FIRST GERMAN AT MOREHEAD.

MOREHEAD CITY, June 18th, '97.
The first "german" of the season was given tonight in the ball room and was a brilliant scene of gaiety and beauty. The floor was a symposium of the beauty and gallantry of this State, which is famous for the beauty of its women and the gallantry of its men. The giddy mazes of the dance attracted the interested gaze of the guests of the hotel and held as its willing captive those who delight in the "poetry of motion." The music was excellent and all went merry as a marriage bell. The german was gracefully led by C. S. Forbes, of Greenville, with Miss Elizabeth Crow, of Raleigh.

Among the dancers were Stuart Carr, of Greenville, with Miss Nannie Fleming, of Greenville.

Chas. L. Wilkinson, of Greenville, with Miss Hattie Hargrove, of Louisville.

Sidney Kennedy, of Kinston, with Miss Ethel Norris, of Raleigh.

W. G. Carr, of Castoria, with Miss Lulu White, of Greenville.

J. L. Fleming, of Greenville, with Miss Hal Morson, of Raleigh.

Alf. Kennedy, of Kinston, with Miss Rosa Hooker, of Greenville.

J. B. Culpepper, of Richmond, Va., with Miss Mary Latta, of Raleigh.

Mr. Stow, of New Bedford, Mass., with Miss Linton, of Charlotte.

Chas. Harper, of New York, with Miss Dill, of Morehead City.

Mr. Morris, of Morehead, with Miss Ophelia Howell, of Goldsboro.

Rom Nunn, of Newbern, with Miss Davis, of Beaufort.

Jarvis Sugg, of Greenville, with Miss Becca Weathington, of Greenville.

John Arrington, of Rocky Mount, with Miss Minnie Slocumb, of Goldsboro.

Stags.—Dr. R. L. Carr, of Greenville, Harry Heck, of Raleigh and F. L. Carr, of Castoria.

Chaperons—Capt. and Mrs. C. A. White, of Greenville.

Some of our Folks.

While in Kinston Saturday night the REFLECTOR old man dropped in to see our former townsman, Mr. W. H. Cox. He has a large stock of goods there, and though but a short while in that town is already commanding a fine trade. But he is the kind of hustler to draw the trade so the latter might be expected. Bob looked as natural as ever behind the counter. The entire family seemed pleased with Kinston but have warm places in their hearts for Greenville.

Sunday School Organized.

Mr. D. D. Haskett organized a Sunday school in the public school house, in south Greenville, Sunday afternoon. He started off with a membership of twenty eight, which is very good. Hereafter the Sunday school will assemble at 4 o'clock in the afternoon at the same place. Everybody is invited to attend.

The season of duck trousers and gooseberry pie is at hand.

A PICNIC TO THE POLE.

When the burning heat,
Beats on the street,
And the thunders roll and roll,
'Twould be good to go
In a ship of snow
On a picnic to the pole!

On a picnic to the pole!
Where the Ice King has control;
'Twould be good to go
In a ship of snow
On a picnic to the pole!

'Twould be fine to sail
In an icy gale
Where the Arctic oceans roll;
Far—far away
Over Baffin's Bay,
On a picnic to the pole!

On a picnic to the pole!
Where the Ice King has control;
'What joy to go
In a ship of snow
On a picnic to the pole!

Washington, June 18—Frazer pitched well today up to the sixth inning, when four successive hits were garnered from his delivery. Score. Washington, 8; Louisville, 3.

New York, June 18—The New Yorks today shut out Patsy Teabeau's Indians in a postponed game, transferred here from Cleveland. "Cy" Seymour, the young southpaw, was a Chinese puzzle to the Clevelanders. Score. New York, 5; Cleveland, 0.

Philadelphia, June 18—St. Louis turned tables on the Phillies today and defeated them in a game replete with pitches and costly errors on the part of the locals. Score. Philadelphia, 4; St. Louis, 9.

Baltimore, June 18—The Champions today won the second of the present series in a game of no particular interest. Both Corbett and Hawley were batted freely, the latter getting a shade the worst of it. Score. Baltimore, 11; Pittsburg, 9.

Death of a Showman Who Had an Assortment of Hardware in His Stomach.

Harry Whallen, the "hrman ostrich," who was operated upon at the German Hospital last Saturday, and from whose stomach the surgeon took an assortment of cutlery and hardware, died at 2 o'clock this morning, the result of the operation.

Wallen got into trouble by swallowing a big Barlow knife, in Pilot Grove, Mo., the other day. When he was operated upon at the German Hospital these articles were removed from his stomach.

Two jackknives, one three inches long and the other four inches; five knife blades, from one to three inches long; thirty-two wire nails, eight penny or larger; thirty-four six penny nails, twenty-six shingle nails, sixteen carpet tacks and small nails, one barbed wire staple, one horse shoe nail, three screws, three ounces of glass and several bits of crockery.

Whallen was offering bets that at least 100 nails and three knives would be found in his stomach, and if the referee had decided that five single blades are equivalent to one knife, he would have won his bets. He was a professional showman. He began swallowing grass and nails when he was ten years old, and says he has eaten a lamp chimney nearly every day during the seventeen years he has been at it, but the Barlow knife, which he swallowed last week, was a little too much, even for his long suffering stomach.

When the surgeons operated upon him the stock of hardware inventoried was found imbedded in a solid mass in his stomach and partially encysted. After it was removed the stomach was thoroughly washed out and sewed up.—Kansas City Dispatch, 14th.

Just Remember These Little Facts.

- Rub your hands on a stick of celery after peeling onions.
- Rub spoon with common salt to remove egg stains.
- Buttermilk will take out mildew stains.
- A drop of creosote will stop the bleeding of a cut.
- Chloride of lime will cause rats to flee from the neighborhood in which it is exposed.
- Sage, picked fresh and rubbed on the teeth, whitens and preserves them.—Exchange.

Flying the Taxes.

A short time ago a deputy sheriff of Letcher county only a short distance from here, had a claim for taxes against a citizen of Mill Creek amounting to 82 cents, and as the citizen was a desperate character, the deputy induced a brave man to go with him, both being armed to the teeth. Arriving at their destination, the deputy demanded his money, but the citizen informed him that he did not have it. The deputy proceeded to levy on a cow, and started to drive the "critter" off, when the citizen's wife prevailed on him to stay and take dinner with them. After dinner, being in a happy and kindly mood, he invited the citizen and wife to make him a visit, and as he was about to take his leave the gentle wife told him she had a settlement to make with him.

"Wh—what settlement do you refer to, madam?"
 "You have not paid for your dinner, sir," she replied.
 "Oh! why, certainly; wh—what's my bill, my good woman?"
 "One dollar, if you please."
 He wrote a receipt for the taxes and gave it to her, with 20 cents and returned home a sadder but wiser man.—London (Ky.) Echo.

Florida Philosophy.

Whales often travel in schools and, as with children, there is considerable blubber among them at times.

The House of Reed.

Speaker Reed takes the chair and says:

"I will please come to order."

"I don't believe in the efficacy of prayer, so I will dispense with it today."

"The seconds of the preceding meeting are considered, read, and approved."

"There is no unfinished business on hand, and even if there were, I do not consider myself a quorum at this stage of the game."

"Did I hear a motion to adjourn? Well, I should remark, for my hearing is very acute, and when it comes to adjourning I am a quorum from Quorumville."

"If I am in favor of adjourning I will please signify it by saying 'aye.' If I am opposed, I don't know myself."

"I have it. I stand adjourned."
 —Memphis Commercial Appeal.

A Monster Apple Tree.

Dr. E. E. Boyce believes that Mr. Harvey Bradley has the largest apple tree in the county. It measures seven feet and five inches in circumference.—Gazette.

FUN.

Speaking of Haryard, The Boston Transcript says: "The few colored students at the university are always well treated, and they sit at table in Memorial hall on equal terms with the whites. As everybody knows, the Harvard football team has had a colored member—which means a good deal. In the public restaurants of Boston colored people are seldom seen, though we have a large colored population."

"No; you can't kiss me," she said.

"I think I can," he replied, proceeding to prove his view at once.

The maiden's eyes gleamed ominously, while the young man, his bravado gone, trembled for the consequences of his audacity.

She spoke excitedly.

"You're a mean thing. That's what you are! But you can't do it again. So there!"—New York Journal.

"Well, I'll be blowed!"

An ordinary vulgar expression, yet especially appropriate between the two.

The flat bicycle tire was speaking and the small boy's tin trumpet appreciated what it said.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

Made the Letter After 32 Years.

A few days ago John H. Hughes, of Cedar Grove, Orange county, mailed a letter which he had had 32 years. It was given him in 1865 to mail. He was then a prisoner at Point Lookout. In looking over some of his papers the other day, he found the letter and wrote to the sheriff of Anson to know if the man to whom it was addressed was alive. The sheriff replied yes and that, strange to relate, he was in his office when the letter of inquiry came. So the letter was sent, in the original envelope.—Raleigh correspondence Charlotte Observer.

Thought as Much.

"I rather pride myself on my treatment of women," said he. "I give way to no one in the matter of deep and sincere respect for the sex in all relations of life. Now, although Miss Brown and I were thrown together almost constantly at the seashore last summer, I never once took advantage of the fact by attempting to kiss her or treat her in any but the most respectful way."

"I know it," she replied.

"Know it," he repeated in surprise. "Did she tell you?"

"Oh, dear, no; but she said you were a man of no gumption whatever."—Chicago Post.

Called Out by Insects.

Firemen expect of course to be called out to fight fire; but the firemen of Anderson, Ind., were called out to fight gnats. A swarm, in which there must have been millions of the little white winged insects, came out from under the court house roof. Passers by gave the alarm of fire and the clerks hurriedly removed their records, thinking the building was in flames. The firemen didn't discover that there was no fire until they turned a stream of water on the gnats, and they began to fall by the thousands.—Ex.

An Idea About Farming.

Ex Gov. Northern, of Georgia, has hit upon a plan of farming that undoubtedly recommends itself to the consideration of every farmer and business man of the South. It is true that there is nothing new in it but is wholly unpracticed in this country so far as we are aware. His plan is to buy up a large tract of land, subdivide it into farms of 100 acres each, locate a large town in the centre of it and have graded roads and streets connecting each farm with the town. It is undoubtedly a fact that much of the aversion to farm life in this day is due to a lack of church, educational and social advantages. This plan would apparently do away with that objection. The plan has been in successful operation in several European countries for years, and we see no reason why it could not be more successfully adopted in this country. It is an undoubted advantage in lessening the size of farms, for the day of large plantations is over in the south and what we want and need more than anything else is the small farmer who will raise diversified crops.—Winston Journal.

Silenced Him.

The master was asking questions—masters are apt to ask questions, and sometimes, too, the answers are apt. This question was as follows: "Now boys how many months have twenty-eight days?" "All of them, sir," replied a boy, in front.—San Francisco Examiner.

Clam's Eggs.

The clam's eggs are carried by the mother on her gills. When there are fish in the water with them, the mother clams discharge the eggs, which soon hatch, but if there are no fish they carry the eggs until they decay. The reason of this strange behavior is this: When the eggs are set free in the water, they soon hatch, and the little ones swim about until they find some fish to which to attach themselves. They live for a time on the mucus of the fish and then drop off, sink to the bottom and form burrows for themselves. This curious semiparasitic life is no doubt a reversion to the habit of some ancient ancestor.—Margaret W. Leighton in Popular Science Monthly.

Greenville at Morehead.

To use a common place expression, Greenville is "cutting a figure" at Morehead, and the many popular young people from this town who have been at that charming resort the past week add much to the life and gaiety of the place.

In the News and Observer's report of a grand "ge man" there on Thursday night we notice Greenville people mentioned more frequently than those of any other town. The dance was led by C. S. Forbes, of Greenville, with Miss Elizabeth Crow, of Raleigh.

The other participants from our town were Misses Lula White, Rosa Hooker, Nannie Fleming and Blanche Flanagan and Messrs R. L. Carr, C. L. Wilkinson and J. L. Fleming.

The crowd at Morehead will be increased by another party from Greenville who go down tomorrow. According to population Greenville is sending more people to Morehead this season than any other town in the State.

Notice.

This is to notify our many patrons that Mr. Kennedy is no longer under our employ. We will have the milk, butter and cream delivered as promptly as possible. Milk will be five cents a quart until further notice. We thank you for your favors. Look out for the wagon in the morning.
