MONDAY, APRIL 20TH, 1896.

Two Heavily Loaded.

Old Brother Wilkins was up before the church for getting drunk. It was a rare thing for Brother Wilkins to have such a charge against him, and he was the picture of humiliation as he rose to "fess up."

April's Variable Mood.

April, it has been observed, seems to have borrowed something from nearly every month in the year—a few windy days from March, spells of rain from equinoctial and melancholy fall, occasionally a nipping and an eager air of wintry suggestiveness, and often a week or so from midsummer.

Foretold Her Death.

Miss Bessie Willis, the 15 years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jenkins Willis, of Waynesville, died in Asheville yesterday at 3:45 p. m. at the residence of her aunt, Mrs. W. O. Muller, 16 Charlotte street.

Yesterday morning Miss Willis told her mother and others at the bedside that she had just had a vision of heaven, where she saw her sister and friends who had passed over the river.

Why Men Should Marry.

It was clearly meant that all men, as well as all women, should marry; and those who, for whatever reason, miss this obvious destiny are, from nature's point of view, failures.

And in so doing he defrauds himself of the opportunities for mental and moral development, which only the normal experience can provide. He deliberately stunts the stature of his manhood, impoverishes his heart and brain, and chokes up all the sweetest potentialities of his soul.

To himself he is apt to appear like the wise fox that detects the trap, though it be ever so cunningly baited; that refuses to surrender his liberty for the sake of an appetizing chicken or rabbit, which may, after all, be a decoy stuffed with sawdust while as a matter of fact, his case is that of the cowardly servant in the parable, who, for fear of losing his talent, hid it in a napkin, and in the end was deemed unworthy of his stewardship.—H. H. Boyesen, in North American Review.

REFORM

The great and good reformer brought his biggest search-light out, and with firm, unswerving purpose he flashed it all about;

It showed up everybody's straight and crooked ways, Till to a man the rascals ran to hide them from the blaze.

Then presidents, clerks, and bank cashiers began to turn them pale,

And e'en the guardians of the peace quailed with a thoughtful quail; The sugar man and butter man their heads drew out of sight, But the dry goods dealer boldly stood and faced that searching light.

The railroad corporations paused, and ministers meanwhile Began to search their souls to see if they were free from guile;

And those who led society, of stately pedigree, Trembled at what the curious world in blazonry might see.

And so this benefactor had of moral fun no end,

In showing up the faults alike of enemy and friend,

Till some one got his breath again and turned the light about,

And put this great reformer man at once to utter rout.

—M. Phelps Dawson.

POLITICS IN THE STATE.

Cleveland county Republican convention went for Russell, McKinley and Pritchard.

All 16 counties in the ninth congressional district have instructed for McKinley, Pritchard and Pearson.

A mass meeting of negroes at Oxford passed resolutions endorsing Settle, Holton and Dockery. Granville is said to be solid for Dockery for Governor.

The Russellites and Dockeryites in Robeson county compromised by dividing the vote of the county equally between the two favorites—giving them two each.

Richmond county Republican convention went solid for Dockery for Governor but endorsed Pritchard for Senator. Holton was endorsed for State chairman.

There are to be two Republican county conventions in Union county. One met last Saturday and endorsed Russell. Another will met next Saturday and endorse Dockery.

Forsyth Republican convention was held Saturday. The Holton-Dockery-Settle crowd was in command. Resolutions endorsing McKinley were laid on the table.

Skating Suits.

Fashionable women have returned to their love of skating, and some pretty fur-trimmed costumes will be worn in their rather exclusive rinks. These differ little from the cloth tailor gowns seen every day, but are slightly shorter in the skirt, and not too wide. Well-fitted jacket waists with fur vest or a fur Eton jacket set on are prescribed by tailors, while others wear the new belted jackets of baby-lamb or of seal-skin, with a cloth skirt bordered narrowly with the same fur.

TIGER LOOSE IN A DAIRY.

Surprise of a Thirsty Bull When the Big Cat "Woughed" in His Face.

There was considerable excitement at Mysore recently. One of the maharajah's tigers got loose and was not recaptured for over 48 hours. Allowing tigers and other wild animals to escape out of confinement seems a common event in Mysore. During the time of the late maharajah one got out of his cage in the menagerie, and also during his father's reign a tiger loafed all over the fort a whole day, going in and out of people's houses, but strange to say, on none of these occasions has anyone been injured.

The tiger in the present instance is one which is kept by his highness' dairy to keep away the "evil eye" from the cattle. He was netted for Lord Lansdowne to shoot when his excellency visited Mysore a few years ago and is a splendid brute. The dairy is a very large yard, with open sheds all round, in which the cattle are tied, the tiger's cage being close to one end and a fountain near the other. The tiger got out about seven p. m. and calmly strolled around, the place being full of cattle and people at the time; but, fortunately, he had no desire whatever to taste stall-fed beef, or Hindoo either, although he passed within a few feet of the cows and the men, and after examining them all quietly lay down by the fountain.

By nine o'clock a couple of elephants brought down the nets and a cordon was run around the place, preventing the tiger escaping or getting at the cattle, when two rather amusing incidents occurred. A cow managed to get into the yard, and after skipping about for some time rushed into a part of the net closest to the tiger; and for some time struggled frantically to get loose. Every one fully expected that the cow would be killed. Finally, however, a number of men went out and held the wretched animal down and removed the net. Hardly was this over when a splendid stud bull got over a part of the net which had fallen down, and after careening about the yard just as the cow had done, rushed right up to the fountain and dipped his nose into the water. Evidently he had no idea the tiger was there or he would never have gone up in the style he did. However, after drinking, he looked up, when the tiger, who could not have been more than a few feet away, "woughed" in his face, and the way that bull went away after that did one's heart good to see. These were two grand opportunities for witnessing "how the tiger seizes his prey," particularly as there were several sportsmen about, but unfortunately it was not to be.

After worrying the poor brute for two days and two nights, during which time he got into the net once, he quietly walked into his cage and was shut up. The cool and indifferent way in which Bassapali Urs' fossilized hunters, with their fearfully and wonderfully made handooks, walked up and down just the tiger was most amusing. What they would have done in the event of the tiger making for one of them it is hard to tell. The claws have grown into the pads of the tiger, and the wretched animal seems to be suffering great pain. Had it not been for this there would doubtless have been a very different tale to tell.—Asian.

SOURCES OF CONTAGION.

The Breath of Sick Persons Laden with Deadly Germs.

A little girl, six years of age, was taken by her mother into a street-car. The car was crowded, and a delicate-looking man lifted the little one to his knees. She sat there a moment, then slid down and clung to her mother's skirts.

After they had left the car, she said: "Maamma, I couldn't sit there; that man breathed in my face and made me sick."

For days afterward she complained that she could not get that dreadful taste out of her mouth. In due time she was attacked with typhoid fever and died.

There was no question whatever in the mind of the physician that the man who took the child up was in the first stages of typhoid. Believing that this disease could be transmitted by the breath, he took pains to make experiments. A sufferer from typhoid breathed a number of times into a glass vessel containing sterilized water. From this water cultures were made, and the true typhoid bacilli developed in enormous quantities.

It is generally supposed that typhoid is due to contaminated water, but experiments of this sort have made it certain that the breath, especially if thrown out suddenly as by coughing, is likely to be laden with the deadly germs. Indeed, physicians are becoming well satisfied that the lungs are constantly at work trying to extract from the blood and throw out all poisonous ingredients. This being the case, those who inhale the breath of a person suffering from almost any disease are liable to receive the germs and become infected with the same malady.—N. Y. Ledger.

At Least Something.

His highness condescends to take part in a bowling evening of the "Social Brothers." He throws a ball which hits nothing. As the prince is near-sighted, he asks: "Well, how many is it?" Painful silence. At last the president makes a desperate effort and says with a deep bow: "Your highness, two of the pins—wobbled!"

CATARRH.

His Worst Enemy Defeated by P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy.

FOR THREE YEARS HE SUFFERED—COULD HARDLY BREATHE AT NIGHT—ONE NOSTRIL CLOSED FOR 10 YEARS.

Mr. A. M. Ramsey, of DeLeon, Texas, was a sufferer from Catarrh in its worst form. Truly, his description of his sufferings seem little short of marvelous. Instead of seeking his couch, glad for the nights coming, he went to it with terror, realizing that another long, weary, wakeful night and a struggle to breathe was before him. He could not sleep on either side for two years. P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, cured him in quick time.

DE LEON, TEXAS. Messrs. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga. Gents: I have used nearly four bottles of P. P. P. I was afflicted from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet. Your P. P. P. has cured my difficulty of breathing, smothering, palpitation of the heart, and has relieved me of all pain. One nostril was closed for ten years, but now I can breathe through it readily. I have not slept on either side for two years; in fact, I dreaded to see night come. Now I sleep soundly in any position all night. I am 50 years old, but expect soon to be able to take hold of the plow handles. I feel glad that I was lucky enough to get P. P. P., and I heartily recommend it to my friends and the public generally. Yours respectfully, A. M. RAMSEY.

THE STATE OF TEXAS—County of Comanche.—Before the undersigned authority on this day, personally appeared A. M. Ramsey, who, after being duly sworn, says on oath that the foregoing statement made by him relative to the virtue of P. P. P. medicine is true. Sworn to and subscribed before me this August 4th, 1891. J. M. LAMBERT, N. P., Comanche County, Texas.
