THAT

TAILORS CAN GIVE THEM

They don't cost too much. They are ready to put on without a wrinkle. You have seen the browns, olives, green mixtures, plaids--the swell colorings of the of the season--we've got them here plenty as pie at a fair. We show the best.

C. T. MUNFORD.

Base Ball.

Philadelphia, June 2.—Hughes pitched a steady, effective game for Pittsburgh this afternoon, the hits made off his delivery being scattered through five innings and the Phillies were consequently easy victims. Orth was hit harder than the score indicates, particularly in the innings in which the visitors scored. Pitcher Carsey and Catcher Grady have been exchanged for Catcher McFarland of St. Louis. Grady is willing to go to St. Louis but Carsey declares that he will not. If the latter remains obdurate, the deal may be blocked. Score. Philadelphia, 2; Pittsburgh, 5.

Brooklyn, June 2.—When the St. Louis Browns appeared at Eastern park this afternoon Tommy Dowd was missing and in his place was Hallman, of the Phillies. Harley, another Quaker player, covered the centre and Cross, Turner and Hartman were almost the only players in their regular positions. The change did little good, however, the home team won in a walk. Score. Brooklyn, 10; St. Louis, 1.

New York, June 2.—New York lost the game to Louisville this afternoon in the ninth inning. Up to that time the Giants had the game well in hand and were going easily. Stafford and Rogers were presented with floral horse shoes when they came to bat for the first time. Score. New York, 4; Louisville, 7.

Washington, June 2.—Washington lost today's game because of two misjudged balls in the first inning, one of which should have been scored a put out and the other a single, but both of which resulted in a triples. In addition to this Lange made another of those starplays for which he is noted, catching a drive which seemed good for a home run. Score. Washington, 5; Chicago, 6.

Baltimore, June 2.—The Champions took very kindly to the delivery of three of Cincinnati's pitchers today and batted out a victory in the fourth inning, scoring five runs. Breitenstein was being hammered all over the field when he was spiked while covering first base. Ehret, who succeeded him lasted but two innings, after which Dwyer was given a trial with but little better results. Bowerman got an ugly cut in the forehead from a foul tip, but was able to play the game through. Score. Baltimore, 10; Cincinnati, 4.

Boston, June 2.—The Boston today, through terrific batting in the first inning and Wilson's wildness in the second, made a total of fourteen runs before Cleveland realized that the game had begun. Klobdenz was practically invincible after the first inning while the home team still further fattened their batting averages. Score. Boston, 21; Cleveland, 3.

To Prevent Minors from Entering Bar and Billiard Rooms and Bowling Alleys.

The last General Assembly enacted the following law:

"That it shall be unlawful for the keepers of any bar room, billiard room, or bowling alley, to allow any minor to enter or remain in such bar room, billiard room, or bowling alley, if before such minor enters or remain in such bar room, billiard room, or bowling alley, the owner or keeper thereof has been notified by the parents or guardian of such minor not to allow such minor to enter or remain in such bar room, billiard room or bowling alley.

"Any person violating the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not exceeding $50 or imprisoned not more than 30 days."

Parents who want their boys kept out of such places might avail themselves of the provisions of this law.

Thrice a Medalist.

Miss Lina Sheppard, who recently returned home from the Mary Baldwin Seminary, at Staunton, Va., brought with her two very handsome medals which she won in the graduating class. One of these was for proficiency in instrumental music and the other in vocal music. Miss Sheppard was also the winner of the music medal at the State Teachers Assembly two years ago. These medals are a strong endorsement of her splendid music talent.

Sends His Thanks and Photograph.

Lieut. B. F. Sugg, Secretary and Treasurer of Bryan Grimes Camp of Pitt County Confederate Veterans, who sent Mr. C. B. Rouss, of New York, a copy of the REFLECTOR containing the resolutions recently adopted by the Camp, is in receipt of a letter from Mr. Rouss expressing his gratitude at the resolutions and the sympathy of the old soldiers for him in his affliction. Accompanying this letter was a splendid photograph of Mr. Rouss which Mr. Sugg is taking great pleasure in showing to his comrades. No doubt all of them will be glad to see the picture of this man who has done and is doing so much to perpetuate the history of the Confederacy. If he had never done anything else, Mr. Rouss' act of contributing $100,000 to the erection of a Confederate Battle Abbey is enough to endear him to every Southerner.

Early Closing.

During the dull months of June, July and August the merchants of many towns have a custom of closing their store at night. This is a good step and one that we believe could be practiced generally with profit. Going into a store at 6 o'clock in the morning and staying their until 10 o'clock at night is very taxing to one's strength and energy during hot weather. By closing early in the evening the merchants and clerks could both obtain much needed rest, and going refreshed to their duties in the morning they would be able to throw much energy into their business of the day. Aside from this, there is often not enough trade at night during these months to pay for keeping open, so to close early might also effect a saving.

The Question of Fine Dress.

Every young man wishes to present a good appearance before his best girl, but all young fellows who have best girls are not likewise blessed with plerthic bank accounts. They cannot afford to pay extravagant prices for clothes--economy must be practiced, and when you wish to economize in your clothing and continue to wear good things just call at our Fashionable Clothing store and be fitted to correct garments. We can suit you in Ready-Made, or if preferred we can take your measure and make you a Suit. Samples all in

FRIDAY, JUNE 4, 1897.

The Cubans ought certainly to be assisted. And at the same time, we have right here at home sufferers that need attention as well as those on the Cuban island. McKinley should look after his own country for a few minutes at least and forward that wave of prosperity, so that our people might save their homes from the block for taxation and debt.—Wilkesboro Chronicle.

The American Protective Tariff League, the President of which is Secretary of the Interior Bliss, has sent out a request to all the Republican newspapers in the country that they advise their readers to urge their Senators to please hurry up that tariff. This round-about appeal will not have much effect upon the Senate, as that body in no wise regards itself as amenable to the people; but it may serve to swell immensely the revenues of the Post Office Department.

The Russian Government has sent a Commission to the United States to examine and report upon the uses and advantages of our agricultural implements and machinery. In Russia, as in the United States, agriculture is the dominating industry. The two countries must always be rivals in supplying the needs of other nations who depend in part upon imports of food supplies. In this country great advantages have been obtained through the use of improved machinery. The Russians, who have been buying inferior implements in Germany, show commercial wisdom in sending hither to observe for themselves our labor-saving devices.

Training Husbands After Marriage

It really is asking too much of a woman to expect her to bring up a husband and her children, too. She vainly imagines when she marries this piece of perfection, with whom she is so blindly in love, that he is already trained, or rather, that he is the one human being in the world who has been perfect from infancy, and who never needed training. She knows that mothers have put in 20 years of close study and hard work before they can turn out a man or woman who won't be a social pest. She never dreams of the curious fact that mothers always train their daughters to make good wives, yet never think of training a boy to make a good husband.—Lillian Bell in the Woman's Home Companion.

Our Building.

Life is building. It rises slowly day by day, through the years. Every new lesson we learn lays a block on the edifice which is rising silently within us. Every experience, every touch of another life on ours, every influence that impresses us, every book we read, every conversation we have, every act of our commonest days, adds something to the invisible building.—J. R. Miller, D. D.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF THE UNIVERSITY.

(Special correspondence of Reflector.)

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. June 3rd '97.

Yesterday witnessed the crowning events of the commencement exercises. Long before the hour for them to begin arrived, memorial hall was filled almost to its utmost capacity.

Promptly at 11:15 o'clock the Alumni headed by president Alderman with Lieut. Gov. Reynolds and Col. Thomas S. Kennan, with Hon. Wm. L. Wilson, marched down the middle aisle and took their seats on the rostrum. The Seniors followed them and occupied the other end of the rostrum.

The exercises were opened with a very appropriate prayer by Rev. P. D. Gold, of Wilson.

Four orations were delivered by members of the senior class in contest for the Willie P. Mangum medal. The first was by A. T. Allen on "The Relation of Government to Freedom," the second by D. B. Smith on "America in Civilization" the third by D. McIver "Conflict between Knowing and Feeling," and the fourth by S. Brown Shepherd on "The Growth of Law." All were strong speeches and were listened to with much interest.

After the awarding of honors and special certificates came the awarding of medals. A Henderson won the Holt medal, R. V. Whitner the Hume medal, D. McIver the Kerr prize, J. G. McCormick the Jno. S. Hill prize, Edgar Newby the Harris prize, S. B. Shepherd the Worth prize, L. L. Rose the Manning prize, P. D. Gold, Jr., the Representative medal, and D. B. Smith the Willie P. Mangum medal.

President Alderman introduced Hon. Wm. L. Wilson as a man who had recently quit the cabinet of the President of the United States to teach the young men of his country and to help them on to future usefulness, as the men who succeeded our own beloved Robert E. Lee as president of Washington and Lee University.

We shall not attempt to outline Mr. Wilson's speech for we can give no idea of its beauty and eloquence.

Rev. S. W. Crawford, of Greensboro, pronounced the benediction.

At the Alumni banquet in Commons Hall toasts were made as follows: "North Carolina and her University" Governor Reynolds '68 "The University in the Nations Service," Mathew Whitaker Ransom '47, "The University and the Press," Joseph Person Caldwell, "The University and her Alumni, What the University Owe to her Sons," Edward Joseph Hale, '60, "The Alumni and the University, What the Alumni Owe to their Alma Mater," Claudius Dockery, '87, "The University and the Public School," George Edwin Butler, '67.

In the afternoon a good game of base ball was played by the Varsity vs. Alumni. The Varsity boys were victorious—score 4 to 2.

The Glee Club concert and the commencement ball tonight finishes up the programme much to the regret of many who have participated in the festivities of the past few days. X.

ABOUT GREENVILLE.

Editor E. E. Hilliard, of the Scotland Neck Commonwealth (we beg pardon for following the old rut and calling it the Democrat) who recently spent a few days in Greenville, had the following to say in the last issue of his paper about our town and people:

Rev. A. W. Setzer, the popular young pastor of the Greenville Church, is doing a most excellent work there. He "fills the bill" exactly, but will not remain long, as he wishes to prosecute his studies further, either at college or in the seminary, or both. His people are fond of him very much.

The hospitality of the Greenville people is equal to that of any town, like it in the South. Every one's doors were open to visitors and every host wished for more guests and every guest hoped that he might always fall into the hands of such whole-souled hosts.

The editor of the Commonwealth was most royally entertained in the pleasant home of Mr. R. L. Humber. Many of the Scotland Neck people know Mr. Humber, and as they have met and seen him here they have found him clever and genial, but it all improves when you see him at home. But this is all explained in the fact that a most accomplished and charming housewife presides over his home. Her rare intelligence and charming accomplishments, her queenly manners and her fine social qualities, are made all the more attractive by reason of her beautiful and unfeigned devotion to the cause of Christ and her sweet and tender sympathy in whatever tends to help humanity. We were most handsomely entertained and shall not soon forget our pleasant stay in this most hospitable home.

It was a pleasure to enjoy also for a part of the time hospitality in the homes of Mess. E. B. Higgs and W. H. Ragsdale, whose charming wives have well-learned the art of pleasing their guests and making them hope that the wheel of good fortune will soon lodge them there again. Scotland Neck has never yet forgiven Mr. Higgs for taking from the town one of its best and most lovely girls, but inasmuch as it "was to be", we all keep up our congratulations from Greenville in the matter.

Mr. Ragsdale has built up a most excellent school in Greenville, has a beautiful and well furnished home and is greatly beloved by the people of the town and county.

Mr. E. B. Higgs has succeeded in impressing himself on the people of Greenville and Pitt county, as a most excellent business man, and is now cashier of the Bank of Pitt County, of which he and his brothers, Mess. J. W. and J. S. Higgs are large stockholders.

It was pleasant to drop in upon editor Whichard of the REFLECTOR and see him and his busy force turn out the work which his popularity and good execution have turned to his printing house.

Every visitor to Greenville joins the Commonwealth and others from Scotland Neck in saying that the Greenville people more than sustained their former reputation in their open handed hospitality and hearty welcome to the visitors.

Mess. Vann and Biggs were guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Higgs and Mrs. Morrisette was entertained in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Flanagan.

Greenville's business has been greatly improved by its tobacco market and the work is still enlarging.

Destruction of the Cabbage Worm.

Possibly one of the best methods of destroying cabbage-worm is that recommended by Gardening several years ago. It was to take fine salt, dry it on a hot stove, and, when the dew was on the plants, sprinkle the dry powdered salt over them. This should be done about once a week.—Meehan's Monthly.

Liquid Air.
Many scientists are devoting their attention to the difficult task of rapidly and cheaply liquefying air. This, when accomplished, will be of great value for many purposes, of which refrigeration and the moving of engines, stationary and locomotive, are the most important. By the most successful method hitherto used a German experimenter was able, with a copper tube apparatus weighing 132 pounds and a pressure averaging more than 190 atmospheres, to liquefy air in two hours without resorting to auxiliary cooling expedients. By means, however, of a machine exhibited last month before the Dublin Royal society, liquid air was produced in 25 minutes. The air pressure in this case was less than 87 atmospheres and the apparatus weighed only 20 pounds. The liquid air was not in quantity large enough to be of commercial importance, but the system was a marked improvement over all its predecessors.—Exchange.

A Small Minority.
Marriage is not a failure, but many marriages fail. Just now there seems to be an epidemic of husbands and wives leaving homes and ties. But they are few compared with the millions of husbands and wives who are true to duty and to one another.—Baltimore American.

Nothing Like Reality.
Some amateurs in a provincial town gave a theatrical performance. Just before the curtain went up the star actor took the manager aside and said to him:

"Now, look here! I don't propose to drink water instead of wine in the drinking scene in the second act. I want wine—genuine wine. The unities must be preserved. We want to make this play as realistic as possible."
"Oh, you want champagne at 15 shillings a bottle, do you?"
"Yes, sir. Everything must be realistic."
"All right. In the second act you shall have real wine, and when you take poison in the last act you shall have some real poison. I'll see that you don't complain of the play not being realistic enough. How does prussic acid strike you?"
London Tit-Bits.

Deeds, Not Words.
"I never talk to book agents," said the busy man.
"Good!" exclaimed the agent. "I admire a man of action. Now, just put your signature to this order and have it over with."—Philadelphia North American.

Made to Last.

Benjamin Franklin, in the midst of his labors to establish the republic on a safe and solid basis, came into his house one day and found his little daughter sewing. "These buttonholes, Sally," he said, "are good for nothing. They will not wear. If you make a buttonhole, child, make the best buttonhole possible."

Not content with rebuking the child, he went down the street and sent up a tailor, who had orders to instruct Miss Sarah in the art of making a buttonhole properly.

A great-granddaughter of the American philosopher told this anecdote recently, adding, with pride, "Since then the Franklin family have made buttonholes that will last."

What great statesman now would observe such a seeming trifle? How many young girls of Sarah Franklin's age think it worth while if they make a buttonhole to make the best one possible?—Youth's

There is no reason on earth why anything should be wrong in North Carolina. This ought to be the most prosperous State in all this Union. There ought to be the most perfect laws on our Statute books and the clearest administration of the same. There is no reason for all this dissatisfaction, crimination and recrimination. Just think, the entire machine, from the spittoon cleaner, the lowest and most disgraceful position known to American politics, to the most honorable office, within the gift of the people, is in the hands of the reformers. Great is reform!—Lexington Dispatch.

Let us Help You to a Decision.

A trip via New Orleans and the Southern Pacific to either Mexico or the Pacific Coast is one you will never forget.

It's a Transition from Frost to Flowers.

And the service is so luxurious that people who have tested "Sunset Limited" call it incomparable.
