EDITORIAL NOTES.

Congress adjourned Thursday. The closing hours were tame with the exception of some political remarks made by Mr. Bailey, of Texas. The work of the session and about the only work has been to spend all the money possible. Big pension bills and big appropriation bills are and will be their only monuments.

The Populist of Granville county have held their county convention and nominated a full Populist ticket for all the county offices. They say they are tired of fusion with the Republicans as it means bad government. The convention, it is said by the Oxford Ledger, was an exceedingly orderly one and the ticket nominated has some splendid men upon it.

Judge Graham, who has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for congress in the Fifth District, is out in a letter saying that though the prospects of being elected if nominated are so flattering, yet business engagements and other duties will prevent his allowing his name to be put before the convention. W. W. Kitchen, of Roxboro, the talented son of Capt. Kitchen, of Scotland Neck, is a candidate for the nomination.

Col. Edward D. Hall, a prominent citizen of Wilmington, died Thursday morning, 73 years of age. During the war he was in the front, part of the time as colonel of the Forty-sixth North Carolina Infantry. In 1872 he was Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, was twice elected mayor of that city, and was appointed by President Cleveland inspector of customs, a post he held at the time of his death.

Original Observations.

This is jump year. Do you leap at the idea?

Gold is the "sound" money we hear of but never see.

Never shake a hornet's nest to see if any of the family are at home.

The silver Boies are having it their own way in the West and South.

A youth's palmy days are not pleasant when the palm is his mother's.

There is one friend that never leaves a man through all others forsake—it is poverty.

The presidential bees are buzzing merrily, but the horey crop is very small so far.

The woman who can put a neat patch on a pair of pants is the divinity that shapes our mends.

It is nothing but a waist of words to discuss the subject of tight-lacing.—Isn't that the truth, girls?

Every affliction has its blessing.—The man with a wooden leg never has the rheumatism in that ankle.

A circus never runs too long for the spectators, but let a sermon run over forty minutes, and the congregation can't sit still.

If some men would curry horses with the persistency that they curry favor, they would have a more stable occupation, to say the least.

A health journal says you ought to take three-quarters of an hour for your dinner. Wouldn't it be well to add a few vegetables and a piece of meat?

While others at "springs" are taking their ease, curing ills of the body or head, the only springs that an editor sees are rusty old springs of his bed.—Orange, (N. C.) Observer.

He Wanted His Discharge.

In a regiment in India a private wanted to get home, and saw no other way than shamming deafness. He reported himself sick, and was sent to the hospital. The doctors tried all sorts of ways to find him out, but he was too sharp for them. One day the doctor determined to try him by firing a pistol off just behind him, but he got to hear of the experiment, and of course was prepared for it.

As he and his chum were sitting on their cots opposite each other smoking, the doctor stole into the room, unawares as he thought, and fired the pistol close to his ear. He however, took no notice of the report, but on seeing the smoke he turned to his chum and said:

"Put your pipe out, you fool, the doctor will be round directly."

His ruse worked.—Pearson's Weekly.

True Courtesy.

Gen. Lee was in the cars going to Richmond one day, and was seated at the end farthest from the door. The other seats were filled with officers and soldiers. An old woman poorly dressed, entered, and finding no seat, and none having been offered to her, approached the end where the general was seated. He immediately arose and gave her his seat. Instantly there was a general rising each one offering his seat to the general. But he calmly said: "No, gentlemen; if there was no seat for the infirm woman, there can be none for me." The effect was remarkable. One after another got out of the car. The seats seemed to be too hot for them.

The general and the old lady, soon had the car to themselves.

If the friends of silver can get together they can carry the election and remonetize silver, but it looks like a considerable number of Populists prefer to have the gold standard rather than vote for a free silver Democrat. The Democratic party contains a majority of the silver men, and the other silver forces ought to, in the next election at least, support the Democratic silver nominees, to be made at Chicago.

The Atchison Globe says it would be pleasanter living in the world if there were not so many fools in it, but more difficult to make a living.

Mayor Forbes "pulled" some colored boys this morning for using profane language on the streets.

C. T. MUNFORD,
We are showing an elegant stock of Wash Fabrics, all new of this season's production, and just the thing for the warm weather, such as Dimities, Organdies, Batiste Spiral Cloths, Ducks, Gingham, Plisse and Fancy Swiss Muslins. We would call special attention to the beautiful selection of White Goods, Laces and Embroideries we have on hand, and still we are adding something new every few days. The prices are greatly reduced. The people are coming our way. Everybody admires our spring and summer styles of Clothing. No wonder the crowds come to our place one reason is, because they can buy suits that suit them, another reason is, because we have the courage to accept small profit. Low prices are quick travelers. Men who want style, elegance and durability at low cost should see our line. Our's are the worthiest garments to be found anywhere at anywhere near the price. Our customers demand Clothing of character and refinement—something above the ordinary "refinement"—fine grades, perfection of make, best taste, moderate prices are the prominent points in our clothes. We also have beautiful line of Gents Furnishing Goods which we are offering at surprisingly low figures. Next Door Tyson & Rawls.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, D. C. June 12, '96.

President Cleveland adhered to his sensible rule of refusing to go to the Capitol to sign bills passed during the last hours of the session, and insisted upon having all bills sent to the White House, where he could give them careful examination, as is usually the custom.

By far the most interesting event of the closing hours of the session of Congress was the short humorous speech made in the House by "Private" John Allen, of Mississippi. After referring to the "universal criticism" of his silence during the session, he said: "I desire to say, however, that there has been little at this session of Congress to inspire a man to be loquacious. And I want to say further that I am not the only great statesman whose recent career has been distinguished by his silence. There are a good many of us leaders, Mr. Speaker, who have not been talking much lately. But I have not got anybody to go around and certify as to what my views are. I notice that a distinguished gentleman, who they say is about to be nominated for the Presidency of the United States, has a man in every bailiwick giving a certificate of what his views on the financial question are, but we cannot hear anything from him. Now I do submit that people are authorized to certify all sorts of ways for him, for he has certified all sorts of ways for himself in times gone by. I have a number of his speeches in my pocket. I do not know which one he stands on now, but he has stood on all sides of this question, and people are giving out certificates for him on all sides of the question. They say that an egg that goes around the country with a certificate that it is a good egg is not a safe egg to buy, because, they say that egg never starts out with a certificate until it gets under suspicion." Mr. Allen's speech was interrupted at every sentence with laughter and applause and it was evident that Speaker Reed enjoyed his whacks at McKinley.

Gov. Boies, of Iowa, who is himself a candidate for the Democratic nomination, doesn't take any stock in the idea that Senator Teller, or in fact anybody but a tried and true Democrat, will head the ticket nominated by the Chicago convention. In a letter from Gov. Boies, received by a close friend in Washington this week, he says: "It would in my judgment, be absolutely impossible to raise any considerable number of the people who would convention in favor of nominating any one outside of the party, for the head of the ticket, at least."

The House and Senate split their differences on the battleship question, and the bill as sent to the President provided for three battleships, one to be constructed on the Pacific coast, provided it can be done at a cost not exceeding 4 per cent in excess of the price paid for the others, and direct the Secretary of the Navy to make no more contracts for armor plate until Congress acts on the subject.

Representative Stallings, of Alabama, denounced the remarks made by Representative Linney, of N. C., in favor of the unseating of Representative Underwood, of Alabama, which was accomplished by a vote of 117 to 107, as "the dirtiest abuse of his own section ever delivered by a white man."

Secretary Carlisle's answer to the Senate sub-committee which will investigate the bond issues, by direction of a Senate resolution, was given to the papers this week. It is a long document and goes quite fully into the details of the bond issues, giving the reasons for every act of the administration in connection therewith, and showing that the causes originated under Harrison's administration. It is expected that Secretary Carlisle will be one of the first witnesses who will be heard when the investigation begins, which will probably be inside of ten days.

Senator Gallinger, of New Hampshire, who has aspirations to help manage McKinley's campaign, was asked what sort of a platform the St. Louis convention would adopt. His reply was: "It will be the kind of a platform that will win." That tells the whole story. While there are a few Republicans like Senator Hawley, who is a single standard gold man, and Senator Teller, who is a silver man, who put principle above everything else, the great majority of the party and of the delegates to St. Louis, are only intent upon framing a platform that will win, regardless of principles.

Nearly all the Republican members of Congress have gone to St. Louis to help fix up that straddle to be used as the financial plank of the Republican platform.

While it is generally believed that McKinley will get the Republican nomination, his managers have got to keep wide-awake or they will see him get tricked out of it. There has been a heap of plotting here, and if an opportunity is given them the plotters will upset the McKinley machine.

WHAT FREE COINAGE MEANS.

The free and unlimited coinage of silver means that neither the President nor his Secretary of the Treasury would be allowed any longer to boycott the four hundred and twenty-eight millions of standard silver dollars now in existence. The powers that could re-establish silver coinage would compel the use of silver with gold in the redemption of greenbacks. This would do away with the false pretense that bonds must be sold with which to buy gold to redeem greenbacks. It would remove the constant menace by the gold gang that the legal tender quality shall be taken away from the vast amount of silver dollars now in existence. It would add enough to the money in circulation in the country each year to keep pace with the increase of population and the requirements for domestic exchanges. It would make all the silver bullion in the world worth just as much as though it were already coined into dollars. It would stop greenbacks from being presented at the Treasury, because Heitshach, Ickelheimer & Co., and the rest of the breed of gold speculators would be offered silver when they demanded gold, and they would not want it. Free coinage would guarantee the stability of the currency. The grinding contraction now going on would cease. The borrowed surplus in the Treasury of nearly $200,000,000 would be expended in grand public improvements, including coast defenses, and thus be restored to circulation among the people. It would gradually raise the general level of prices. The production of wheat and other farm products would be resumed on the former scale. Manufacturers of every description would no longer engage in a mere hand-to-mouth production, but would manufacture for the requirements of the coming year. This would give work to those now in distress, and would enable laboring people themselves to buy what they are now doing without, under the harsh compulsion of poverty. The commerce between forty-five States would be resumed; railroads would be taken out of the hands of receivers, because they could again earn interest on their debts and expenses and something more. The occupation of the panic maker would be gone. With free coinage would come a President and Secretary of the Treasury who would not spend half their time bawling to the world their government is bankrupt and compelled to sell its bonds at 20 per cent discount from the interest rates of the world to enrich favored syndicates for some unfathomable reason. Free coinage would stop the borrowing of money in time of peace for the purpose of obtaining gold with which to pay obligations made payable in gold.

In brief, free coinage would mean a back seat for the bears of New York stock market, and for the pawn brokers throughout the country. It would mean that money would be more profitable when invested in business enterprises than when laid away in a napkin to breed upon itself. It would mean fair play among men, and only 100 cents on the dollar in the payment of debts.

A free coinage is coming unless bribery and corruption are stronger in the land than the honest expression of the people's will—Cincinnati Enquirer.

TILL THE BAND BEGINS TO PLAY.

We've had the nesting songbirds and the roses on parade; We've had the steam-piano and the circus lemonade; The sun has gazed upon us with a withering haughty stare That made us long for quarters with the placid polar bear, But doubts would come in spite of all that weather-folk might say, For it isn't truly summer till the band begins to play. The June-time lass has greeted us with sweet unstudied arts And her ribbons and her curls have twined themselves around our hearts; We've set the hammock oscillating underneath the trees, A pendulum to tick away the hours of lazy ease; For it isn't truly summer till the band begins to play. —Washington Star.

Words of Wisdom.

Cleverness is a sort of genius for instrumentality. It is the brain of the hand.

People seldom improve when they have no model but themselves to copy after.

A dwarf sees further than the giant when he has the giant's shoulder to mount.

An old truth stated in a new way will hit and stick where it has often missed.

The injuries we do and those we suffer are seldom weighed in the same balance.

No obligation to justice does force a man to be cruel or to use the sharpest sentence.

If idleness does not produce vice or malevolence it commonly produces melancholy.

An enterprise, when fairly once begun should not be left till all that is sought is won.

Nurture your mind with great thoughts; to believe in the heroic make heroes.

When we stop looking toward the wrong place we will not find it so hard to stay in the right place.

You never know how dear things are, until you buy them, nor how cheap they are until you sell them.

Poverty is no disgrace, but it is a poor recommendation. A bank account is usually taken as evidence of ability.

HELD IT IN THE FIRE.

Medicine Man Proves His Powers to a Zulu King.
Among the great characters of the Zulu is the medicine man. He uses his craft wholly by superstition, and states to his astonished people that the great spirit of the moon had revealed to him the cause of the complaint, whether it be sickness or crime.
The great Dingam was a chief who was a terror to his medicine man. There was no punishment that was too severe but he would inflict it in an insinuating way on the man of witchery. It is related that his confidential man and the great medicine being of the whole Zulu tribe had come under his suspicion. He was sent for by the king, who welcomed his witch doctor in cordial terms. A large fire was burning near by. The king stated:
"My man of medicine, your hands are cold; go nearer to the fire—nearer. Yes, the right hand is very cold. Put it into the fire."
Thus the poor man was obliged to keep his hand in that fire of white heat until the member had burned to a crisp. The command of the king was supreme, and one indication of the pain would mean instant death. After the seeming suspicion of the king had been gratified he stated that the hand was warm now and that all was well.

A RUSSIAN PHILANTHROPIST.

Bought the Freedom of the Serfs of His Native Village.
There died recently in Moscow a man who in the last 20 years gave $5,000,000 to charity. He was State Councillor Jermakoff, who came from a poor family. His first public act which excited general attention was the purchase of the freedom of all the serfs living in his native village. This cost him $120,000. He came to the rescue of the poor people time and time again when the harvests failed. His funeral was one of the largest ever seen in the old burial place of the Russian czars, thousands of the poor of the capital following the philanthropist's body to the grave.

CATARRH.

His Worst Enemy Defeated by
P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy.

FOR THREE YEARS HE SUFFERED—COULD HARDLY BREATHE AT NIGHT—ONE NOSTRIL CLOSED FOR 10 YEARS.

Mr. A. M. Ramsey, of DeLeon, Texas, was a sufferer from Catarrh in its worst form. Truly, his description of his sufferings seem little short of marvelous. Instead of seeing his cough, glad for the nights coming, he went to it with terror, realizing that another long, weary, wakeful night and a struggle to breathe was before him. He could not sleep on either side for two years. P. P. P., Lippman's Great Remedy, cured him in quick time.

DE LEON, TEXAS.
Messrs. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga.
Gents: I have used nearly four bottles of P. P. P. I was afflicted from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet. Your P. P. P. has cured my difficulty of breathing, smothering, palpitation of the heart, and has relieved me of all pain. One nostril was closed for ten years, but now I can breathe through it readily.

I have not slept on either side for two years; in fact, I dreaded to see night come. Now I sleep soundly in any position all night.
I am 50 years old, but expect soon to be able to take hold of the plow handles. I feel glad that I was lucky enough to get P. P. P., and I heartily recommend it to my friends and the public generally.
Yours respectfully,
A. M. RAMSEY.

THE STATE OF TEXAS—County of Comanche.—Before the undersigned authority on this day, personally appeared A. M. Ramsey, who, after being duly sworn, says on oath that the foregoing statement made by him relative to the virtue of P. P. P. medicine is true.

HIS FIRST LION.

Hunter Stands Still and Simply Stares at the Beast.
In "Lion Hunting in Somaliland," Capt. Mellis tells how he met his first lion—or, rather, two. He had been out on a hunt, finding nothing better than gazelles and antelopes, and at nightfall, after supper, lit his pipe and strolled to the river bank. After a few minutes spent in meditation he started to return and saw a lion and a lioness, not more than 20 yards distant, eyeing him attentively. Capt. Mellis had not even a knife with him, and felt certain that if he called for help the beasts would pounce on him. So he did the only thing possible—he stood stock still, hoping they might take him for an inanimate object. They growled once or twice, as if they suspected something, but finally drank and went away quietly. After that he never stirred without a weapon of some kind.

Struck a Pole.

To-day while Mr. W. A. Pollard was driving through Forbestown and not taking his bearings carefully, his buggy collided with one of the telephone poles. Breaking his harness was about the only damage sustained.

Loafers.

Better for a grocer, dry goods dealer, druggist, tobacconist, or any other business man, to offend a whole coterie of loafers than to spoil his trade by accommodating persons who mean business. No one likes to place small orders when a lot of idle persons are listening, ready to make comments on them and their purchases as soon as their backs are turned.—Michigan Merchant.

JUNE JOURNEYERS.

Just Like a Mule.

A mule galloping along and dragging a pair of cart shafts behind him, caused a good many whoas to be hurled at him along main street to-day. After having as much fun as he wanted the mule stopped on Dickerson avenue and waited for the man running behind him to catch up.

Mrs. Davis to Attend.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis and daughters will attend the meeting of the Confederate Veterans at Richmond this month. A dispatch from that city dated the 8th says: At a meeting to-night of the committee having charge of the reception to be tendered Mrs. Jefferson Davis, at the Davis Mansion, during the Confederate reunion here, a letter was read from Mrs. Davis, saying that she would gladly be present.

During the reception Mrs. Davis will be seated upon a platform between two of the rooms and will not be expected to rise or shake hands with the guests.

Miss Winnie Davis and Mrs. Hayes will receive at the foot of the platform.
