SNOW HILL RAILROAD.

Committee Meets Here—Committee Appointed to Solicit Subscriptions—Another Meeting Called for the 20th.

Capt. Swift Galloway and G. W. Sugg, of Snow Hill and R. L. Davis, of Farmville, the committee appointed by the Snow Hill Railroad Company, were here Wednesday night to confer, with the business men of Greenville relative to bringing the proposed railroad to this town. A meeting was held in the Court House, but the attendance was rather discouraging, very few of the leading business men being among those present.

Capt. Galloway in a few words stated the object of the visit of the committee and suggested that the meeting effect an organization.

Dr. C. J. O'Hagan was elected chairman and H. T. King and D. J. Whichard secretaries. Upon taking the chair Dr. O'Hagan spoke very forcibly of the advantage a railroad from Snow Hill to Greenville would be to both towns.

Capt. Galloway spoke for the people of Snow Hill. He said that for many years they had desired a railroad, three times charters had been granted for building a road, and this time they mean business. In their efforts to get connection with the outside world they wanted the assistance of this county and of Greenville especially. The road would certainly be built to some point on the Wilmington & Weldon or the Atlantic & North Carolina roads. Other towns are anxious for the road to go them but Greenville is the most desirable point because of the advantage of water transportation.

Upon request the charter of the proposed road was read by L. I. Moore. The charter is a very liberal one.

G. W. Sugg said it would cost about $100,000 to build the road and northern capitalists had agreed to subscribe half the amount necessary. The Commissioners of Greene county have ordered an election upon the question of that county taking $20,000 stock in the road.

R. L. Davis stated that he thought $5,000 to $7,000 stock could be secured at Farmville.

A. A. Forbes spoke very earnestly of the benefit the road would be to Greenville. He alluded to some enterprises this town had lost by indifference and said he did not see how Greenville could afford to miss securing this railroad and let it go elsewhere.

Upon motion a committee of seven consisting of Alfred Forbes, R. W. King, H. T. King, D. J. Whichard, L. I. Moore, E. A. Moye and A. A. Forbes, was appointed to solicit subscriptions and report at another meeting to be held at noon on Tuesday, 20th inst.

The month of March gave us no wind to speak about, and so far the borrowed days from April have not manifested a windy inclination.

STATE NEWS.

An 18-months old child of James Allen, of Winston, died Thursday from having drunk concentrated lye the day before.

The statement is made that nearly $3,500,000 worth of commercial fertilizers has been sold in North Carolina this season, which is a big increase over the sales of last season.

The western train was rocked again last night. This time the rocking occurred near the Vandertord crossing. A rock was thrown into the first class coach just in front of a lady passenger. The lady was very much wrought up over her narrow escape and was much excited when she arrived here. A hole was made in the glass, but fortunately no one was hurt.—Salisbury World.

Dr. McManaway yesterday amputated the little finger of Hilda Barton, a young daughter of Mr. Hugh Barton. The child got her finger mashed in the door about two weeks ago.—Alex. Davis, the 12-year-old son of Captain A. H. Davis, a Pullman car conductor, met with a painful accident yesterday morning. He thought he would run through Vance park. He undertook to climb the fence, but got his foot caught and fell, breaking his leg.—Charlotte Observer.

First Weekly Weather Crop Bulletin.

Raleigh, N. C., April 6.—The first weekly weather crop report was issued today, and says:

The crop season has not opened very favorably. Heavy rains delayed all farm work, while excess of temperature advanced vegetation so fruit trees were generally in bloom before the end of March and were considerably injured by frosts. Though the farmers are still behind, a week or two of fair weather will enable them to catch up. The weather conditions for the week ending yesterday have not been favorable. The temperature fell to the freezing point March 29th and April 2nd as far east as Raleigh, with considerable injury to peaches, plums and pears, though apples escaped.

In the eastern district, frosts damaged the fruit trees, strawberries and truck considerably except in the extreme southern and eastern portions. Gardens are generally backward. Planting is progressing rapidly, while some early planted corn on dry uplands is coming up well. Rye and wheat are looking well and oats have been planted. Tobacco plants are growing nicely and are numerous. High water has delayed plowing in the river fields and put that work behind about two weeks. Much work has been done on truck farmers and big crops planted.

THURSDAY, APRIL 8, 1897.

The Democrats Sweep Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The mayoralty election today resulted in a decisive victory for the democratic party, its candidate, Carter Harrison, having more votes than all the other candidates combined.

At midnight the available figures gave Sears, republican, 60,000; Harrison, democrat, 148,000; Harlan, independent, 72,000; Hessing, independent, 18,000. The democrats made a clean sweep of all the town officers in the north and west town, also in the south town, although the republicans have a fighting chance to get an assessor in part of the city. Of the thirty-four aldermen, the returns point to the election of twenty-six democrats, four republicans and four independents. Harrison gained heavily in the banner republican wards, carrying the thirty-fourth by 5,019, against 4,281 for Harlan and 3,434 for Sears. This ward gave McKinley a majority of 6,000 last fall. The Third, Fourth and Twelfth wards, always republican strongholds, were also carried by Harrison. It was apparent at midnight that Harrison had beaten Sears, the regular republican candidate, by from 85,000 to 90,000 votes. At the last mayoralty election, Swift's vote was 143,407, against 102,294 for Wenter, democrat. In the presidential election McKinley had 200,747, against 144,036 for Bryan.

The democrats had an excellent organization, their campaign was handled well and as the republican ranks were hopelessly split, the result was never in much doubt, although Harlan, Sears and Hessing all claimed that they could not be beaten. The leaders of the republican machine were not quite as hopeful as they claimed to be and it is said on excellent authority that Sears was quietly traded for Roy O. West, the republican candidate for city attorney. The campaign was fought for the most part on strictly local issues, although the democrats had a silver plank in their platform.

Left $40,000 to Public Schools.

Dr. John C. Terrell, who died in Philadelphia last week, was a native of Person county, North Carolina, and was 79 years old. He graduated at Jefferson College, Philadelphia about 1840. He practiced his profession in that city until 1868, and stood high as a physician.

He was successful as a business man and financier, and leaves an estate valued at between $75,000 and $100,000, and which consists chiefly of first class securities.

His will directs that over $30,000 shall go to the public schools of Person county, and he also desires sufficient funds in addition to be used in building an academy in each of the twenty-six school districts of the county. Dr. Terrell was not married. His life was devoted to the benevolent and charitable objects, and his professional services were always given to the poor and needy without charge.

Colonel John H. Cunningham, of Person county, is named in the will as executor. The donation for the Person county schools, the Dispatch says, is the largest ever made by any individual for a similar purpose in the history of North Carolina.

The Country Paper.

For many years the country newspaper has been an important item of the stock-in-trade of the professional humorist, sharing space with other staple goods that could be relied upon to furnish material for a joke at such seasons as there was a dearth of novelties in the market.

Most of the jokes having for a foundation the country weekly and country journalism have originated in no spirit of malice, but because the subject has a humorous side, viewed from the traditional elevated plane of metropolitan journalism and because humorists have to live, and in order to do so must mind the main chance. That is why the subject has been worked to bed rock and beyond.

That most country newspapers are important factors in local affairs, no one at all acquainted with the subject can for a moment doubt. North Carolina has a list of which any state might be proud and from many of her small country offices men have graduated to positions of national responsibility and fame. If the 'town meeting' is the preparatory school for the halls of congress, in no less degree do the country newspapers take the place of a fitting institution for a wider sphere of usefulness.

They are, as a rule, independently honest in tone, and allow no fear of consequences to influence them when they feel like criticising whatever is considered worthy of criticism within their jurisdiction. Their office is, primarily, to print the local news; and when they have done that, they have done well. The fact that John Smith has painted his hen house may be a news item of as much importance within circumscribed limits of the country newspaper's circulation as would be the publication in the New York Herald of the fact that Mr. Van Astorbilt was contemplating the putting of new sails on his million dollar yacht. It is simply a question of locality. A three-legged milking stool would be decidedly out of place as a piece of furniture in a fashionable metropolitan church, but it is an article, the utility of which is unquestioned in a farmer's milking shed.

The country boy who goes to the city and takes his place and grows up among and with the men whose business capacity helps to shape the course of events, always, unless he is something less than a man—cherishes many pleasant memories of his native town, and he takes the paper that was his local paper when he was a boy, and he reads it carefully, and then he takes it home from the office and reads it again, from the old familiar heading clear through the advertisements. No part of it is missed; and if he is the right kind of a man, he reads between the lines more than appears in cold type.

Reading a newspaper of this sort is, as compared with the perusal of an up-to-date metropolitan sheet, like drinking from a spring that is the source of some mighty river.

High up in the solitudes the volume of water is not large, but the water is pure; lower down, the water is likely to become more or less contaminated.

The country newspaper is an institution that has always followed the schoolhouse and the church in the onward march of civilization, and its influence for good is a matter that is too seldom taken into account.—Ex.

England's Dependence on United States.

LONDON, April 6.—Attention was called in the house of commons today by Henry Selon-Karr, conservative, to the wholly inadequate production of food supplies in the United Kingdom. In relation to its large and increasing population, Mr. Selon-Karr announced that the dependence of the United Kingdom upon foreign imports for the necessities of life and the consequences which might arise therefrom in the event of war demand the serious attention of the government. Speaking to the motion, he expressed the belief that the reserve of breadstuffs never exceeded three weeks' supply and frequently sank below a week's supply. France, he pointed out, was self-supporting, and Russia and the United States were not only self-supporting but able to make large exports. The Dreikund, he continued, was practically self-supporting and Great Britain alone lived from hand to mouth and drew her principal supplies of wheat from Russia and the United States, which might possibly at some time be hostile to Great Britain. Mr. Selon-Karr further remarked that should the harvest in America fail and Russia refuse to supply Great Britain, the latter's position would be most serious. The speaker called attention to the danger done to the commerce of the United States by the Alabama and remarked that many such vessels might be set to pry upon British commerce in time of war. He did not desire action which would raise the price to consumers, but he hoped the government would consider the subject seriously and proposed that state graneries be erected for keeping supplies.

Sir Charles Dilke, radical, contended that Russian exports of wheat to Great Britain were decreasing and he asserted that half of Great Britain's food came from the United States.

Township Constable Maultsby went out to Seventy-first yesterday to arrest Nathaniel Bule, charged with shooting Clifton Pierce. Upon approaching Bule's house he saw the yard full of people, some of whom were being shaved, others having their hair cut, while the rest were displaying their tonsorial abilities. When the crowd caught sight of the officer, scissors and razors were thrown down; chains overturned, and the funniest looking lot of people that one can imagine gathered. Maultsby drew his revolver and succeeded in stopping three of them, but the man he was after escaped. It turned out that two or three of the party were fugitives from justice and when they ran the whole crowd became panic stricken and ran too. It will be remembered that several weeks ago Officers Maultsby and Benton chased the three tramps who robbed a house in Redbone through Flea Hill and though firing at them several times all three escaped. Yesterday a colored man was in town and reported that one of the tramps had come to his house badly wounded in the right leg and that he dressed the wound and allowed the man to stay at his house all night. "FROM FROST TO FLOWERS."

California or Mexico?

Both are such desirable objective points for a Winter trip that it's perhaps hard for you to decide where to go.

Let us Help You to a Decision.

A trip via New Orleans and the Southern Pacific to either Mexico or the Pacific Coast is one you will never forget.

It's a Transition from Frost to Flowers.

And the service so luxurious that people who have tested "Sun or Limite!" call it incomparable.

If you are Thinking of Going, Write Us.

We have a book entitled "Through Starland to Sunset Seas," a handsome volume of 205 pages, fully illustrated, which we will send on receipt of 10 cents in stamps to cover postage. We also have a delightful little guide to Mexico, which we will send on receipt of 4 cents to cover cost of mailing.

You Really Ought to Read them Both.

REFLECTOR PHOTOGRAPHS.

Taken Here and There in the Reporter's Round.

C. T. Cordon, of Washington, was here today.

C. T. Mumford returned Wednesday evening from New York.

"Uncle" John Cherry returned from Richmond Wednesday evening.

C. L. Warren, of Conetoe, spent last night here with the family of A. Warren.

O. Wilkinson, who has been on the tobacco market for sometime, left Wednesday evening for Oxford.

Dr. W. H. Dixon, who has been attending Virginia Medical College at Richmond, arrived here on Wednesday evening's train and went out to his fathers in Chicod.

Beard 45 Inches Long.

Mr. J. B. Johnson tells us that he has just had a photograph of himself taken to send to his son in Chicago. We expect "Tops" will make some of Windy City's inhabitants catch their breath when he shows them the picture of his father's long beard. Mr. Johnson's beard is 45 inches long and he let it hang out full at the time of having the photograph taken. Ordinarily he has to fold the beard under his vest to keep it out of the way.

Paid the last Dollar.

The members of the Greenville Presbyterian church have hearts full of rejoicing, and not without just cause. It is known that since their house of worship was erected four years ago the little band of members have struggled along with a building debt upon them. The debt is now all removed, Mr. J. R. Moore, custodian of the fund, having today paid the last dollar the church owed. We feel like both rejoicing with and congratulating them that this has been accomplished. Now that this building is paid for it will be dedicated on the third Sunday in May.

It seems often not to require a great length of time for a change of sentiment to take place among the people. Only five months ago McKinley was elected President, and he has been in charge of the office but one month, yet we see in municipal elections held this week in several cities that gave him tremendous majorities there has been a complete reverse and they have gone largely Democratic. In McKinley's own State, Ohio, the Democrats carried most every large city, and it was these very same cities that gave the State to McKinley in November. In Chicago Carter Harrison, Democrat, was elected Mayor by 85,000 majority, this, too, in the face of that city giving McKinley 56,000 over Bryan in November. All this goes to show that the people are repudiating Republicanism. Prosperity was promised to come along with the election of McKinley, but it came not. Then it was promised with his inauguration, yet still there has been no sign of its appearance. The people realize that they have only higher taxes and harder times to hope from the Republican party, and they seem desirous of showing their disapproval of such a party at the very first opportunity.
