HERE'S A TICKET.

That Jan Lead the Democracy to Success.

EDITOR REFLECTOR:—I notice that there is some talk going around that it is time the Democrats of Pitt were naming a county ticket. If I may be pardoned for making some suggestions, I will offer some names that if nominated would carry the district and county to an overwhelming victory.

For Congress I would say give us that staunch and fearless Democrat, J. J. Laughinghouse, who can make a brilliant canvass and poll more votes than any man in the first district.

For Sheriff let us have the young Democratic champion, O. W. Harrington, of Greenville township; for Register of Deeds the old Roman, D. C. Moore, of Bethel; for Treasurer that sterling young man who now fills the office so acceptably, J. L. Little, of Greenville; for the Senate that excellent man, G. M. Mooring, of Carolina; for Representatives two trusted friends of the people, W. R. Horne, of Farmville and Major Smith, of Swift Creek; for Coroner no better man could be named than Dr. Thad Cox, of Contentnea; for Commissioners three solid financiers whose hearts are fully alive to the interests of all in both financial and educational matters, J. R. Davenport, of Pactolus, G. T. Tyson, of Deaver Dam, and J. L. Tucker, of Swift Creek.

Nominate this ticket and success will be sure to come to Zeb Vance's immortal Democracy, the glorious triumphs of a Democratic victory will be indelibly fixed upon our banner, and the fearful ravages of Radicalism will be swept from our land. T. T.

BETHEL NEWS.

BETHEL, N. C., June 29th, 1896. Prof. B. F. Hassell returned from Asheville Friday evening.

Prof. T. C. Manning is teaching a writing class here.

Elder B. R. Hall held quarterly meeting here in the M. E. church Saturday and Sunday, and preached able and interesting sermons.

The public school in Bethel opened this morning, W. J. Carson is teacher.

Rev. Albert Barnes preached at the Brown school house Sunday evening.

The Baptist Sunday school will have its annual picnic Thursday.

A white man by the name of Fred Norris was killed Saturday night on the railroad by the train at the double bridges at Copetoe-creek near Conetoe. It is thought that he was asleep on the track and was intoxicated.

S. M. Jones attended the State Democratic Convention last week.

The crops are said to be very fine in this section.

Oakley Items.

OAKLEY, N. C., June 29, 1896.

Miss Alice Ivry, who has been visiting Miss Mary Whitehurst, returned to her home at Seven Springs Tuesday.

Mrs. Lucretia James returned home from Rocky Mount Saturday.

G. R. Little who has been teaching school at Elizabeth City for two years, arrived home Saturday.

The health of our people is generally good, not much sickness in this section.

A very heavy rain fell here Sunday evening.

Crops are doing well but if we have much more rain they will fail.

Our people will begin curing tobacco this week.

THE MAN WITH ICE.

Oh, the man with ice—the man with ice!

When his wagon the air divides,
How the children run from the shade
and sun,
And throng 'round its dripping
sides!

"Slice—slice!"
As he cuts the ice
In blocks both large and small;
And the boys stand by,
And the wee ones cry
And fight for the crumbs that fall!

Oh, a welcome man is the man with ice,
When the sun is blistering down,
And the sick man turns to the light,
and yearns

For a breath o'er the blazing town!
"Slice—slice!"
Goes the man with ice.

As the children throng and press
him,
And he goes his way
Through the sultry day
With many a sweet "God bless him!"

GREENVILLE'S OPPORTUNITY.

An Enterprise in Our Reach if Steps Are Taken to Secure It.

In days gone by Greenville has allowed opportunities to present themselves at her door and pass on without taking advantage of what was offered. This fault might have been chargeable either to indifference or to a want of proper co operation among our people—everybody waiting for somebody else to move first in the matter and consequently nobody started. These things ought not longer to exist. There should be some organization, a Board of Trade for instance, to look after securing such enterprises here as will prove of permanent benefit to the town.

From what the REFLECTOR can gather there is an enterprise now in reach of Greenville that would benefit every business interest of the community if it is secured. The Beaufort County Lumber Company own large bodies of timber lands on the south side of Tar river and lying in Pitt, Craven, Beaufort and Pamlico counties. To remove this timber they must have a railroad through their lands and make shipping connection with the outside world. With this end in view they have already made a survey from Bayboro to Ayden, the latter point affording connection with the Atlantic Coast Line.

Now this company owns land to with in 2 or 3 miles of Greenville, and it has been intimated to us that if they could get the right of way to this town they would make Greenville their terminal point instead of Ayden. The road they build will be for general freight traffic as well as for carrying their timber, and wherever they make the connecting point they will locate a large mill and also make headquarters for many of the officers or the company and for several hundred men in their employment.

It can be seen at a glance what a great benefit it would be to Greenville if this company can be induced to bring their road here and make this their headquarters. Besides the immediate benefit from the company and its employes, just think of the tobacco and other farm products and the immense trade that would be brought here from all this country south-east of us.

The REFLECTOR gives these points that the business men of Greenville may see what is within their reach if they will just be up and take hold of it. The matter is worth looking into. We believe that by prompt action this road with its attendant advantages can be brought to Greenville, but if we sit still and do nothing in the matter it will go elsewhere. And there is not much time to be lost in reaching a decision as to what shall be done.

The rebels in Cuba have discovered a novel method of setting fire to the sugar-cane fields. A small piece of phosphorous, coated with wax, is fastened to a snake's tail and the snake let loose among the cane. The sun melts the wax and ignites the phosphorous and the deed is done. No military supervision can outwit this plan.

Over 26,000 horses are slaughtered in Germany annually, put into cans, labelled and sold as excellent American beef. This is a mean piece of counterfeiting, for while the American label helps to sell the horse meat, the horse meat does much to injure and bring into disrepute American beef in the countries in which this canned horse is sold.—Wilmington Star.

The Wilmington Messenger says: "The Democrats, if under, and a proper canvass made, ought to poll 145,000 votes. Look at the census of 1890, and the vote of 1892, and see the thousands of stay aways. Get them to vote. That would be the chief aim and end. There has never been thorough organization among Democrats but in one county—Pitt, and Governor Jarvis did that."

Several instances of extreme distance of voice carrying have come to light. In the great canyon of the Colorado a man's voice was plainly heard at the end of the canyon, eighteen miles distant. Lieut. Foster, on Peary's third arctic expedition, found that he could converse with a man across the harbor of Port-Bowen, a distance of about one mile and a quarter. Sir John Franklin said that he had conversed with ease at a distance of more than a mile. Dr. Young records that at Gibraltar the human voice has been heard at a distance of ten miles.

A Manchester photographer relates that he recently took a photograph of a child who was apparently in good health and had a clear skin. The negative showed the face to be thickly covered with an eruption. Three days afterward the child was covered with spots due to prickly heat. The camera had seen and photographed the eruption three days before it was visible to the naked eye. It is said that another case of a similar kind is recorded, where a child showed spots on his portrait which were invisible on his face a fortnight previous to an attack of small-pox.

A ROBIN.

What art thou doing there,
Robin, sweet Robin,
On yonder bough so bare,
Singing, or sobbing?

Through the long summer days
Heard wert thou rarely;
Lark, thrush and nightingale
Outsung thee fairly.

Now, when lark, thrush and all
Silence are keeping,
Skies like a leaden pall,
Mist undercreeping.

Where the dark yew its shade
Over churchyards is flinging,
Thou sittest and singest,
Oh, what are thou singing?

It is not of love;
Love needs one to hear it,
It is not of life;
Death and tombs are too near it.

And it is not in hope,
With the lone days before us,
With the limitless scope,
And the woods sweet in chorus.

But when all else is still,
Or winds only are sighing,
Leaves falling around thee
Decaying and dying.

When some fire yet unknown
In thy warm heart is throbbing,
Thou sittest and singest there,
Robin, sweet Robin!

Gay of heart, cheerily,
Chiding our sadness;
But, oh, there are tears in thee,
Bird, in thy gladness.

—London Spectator.

Beginning of the Work of Redemption.

Many Democrats have given expression to the opinion that the Democratic State ticket, nominated last week, is the strongest in popularity in the party and in speaking ability that has been offered since 1876, when Vance was the candidate for Governor. It is easily true that not since then has any ticket been received with so much enthusiasm. It means something that when Cyrus B. Watson passed through Greensboro he was taken from the train and carried on the shoulders of the people; and it means still more that he was met with a great ovation when he reached his home and that he was carried on the shoulders of the people among whom he lives and who see him every day. Means something? Yes, it means business. These and other manifestations mean that as soon as this ticket was nominated there was formed a purpose in the great Democratic heart that it should be elected. It means that the present unnatural order of things is to be reversed and that there is again to be government in North Carolina by, of and for the solid people—the people whose worth and virtue constitute the greatness of the State.

In this work of restoration, and in the averting of the blight which the election of Russell would bring upon the State, every good man and woman, of whatever party, every boy and girl who claims North Carolina as home and has been taught to love her, should be proud to bear a part, however humble. We shall see in the result of this election how worthy we are to be the descendants of the men who first gave voice on this continent to the yearning for liberty; how worthy to be citizens of the State which was the first to give a life for the establishment of the Confederacy of a State of which Hon. George H. Pendleton, of Ohio, said, "no scandal has sullied her name." Men and brethren to the breach!—Charlotte Observer.

A She Devil.

Mrs. R. B. Bell, wife of police inspector Bell, of Ottawa, Ont., was sentenced to imprisonment for life, last Friday, for cruelty to her orphaned grandchildren.

The charges against Mrs. Bell, which were proven at the trial, were that she had punished the two children, George Short, aged 14, and Oneita Short, aged 15, with the most fiendish tortures which malignant ingenuity could devised. Stripping them to thinnest clothing she soaked them in water and then compelled them to sit before open windows when the temperature was several degrees below zero, until their attire was frozen stiff. On one occasion the boy was kept at work in the cold improperly clad until his toes were frozen and dropped off. The children were fed on victuals mixed with noxious fluids like kerosene, turpentine and worse. When brought into court both children showed conclusively the effects, physically and mentally, of the agonies they had suffered. The defense offered was that Mrs. Bell inflicted only such punishment as a parent or guardian had the right to do, but the jury unhesitatingly pronounced her guilty, and the full penalty of the law was meted out to her.—Princeton, (Ill.) Tribune.

A Mission of Sympathy.

"So you are on your way to Ohio, eh, Uncle?"

"Yassir. Hit's er mighty long walk, dey tell me, but I reckon I'll git dar."

"And what are you going away out there for, I'd like to know?"

"Gwine out dar ter see dis yere Mister MerKinless w'at dey done nomen-nate fo' Preserdent."

"Oho! you're going to see what you can do in the way of getting an office, or something of that sort, eh?"

"Not in de leas', sah. I se gwine down ter sympertize wid 'im. Dey done tell me dis yar Hanner hain' let 'im open his mou' fo' free mont's an' I wants ter gb 'im de 'shuance dat hit mought be wuss. I b'n libin' wid er Hanner to' de las' lebben y'ars, an' ef I git mer mouf open at all endurin' dat time, I hat ter steal off ter de woods an' wuk it dah. Oh, yassir! I know dese Hanneres, an I reckon keepin' udder fokes' mouf shut got ter be ippydinick wid 'em."

Speculating on Tobacco.

We were informed that a farmer living in the Hiseville country shipped a hoghead of tobacco to Louisville last week and received in return for same a check for 20 cents and a 2 cent postage stamp. After meditating over the matter a while, he decided that if he could buy the same quality of tobacco at the same price he would speculate a little, so he sat down and wrote the warehouse, enclosing a check for 40 cents and two 2 cent stamps with the request that they purchase him two hogheads.—Hart County (Ky.) Record.

The most curious use to which paper is to be put is that suggested by the recent patenting of a blotting paper towel. It is new style of bath towel, consisting of a full suit of heavy blotting paper. A person upon stepping out of his morning tub, has only to array himself in one of these suits, and in a second he will be as dry as a bone.

A Juvenile Diagnosis.

Children are, after all, your true impressionists, with undimmed perspicacity in taking original views of things. Small and hungry Julia climbed to her seat at the tea table the other evening and exclaimed, in most eager, delighted, caressing tones: "Oh, gelatine! We are going to have gelatine—I just love gelatine—but, mamma, what makes it so nervous?"—Indianapolis Journal.

Some Virginia Prices in Revolutionary Times.

In 1870 twenty head of bullocks and barren cows were valued at over seven thousand pounds sterling in Virginia currency. A pound of bacon sold for eight dollars. For attendance upon one session of the Assembly Colonel Cabell was paid ten hundred and seventy-eight pounds sterling. The expense of boarding in Staunton, where the Assembly met in 1781 amounted to fifteen hundred dollars for the interval between June 12 and June 23, a period of ten days.

The Day of the $100 Wheel Passed.

Lively interest is evinced in the price of bicycles for 1897. Some $30 and $40 wheels have been put on the market and listed at $100. No doubt some of the machines listing at $100 this year will be catalogued at $75 and $85 next season. It is commonly believed in wheeling circles that the days of the $100 wheel have passed. To the keen observer it is evident that there will be higher priced wheels the same as there are higher priced hats, carriages, etc., to suit the various demands.—Charlotte Observer

A European statistician who has been figuring on it informs us that 32,214,000 human beings die annually, or 98,840 every day, 4,020 an hour and 67 a minute. This would be somewhat alarming if he didn't assure us that the birth number 39,792,000 a year, an average of 100,800 a day, 4,200 an hour or 70 a minute, so that the human family is in no imminent danger of becoming extinct while this condition of affairs lasts.

Representative Bailey Found a Very Obedient Clique.

Representative Bailey is one of the most picturesque figures in congress. He affects constitutional law, wears a broad expanse of shirt front, tosses a mass of wavy black hair and glories in a sweeping Texas sombrero. Mr. Bailey's boast is that Texas congressional districts are as big as New England states. He is the subject of a story and it would be wrong to tell who is the author of it, as Mr. Bailey is a hot-blooded man. The story is that when Mr. Bailey first entered public life in Texas he was comparatively unknown. He was anxious to forge to the front, however, and to make himself heard on every occasion. A large meeting was to be held in a neighboring town. Bailey went to it on horseback. He fell in with a traveler, and in the course of conversation about speakers, remarked: "Did you ever hear of Bailey?" The yokel replied that he had not. "Well," said Bailey, "he is a good speaker, and is going to be there to-day. If you get a chance, yell for him and you will get a speech worth listening to." The traveler promised. The meeting came off, and several speakers were heard. Finally there was a lull, and then some one in the audience began to yell: "B-a-i-l-e-y! B-a-i-l-e-y!" The master of ceremonies turned to Bailey and led him to the rostrum. Bailey started to speak, but the shout continued to yell "B-a-i-l-e-y!" Bailey stopped. The master of ceremonies said, genially: "If our friend will keep still Mr. Bailey will continue his address. The gentleman speaking is Mr. Bailey." The only reply to this was a howl of disgust from the man who had been making all the noise, and he blurted out: "Why, that's the long-haired galoot that told me to holler for Bailey!"—N. Y. Measles Microbes.

Dr. Joseph Czajkowski, after four years of investigation, announces the discovery of a microbe which may be the cause of measles. Two other investigators have found the same microbe in the blood of measles patients. One of the most interesting peculiarities is that while rabbits suffer no inconvenience when inoculated with it, it appears to be sure death to mice.

SUICIDE AT WASHINGTON.

(Special to Daily Reflector.)
WASHINGTON, N. C. June 30.—

This morning Capt. William Gilbert, of the sloop Missouri, and a resident of Roanoke Island, committed suicide at the home of a Mr. Hudnell in this city.

Capt. Gilbert was to have been married, it is stated, to-night to a Miss Beacham who lives with Mr. Hudnell's family. This morning about 6 o'clock he came down town and purchased 10 cents worth of strychnine from Mr. C. B. McKeel's drugstore. He told McKeel he wanted to poison some dogs and asked him how much it would take to kill a dog. It is said that Capt. Gilbert has a wife and child at Roanoke Island, and it is thought he committed suicide rather than disgrace the lady he was about to marry, though the trouble and disgrace is on himself and the wife and babe he leaves.

The remains were taken in charge by Mr. Wm. Chauncey who buried them this afternoon. Dr. Joshua Tayloe, coroner, held the inquest this morning.

[Capt. Gilbert had his schooner at Greenville, a few weeks ago, being here to bring a load of fish.]

Hot Times in Billville.

The sun keeps on "melting," but there seems to be a good deal of it left yet.

Our office caught fire from the sun's rays yesterday, but the preacher said it was "providence," and the insurance company won't give us a cent.

It is hot enough in Billville to melt the heart of a mother-in-law, but the bicycles keep on "scorching" just as if there were no hereafter.
