A Birthday Tea.

On Tuesday night at Hotel Mac on, the ladies and friends of the Episcopal church gave a "Birthday Tea." Unique little invitations were sent out two days before and in response to these there were many little bags of pennies to tell the story of antiquity. The proceeds, which amounted to forty one dollars and twenty cents, were for the benefit of the church. The dining room under the management of Mesdames H. A. White, J. H. Blount, P. E. Dancy and M. D. Higgs, was beautifully decorated with flowers and draped in green and white. Misses Lucy Cox, Henrie Sheppard, Delia Marshal and Lottie Blow were ready to serve refreshments at the wink of your eye.

Mrs. Nelson was in charge of the observation table, and many were the guesses but the successful one was Mr. Gwynn, who received the first prize, a handsome vase. Mrs. H. A. White received the second prize—a beautiful picture "St. Cecilia."

Mrs. Chas. Skinner and Mrs. F. G. James received in the parlor, while Miss Bessie Jarvis greeted the guests at the door with "where is your bag?" In response to her greeting and her warm welcome many were the pennies left behind. Mrs. J. B. Cherry made the evening more delightful as she always does when she lends her voice to the pleasure of others. Her singing "Comin' through the Rye" contributed much to the evening's pleasure. Congratulations to the managers.

THURSDAY, MARCH 4, 1897.

THE GULF CITY.

How the Editors Were Entertained at Galveston.

(Editorial Correspondence.)

GALVESTON, Tex., Feb. 19th, 1897

Thursday afternoon the Association was given a complimentary excursion down the bay by the Mallory Steamship Co., on their elegant ocean steamer Nueces. This company run eight large steamers out of Galveston, having direct connection with New York and the principal European and other foreign ports. Their boats are among the finest floating palaces in the world. Refreshments were liberally served to all on board.

This excursion gave the visitors an opportunity of seeing the splendid harbor of Galveston, and after viewing the vast water front they were not surprised that this is one of the foremost in Uncle Sam's domain. The government, recognizing the importance of having a good port here, has done much toward improving the harbor. Something that greatly interested the excursionists was the large jetties built for the purpose of deeping the channel across the bar. These jetties consist of two immense stone structures a mile apart that extend out four miles across the bar. Entrance to the harbor is made through the channel between these jetties, and there is sufficient depth of water for vessels of as great as 25 feet draught to pass in safety.

The editors also had an opportunity of viewing and visiting the battleship Texas which lay at anchor in the harbor. This ship acknowledged to be the fastest and among the best in the U. S. Navy, was of especial interest to all Southerners, being named for the largest of our Southern States and was constructed at a Southern ship yard. It was built at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, the machinery being designed and furnished by the Richmond Locomotive Works. The ship is in every way creditable to her builders and to the Navy. Thousands of people from various parts of Texas visited Galveston during the week for the purpose of seeing this battleship, and all who went aboard were cordially received by the commander, Capt. Glass.

Thursday night two music clubs of Galveston joined in giving a concert complimentary to the Editorial Association and the officers of the battleship. The concert showed a marked degree of excellence and was richly enjoyed by the large audience.

Friday afternoon a handsome silver service costing $5,000 was presented to the battleship by the citizens of Texas in appreciation of the honor of naming the ship for that State. The ceremonies took place in front of the Beach hotel and was witnessed by fully 10,000 people. The State officials and members of the Legislature attended in a body. The presentation speech was made by Gov. Culberson, and the response by Capt. Glass of the battleship.

After the presentation the editors began leaving Galveston, some returning to their homes and others going for a trip into Mexico, all carrying with them pleasant recollections of a delightful sojourn in this charming city on the gulf.

It is not out of place to mention that the Western Union Telegraph Company was also very courteous to the editors, extending them the free use of the wires for personal messages to and from home. The REFLECTOR old man being a "lightning slinger" himself stood in with the boys and found those of Galveston and other places exceedingly clever whenever he wanted to use the wires.

Novel Showing of Easter Hats.

A novel method of presenting the newest and freshest Easter fashions of Paris milliners has been adopted by The Ladies' Home Journal for March. In that magazine the new French hats and bonnets will be pictured as they are worn. This unique display is useful, therefore, in pointing out clearly not only Fashion's decree, but the styles in headdress best suited to several contrasted types and faces.

No one who reads the papers and watches the news from Raleigh can fail to be impressed with the fact that the present Legislature is little less and little more than an aroused gang of chance or the part of many of the members. So many of them want an appointment under somebody else that they are all the time trading and working their positions for all they are worth in trying to get some better place. If the news that goes out from Raleigh is true, there is not enough patriotism in the entire Legislature to declare that the United States is a free country, if refraining from making the declaration would get anybody a position that would pay a little money or give some political "pull" for the future.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

You help your town by not buying anything away from home which you can get at home.

Instead of prayer meeting in the Baptist church tonight a general church conference will be held. Steps will be taken to secure a pastor and every member interested should be present.

The Bill Failed.

The tobacco warehousemen are to be congratulated that the Person bill before the Legislature to reduce warehouse charges failed to pass. The Legislature of 1896 made the charges low enough; and if this last bill had passed making still further reduction it would have closed up several markets in the State.

Dropped Dead.

A colored man named Tom Peal, who worked at Savage's livery stables, dropped dead in the stables this afternoon. He had been complaining for some days, and just before falling spoke of a severe misery in his side. It is supposed his death was caused by heart disease.

THE LEGISLATURE.

ing the statement that the strongest argument the Democrats met during the late campaign was the republican populist liberality in 1895 in making appropriations to institutions, and that he hoped the fine record would not be broken.

Bills passed to allow a colored physician to be employed at the colored institution for deaf mute and blind here and to establish graded schools at Washington.

The special order was taken up, being the bill to provide a police commission for Charlotte.

Mr. Walters, of Rockingham, demanded the reading or the bill in full. There was half an hour's debate, Mr. Hancock speaking in support of the bill and Mr. Freeman, Republican, against it.

There was intense interest in the vote on the second reading which was—ayes, 47; noes, 60. There was loud applause at this failure of the bill to pass, and the "clincher" was put on it, so it can come up no more this session.

Three hours were then devoted to the contested election case of N. B. Broughton against James H. Young from Wake.

Mr. Cook, republican, spoke in support of the majority report, which favored Young, while Mr. Duffy championed Mr. Broughton, as did also Mr. Cunningham. The majority report, seating Young, was adopted—62 to 35.

The joint resolution to raise a committee to investigate Mrs. Pattle D. B. Arrington's complaint was tabled unanimously.
