THAT

TAILORS CAN GIVE THEM

They don't cost too much. They are ready to put on without a wrinkle. You have seen the browns, olives, green mixtures, plaids--the swell colorings of the of the season--we've got them here plenty as pie at a fair. We show the best.

C. T. MUNFORD.

Base Ball.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 7.—Both teams played their heaviest hitting game of the season. Pittsburg's thirteen hits netted twenty one bases, and Cincinnati's twelve carried with them seventeen. Score: Pittsburg, 7; Cincinnati, 6.

Louisville, Ky., May 7.—The Colonels had no trouble in defeating the Browns today. Hart was hit hard when hits meant runs, while Frazer kept the Brown's hits well scattered. Clark's three bagger, with bases full, was a feature. Score. Louisville, 11; St. Louis, 7.

Brooklyn, N. Y., May 7.—Extravagant errors and a clean hit over the left field fence by Bill Clarke, who is now playing left field for the New Yorks, were the only features of the second contest between the Greater New York clubs today. Brooklyn owes her scores to the errors of the Giants, while the latter scored mostly on luck. Score. Brooklyn, 5; New York, 7.

Boston, May 7.—Washington was whitewashed by Boston today, in a rattling good game. The batting was not particularly heavy, but the fielding was sharp. McJames struck out five men to one for the Boston pitcher. Score. Boston, 4; Washington, 0.

Cleveland, O., May 7.—Today game was a slugging match, in which Denner got a little the worst of it. The Indians won by a close shave, a great catch by Birkett saving the game in the ninth. Sockalexis made three singles and a triple in four times at bat, besides getting his base on balls once. His base running was a feature of the game, and one of his five put outs was a one-handed running catch of a line drive with two on bases. Score. Cleveland, 6; Chicago, 5.

Philadelphia, May 7.—Baltimore and Philadelphia had an old fashioned batting game today and Baltimore came out on top. The hitting was chiefly done after chances had been given to retire the side. The pitching on both sides was unsteady, eleven bases being given and five men hit. Score: Philadelphia, 11; Baltimore, 13.

Vote of Thanks.

At a meeting of the Odd Fellows on last Tuesday night, a vote of thanks was extended to the Masonic fraternity for courtesies extended, to R. Hyman for the use of his picture gallery and to the Forbes orchestra, G. J. Woodward and Ollen Warren for assistance rendered in music.

"Silver Dollar" Fountain Pen, Parker make, at Reflector Book Store.

The Meeting.

Sunday closed the first week of the meeting in the Presbyterian church conducted by Rev. B. H. Melton, State Evangelist of the Christian church. The attendance all through the week was large and very attentive. Saturday night Mr. Melton preached on "Encouragement," Sunday morning on "The Resurrection" and Sunday night on "Repentance." These were all excellent sermons, the one Sunday morning being pronounced the best he has delivered here. There was one confession Saturday night and another Sunday morning.

The Evangelist announced Sunday morning that in a day or two a lot would be purchased upon which to build a house of worship here for the Christian denomination. He also stated that the meeting would continue at least until Thursday night of this week, possibly longer.

The cottage prayer meeting was held this morning at the home of Mr. H. B. Harris, and will be held tomorrow morning at Mrs. Elizabeth Hooker's.

Fire at Pactolus.

Between midnight and 1 o'clock on Sunday morning the store of E. L. McGowan, at Pactolus, was destroyed by fire. When the fire was discovered the building was about half consumed, and none of the stock could be saved. It is not known how the fire originated.

Mr. McGowan had but recently opened business at Pactolus, having moved there from Greenville a few weeks ago. We learn that he had a $2,500 stock upon which there was $1,500 insurance.

Baker & Hart have a large stock of summer goods—refrigerators, ice cream freezers, hammocks, base ball supplies, &c. See their advertisement and bear in mind that their goods and prices are right.

Another Stemmy.

Mr. S. T. Hooker tells us that his large tobacco prize house, occupied by T. E. Roberts & Co., will be fitted with steam and converted into a stemmy before the opening of the next season. The order for machinery and lumber has been placed. This makes three stemmies in sight for the next season and means the handling of more tobacco on the Greenville market and the employment of a much larger number of hands.

A Question.

The publisher of a newspaper has one thing to sell and one thing to rent. He has the newspaper to sell and the space in his columns to rent. Can any one inform us why he should be expected to give away either the one or the other? He can if he so chooses, and he does, as a matter of fact, furnish a great deal of space rent free. But it does not follow that he ought to be expected to do so. It ought to be recognized as a contribution, exactly as would be the giving away of sugar or coffee by a grocer. But, strange to say, it is not looked upon in that light at all, yet everybody knows that the existence of a newspaper depends upon the rent of its space and the sale of the paper, as merchants success depends on selling his goods instead of giving them away.—Ex.

WOMEN'S EXPOSITION.

Special Correspondence.
 CHARLOTTE, N. C., May 8, 1897.
 All the exhibits will be ready when the doors of the Women's Exposition opens next Tuesday evening May 11th.

The building presents a busy scene now, all hands hurrying the installation of the exhibits. The building is well fitted for the purposes of the Exposition and the different departments will be excellently arranged.

The Exposition is attracting great interest in all the neighboring States, and the prospects are that large crowds will attend. Special reduced rate round trip tickets have put on sale on the different Southern roads, and the very low rate will enable all to come to Charlotte during the Exposition, which will continue until June 11th.

The many fine exhibits already in place insure a display worthy the attention of anyone. The Art exhibit is altogether the most notable display of the kind that has been gathered together in the South, with the single exception of the Atlanta Exposition.

From all reports, the Art display is much ahead of that at the Nashville Centennial. The gem of the gallery is "Breaking Home Ties," the most popular picture in this country. The Art gallery alone is richly worth a visit to Charlotte.

Mrs. Sallie Southall Cotton, one of North Carolina's foremost women, will deliver the address at the opening reception. A series of receptions, entertainments, lectures and addresses by well known people will continue through the Exposition.

The affair is already a success and the women of Mecklenburg have reason to be proud of their achievement.

A story was told the other day by a lawyer in the big Equitable building, says the New York Times, of an experience that a brother of his, a blind man, had a few days since while he was in the city from a small town in Jersey, where he resides. On the day mentioned the blind man was without a guide and stood on the corner of Twenty-third street and Broadway, wishing to cross the street. While debating with himself as to whether he would try it alone or call a policeman, a woman, came up and addressed him, saying: "Mister, would you be kind enough to help me across the street? There is such a jam of trucks and cars that I am afraid to try to cross alone." "Certainly, with pleasure Madam," he responded, and offering her his arm, they started across Broadway, crossing in safety. "Thank you, very much!" said the woman. "No, Madam; it is I who am thankful, for I am blind, and you helped me to avoid that dangerous crossing very nicely," said the man. "Oh!" said the woman, in reproachful tones; "you horrid man! Why, I might have been run over!"

That Brave Girl.

Helen Constantine is the name of a seventeen-year-old girl that carries the flag in a Greek brigade. She is called a second Joan of Arc. She wears the same uniform of the other troops and seems not to fear death and declares her purpose to fight in the front rank.

She is said to be a good shot and evidently is masculine in point of chivalry.

Music in a Bicycle.

A writer in the Springfield (Mass.) Union says:

I know a young man who, in cleaning his wheel a day or two ago, struck one of the spokes in such a way that it emitted a clear tone, and on a little investigation he was able to find six spokes that furnished as many notes of an octave. The other two notes were missing, but might have been easily secured by tightening or loosening other spokes. As it was, he was able to play a few simple airs, either in whole or in part.

A Snake Shot.

Big Hill's wood wharf was yesterday the scene of an exciting little adventure, the parties interested being Big Hill a colored boy, an overloaded gun and a moccasin snake.

His snakeship being discovered on the wharf, the darkey full of excitement hurried ashore for a gun, which in the hurry heavily was charged. Returning to the wharf the gun was raised and fired, and for a few moments it was impossible to tell what damage had been done. Upon examination a moccasin snake five feet long was found shot dead, and Big Hill was seen on his back where he had been thrown by the recoil of the gun.—Newbern Journal.

Highly Recommended Diphtheria Cure.

The following cure for diphtheria appeared recently in the Scientific American, which high authority vouches for it as a certain cure for this terrible disease if the treatment is commenced in its early stages:

At the first indication of diphtheria in the throat of a child make the room close, then take a tin cup and pour into it a quantity of tar and turpentine, equal parts.

Then hold the cup over a fire, so as to fill the room with fumes.

The little patient on inhaling the fumes will cough up and spit out all the membranous matter, and the diphtheria will pass out. The fumes of the tar and turpentine loosen the matter in the throat and thus afford relief.

One Office-Hunter Easily Placated.

As he came out of the White House his face wore a smile as radiant as the dawn of pay day. "I'm all right boys," he said, shaking hands all round. "It's fixed at last. I knew I could do it if I could get his ear for a minute."

"You're in luck," commented an interested member of the group. "How did you manage it?"

"Easy as falling off a log. I just brushed right by the door-keeper, sailed up to McKinley and told him I'd have to be taken care of. He looked me over for a member and said: 'Go to Jerico.' What the salary at Jerico? Anybody know?"—Chicago Times Herald.

A New Law for Getting a Special Verdict.

Another "reform" of the last Legislature was made known to the citizens of this (Chatham) county during the present term of our Superior Court. It was the new method of drawing jurors in the trial of capital cases. Heretofore, unless otherwise demanded by the defendant, the special venire, or the extra jurors, in capital cases, were summoned by the sheriff indiscriminately from among the freeholders. But the last Legislature changed this by compelling all these extra jurors, or special venire, to be drawn from the jury box in open court. Accordingly, on last Tuesday the special venire, or extra jurors, in two capital cases were drawn in this manner, 50 jurors in each case. Immediately after the names of these jurors were drawn the sheriff had to hurry his deputies all over the county to summon the jurors to be here the next day, and the deputies had a lively time of it.

While this "reform" may be proper and even necessary in counties where the sheriff is corrupt, yet in most cases it is needless expense and puts too many good citizens to a great deal of unnecessary trouble.—Chatham Record.

A Fearful Death.

A reliable gentleman from Enoore, who was in the city yesterday on business informed the Herald reporter of the tragic death of a negro named John Smith in the Enoore river on Sunday morning.

Right above the C. W. & C. trestle which spans the Enoore river a mile above the factory, is a dangerous sand bar in the river which fishermen and bathers religiously avoid.

Smith and a crowd of negroes were in the water bathing, when Smith swam up the stream and into the sand bar, leaving his companions far behind. There he thought he would stop and rest. No sooner did his feet strike the sand than he began sinking. He struggled to extricate himself, but to no avail; he only sank further down.

He never realized his awful position until his body was almost completely submerged by the quicksand and water. Then he shouted frantically and desperately to his faltering companions, who were far away, down under the sleepers of the trestle. The men were afraid to venture up and rescue him, and one of them said it happened so suddenly that they were all paralyzed with a strange fascination to the spot, and could not move.

So this man went down unaided as none dared risk life in such a place—it would have been useless. The body has not been found, and it is probable that it never will be.—Spartanburg Herald.

The Air Ship at Last.

Nashville, Tenn., May 7.—Prof. Arthur Bernard, physical instructor of the Y. M. C. A., of Nashville, made a successful trip today in an air ship constructed by himself. He started from the Tennessee Centennial exposition grounds. The ship moved off in perfect order and passed out of sight in a few minutes. Mr. Bernard returned with his air ship tonight. He says he has perfected a machine which will fly under ordinary conditions. He stated tonight that it was not perfect, nor could it be perfectly controlled, but he believed he could perfect it so that its course could be controlled. After disappearing from view the ship circled around, the navigator hoping to meet with a favorable current. At last the ship began to sail west. When it reached Watkins, a village 15 miles west of the city, it turned. When four miles from Nashville, the gas in balloon attached began to give out. Mr. Bernard then sought a safe place and descended and came down easily. He was aloft one hour and a half.

A Suggestion of the Future.

A shower of sulphur fell at Harrisburg, Pa., on Monday night last. Such a reminder of the hereafter ought to have a chastening effect upon a legislature which, indifferent as it has been to earthly admonitions, may possibly pay deference to a message from the skies.—Durham Sun.

She Was Tired.

It was at a recent meeting of women, says the New York Tribune, and a number of delegates had made earnest addresses when a little woman in the rear of the hall arose, and, addressing the Chair, said: "Madame President, I am tired of so many squeaky sopranos; I want to hear a man."—The Herald.

When sweet spring across the hills
Sets the prisoned flow'rets free;
When the babbling of the rills
Joins with song bird's symphony;
Then, it seems to us, we oughter
Turn our thoughts to soda-water.

For the balmy April breeze
Tells the sultry days are nigh
When we linger 'neath the trees,
And our throats are hot and dry,
Then Shelburn's soda fount
Fattens up his bank account.
