The Meeting.

At Monday afternoon service Rev. P. G. Elsom made a very beautiful talk on "God's Love." Last night he preached a strong sermon to the saloon men. He said he had nothing to say against the men who kept the saloons, but he did have something to say against the business in which they were engaged. He said the saloons cause idleness, they cause poverty, they cause bad government, they are church destroyers, they cause crime. Each of these points were dwelt upon at some length showing how the saloons cause these things. As to the men in the saloons he said it was the worst business in which they could engage. In addition to causing all the evils growing out of the business they brought God's judgment upon themselves and deprived their families of the social position to which they were entitled. The saloon evil should be driven out of the nation, and if the 17,000,000 Christians would unite against it they could drive it out.

He said this sermon was for the man behind the counter selling the whiskey, and tonight he will preach to the man on the other side of the counter who buys the whiskey.

Wednesday night he will preach principally to men again but the women will also be admitted, as he will say things which both should hear.

The meeting will close Thursday night at which time he will preach a sermon on "The Judgment." He desires all business houses of the town to close between the hours of 4 and 5 o'clock on that day so that everybody can go to the afternoon service which will be a special one.

Another enjoyable cottage prayer meeting was held this morning. The meeting tomorrow morning will be at the home of Mr. Alfred Forbes.

Although our business this spring has been much larger than any previous we still have a full assortment of sizes and styles in Men's Boys and Children's CLOTHING. TUESDAY, MAY 25, 1897.

Paid a Debt After 20 Years.

S. R. Carrington, on Friday, received a letter from San Marcial, N. M., from J. B. Allen, in which was enclosed a check for $25 to pay a loan of that amount Mr. Carrington made to Mr. Allen in 1877. This is a remarkable circumstance and shows the honesty that is sometimes found in a man's heart. Mr. Allen writes that about two weeks ago he was converted and feels that his sins have been forgiven and he sees many of the foolish things he did in his past life and that now he wants to live right. He longs to see his old friends in Durham and talk with them. He also wants to know something of a Mrs. Burrus, who ran a boarding house here in 1877 or '78. He wants her address as he owes her a little bill and desires to pay it. He is now running a Dry Goods store in San Marcial, New Mexico, and it seems that he is prospering and is very happy in his religious life.—Durham Sun.

IF.

If an era of genuine prosperity dawns before the next presidential election; if labor and all are busy and prosperous in 1900, and the outlook for a continuance of good times is cheerful, the success of the Republican party in the next presidential election may be confidently expected. Reverse those conditions, and a reverse result may be looked for.

Democratic dissensions cannot be relied upon to save the Republican party and maintain the gold standard in face of continued depression in our industries.—Washington Post.

Thus discourseth Col. Al. Fairbrother in his Farrago, of Danville, Va:

Nine out of every ten defalcations on the part of fiduciary agents begin with an unintentional appropriation of the funds. They then work the heavy heart racket and expect their friends to help them out. Let it be understood that when a man appropriates one dollar that is not his own, no matter what his intentions may be, he is a thief, nothing more and nothing less, and let it go at that.

This is gospel and Col. Fairbrother is everlastingly and eternally right. But the defaulters these days—999 of every 1000 of them—especially if they are prominent and leading citizens, as is generally the case, work "the heavy heart racket," say they didn't mean to do anything wrong, and forthwith whole communities fall on their necks and weep and their sins are forgiven. Thus speaketh the Statesville Landmark.

When bilious or costive, eat a Cascaret, candy cathartic, cure constipation.

Base Ball.
 St. Louis, May 22—Errors by Hartman and Cross gave the Boston five runs in the first inning today, enough to win the game. They did not begin to hit Esfer until the last few innings, when the local pitcher let up considerably in the face of ragged support. Long's fielding was a feature of the game. Score. St. Louis, 4; Boston, 11.

Chicago, May 22—Griffith was in great form today, allowing but five hits and one run. Swaim also pitched a good, steady game, keeping his hits well scattered, excepting two innings. Connor's all round work, both in the field and at the bat was the feature. Scores Chicago, 3; Washington, 2.

Cincinnati, May 22—The Reds made it three straights today by defeating the Orioles in a slow and uninteresting game. In the first inning Robinson was seriously spiked by McPhee at the home plate, the latter spraining his ankle. Robinson was carried off the field with a deep gash near the knee. McPhee had to retire in the seventh. Clark went behind the bat for the Orioles, while Holliday took McPhee's place at second. Score. Cincinnati, 12; Baltimore, 10.

Pittsburg, May 22—Pittsburg succeeded in taking three straights from Philadelphia. The game today was won by the Pittsburgs by splendid fielding and a few timely hits. Not an error was made by the Pirates, not even a battery error. The majority of the hits made by the Phillies off Tannehill were scratched. Score. Pittsburg, 2; Philadelphia, 1.

Louisville, May 22—The Brooklyn were outplayed at every point today and the Colonels were easy winners. Cunningham, besides pitching a good, steady game, knocked one of McMahon's twisters over the left field fence for a home run, the first time that feat has been accomplished this season. Attendance 2,000. Score. Louisville, 11; Brooklyn, 5.

Cleveland, May 22—One magnificent game and one that was a farce took place today. The first was a pitchers' battle between Cuppy and Rusie and Sockalexis won it in the last half of the tenth, with a single, when Tebeau was on third and two were out. The second was made a farce by the mis-rat playing of Wallace and Childs. The Indians could not touch Doheny. Young was batted out of the box in the third inning, and Wilson pitched a pretty game thereafter. Score. Cleveland, 4; New York, 8.

Second game—Cleveland, 2; New York, 11.

Sheep Shearing.

The expression is sometimes used by people that sheep raising does not pay in North Carolina. Perhaps it does not pay to raise common breeds of sheep, but it pays every time to raise fine breeds, as the following will show:

Col. J. S. Carr had ten of his fine sheep at the Occoneechee Stock Farm sheared Friday. The yield of wool was as follows: From the first sheep, thirteen pounds, six ounces; the second ten pounds twelve ounces; another, ten pounds eleven ounces; another, ten pounds four ounces; and another, ten pounds two ounces. The total yield from the ten head of sheep was ninety-seven pounds, being an average of nine pounds and seven ounces for the ten head.—Durham Sun.

THE OLDEST MASON IN N. C.

Some weeks ago a discussion was started in the press of the State as to who was the oldest Odd Fellow in North Carolina, or rather, who had held the longest continuous membership in the order. Several cities and lodges claimed the distinction of having the "oldest member," until finally The Tribune's lodge man was put upon the trail and discovered that the honor belonged to a lodge in Wilmington, and dates showed that this lodge had upon its roster a member who had belonged to that lodge for considerably over a half a century, and for all that time in good standing.

Now, a query is started as to who is the oldest continuous Mason in the State. It seems, at this writing, that Wake Forest lays rightful claim to this distinction in the person of Mr. Robert E. Harris, who claims membership in the Masonic fraternity continuously for seventy-two years. Mr. Harris is 94 years of age, and if his claim is correct he was made a Mason when 22 years of age, or thereabouts.—Raleigh Tribune.

A man lost his dog and this is the way the newspaper man let the fact be known: Henry Mitchell has lost his dog and don't know where to find him. He wore two ticks upon his neck and a short stub tail behind him. The dog is long and narrow built with spots of black and white and if he sees a smaller dog he always wants to fight. He totes his tail up stiff and straight when he's for war prepared, but points it downward to the ground whenever he is scared. This stumpy tailed dog that now is lost was Henry's friend and crony, but now alas, he sadly fears he's made up in bologna.—Exchange.

Two Men Hurt.

There came near being a fatal accident this afternoon among the workmen on the Parham stemmery. A heavy timber was being hoisted in position when it slipped and fell back on two of the men. One of them was badly cut on the head and hurt in the back, and one foot of the other man was severely mashed.

Don't Drive Out The Bicycle.

The report having gone out that the new Town Council was contemplating changing the ordinance relative to bicycles and prohibiting riding on the side walks, petitions are being circulated asking the Councilmen to let the law remain as it is. With such streets as we have in Greenville, a law keeping bicycles off the sidewalks would practically mean that they could not be used in town at all. There are a great many wheels here and a prohibition against their use would work a hardship in a number of cases. Bicycles have to be listed for taxation, and it would be unjust to the owners to make them pay taxes on what they are denied the privilege of use or benefit from. Many people have purchased wheels during the past year with the expectation of the law remaining as it is, and it would be wrong after their money is invested to prohibit the use of them. We hope the Councilmen will let the bicycle ordinance remain as it is until Greenville has better streets. This is the only way to be just to the riders.

The Atlantic Coast Line will sell round trip tickets from Greenville to Morehead City, on account of the Teachers' Assembly, at $5.05 via Kinston and $7.45 via Goldsboro. Tickets sold from June 12th to 30th.
