SLIPPERS AND SHOES.

AT THE SLIPPER COUNTER

You could hear these exclamation:

"Oh, Mamma, buy me
them."

"Aint they darlings?"

My, where did you get them Mr. Munford?"

"Just the thing for the baby."

"The ones that will give wife solid comfort and stop that tired feeling."

"The only up to date line that I have ever seen in Greenville."

"Why is it that Mr.
Munford's salesmen are so anxious to show
them?"

Mrs. Hardtop please---
"Because they know they will suit the old

THE LEGISLATURE.

Condensed Report of Proceedings.

TWENTIETH DAY.

SENATE.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock. Bills and resolutions were introduced as follows:

Alexander, repealing the purchase tax so as to prevent paying tax twice on the same goods.

Clark, to repeal act requiring thirty days' notice before enacting a private liquor prohibitory law.

Grant, to extend stock law in Wayne.

Clark, to prohibit free passes, so that no public officer or person elected to public office shall directly or indirectly ask, demand, receive or consent to receive a free pass or transportation or any franking privileges of railroads, telegraph or telephone companies.

Clark, to levy a special tax to build a bridge over Roanoke river, in Halifax and Northampton counties.

Henderson, to establish the dispensary law in Vance county.

Alexander, to incorporate the Colored People's Benevolent and Relief Association.

Sharp, to incorporate Boyette, in Wilson county.

Ramsay, in favor of livery stable proprietors, giving them the right to hold stock until board is paid.

The unfinished business was taken up, being the bill to amend the divorce law.

An amendment was offered by Senator Anthony, to make general the law which was enacted in 1895 to benefit one person in Wayne county.

Senator Butler offered a substitute to repeal the entire law.

Senator Abell took ground in favor of the amendments saying there was no danger of North Carolina becoming a Dakota or Oklahoma as no foreigner had come to this State seeking divorce since the law had been in effect.

Senator Butler's substitute passed second reading.

Senator Abell offered as an amendment to the substitute, "That both parties to any action, when divorce has been granted under the provisions of chapter 67, acts 1895, be and they are hereby permitted to marry again during the lifetime of the other party."

A roll call was demanded and sustained—ayes, 38; noes, 5.

Senator Abell offered an amendment to the substitute of Senator Butler "That chapter 277, acts 1895, which is repealed by this act, remain in force with respect to all actions heretofore begun under its provisions and now pending in the courts of this state—adopted, ayes, 35; noes, 6.

Thereupon Senator Butler's substitute passed its third reading. It repeals the act of 1895 relating to divorce for two years' desertion, but gives the parties who have heretofore secured divorce the right to marry again.

HOUSE.

The house met at 10 o'clock.

BILLS INTRODUCED.

Drew to punish wife beaters, providing that justices of the peace who try such persons shall summon a jury of six taxpayers and that if convicted the offender, shall receive thirty-nine lashes on the first offense, with ten additional for each subsequent offense, and that he shall also pay all costs.

The bill of Sutton, of Cumberland, to provide better protection for rail and ship passengers was taken up.

It was unfavorably reported by the judiciary committee. There was also a minority report in favor of the bill. It clothed railway officials with full power to make arrests of persons who commit any offense, or behave improperly on trains; that companies shall be liable for all damages to baggage or freight, that railways shall be liable for damage to any passenger who has paid fare for any failure to make connection according to their published schedules, and it shall be presumed that such negligence is due to the company's negligence, any violation of this act to be a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine or imprisonment.

Cunningham offered an amendment striking out all of the bill save that part regarding damage to baggage.

Sutton demanded the yeas and nays, on Cunningham's amendment. The vote was—yeas, 33; nays, 33; so the amendment was adopted.

Hancock introduced a bill to restore to the state control and management of the Atlantic and North Carolina railway and a bill to allow Craven county commissioners to hold an election to build bridges across Trent and Neuse rivers, and if the people vote in favor of the measure to allow an issue of $25,000 in bonds and to levy a special tax to pay these not to exceed 15 cents on the $100.

My leave Pearson introduced a bill to incorporate the Commonwealth Fire Insurance Company of Wilmington. It gives the company the right to be either mutual or stock, and it can include life insurance also if desired.

The bill to charter the Carolina Cooperage Company, of Wilmington, an allow it to have branches at Fayetteville and other places passed. The charter is a broad one and some objection to it was made.

They Don't Endorse His Course.

During the late contest had in Raleigh over the election of Senator, Col. Harry Skinner, who was resorting to almost any measure to secure the reelection of Pritchard, was reported as saying in one of the caucuses that he had received a letter from Populist County Chairman, J. A. Lang, of Pitt stating that all the Populists of Pitt fully endorsed his (Skinner's) course in supporting Pritchard.

The REFLECTOR asked Mr. Lang about this and he says he wrote Col. Skinner no such letter. He did write a letter to Skinner but it was purely of a personal nature and contained no reference whatever as to what any Populist thought of Skinner's course.

Sheriff W. H. Harrington was in Raleigh a few days ago, and the News and Observer reports him as follows:

"Populist Sheriff Harrington, of Pitt, is here and says the Populists in that county are disgusted with the action of the bolters in supporting Pritchard. He says they condemn Harry Skinner most heartily."

WASHINGTON LETTER

(From Our Regular Correspondent) WASHINGTON, Jan. 29th, 1897.

The Senate did a wise thing when it defeated the amendment offered to the Military appropriation bill appropriating the cost of transportation of the West Point Cadets to and from Washington, in order that they might be allowed to appear in the Inauguration day parade.

That arbitration treaty has not yet been reported to the Senate from the Committee on Foreign Relations, notwithstanding the public meetings and showers of telegrams and letters in its behalf.

The house this week passed Immigration bill as reported from the Conference committee.

Senator Daniel made a speech against the Nicaragua Canal bill this week, opening with this dramatic language: "The bill is dead. The speech of Senator Turpie killed it, and Minister Rodriguez has exposed its corpse in the public morgue."

speech of Senator Daniel was made after Senator Morgan had introduced amendments to the Canal bill intended to meet objections raised by Minister Rodriguez in behalf of Nicaragua.

Some of the Senators appear to have taken second thought about the bill authorizing the President to appoint representatives to an international monetary conference, which it was at first supposed was to go through just as it was reported.

The semi official announcement that McKinley has already selected his friend, William F. Hahn, of Ohio, to be U. S. Marshal of the District of Columbia, has aroused much resentment among Washington republicans, who gave liberally of their time and money to help elect McKinley and who believed that he would live up to the home rule plank of the St. Louis platform, notwithstanding a hint dropped by Mark Hanna some weeks ago intimating that the Federal offices in the District of Columbia would be given to voters instead of non voting residents.

Ez-Congressman and ex-Gov. Long of Massachusetts, is about to find himself in the same class with Bliss of New York, who after having virtually accepted a cabinet portfolio was compelled, by the red hot opposition to him, to recall his acceptance and try to let himself down easy by saying it was on account of his wife's health.

Brother Married to Sister.

The village of Mulvane, a few miles south of here, is stirred up over disclosures brought to light on the occasion of the the thirtieth wedding anniversary of Peter Wilson and wife a few days ago.

In the company was Isaac Ashton, foster father of Mrs. Wilson, who was en route to Oklahoma, and Robert Wilson, foster father of Peter Wilson, who lived in a neighboring county.

Their reminiscence talk brought out the fact that in 1838 Alexander Taylor, his wife and two children located in Richmond, Ind., having moved there from Noble county, Ohio.

Isaac Ashton and Robert Wilson had been friends of the Taylors. Ashton adopted Rachel and Wilson adopted Peter Taylor.

When Peter Wilson was 17 years old he went to Sioux City, Ia., to learn the carpenter's trade, and at a temperance meeting he met Rachel Ashton, who was visiting her foster aunt. They became sweethearts and three years later were married.

They settled in Sumner county, Kan., where they have always been highly respected. They have nine children. Three of the children are deaf mutes and two others are deformed.

Peter Wilson swooned when he heard the old neighbors' talk, and for a time he was thought to be dead, but he was revived. He and his wife are almost crazed with grief.—Wichita, Kan., Dispatch.

For Three Years He Suffered—Could Hardly Breathe at Night—One Nostril Closed for Ten Years.

Mr. A. M. Ramsey, of De Leon, Texas, was a sufferer from Catarrh in its worst form. Truly, his description of his sufferings seem little short of marvellous.

Messrs. Lippman Bros., Savannah, Ga. GENTS: I have used nearly four bottles of P. P. P. I was afflicted from the crown of my head to the soles of my feet.

I have not slept on either side for two years; in fact, I dreaded to see night come. Now I sleep soundly in any position all night.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Comanche, Before the undersigned authority, on this day personally appeared A. M. Ramsey, who, after being duly sworn, says on oath that the foregoing statement made by him relative to the virtue of P. P. P. medicine, is true.

PORTUGAL'S NEWSPAPERS.

They Are Few and Have Odd Titles and Primitive Methods.

There are fewer than 50 newspapers published in the entire kingdom of Portugal, the population of which is nearly 5,000,000, or about the same as that of Pennsylvania, in which the total number of newspapers published is 1433. Journalism in Portugal is conducted on a somewhat primitive plan, and the newspapers of Portugal have not only a primitive aspect, but somewhat primitive titles as well. The weekly newspaper having the largest circulation in the kingdom is The Pontos Nos II, which means literally in English, "The Dot on the Eye." It is published in Lisbon. Another Lisbon paper is called The Island, though why it has a geographical designation is not altogether clear. The medical journal of Lisbon is called The Contemporary Surgeon. The city of Oporto, better known to many Americans than Lisbon, the capital, has a number of daily papers, the chief one of which is Actualidade, a Portuguese variation of the sort of journalism represented by the well known phrase, "If you see it in The Sun, it's so." It is not the only Oporto journal with a peculiar name. There is another daily, claiming a circulation of 20,000, the title of which is Des de Marzo, which is Portuguese for the 10th of March. Still another daily paper of Oporto is called The Primeiro de Janeiro, otherwise the 1st of January. The humorous paper of Oporto is O Sorvete (The Sherbet), and three other daily papers of the same city are known as A Lucia, A Palavara and A Justicia, otherwise The Light, The World and Justice. There is one daily paper published at Valencia, in Portugal, called The Country, and one in Lisbon called The Atlantic. In Coimbra, one of the oldest of Portuguese cities and long known as the seat of a university founded in 1268, there is one daily paper, called The News. The theory upon which Portuguese papers are conducted appears to be that they should be, above all things else, vivacious, and it is for this reason perhaps that weekly papers are at a discount in Portugal, the favorite plan being to divide what would be in the United States the contents of a weekly paper into sevenths and publishing it on the installment plan, so to speak, every day, and excluding from its columns, so far as possible, anything so sensational as what is called "the uncorroborated news." A fair and proper substitute for news is found in jocose and harmless allusions to the appearance of individuals, such as are contained, for instance, in The Voz do Povo (The Voice of the People). In Lisbon there is published a journal called The Public Interest, which makes a feature of book reviews. The Lisbon Circle is a political organ of the more radical opponents of the local government. Another daily paper in Lisbon is called O Seculo.—New York Sun.

Why He Did Not Start.

A lazy man is seldom so very lazy as not to be able to invent some excuse for his inactivity. Harper's Round Table tells a story in point. Patrick was the captain of a schooner that plied between New York and Haverstraw on the Hudson. One day his schooner was loaded with bricks, ready to start for New York, but Patrick gave no sign of any intention to get under way. Instead of that, he sat on deck smoking a pipe. The owner of the brickyard, who was also the owner of the schooner, and who had reasons for wishing the bricks landed in New York at the earliest possible moment, came hurrying on board and demanded of the captain why he did not set sail. "Shure, your honor," said Patrick, "there's no wind." "No wind! Why, what's the matter with you? There's Lawson's schooner under sail, going down the river now." "Yis, I've been watchin' her, but it's no use my gettin' under way. She's got the wind now, and, faith, there isn't enough of it for two."

THE REVIEW OF REVIEWS
Monthly Illustrated
AN INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL
Edited by ALBERT SHAW

"If only one magazine can be taken, we would suggest the REVIEW OF REVIEWS, as covering more ground than any other magazine."—Board of Library Commissioners of New Hampshire, 1896.

THIS magazine is, in its contributed and departmental features, what its readers, who include the most noted names of the English-speaking world, are pleased to call "absolutely up to date," "thoroughly abreast of the times," "invaluable," and "indispensable." It is profusely illustrated with timely portraits, views, and cartoons. Its original articles are of immediate interest, by the best authorities on their respective subjects. The Editor's "Progress of the World" gives a clear, rightly proportioned view of the history of the human race during the current month. The "Leading Articles of the Month" present the important parts of the best magazine articles that have been written in every part of the world. The newest and most important books are carefully reviewed. Indexes, chronological records, and other departments complete the certainty that the reader of the Review of Reviews will miss nothing of great significance that is said or written or done throughout the world.

The boys have been having much sport this week shooting black birds over on the Harrington place, just east of town.

All successful advertising is bound together by the chains of continuity. Your ad of yesterday adds an additional influence to your ad of today, and your ad of today leads an increased force to your ad of tomorrow. Each ad forms but a part of the whole—a chapter in the great serial of advertising. Stopping our advertising then is breaking off right in the middle of the story, which will surely weaken the influence of all former chapters.—Profitable Advertising.

Coming Next Week.

The Armstrong Family of Swiss Bell Bell Ringers will give a performance in Germania Hall on Thursday night of next week, Feb. 4th. This is among the best entertainment companies on the road and you will be well repaid in going to hear them. The same company was in Greenville eight years ago and our people were delighted with their performance. Several new attractions have been added to their program since then.

Marriage License.

During this week Register of Deeds Perkins issued licenses for seven couples, six white and one colored.

WHITE.

Fred Haddock and Millie Sutton.
John E. Gurganus and Margaret Crandall.

Jesse Harrell and Ruth Parker.
D. Seymour and Lizzie Hart.
Guilford Evans and L. Haddock.
A. L. Biley and Annie Stocks.

COLORED.

Noah Nobles and Addie Carr.
The total number of licenses for the month of January was 45, of which 27 were for whites and 18 for colored.
