EASTER SONG.

Awake, awake, O earth!
Thy many voices raise,
And let thy echoing hills
Repeat the note of praise.
Let all thy isles rejoice;
Let seas take up the strain—
Christ from the dead hath come;
He lives, he lives again!

Awake, awake, O earth!
Forget the hour of gloom
When in thy shuddering breast
Thy Maker claimed a tomb.
Put off thy wintry robes
For garb of joyous spring;
Crown thee with lillies fair
To greet the risen King!

Bring the treasures of the field,
Bring leaf and blossom sweet,
Thy choicest and thy best,
Before His pierced feet.
While all thy sons are glad,
And tears are put away,
Let youth and age alike
Sing Christ is risen today!

Lift up thy gates with praise,
And robes of joy put on.
The Lord of Life and Death
Hath risen to His throne.
He hath gone up on high,
And giveth gifts to men;
He lives, no more to die,
Alleluia, Amen!

—Lucy R. Fleming, in Harper's Bazar.

PROPERTY OWNER REPLIES.

MR. EDITOR:—I beg to say to "Fireman" through your columns he entirely mistakes the spirit of my article in the REFLECTOR of 12th inst.

I did not intend in any way to find fault with the work of the firemen, nor to make any "impertinent suggestions."
On the contrary I want to commend them for their faithfulness to duty, and for the sacrifices which they make for the public good.

I know that the "burden and heat"
are born by only a few, and my suggestion was that these should in some way receive some recognition of their public spirit in furnishing their time and their labor to the service.

I fully agree with the suggestion of "Fireman" that property owners should be active members of the Fire Department whenever it is possible, but unfortunately some property owners are non-residents, and hence cannot become active members and "lend muscles" to the service.

I shall be glad to see any plan adopted whereby our firemen may be encouraged and the efficiency of the department increased.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, April 16, 1897.

Senator Gorman took occasion to give the republicans a little plain talking to concerning their failure to accept the very fair proposition made to them for filling the committee vacancies and the consequent failure to give the appropriation bills which failed at the last session the proper committee consideration, just before the Indian bill was taken up. The total of these appropriations will be more than $73,000,000, and Gorman said a careful consideration of them might result in a reduction of at least $10,000,000. He also said that it was time to call a halt in the vast expenditures authorized by Congress; that the limit of expenditures on the navy and on fortifications ought to be near, now that an era of peace seemed to be at hand, and he thought it was also time to limit the expenditures on rivers and harbors. He closed by saying the democrats would do no more than call attention of Senators on the other side to the urgent need of retrenchment. It is not expected that Mr. Gorman's warning words will have any effect, but all the same they were timely, and it was entirely proper that they should have been spoken by a democrat. The country will heed, if the republicans in Congress do not.

Nothing in the eloquent address made by Mr. Bryan at the Jefferson birthday banquet, a gathering of democrats that will not soon be forgotten, was more important or significant than the following words: "The position taken by the democratic party in 1896 will not be surrendered. If you doubt the permanency of the Chicago platform as a party creed, go among the rank and file of the party and measure the zeal and enthusiasm which that platform has aroused, and you will realize the impossibility of taking a backward step. True, the present administration is seeking to turn public attention to the tariff question, but if our reasoning is well-founded, an increase of taxes cannot restore prosperity to the producers of wealth. In fact, we contend that neither high taxation nor low taxation can bring prosperity to the people, so long as an appreciating dollar continues to give the money owner an advantage over the rest of the people. The money question must be the paramount issue of the next campaign, as it was of the last. If the Dingley bill brings genuine and permanent prosperity, the democratic party will not be in a position to win a contest by opposing it. If, on the other hand, the Dingley bill proves a disappointment to those who advocate it, our position of 1896 will be strengthened, and public attention will be riveted upon the fact that the cause of financial depression is to be found in our monetary system."

Senator Nelson, of Minnesota, although a republican, is in sympathy with the efforts made by the democrats in the House to amend the tariff bill by authorizing the President to suspend the collection of duties upon any imported article, the home product of which is shown to be controlled by a trust, or to be given notice of this intention to offer the same to the public, when the tariff duties are to be levied.

Secretary Gage's answer to the Senate resolution concerning the issue of orders by the Secretary of the Treasury to Collectors of Customs in relation to carrying out the retroactive clause of the republican tariff bill not being at all satisfactory, Senator Vest offered a resolution declaring this order to be without authority of law and in violation of the statutes and customs regulations concerning the payment of import duties, and by a bare majority of one it was referred to the Finance Committee to be pigeonholed.

Democrats would be delighted to see McKinley's bluff, otherwise known as the special diplomatic commission to visit Europe with power to negotiate with the governments of that section in behalf of international bimetalism, succeeded in accomplishing something tangible, but none of them have the slightest idea that it will. The Commissioners, Senator Wolcott, General Paine, of Massachusetts, Hon. Adia E. Stevenson, of Illinois, are capable men, and their failure to accomplish an impossibility will be no personal reflection on them.

Senator Morgan closed his long speech in favor of his resolution recognizing the Cubans as belligerents by declaring that whatever action this country might or might not take toward Cuba the freedom of the island was written in the stars.

Senator Chandler's bills for the seizure of the armor plants of the Bethlehem and Carnegie Steel companies by the government, represent a very dangerous sort of bluff, for it is evident they are nothing else. That these companies have been extortionate in their dealings with the government is true, but that doesn't give Congress a right to confiscate their property.

Don't Wait So Long.

Why reserve the kind words of love until the dear one is gone and cannot hear them? Why not give your friend the flowers while they are fresh and sweet, and not wait to lay them on his tomb? While he is struggling with adversity, and is cast down by disappointment speak the words of affection you will want to sav when he lies cold on his bier. Grasp his hand while it is warm with the pulse of life and can feel the pressure of your own. When his heart is still in death, it cannot feel joy or sorrow, and a friend is no nearer than a stranger. Alas! how bitter the memory of unkind words spoken in haste, that have pierced the poor heart like a thorn, and left a painful sting behind! Could we recall our loved ones that have gone from us, how we would try to comfort them! What ending terms we would use! But they will never return. Their lips are sealed in silence, and their ears hear not the voice of love, of praise, or of blame. Then speak the words of love and sympathy now while they are with you. Be kind and gentle to the little ones. They are with you today; tomorrow they sleep under the daises.

"Be ye kind to one another."

The Republicans of Orange, N. J., nominated a negro coachman for a member of the School Board. But as this was unintentional, as the result of a misunderstanding, they are now preparing plans to defeat him. Of course. It is all well enough for the negro to hold office anywhere else on earth except along side of the average citizen in public offices. Henderson Gold

EASTER MORNING.

Easter dawning!
 Oh the glory
 And the sweetness
 Of the story!
 Light from darkness,
 Joy from sadness,
 Ring, oh, ring,
 Ye bells, with gladness!

Ring, and send out
 Cheerful greeting;
 Notes from other
 Joy-bells meeting,
 Till the whole world,
 Filled with wonder,
 Sees the clouds
 All rent asunder.

Easter beauties!
 How they cluster!
 Lending fragrance
 To their luster.
 Emerald verdure,
 Buds and flowers,
 Hidden deep
 Through Lenten hours!

Easter lillies
 Smiling faintly,
 Tall and slender,
 Sweet and saintly;
 Snow-white flocks
 By nature molded.
 Seem they, meek
 And all enfolded!

Easter music
 Sing, ye dear ones,
 Lift your voices,
 Far and near ones,
 Men and maidens
 Join the chorus,
 Joy and gladness
 Should reign o'er us.

Little children
 Sing in gladness,
 For your young hearts
 Know no sadness;
 Not a sorrow
 Dims your morning,
 Yet you love
 The Easter dawning.

Easter dawning!
 Oh! the glory
 And the sweetness
 Of the story!
 Light from darkness,
 Joy from sadness—
 Ring, oh, ring,
 Ye bells, with gladness.

Date of Easter.

The date of Easter is determined by the ecclesiastical calendar of the Catholic Church, says an exchange. It is a very complicated and elaborate affair invented by Lilius, a Neapolitan astronomer and sage, under Pope Gregory XIII, at the close of the sixteenth century. It would be preposterous to tax the brains of modern readers with the abstruse calculations by which the date of Easter is determined, but a few general rules might be given for their enlightenment.

The regulations of the council of Nice are four: First, Easter must be celebrated on a Sunday; second, this Sunday must follow the fourteenth of the paschal moon; third, the paschal moon is that moon whose fourteenth day falls on or next follows the day of the vernal equinox; fourth, the equinox is fixed invariably in the calendar on the 21st day of March.

This calendar moon, it should be remembered, is not the moon of the heavens, nor the moon of the astronomers but it is an imaginary moon created for ecclesiastical convenience. From these conditions it follows that Easter Sunday cannot happen earlier than the 22d of March or later than the 25th of April.

Typewriters' Views of Men.

Once it was said that "no man is a hero to his valet de chambre." Mary Gay Humphreys has another reading for the saying in Scribner's Magazine, for she shows how "a man is no hero to his typewriter."

The mystery of men's lives in the world, out of which illusions are spun, has always had a greater influence in determining the fate of women than is readily admitted. To feel transmitted through the ring finger the electric thrill of business, of politics, of clubs, of stirring movements in the life of men, gives any woman vantage ground over others of her sex. But in the actual commerce of business, the community of affairs, the wear and tear of daily life in offices and elevators, this mystery vanishes. A couple of typewriters at luncheon will illustrate badly a situation yet too new to be fairly reckoned up. Over knife and fork they will match employers as small boys do pennies.

Out of hours the boss is only a man of whose necktie they may disapprove, or of the way he wears his hair, or perhaps of his grammar, and it may be he appears greatly to the advantage of some young man at a neighboring machine.

Correct Attire For the Bridegroom.

"A 6 o'clock church wedding, when the bride wears a traveling gown and there is to be no reception afterward, calls for afternoon dress on the part of the bridegroom," writes Walter Germain in The Ladies' Home Journal. "He should, even if he is going right from the church to the train, wear frock coat of black, light trousers, gray gloves, light four in hand or ascot tie, top hat, just as if the wedding were to be a large afternoon affair."

"Put that fellow in one of the basement rooms," remarked satan carelessly.

"Fellow! Basement!" sputtered the new arrival. "I would have you to know, sir, that I was a prominent citizen in my late home, sir."

By insuring today, your estate is increased in value at once.

'T WAS EVER THUS.

A few days since an insurance agent accepted an invitation to inspect a new and beautiful house built by a friend. After taking a peep at the whole establishment from top to bottom, inquired—

"House insured?"

"Yes."

"What do you insure it for?"

"Because it MIGHT burn."

"Not SURE of it, are you?"

"No."

"Is your life insured?"

"No."

"Don't you?"

"Yes."

"Sure?"

"Yes."

"Then why not insure your life as well as your house?"

"Well, really, I never thought of the matter just in that light before, and will give it early attention." —Travelers Record.
