PHYSICIAN'S BLACK LIST.

Owing to bad collections for the past few years due to the non-payment of medical bills by many of our patients, we the undersigned have each and every one pledged ourselves to abide by the following resolutions:

1st. That all worthy poor who would pay if they could will receive careful, prompt, and cheerful attention at our hands.

2d. That we will no longer work for any person who can but will not pay their medical account, or will not make satisfactory arrangements about settlement of same.

3d. That we will put a Black List in circulation among ourselves, upon which will be placed the names of each and every person who has not made satisfactory arrangements as to the settlement of his or her medical account.

4th. That any person whose name is found upon this Black List cannot obtain medical attention from any of us, under any circumstances, except that they pay up their past bills due each and everyone of the undersigned or that they pay cash.

5th. That this Black List shall go into effect January 1st, 1897, beginning with those who have failed to make satisfactory arrangements in regard to settlement of their medical bills up to that date.

6th. That a copy of these resolutions be tacked up in all portions of the county and printed in the REFLECTOR and King's Weekly, so as to give all men fair warning that we will no longer work without pay.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28th, 1896.

The silver men have had plenty of encouraging news from other States to make up for discouraging stories from New York which indicates the almost certain loss of that State. It is admitted by republicans that the fusion which has been completed in North Carolina between democrats and populists makes that State certain for Bryan. In Kentucky the democrats and populists have satisfactorily fused, which places that State in the Bryan column. A letter received at silver headquarters from D. W. Atkinson, president of the Free Silver Club, of Sparta, Mich., says: "Silver is bound to win in Michigan, because every party in the State has advocated free silver until the present campaign, and there are thousands of republicans and prohibitionists who can't and won't surrender the conviction of a life time at the command of a few politicians who change color in a single night. In any ordinary campaign the democrats and populists combined are a tight match for the republicans, and now when thousands of prohibitionists, and hundreds of republicans, are joining us there can be no doubt of the result." Hon. John C. Cannon, of Kansas, says: "You need have no fears about Kansas, as the leading republicans themselves in private conversation concede Kansas to Bryan. I have a bet with a leading republican that Bryan's majority will not be less than 20,000, and I offered to increase the bet and he declined. A republican poll of the State shows that Bryan will carry it by over 20,000." Mr. J. W. Armstrong, of Richmond, Mo., says Bryan will carry that State by more than 60,000 majority, and there is equally encouraging news from Indiana, Iowa and Illinois.

Washington capitalists have no votes, unless they retain a residence in one of the neighboring States, as some of them do, but they are trying to control the votes of all those who happen to be in their debt, as may be seen by the following letter which was sent to a Virginia voter: "As you are aware, the friends of free silver and gold respectively declare that if their candidates are elected the country will enter upon an era of prosperity. They respectively declare that if the other side is elected misery and trouble will be the result. As I favor McKinley, I believe that within a few days after the election of Bryan all gold in the Treasury will be withdrawn, and there will be a terrible panic in money affairs, from which it will take the country many years to emerge. After Bryan's election one of the first things done will be the calling in of all debts by creditors, because they do not wish to be paid 50 cents for each dollar loaned. I hope you will not regard this letter as a threat or an intimation that you should vote otherwise than you conscientiously believe to be right. Our company will do after election just what you would do under the same circumstances. I hope you will be able to take up your note and collateral before election." This letter needs no comment, but it really is a shame that there is no law to reach and properly punish the men who write such letters.

Dear Sir:—I hold accident policy No. 9787 in your Company.

On the 23rd day of June, 1896, while superintending work at my saw-mill my arm was crushed between two logs. On the 27th day of August I filed my claim with your company for indemnity for two weeks, claiming $25. Your company, noting that my disability was for a period longer than I claimed, sent me their check dated Sept. 1st, 1896, for $26.78. This is a striking contrast with companies which prefer to scale a claim instead of paying the full amount.

I thank you and your company for this prompt and generous settlement, having paid me more than I claimed.

I commend your excellent company to those desiring the best insurance.

Yours very truly,

CAPTAIN KIDD'S HOUSE.

Still Standing Near Allenwood, N. J., and an Object of Interest.

Between the quaint little hamlet of Allenwood, N. J., and the village of Sea Girt, made famous through the annual encampment of the New Jersey state militia, stands an old fashioned shingle house which antedates the recollection of even the oldest resident and has become the show place of the country. Not only does the great age of the old house make it interesting to visitors, but also the story that the body of the late lamented Captain Kidd, whose treasure is buried somewhere along the coast and has been searched for from Florida to Maine, lies uneasy in its grave and makes periodical visits to the house once occupied by that wealthy but somewhat eccentric gentleman.

The house is a two story structure, conspicuous chiefly for the fact that instead of having only a shingle roof, as was customary in the days when the house was built, it is constructed altogether of shingles and presents the appearance of having been built with the idea to repel an attack should any such emergency occur. The old men of Allenwood say that the house was built years before Washington assumed the office of president of the United States, and that one of the early settlers in that part of the country, Morris by name, cut each and every shingle by hand and with only the assistance given by a strong pocket knife.

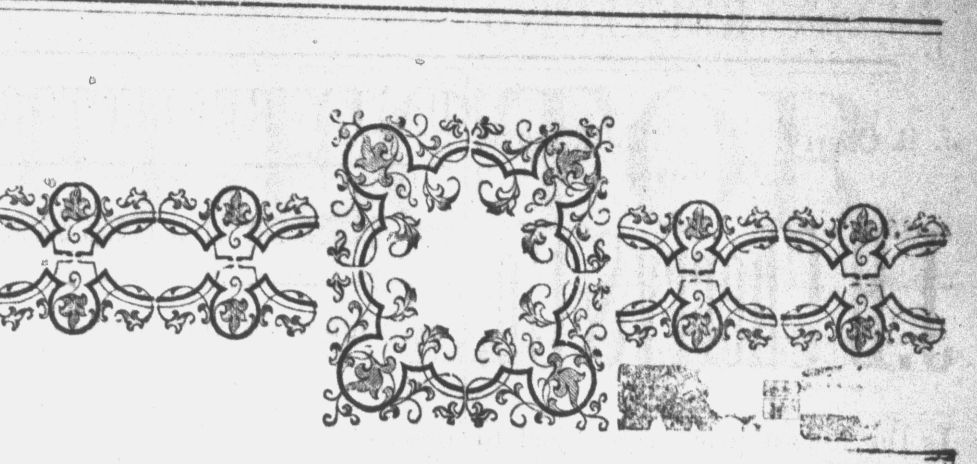

The house is at the junction of three roads, one leading to Allenwood, one to Sea Girt and one to Brielle, another small town four miles away. A mile or two from the house the Manasquan river flows steadily on its tortuous route to mother ocean, and several times in the memory of the present inhabitants the banks of the river have been searched for relics of Captain Kidd, while many persons have gained permission from the farmers and armed with charts and maps have dug for miles around for the missing buried treasure. Even now a party is hard at work on the Toms river, but ten miles from the house diligently working on the old claim and believing that each new day will see discoveries which will make work for the treasure hunters unnecessary in the future. And still the glittering prospect is held as a bait before their eyes, and when the patience of one party of searchers gives out another is ready and waiting to take up the pick and shovel and keep up the good work.

The old Morris house, as it is still called, is now on the Tilton farm, old Grandfather Tilton having purchased the farm from the Morrises many years ago. The farmhouse of the Tilton family is but a stone's throw from the old house, which is tenanted by several of the farm helpers during the busy season. The room in which it is alleged that Kidd's ghost walks is at the top of the house, and it is said that when traveling through that part of the country he would always stop at the Morris house, where he was sure of a welcome and a bed. I could find nobody during a recent visit to that part of Monmouth county who would confess to having seen the ghost, but it is a fable which has been handed down from father to son that on stated occasions he would be heard moving about in his room until early in the morning, as he was wont to do in the early days of the settling of New Jersey when visiting at the old house.

The house was built with but few windows, and although several have been added recently there are only eight, and two doors on the front, while the sides have one each. Captain Kidd's room was under the eaves of the roof, and only one window furnished him with light and air when he slept in it. The window opened out on the rear of the house, and it is said that even now on stormy nights the captain's head is often thrust out, as though surveying the heavens and figuring upon the kind of weather a day would bring forth.—New York Herald

Don't forget Sparks & Allens show on Wednesday. News from Tarboro says that it is a good show and worth more than the price of admission—25 cents.

The Male Academy reached almost the half of one hundred today. Four new ones this morning makes the enrollment at the beginning of this, the fourth week, forty-nine.

A Question of Dignity.

Mr. Bryan has gone among the people and Mr. Bryan has not suffered indignity. His dignity, however, is not a swallowtail coat affair. It is the dignity of the honest, candid man who believes sincerely in his cause, and is proud to mingle with his countrymen. Mr. McKinley may refuse to go to the people now, but he need not be surprised if the people should, on November 3, refuse to go to McKinley.—Omaha World-Herald

Somewhat Remarkable.

The Monroe Journal says a remarkable thing happened during Union court. A man came to town, went before the grand jury, had witnesses subpoenaed and reported himself for breaking some law. The grand jury found a true bill, and he submitted and paid the costs.

A Dog's Funeral.

Undertaker John M. Horry was this morning called upon to perform a service rather out of his line—the funeral of a dog. His subject was "Buford," a water spaniel owned by Mr. Russell Robbins. Buford became ill a few days ago with pneumonia, and though his master employed the best veterinary services available, it was no good, and he died yesterday. Mr. Robbins turned the case over Undertaker Horry who purchased a satin lined rattan casket for the body of the dog. The burial was at Dilworth. Mr. Bush furnished the flowers.—Charlotte News

The collection is great and varied, our own exclusive styles, and but one of each. You are free to touch, handle, examine and criticise them. Note particularly, we don't say "buy." That's another question, the goods are at your 'option.' Our thought now is to interest you.

Serges.

Neat and quiet effects that assume but little and are brimful of honest wear and worth. Gayety and gravity about equally divide the dress goods taste. Hence Serges are prominent on the latter side. Our selections of qualities and colors aggregate far beyond any competition.

Wilson Air-Tight Heater.

With Patent Automatic Smoke Doors.

The Wilson Heater, which is a stove for house heating, is the most remarkable that has ever been patented.

In the first place it radiates more heat than any stove known, and will save 25 per cent. in fuel over any stove made.

Second, with two or three ordinary sticks of pine stove wood it will keep the fire from 36 to 48 hours, and with ordinary care the fire will never go out.

Third, being entirely closed at the base there is no danger of fire, and it is the cleanest stove use. It is not necessary to remove the ashes oftener than once a month. These stoves are made different styles—the small one, which is made for bed-rooms, is specially recommended for health.

The Wilson Heater has a great advantage over any similar stove, because it has Patent Automatic Smoke Doors, which prevent the smoke from coming into the room when you take the top off to put in the wood. These doors are so constructed that they can be taken off and put back on in one minute. These stoves can be seen our store, come and look at them.
