ANOTHER INJUNCTION.

Raleigh, N. C., March 29.—Today Governor Russell and Attorney General Walsler had an injunction served on them and one will be served on each of the newly appointed directors of the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad restraining them from attempting to carry out two acts of the general assembly, amending the charter of the said road, which gives the governor control of that road. This action is brought by W. R. Tucker, of Raleigh, the largest private stockholder in the road. Ex-Judge Boykin and Armistead Jones, Esq., will appear for Mr. Tucker. The restraining order is returnable before Judge Smonton at Greensboro April 6th, the day after the hearing of the North Carolina railroad injunction case.

Governor Russell said he had not read the papers served on him. He said "I will appoint the state's proxy if I choose, and when I choose. I shall not ask any United States judge, when I can do so, I have had no occasion to make any appointment. Dortch resigned six months ago."—Wilmington Messenger.

Nominations by the President.

Washington, March 29 — The President today sent to the senate the following nominations:

Charlemagne Tower, of Pennsylvania, to be envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Austria-Hungary.

Anson Burlingame Johnson, of Colorado, to be consul general of the United States at Fuchan, China.

William S. Shallenberger, of Pennsylvania, to be second assistant postmaster general.

Thomas Ryan, of Kansas, to be first assistant secretary of the interior.

Henry Clay Evans, of Tennessee, to be commissioner of pensions.

No Court This Morning.

The court caught up with the cases on the criminal docket Tuesday evening and when the body met this morning there was nothing to do. Judge Robinson asked if something could not be done on the civil docket, but as the calendar as arranged for this docket does not begin until Monday no cases could be called. Having to wait until the grand jury could return some more bills a recess of the court was ordered until 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, rather than continue in session and be doing nothing.

Will Supply Here.

The Baptist church here has secured Rev. A. W. Setzer, of Wake Forest College to supply for them until a pastor is called. Mr. Setzer will arrive today and remain here all of the time, instead of going back and forth. The prayer meeting services will be resumed to-morrow night and continue regular hereafter. A hearty welcome will be extended this talented young minister. The church is to be congratulated upon being able to have him for a supply.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Judge W. S. O'B. Robinson is being considered in connection with the Federal Judgeship of the Eastern District, and seems to stand a good show of securing the appointment. He and T. R. Purnell are now in the lead.

The papers continue to give alarming accounts of the flood along the Mississippi river. At many places the levees have broken submerging miles and miles of the low country and doing great damage. The water has climbed above the danger line at New Orleans and much of that city is threatened with inundation. That city is several feet lower than the river and if the water breaks the levee there will be immense damage. All along the river people are fleeing to places of safety.

It Was a Success.

The Past and Present Century Party given in Germania Hall, Tuesday night, by the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church, was a success in every way. A good crowd was present and everything was sold out by 10 o'clock.

The hall was divided by screens into two sections. The portion representing the past was dimly lighted with candles and was under the management of Misses Lizzie Blow and Florence Starkey. Miss Blow was dressed in a past century costume and never looked more charming.

The present century portion of the hall was beautifully decorated and brilliantly illuminated. This department was under the management of Mesdames F. G. James and J. B. Cherry. It was here that most of the young people gathered for their fun. All present seemed to enjoy the occasion.

Effects of the Frost.

Mr. Allen Warren gives the REFLECTOR the following results of the recent frosts:

Strawberries in bloom, all killed. They are blooming again, however, and will produce fair crop. Peaches are O. K. Pears and apples hurt, but not badly. Garden peas badly damaged. Cabbage also damaged.

Afternoon Marriage.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon a marriage took place in the office of the store of J. B. Cherry & Co. The contracting parties were Mr. Reuben J. Moore and Miss Susan Fultord. The ceremony was performed by S. I. Fleming, Esq. The store needed no extra decorations for such an occasion, as it is always attractive enough for a wedding to take place in. The salesmen for the time being laid aside their yard sticks and scoops and assembled to do honor to the nuptials. Joe Moye was usher and saw that the REFLECTOR reporter got a reserved stand in the corner. John Ricks was best man, Will Lee was maid of honor, Clare ice Jones was flower girl and Mr. Cherry executed the wedding march.

The marriage passed off in good style and the couple left as happy as two doves in spring time.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 31, 1897.

Wife's Right to Punish Her Children.

In the annals of the criminal court of Macklenburg county as presided over by Hon. O. P. Meares, there was no case tried that presented a more curious or interesting point of law appertaining to "domestic relations" than the case of State vs. H., an indictment for assault and battery. The facts in that case briefly related were as follows: H. and T. were neighbors, T. being a married man and having a son about 8 years old. T. was absent from home for two weeks, and during his absence Mrs. T. had great difficulty in controlling the son, who appeared to have been a very unruly boy. One day during the absence of her husband, Mrs. T. requested H., her neighbor, to take her son to the field with him and give her some relief from the constant worry of trying to keep him out of mischief. H. objected upon the ground that the boy was unruly and would give him trouble. Thereupon Mrs. T. begged H. to take the boy, and told H. that she gave him full authority to whip the boy if he was not obedient to H. in every respect. H. then agreed to take the boy upon condition that he be allowed to chastise him if he saw fit. In a short time the boy began to throw rocks at his horses, and refused to stop after commands and threats. Thereupon H., relying upon the authority granted by Mrs. T., proceeded to chastise the boy moderately with a switch. Upon the boy's return home the made no complaint, but on the next day the father returned and hearing of the affair, became very angry, and proceeded to have H. arrested for assault and battery on the boy. Upon the trial of the case before Judge Meares the attorney for H. sought to justify the assault upon the ground that Mrs. T. had given him permission, but the solicitor for the State argued that the wife had no right to give another person authority to whip her child—that the husband alone had such power.

The case was argued at great length and the law as to respective rights and powers of the husband and wife in the family government from the most ancient times was considered. After hearing the argument, Judge Meares, who was admitted on all sides to be a most admirable judge of criminal law, held that the wife had no right to authorize another to whip her child, and, in fact, he told the jury that in strict law, the wife had no right to chastise her child herself, except by the consent of her husband, actual or implied. In the judge's view the husband was the supreme head of the household, and he, and such as he alone should authorize, had the legal right to punish the child by whipping. The defendant was, of course, convicted under the charge, but no appeal taken as the fine imposed was nominal. It may be regretted that the case was not carried up, because it would be interesting to learn what our highest court would say on the point.

The position taken by Judge Meares was a startling one to the wives and mothers of Charlotte, most of whom were under the impression that they and not their husbands, had the highest right to punish the children; and it would doubtless take more than one supreme court decision to convince them of their error. While we are obliged to concede that according to the ancient rules of the common law, Judge Meares was undoubtedly right, yet we are bound to believe that, according to the tendency of modern decisions, the court would now hold that the wife had equal authority with the husband to punish the children.—Charlotte Observer.

Prayer Saved a Church.

The power of prayer will never again be doubted by the members of the German Lutheran Evangelical Free church, at Myrtle and Troop avenues, Brooklyn. They tried that great and sovereign remedy yesterday and God answered their petitions. Of that they are assured.

Only a day or two ago the members learned that one of the trustees was about to foreclose a mortgage for $10,000. Meetings were held, meetings at which tears were shed and hard words uttered. It seemed too cruel. It was like taking one's home away. They could not bear the thought of losing the old church in which they had worshipped for so many years.

What was to be done? They knew the answer. Work and pray. They vowed, those good people, that they would not cease praying until the sum was raised to cancel the debt. While some were praying in the church, others would be out canvassing among the banks and trust companies to see if a loan could not be negotiated.

All day Thursday the prayers continued. All that evening up to midnight the faithful remained upon their knees. But still there came no answer.

"Brethren," said Pastor Bernard, "I shall spend the night in my closet praying to the God who answers prayer."

"And I, and I, and I," from many parts of the congregation.

Yesterday morning, hollow-eyed, but still unwilling to give up, the congregation gathered again. The time was approaching when their prayers must be answered or they would know that they were futile. At 11 o'clock a. m., a man rushed into the church. He was so excited that he did not notice that the pastor was engaged in prayer.

"All is well!" he shouted. "The money to pay the mortgage is forthcoming. At noon today the man who has been crowding us for it will be paid to the last penny."

"Our prayer has been answered," said Pastor Bernard, and he led the way in a prayer of great rejoicing.

"Let us raise Old Glory on the church," said Pastor Bernard when the meeting broke up. The suggestion was acted upon at once. Some of the younger men got hold of the bell rope, and for half an hour it clanged wild joy into the ears of dwellers in the Eastern district.

Valentine Bruchausser, was the man who loaned the money to build the church, and who after leaving it, notified the trustees that they must pay up or he would foreclose.

It was the Brooklyn Surety and Trust Company which came to the rescue yesterday and furnished the money to satisfy Bruchausser's claim. The members say that they will now take steps to raise the money to pay off this debt, and when the German Lutherans start to do a thing like that they generally succeed.—New York World, March 27.

The Salesman's Policy.

The instructions of a prominent Southern wholesale grocery firm to its salesmen herewith quoted are nothing new, but are as sound as a good American dollar and ring as true: "We tell them never to mention a competitor's name; never say anything good of them, for it may induce some one to trade with them who has not done so before; never say anything bad of them for it would be hurting us."

Every salesman worthy of holding his position knows that saying mean things of competitors disgusts the buyers and is reactionary in effect. On the other hand, many think it politic to speak a word of praise when a house in their line is mentioned in their hearing. Better keep silent; when appealed to for an opinion, answer politely that you are representing only the concern that employs you. It should be the only one in the business to you. You are not advertising others, either directly or indirectly. The best firms advise this and require it of their salesmen.

That is the Kind.

Someone has said that the world needs a religion today that will make a man's word as good as his note; that will make its maker pay 100 cents on the dollar, sell 16 ounces to the pound, 36 inches to the yard, 4 pecks to the bushel and 128 cubic feet to the cord; that will make a workman do a full day's work for a full day's pay, whether the eye of his employer is on him or not; that will make capital disgorge the lion's share of the profits and divide them equally and justly with labor; that will cause the manufacturer to cease from adulterating his goods, the clerk from robbing his employer and the official from embezzling the funds committed to his trust; a religion that will make men upright, honest, pure and trustworthy in all the walks of life; a religion that not only makes men happy, but righteous.

Wants None but Competent Men.

On the first Monday in June there is to be held, in every county in the State, an election for the selection of members of the county boards of education, and already steps are being taken looking to the agitation of the matter among the present county educational authorities.

The superintendent of public instruction has just prepared a circular letter which he will within the next ten days send out to the county school trustees. It is self-explanatory and is as follows:

"I wish to call your attention to the important election to take place in your county on the first Monday in June of this year, in accordance with section 6 of the school law as enacted at the last General Assembly.

"I trust that the greatest wisdom will be used in selecting the county board of education. Let men be selected for their qualifications to discharge the important duties as members of the county board of education. I sincerely hope that politics will have nothing to do with the selection of these men. Let men be selected who have the educational interests of their county at heart.

"Men who will not be actuated by any party prejudice, but men who will at all times and under all circumstances keep the school interests as an incentive to wise and prudent action on their part. Yours, very truly,

C. H. WEBER,
State Superintendent Public Schools.
—Raleigh Tribune.

Don't Do It.

Bill Nye once said: "Do not attempt to cheat an editor out of a year's subscription to his paper, or any other sum. Cheat the minister, cheat anybody and everybody, but if you have any regard for future consequences, don't fool the editor. You will be put up for office sometime, or want some public favor for yourself or your friends, and when your luck is a thing of beauty, a joy forever, the editor will open on you, and knock your castles into a cocked hat at the first fire. Hell subdue you, and then you'll cuss your stupidity for a driving idiot, go hire some man to knock you down and kick you for falling."

Baptists, See Here!

The Southern Baptist Convention meets this year in Wilmington, N. C., May 8th. Now, you want to go to this convention, and you also want to go in style and comfort. There is only one good first-class line from the South and Southwest to Wilmington, and that line is the Seaboard Air Line, which runs the finest and fastest trains in the South and makes the lowest rates of any railroad running from the South or Southwest. Don't be fooled into making your arrangements until you have consulted one of the Seaboard Air Line agents, who always esteem it a pleasure to serve you. B. A. Newland, General Agent Passenger Department, 6 Kimball house, Atlanta, Ga., will be glad to write you or call on you, or you can apply to any of the representatives of the Seaboard Air Line in any town or city. This is the official route. Do you want to go with your friends?

Your best judgment requires you to make an immediate provision for your family. By insuring today, your estate is increased in value at once.

'Twas Ever Thus.
A few days since an insurance agent accepted an invitation to inspect a new and beautiful house built by a friend. After taking a peep at the whole establishment from top to bottom, inquired—
"House insured?"
"Yes."
"What do you insure it for?"
"Because it MIGHT burn."
"Not SURE of it, are you?"
"No."
"Is your life insured?"
"No."
"Di, won't you?"
"Yes."
"Sure?"
"Yes."
"Then why not insure your life as well as your house?"
"Well, really, I never thought of the matter just in that light before, and will give it early attention." —Travelers Record.

During the month of March there were twenty-five marriage licenses issued in this county—thirteen for white and twelve for colored couples.

A large number of ladies visited the millinery opening of Mrs. J. S. Tunstall & Co., today. They were delighted with the new hats and pretty goods displayed.

No member of the last house of representatives retires with a better character than Hon. F. A. Woodard, of Wilson. He has been honest, he has been faithful, he has been capable. These are the three old time democratic tests ("befo de wah" however) of qualification for office.—Wilmington Messenger.

"I know Polk Miller well. When he is sketching the 'fo de wah' negro, if you did not know he was Polk Miller you would think he was a darkey of olden time, and if you did not know he was an old-time darkey you would think he was Polk Miller."—Ex-Gov. Fitzhugh Lee.

Polk Miller will appear in Greenville Friday, April 9th, at the Court House.

March has done very little blowing, but April May do something in this line.

Watermelons will be soon this year. Hal Sugg tells us that he has some seed up.

The year is one half gone and there has not been much charee for farm work so far.

"This joke is on the bum," as he pinned an "April Fool" sign on the sleeping tramp.

Faikland will have a stylish wedding this evening, the contracting parties being Mr. E. C. King and Mrs. Daisy Mayo.

"I never expected it," said the funny man as he chased after his newspaper in the March wind, "but here I am engaged in a literary pursuit."

Her face was sad her lips a pout

Her smile no longer jolly,

For she had loved and been cut out—

This little paper dolly.

Rev. J. T. Kendall, editor of the Christian Life, of Goldsboro, will commence a tent meeting at Ayden on next Sunday and continue ten days.

There is a difference of opinion as to the effect the recent frosts have had upon the fruit prospects. Perhaps we can tell by June if there will be any.

Rev. E. D. Wells has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Baptist church at Georgetown, S. C., beginning April 1st. All his time will be given to that church.

Old Lady—"I want to git some seed fur my grass plat." Dealer—"Yes, ma'am; any particular kind?" Old Lady—"Well, I was thinkin' of tryin' that 'mardi grass' they use down in New Orleans."

A colored woman living in the Skinnerville ravine undertook to burn a chimney out, Tuesday, and the top of her house caught on fire. Parties passing put the fire out without giving an alarm.

Our New Summer DRESS - GOODS.

Novelty. Variety. Values.

This Spring we were prompted to lay in a line of Summer Dress Goods surpassing in magnitude, beauty and value any we ever bought before. Our foresight in buying while materials were low in price and while manufacturing was dull, gave us the goods at prices much less than value.

We are able to offer new stylish, desirable summer goods at prices not to be equaled. We have provided such materials that may be worn with comfort not only in the spring, but throughout the entire summer, and the styles and general character of these materials excel anything heretofore displayed, and the prices are exceedingly low
