A HORRIBLE MURDER.

Lewis Oden of Beaufort County, Killed by His Thirteen-Year-old Son--His Two Daughters Parties to the Crime.

Washington, N. C., May 4.--Beaufort county has again been the scene of another tragedy--this time a father killed in cold blood by his son, just 13 years old.

Monday afternoon about 6:40 o'clock the news was received here that a murder had been committed near Hunter's Bridge. Messrs. Irvin Rumley, John Oden, Burwell Jones and Claude Roberson went down to the scene. Suspicion had already centered upon the children. When these gentlemen reached the home of Oden they found nearly 100 people gathered and the children in the house sitting by the fire. They were immediately placed under arrest and held until the coroner reached there. The children protested their innocence and said they knew nothing about it.

Just prior to the hearing this morning before the coroner the boy confessed the crime and said that he shot him (father) about twenty-five feet from the door; that his sister told him to shoot then they would take the hind wheels of the wagon, make an ox cart and then they could go where they pleased.

The younger sister said substantially what her brother did.

The oldest girl claimed that her father was shot in the woods but did not know whether by her brother or not.

Oden was shot in the left side in the heart, ten shot (squirrel) entering the organ and his left lung was shot all to pieces.

The cause of the murder was this: The boy ran away last week. When he returned his father told him he was going to punish him. His sister told him (the boy) if their father attempted to carry out his threat to kill him--a command executed to the letter, and our county gazes upon another crime too horrible to chronicle.

The coroner's jury's verdict was that Lewis Oden came to his death at the hands of his children, Marietta, Jarvis and Arnesia Oden. They were brought to the city this morning and lodged in jail.--Wilmington Messenger.

The Meeting.

Rev. H. B. Melton's subject at last night services was "The Gospel the power of God for Salvation to all who believe." The congregation was large and very attentive.

Mrs. T. E. Hocker could not be present to sing the solo, "Take Time to be Holy," as announced yesterday but will sing it tonight.

In connection with the meeting cottage prayer services are being held each morning at 10:30 o'clock. A service of this kind was held yesterday at Mr. J. S. Tunstall's and today at Mrs. Pattie Hooker's. The one Friday morning will be held at the home of Mr. H. L. Coward.

Mrs. Claud Tyson was refunded $2 paid by her for the poll tax of W. J. Tyson, deceased.

Waylaid on the Street.

Capt. A. Griffin, our skilled jeweler lives in Forbestown. He left his store about 10:30 o'clock Wednesday to go home. Just before he reached the covered ditch in the Academy grove some one struck him a blow the shoulder. Capt. Griffin felt for his assailant with his fist and knocked him down and then tried to stamp him with his foot when the man slipped away in the darkness. He could not tell who the assailant was. Capt. Griffin thinks he struck the man in the mouth as the back of his hand was cut in delivering the knockout blow.

THURSDAY MAY 6, 1897.

TO THE YOUNG MEN OF THE SOUTH.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 1, 1897.
 —The opportune time has arrived for the young men of the South. They occupy an important position to the future development of that vast territory of inexhaustible riches. It is earnestly hoped they will take right hold of the matter, master its details and assist in advancing the industrial progress of the country. In every section, every district, every county of the Southern States exist advantages for the young man—better chances than anywhere on the face of the globe. During the past few years large numbers of young men surrendered their interests in the South—went into other and, as they believed then, broader fields for the employment of their talents and capabilities. That movement of the young men, as well as others, has reached a conclusion. No more is the South sending people to aid in trying to build up other sections. We have reached a full realization of the fact that the South possesses superior advantages over all other sections for the utilization of our native talent, as well as that of other sections. We not only have room for all of our own people, but several million of desirable immigrants. The young men of the Southern cities and towns are rapidly awakening to their duty and privilege, and are casting about for some avenue through which they can assist in the development of their respective localities. Young men's business leagues are being organized, immigration and improvement societies started and successfully officered by young men, business enterprises are being established by young men, farms opened by young men, factories located and managed by young men, and generally the young men of the South are ably participating in the various important functions which will bring prosperity and improvement to that section. These young men, with the young men who are preparing to come South from the North, are the future business men of that section. The destiny of the South is being shaped by these people, and the activity manifested and experience gained by the young men of today forms no minor part in the success of the South. They are disciplining their abilities to take up and fill the places they must necessarily be called upon to occupy.
 It is the duty of each and every young man of the South to have proper position in this matter and unfalteringly take hold of the opportunity, using all honorable means to better his condition. He is entitled to a position in the commercial as well as social avenues of the South, and that position is just what he himself makes it. The stranger, the homeseeker, the tourist is attracted to a section by the activity of people in placing before them the special advantages of that section and the young men are capable of engaging in an important line of work in that direction.

The West was largely settled by young men from the East. The South's prosperity will be greatly advanced by the young men of the South. This era of remarkable push and progress on all lines of betterment requires constant and intelligent effort, and our young men are rapidly adjusting themselves to the situation and are to be commended for their enterprise and quick perception of the necessities of the advanced period in which they are living.

The young man of today without capital or influence should realize that there is in store for him, provided he manipulates his career properly, a prominent place in the social, commercial and financial connections of the South.

It is hoped this circular will be of some service in stimulating the young men of the South and encouraging them on to prosperous and contented citizenship; that they will weigh the subject-matter, talk it over with their friends and associates, and act upon these suggestions. There is not a community in the South that does not possess the elements for numerous successes to the young men. Let the young men get together, decide themselves what they can and will do to promote their position and prospects. Let the farmer's sons study the agricultural situation—learn advanced and modern methods; see what other sections are doing and endeavor to surpass them; study the markets, both domestic and foreign; learn how and when to reach them and when to sell. Let the young men of our cities and towns educate themselves up to the requirements of the day. Let every young man of the South ask himself and answer this question, viz:

"What am I going to do to assist in advancing the best interests of the section in which I live, and thereby promote my own personal interests?"

The young men of the country tributary to the Southern Railway are hereby advised that this company is interested in the welfare of its patrons, realizing that the success of the people along its lines means prosperity for the road. A successful people means a contented people; a prosperous community means at the same time a homogeneous community.

The Land and Industrial Department of the Southern Railway is organized expressly for the purpose of helping to advance the best interests of the people along its lines. That includes the young men, and the undersigned will be glad to co-operate with them, as far as is consistent and practical, in building up the country.

We wish the young men of the South success in all their laudable enterprises and undertakings.

Steel Freight Cars.

A Pittsburg paper notes a $600,000 order to a manufacturing company near that city for steel freight cars. The same paper prophesies that steel will supplant wood altogether in the manufacture of freight cars; that the life of an ordinary wooden car is about ten years, while it is expected that the steel ones will last a lifetime. The weight of the steel cars is 35,000 pounds and their carrying capacity 50 tons. The cost will be $1,000 each, and the cars will be fitted with air brakes and many new and valuable appliances. The manufacture of wooden cars uses up a vast quantity of lumber and the general substitution of steel would afford much relief to the forests.

A Narrow Escape.

As the westbound passenger train was crossing the Catawba river, near Catawba station, on Thursday, a poor old deaf man came within a foot or a few feet of being run over. He was near the end but could not hear the train approaching. When the whistle blew he likely felt the jar of the train and looking around dropped down on the edge of the bridge till it passed. The engineer stopped the train within a few yards with air brakes, saving his life. It was a hair breadth escape, attracting the passengers, and drew their pity for the old man lying just beside the train above and the river below.—Marion Messenger.

She Spanked Grant.

A very distinguished personage died in New York the other day in the person of a woman whose proud boast it was that she had spanked General Grant, and that, too, not once but oft. Now that she is gone it will be interesting to hear from the lady who mixed Grover Cleveland's pap, the goddess who helped Benjamin Harrison to paregoric, and the madonna who court-plastered Abraham Lincoln's cut finger.—Reading (Pa.) The Blue Back in China.

Writing to the North Carolina Presbyterian, Miss Olande Grier, of this State, who is now a missionary to China, says:

"You may be amused to hear that we use Webster's Blue Back Speller. It serves the purpose well, as the Chinese wish to be taught spelling and pronunciation, especially the latter, and require much drill in the vowel sounds."

The Landmark has always been a little weak on the foreign mission question, but this statement of Miss Grier's increases our faith. If the Mongolian heathen is taught Webster's Blue Back along with the Bible, then we have some hope for him.—Statesville Landmark.

Wanted the Handkerchiefs.

Five young men from the country went into the restaurant on Main street Saturday to get dinner. After they had come out on the street again, the proprietor of the eating house was seen to follow them and talk earnestly with them. One by one they drew forth napkins from their pockets and delivered them to the owner, saying as they did so that they thought the handkerchiefs were thrown in with the dinner.—Winston Journal.

Important if True.

Under an act past by the last Congress a person defacing a gold or silver coin of the United States is liable to a fine of $2,000 and five years in prison. This stops the bangle mad along with other forms of coin defacement.—Winston Republican.

A New England woman has had the temerity to declare in Boston, that self-satisfied centre of advanced ideas, that the New Woman is a freak, and ought to be ridiculed out of existence.

One of the most horrible holocausts that have been recorded occurred in Paris on the 4th. 'T WAS EVER THUS.

A few days since an insurance agent accepted an invitation to inspect a new and beautiful house built by a friend. After taking a peep at the whole establishment from top to bottom, inquire—

"House insured?"
"Yes."
"What do you insure it for?"
"Because it MIGHT burn."
"Not SURE of it, are you?"
"No."
"Is your life insured?"
"No."
"Di. won't you?"
"Yes."

"Yes."
"Then why not insure your life as well as your house?"
"Well, really, I never thought of the matter just in that light before, and will give it early attention."—Travelers Record.

One of the largest broods of young chickens we have ever seen has just been hatched by a hen belonging to Mr. Joe Stone. The hen was set on twenty eggs and came off Monday with nineteen healthy chicks. Mr. Stone broke the unhatched egg, thinking it was spoiled, and found in it a live well developed chick. He believes it would have broken the shell and come out if left under the hen a few hours longer. —Lumberton Robersonian.

His Course Not Approved.

GREENVILLE, N. C., May 6 1897.
EDITOR REFLECTOR:—The Democratic voters of the Second Ward feel very indignant that the man whom they on Monday last elected to represent this ward in the Town Council, at the organization of the Board cast his vote for a negro for Clerk, giving as his reason that it was "dollars and cents" with him.

He was voted for by the Democrats with the idea that they were electing a Democrat to represent them, and not for a man who at the very first opportunity, for the sake of getting the negro Councilmen to elect him as Town Treasurer, would betray the confidence placed in him and cast his vote for a negro. As he has done this, and by his own action and assertion proven that his purpose is to use the office of Councilman for the "dollars and cents" he can get out of it, rather than to faithfully represent those who elected him, he could now best please the voters of said ward by tendering his resignation.

Proctor, of Grimesland, told us a few days ago, that he was preparing to have his town connected with both Washinton and Greenville. The line from Greenville to Snow Hill will also be built before long, with a likelihood of a further extension to Hookerton and Kinston. Our neighboring towns will all be in speaking distance yet.

Lang's Cash House.

When sweet spring across the hills
Sets the prisoned flow'rets free;
When the babbling of the rills
Joins with song bird's symphony;
Then, it seems to us, we oughter
Turn our thoughts to soda-water.

For the balmy April breeze
Tells the sultry days are nigh
When we hunger 'neath the trees,
And our throats are hot and dry,
Then Shelburn's soda fount
Fattens up his bank account.
