Reflections of a Bachelor.

You can always judge a woman by the quantity of perfume she doesn't use.

Little children and very old people are the only ones who really know anything.

Love is a good deal like a meal; if you take the desert first, you won't eat so much dinner.

When a woman wants to brag to other women she says it's such an awful bore to keep a bank book.

It's a good deal harder for a man to love than to get married for a woman it's a good deal harder to get married than to love.

Mr. J. B. Laughter, a farmer of the Ringwood section of the county, said to us in Enfield a few days ago that the farmers have prepared their tobacco plant beds and are making ready for the tobacco crop. But he said the tobacco crop in this section will be 50 per cent. less in acreage this year than it was last year. He said cotton will take the place of the tobacco that will be dropped.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

A GOOD MAN GONE.

DIED.—At the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Henry Harding, February 23rd, 1897, Mr. Benjamin H. Sugg, in his 77th year.

As the minutes passed by this good man, with the love of Christ beaming on his face, perfectly conscious, lay and awaited the summons. For ten days he had been prostrated with bronchitis and having passed the allotted time of man, three-score years and ten, his spirit took its flight to enter the pearly gates and join his beloved wife, who only preceded him a short while. How good it must be to die in the faith as Mr. Sugg did, when the last hour comes and you can look forward and seem to hear that glad refrain, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys prepared for thee."

Mr. Sugg died last night at 8:30 o'clock, surrounded by children and relatives.

Mr. Sugg was born in Greene county, near Snow Hill, on the 11th day of November, 1819, being in his 77th year. He was a farmer and lived in Greenville for eleven years.

He was for fifty-seven years a consistent member of the Methodist church and his life, though quiet and unobtrusive, was full of good works. His familiar face in his pew will be sadly missed, as will also his cheerful and helpful co-operation in every good work.

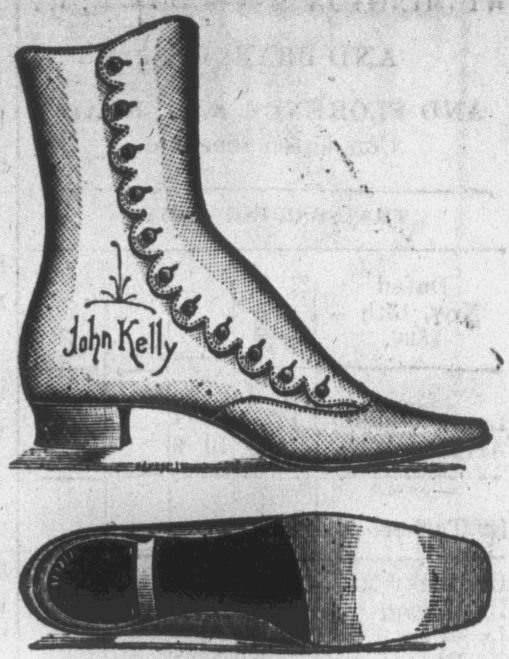

He leaves four children to mourn his loss, three sons and one daughter Messrs. B. F., I. A., and J. L. Sugg and Mrs. Henry Harding.

The funeral services was conducted from his late residence this afternoon at four o'clock, by Rev. N. M. Watson, his pastor, thence to the Methodist cemetery.

The following were the pall bearers: J. L. Little, C. T. Munford, J. L. Starkey, J. S. Jenkins, H. C. Hooker and H. B. Clark.
