policy to ignore Southern men, and to make it impossible for Southern Republicans to exercise the least influence in shaping legislation.—Raleigh News and Observer.

POLITICAL OPINIONS.

The New York Tribune says that it is not able to see any necessity whatever for borrowing more money on any kind of security.

"The Senate's gift to the South" is the way many of the papers head the action permitting ex-Confederates to enter the army and navy of the United States. If we should have war these brave men would be found in the front "where the bravest love to die." If the House passes the bill, a long delayed act of justice will have been done. The South will not give any exhibition of rejoicing at receiving under stress of war what should have been freely given a quarter of a century ago.—Raleigh News and Observer.

If Senator Daniel, of Virginia, who was himself a gallant Confederate soldier, had risen in his seat in the United States Senate and hurled back at John Sherman and nutmeg Platt the insult offered the Confederate veterans in the "forgiveness" accorded them for having fought against the invaders of the South and in defence of their homes and fire-sides, he would have been in a better case, we think, than when pleading for something the old soldiers have never asked for, which they don't want and which they will not accept.—Wilmington Review.

No American citizen has a right to delude himself with the idea that a war between this country and England would be a trivial affair. If we could entice the English over here and fight them on land we could clean them up easily enough, but this would be a naval warfare and Great Britain is the first naval power in the world while the United States is the third or fourth or fifth. Thus Great Britain has 489 vessels which are capable of service on the water, while this country has only 123 of all classes. Besides, our coast defenses are insignificant, New York being the only seaport city in the country which is properly defended. It will do to laugh over the prospects of war, but not over its prospective consequences.—Charlotte Observer.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.

The recent defeat of the Democratic party has had a tendency to discourage some Democrats and to utterly dispirit those who are not well grounded in the faith.

After the disaster that befell the party in the Greeley campaign the discouragement and disgust were such that disruption seemed imminent. In Ohio a movement to declare the Democratic party officially dead and to build another party with a new name took shape. There was a meeting of prominent Democrats who were ready to launch the new party, but before making the formal announcement it was decided to send a committee to see Judge Thurman and to secure his cooperation. He received the committee in his little unpretentious 10x12 office, heard them patiently, and after they had finished their long statements, arguments, and predictions the Old Roman sat for a while apparently lost in deep reflection. When he came to make known his position he did not reply to anything that had been urged, but dismissed the subject and the committee with this reply: "Gentlemen, this room is too small to break up the Democratic party in." The delegation was offended, withdrew, launched their new party, and saw it die like a flower wilts in the sun.

Four years later the Democratic party elected a President and carried the House of Representatives by an immense majority, justifying the wisdom of Mr. Thurman's memorable reply. History repeats itself. The boastful Republicans and Populists and the weak-kneed Democrats will find that the Democratic party cannot die so long as the people believe in a government of the people by the people for the people.—Raleigh News and Observer.

EVERY BOY.

Wants or should want an Education,

And The Eastern Reflector is Going to help one Boy in that direction.

We will give absolutely free of charge a scholarship entitling the holder to free tuition in all the English branches for the entire spring term, 1896 (5 months) of Greenville Male Academy.

This is the best school for boys in Eastern North Carolina, and the boy will be fortunate who wins this prize.

CONDITIONS.

This 5 months scholarship is to be given to the boy who will get the largest number of yearly subscribers for between now and 6 o'clock P. M. on Jan 11th, 1896. Two subscribers for 6 months or four subscribers for 3 months will count the same as one yearly subscriber. This is no catch penny device but a bona-fide offer, and if only one subscriber should be brought during the time specified the boy who brings it will get the scholarship. Of course we expect more than one subscriber to be brought in, for this is a prize worth winning and many boys will work for it.

The Eastern Reflector

In order that there may be an incentive for every boy who wishes to enter this contest, we offer a cash commission of 10 per cent on all subscribers, so that those who fail to get the scholarship will be paid for their work, but the one who wins the scholarship will not get the commission. Now boys get to work with the determination to win this prize. You can get as many sample copies of the REFLECTOR as you need by applying to the office. If you decide to enter this contest send us your name as we wish to know how many boys are working for the prize. We will publish the result of the contest with the name of winner in the issue of the REFLECTOR of Jan. 15th, 1896, giving the successful boy time to enter school on the opening day of spring term Monday, Jan. 20th.

Address all letters to

THE EASTERN REFLECTOR,
Greenville N. C.

GREENVILLE, N. C. Oct. 25th, 1895.

This to certify that I have arranged with the publisher of THE EASTERN REFLECTOR to teach free of charge in the English branches, for the 5 months term beginning Jan. 20th, 1896, the boy to whom he may award the scholarship in the above subscription contest.

ECHOES.

Christmas is Gone, But The News Comes on.

Swear-offs will soon be in order.

This year will give us but one more day.

M. R. Lang went to Kinston this afternoon.

The schools opened to-day after their holiday vacation.

Bashful young men begin to tremble—leap year Wednesday.

We have eighteen hundred and ninety-six almanacs in our office.

It looks like the old year is preparing to weep over his leave taking.

I still carry the Southern Leader, the best 5 cent cigar made. D. S. SMITH.

FOUND.—An over-check rein which has been left at REFLECTOR office for owner.

Will you need a ledger for the new year's business? The Reflector Book Store has all sizes.

Next year belongs to the girls and each one must try and catch her ideal man—if she can.

About forty colored laborers left here this morning for Georgia. There was a crowd around the depot to see them off.

Miss Bettie Warren will open a school in Greenville, on Monday, January 6, 1896. See her for terms and particulars.

It is time to "swear off"—that you will stop smoking common cigars. Go to D. S. Smith for the Southern Leader and you have something good.

The Reflector Book Store has account paper in tablets, the very thing for taking inventory on.

The prettiest line of 5 and 10 cent tablets we ever had were received today at Reflector Book Store.

In a few days I will have 50 head of fine horses and mules, and they will be sold cheap. It will pay you to see me. J. F. KING.

If you want any magazines for next year you can leave your subscriptions at the Reflector Book Store and save the trouble of ordering them yourself. We can give discounts when several are ordered for one person.

Prof. Bagley opened school to-day at the Collegiate Institute. We are requested to say that Mrs. Bagley has charge of the Primary Department, and Miss Lizzie Carver of the Music Department. Parents cannot do better than send their children to this excellent school.

THE ROUND-UP.

A Long Catch of After Christmas Personals.

Cornelius Stephens is quite sick.

J. H. Blount went to Tarboro to-day.

C. J. Hunter returned to Raleigh to-day.

Prof. W. F. Harding returned to Charlotte to-day.

Miss Aylmer Sugg returned from Kinston this morning.

Miss Nannie King has gone to Rocky Mount to visit her sister.

Miss Capitola Granger, of Kinston, is visiting Mrs. W. H. White.

W. C. Hines returned Saturday evening from Sampson county.

Miss Sallie Rountree, of Kinston, is spending the holidays with Miss Hortense Forbes.

J. B. Jackson, E. F. Munford and Fountain Cox returned to Wake Forest College to-day.

Miss Lucy Joyner, who was visiting her brother, Andrew Joyner, left this morning for Asheville.

Mrs. Anna Harrison, after spending a few days with Mrs. W. H. Ragsdale, returned to Oxford to-day.

Mrs. H. L. Coward, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. J. L. Wooten, returned home Saturday evening.

F. M. Hodges and wife and Miss Betsey Greene went to Washington Saturday to visit relatives and returned to-day.

Misses Ada Tyson, Addie Johnston, Bettie Tripp and Clyde Cox left for the N. & I. College at Greensboro this morning.

Miss Mattie Whitfield and little May Whitfield, sister and daughter of N. H. Whitfield, who have been spending a few days here, returned to Oxford to-day.

January Weather.

The following data covered the period for the month named, and should prove of value and interest in anticipating the more important meteorological elements, and the range within which such variations may be expected to keep for the coming month of January:

Mean or normal temperature, 47°; the warmest month was that of 1880, with an average of 55°; the coldest month was that of 1893, with an average of 39°; the highest temperature was 77°, on the 28th, 1879; the lowest temperature was 9°, on the 6th, 1894; average date on which first "killing" frost occurred in autumn, November 6th, average date on which last "killing" frost occurred in spring, March 30th.

Average precipitation for the month, 3.94 inches; average number of days with .01 of an inch or more, 12, the greatest monthly precipitation was 7.52 inches, in 1878; the least monthly precipitation was .52 inches, in 1876; the greatest amount of precipitation recorded in any 35 consecutive hours was 3.53 inches, on the 5th, 1874. Snow seldom falls here in January.

Average number of clear days, 9; partly cloudy days, 11; cloudy days, 11; the prevailing winds have been from the southwest; the highest velocity of the wind was 44 miles, from the southwest, on the 9th, 79.—Wilmington Review.

A Good Man.

Rev. N. H. D. Wilson, the new pastor of the Methodist church, preached his first sermons here on Sunday. Large congregations were out to hear him both morning and evening. He is a young man of surpassing ability and a splendid preacher. His church and the community generally are delighted with him.

THE FLAG OF MICKEY FREE.

He loved the flag, did Mickey Free,
With love that well might shame
Each dull, unpatriotic heart,
And cover it with blame.
Old Ireland was his native home,
Yet, strange as it may be,
He always called the stars and stripes
"The flag of Mickey Free."

He was no coward; cool and brave,
He met the tolls of life,
And honestly he labored for
His children and his wife.
Four years, throughout the war, he fought
So that the states might be,
And lived to see it wave in peace,
The flag of Mickey Free.

He often said: "God bless the flag!
It floats above a land
Where everything the heart can wish
Man's labor can command.
O'er Christian, Jew and infidel
It waves impartially;
And saints and sinners well may bless
The flag of Mickey Free."

Poor Mickey! When the time drew nigh
That he must pass from earth,
He lay within his cabin walls
Speechless as at his birth.
Uneasy moved his eyes about,
Something he fain would see;
He looked in sadness, failed to find
The flag of Mickey Free.

His wife, remembering the flag,
Brought it before his eyes;
And, as in joy, a hundred smiles
Seemed o'er his face to rise.
His manly heart was satisfied;
Dying, content was he,
His fading vision resting on
The flag of Mickey Free.

Down Grade on a Runaway Car.

"About 12 years ago I had an experience I will never forget," said Sidney Benda of Syracuse, a traveling man, to a reporter. "It fairly made my blood run cold at the time. I was riding on the Detroit, Lansing and Northern railroad in Michigan on my way from Lansing to Grand Rapids. We had been out from Lansing about an hour when we began to go down a steep grade. The present patent couplings were not in use on that road then, and there was always danger that the cars would become separated. I was sitting in the rear end of the train and was the only passenger in the car. Suddenly I began to realize that we were going at a great rate of speed. I looked out the window and I saw that we were shooting down the grade as the train had never gone before. I ran to the door at the front of the car. There I saw that the engine and two cars had broken loose from us and were shooting on ahead. We were gaining on them rapidly. The engine was slowing up. I saw that we would crash into them in two or three moments. I took hold of the brake, and I tugged away at it with all my strength. The sweat came out on my forehead when I saw how fast we were gaining on the cars ahead. Then we began to slow down. The engine and cars were not 50 yards ahead of us when we came to a stop. If I hadn't reached the brake as soon as I did, I wouldn't be alive to tell you about it today."—Buffalo Express.

The Difference.

Oh, yes, there is a marked difference between the big man mentally considered and the little man. When the big man gets an idea, he lays it away in his brain box for use when an emergency arises for it, but inject an idea in the little man's noddle, and it will leap out of his mouth the very first time he opens that organ.—Boston Transcript.

An Economical Housewife.

"Why do you so often invite that old gossip, Mrs. Brown?"
"Oh, she always knows so many interesting things to tell that every one forgets to eat and almost all sleep left."—Phonograph Blatter

Sale of Valuable Town Lot.

In obedience to an order made by the Board of County Commissioners at their meeting on the first Monday in November 1895, directing me as the Clerk of said Board to advertise for sale the lot belonging to the County of Pitt, known in the plan of the town of Greenville as lot number 102, it being the lot now used by the town of Greenville, as a Market House with the permission of the Board of County Commissioners, I, William M. King, ex officio Clerk of the Board of Commissioners of Pitt County, do hereby give public notice that said lot will be exposed to public sale to the highest bidder, in front of the Court House door, at 12 o'clock M. on Monday the 6th day of January 1896. The terms of sale will be one third cash and the balance to be secured in two equal instalments, payable in one and two years, with six per cent interest on deferred payments, with privilege to purchase to pay the whole at any time and take his deed. Title reserved until the whole of the purchase money is paid. The board reserves the right to affirm or disaffirm said sale. Notice is also given that the town government will be permitted to remove the Market House and other buildings erected on said lot by the town, in accordance with the agreement entered into at the time permission was given by the Board of County Commissioners to the town Commissioners to erect and use said buildings. The lot will be offered in three alternate ways which will be shown in detail on a plan on file in the office of the Register of Deeds and can be seen by the public at any time and will also be announced on day of sale. W. M. KING, Clerk. Bd. of Com. of Pitt Co.
