TAILORS CAN GIVE THEM

They don't cost too much. They are ready to put on without a wrinkle. You have seen the browns, olives, green mixtures, plaids--the swell colorings of the of the season--we've got them here plenty as pie at a fair. We show the best.

C. T. MUNFORD.

Base Ball.

Washington, June 21.—Orth was hit with unusual severity today. In the second inning two home runs were made in succession by the Senators. Had Orth received proper support in the field, however, fewer hits would have been made off him. Score. Washington 9; Philadelphia 2.

Brooklyn, June 21.—What the Bostonians did to Payne's curves in the first and second innings of today's contest at Eastern park is best told by the score. Fisher relieved him, and after that hits and runs for the Bean Eaters were few and far between. Klobedanz not only pitched effectively for his side but also led with the stick. Score. Brooklyn 6; Boston 11.

Cincinnati, June 21.—The Browns were unable to hit Breitenstein today and were, therefore easily defeated. The fielding of the Browns was miserable. Score. Cincinnati 8; St. Louis 3.

Cleveland, June 21.—The Indians gave a miserable exhibition on their return home today. The game was slow and poorly played on both sides. Score. Cleveland 5; Louisville 6.

Pittsburg, June 21.—The Pirates kept up their eastern record and lost to Chicago today. There were several occasions when the game could have been won by a little stick work, but Donovan's men were not equal to the emergency. Score. Pittsburg 2; Chicago 6.

Baltimore, June 21.—The Campions lost both games to New York today through their inability to hit Ruste and Meekin, particularly Ruste who in the first game held the Orioles down to five scattered hits. The big hooser's support was faultless.

In the second game the Birds lost a chance to tie the score in the ninth through poor coaching. Score.

First game:

Baltimore 2; New York 6.

Second game:

Baltimore 5; New York 6.

FIRE AND DEATH.

(Special to Reflector.)

AYDEN, N. C., June 23rd.—About 12:30 o'clock last night the old guard house here was set on fire and burned down. It was located on a back lot and the night was so calm that no other houses were endangered.

This morning the discovery was made that kerosene oil had been put on the new guard house, on Main street, and an effort made to burn that also, but did not succeed. The old house that was destroyed was not in use, the new one having recently been built.

Mr. John Branch, a highly esteemed citizen, died at his home dear here on Monday. He was 70 years old and leaves a widow and three boys.

STATE NEWS.

The News and Observer tells of a band of forgers operating in this and other Southern States. Their scheme is to pass bogus checks on hotel proprietors. Several North Carolina hotels have been swindled.

A white boy at Wilkesboro cut a negro's throat and killed him. He said the negro had shot at him and was making an assault when he did the cutting in self defense.

Mrs. Mary Blake, of Raleigh, aged 75 years, fell dead while sitting in a chair on her front porch.

A Good Appointment.

We learn from the News and Observer that Gov. Russell has appointed Col. I. A. Sugg one of the delegates to the National Cotton Growers Convention to be held at Galveston, Texas August 2nd. This appointment is an excellent one and will meet with the hearty approval of the people of the eastern part of our State, the section which he is sent to represent, for in Col. Sugg they have a representative man and one who is fully alive to the interests of the State. He is a man zealous and energetic, and his zeal and energy are always directed for public enterprises and for the public good. Col. Sugg has for a long time been actively engaged in the cultivation of cotton and he will go to the convention with the experience of an intelligent observer fresh from the field of action, and we feel justified in saying that North Carolina's interest will not suffer in his hands. We are glad to hear him say that he intends going.

Sued for $10,000.

Hon. Buck Kitchin, is here to answer a summons in which he and Harry Skinner are sued for $10,000 by a man named Corpening who they charged with stealing their money and some articles of apparel while at the St. Louis convention last year, says the Newton Enterprise. Mr. Corpening was their room mate and Buck says his conduct was of such a suspicious nature before and after they missed their money that they had every reason to make the charges against him.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23, 1897.

Deided Negroes Return.

NEW YORK, June 21.—Thirteen colored persons who formed part of the 200 sent to Liberia, by the International Emigration Society in March, 1896, arrived in this port today, aboard the steamship Liberia. They say the scheme has been a total failure, that many of their number died of starvation and fevers; that the society did not fulfill the contract and many members of the expedition are stranded in England, unable to get back to their homes.

The plan of the African colonization was organized early in 1894, in the mind of Bishop Turner, who was traveling in the South. It was formulated and carried into effect by Jeremiah Millan, a white man of Birmingham, Ala., who founded what was known as the International Emigration Society. It was claimed that the President of Liberia had promised the colonies the land and farming implements. The advance guard in charge of D. L. Johnson, an intelligent colored man of Hot Springs, Ark., in November, 1894, started for Liberia. With him was a committee to make arrangements for the colonies. It was estimated at that time that there were 4,000 colored persons who were ready to join the colony. They expected to build a town which would soon be in a flourishing condition. Each colonist was to pay $41 for his transportation, and was expected to have $200 in gold with him to lay the foundation of his fortune in the new land.

The first large party of colonists, numbering 200, left Savannah, Ga., March 15, for their new home, and after that several smaller parties joined them. twenty-five acres of land for each adult and 10 acres for each child was promised; and on landing each person was to be provided with a barrel of flour, 4 barrels of meat, a quantity of sugar and a complete set of farming implements. D. K. Flammer, president of the society, accompanied the emigrants. According to the stories told by those who have returned, when they landed in Liberia, Flammer deserted them, taking whatever was provided for them except the land, which they found 35 miles from any town, and which was incapable of growing anything but coffee. Even to grow this successfully, would take 4 to 6 years.

Charles Peterson, of Madison, Ark., with his wife and family, are among those returned. He says that he lost all he had in going over, and was nearly dead of starvation before he could raise enough money to return. Charles Moore, whose family lives in Mississippi, said the emigrants could find nothing to do. The natives who wore no clothes, and live on little or nothing, did all the work for starvation wages.

Talmage on Lookout Mountain.

"The carriage wound its way up, up, up. Standing there on the tip-top rock, I saw five States of the Union. Scenes stupendous and overwhelming. One almost is disposed to take off his hat in the presence of what seems to be the grandest prospect of this continent. There is Missionary Ridge, the beach against which the red billows of Federal and Confederate courage surged and broke. There are the blue mountains of North and South Carolina. With strain of vision there is Kentucky, there is Virginia. At our feet, Chattanooga and Chickamauga, the pronunciation of which proper names will thrill ages to come with thoughts of valor and desperation and agony. Looking each way, and any way, from the top of that mountain earthworks, earthworks—the beautiful Tennessee winding through the valley, curling and coiling around making letter "S," after letter "S," as if that letter stood for shame, that brothers should have gone into massacre with each other, while God and nations looked on. I have stood on Mount Washington, and on the Sierra Nevadas, and on the Alps, but I never saw so far as from the top of Lookout Mountain."

Lookout Mountain is along the line of the Southern Railway en route from New York to Nashville and the Tennessee Centennial Exposition.

Matches that Won't Light.

"Next to a match that won't light is a friend who won't stand up for you in an emergency."

How true.

If there is anything disappointing, anything that may cause disaster, to words and conscience it is a match that won't light. You are in sore need of light, it may be a burglar has invaded your privacy, and is busy with his burglarious intentions. He may work on with perfect unconcern, if the match don't light.

You have a friend who says in sunshiny days, "I'll stand by you through thick and thin," but when the test comes and you need some one to lean upon, you find your friend is a "match that won't light," and you are disappointed, not only in the person in whom you placed confidence, in the professions of friendship which were made.

Oh, how many matches there are in the world that won't light! And how many friends there are who are ready to praise when praise is not needed, but are scared and fly away when the cat of disaster appears.

Oh, for tried friends, who, knowing what friendship is, will stand by you in evil report as well as good; who do not condemn without a hearing; who will measure your worth by your actions, and not refuse sympathy when you need it, or when you are destitute.—Durham Sun.

Matrimony Declining.

It is stated by gathers of vital statistics that matrimony is declining—that the percentage of marriages to population shows a steady falling off. One would hardly expect to find this thing charged to the bicycle, yet an eminent English scholar and observer finds that the wheel has something to do with it. He thinks the attention of many young men is so absorbed by the greater part of the year that the girl does not get her full share of consideration.

Good Roads Will Come.

This agitation for good roads is meeting the cordial endorsement of all of our public men who stop to give it more than a passing thought. Ex-Vice President Adlai E. Stevenson is now among those who strongly commend the movement of the League of American Wheelmen for better highways. Says he in a recent letter:

"I am in full sympathy with the efforts now being made to secure good roads throughout our country. This is a living question. There is little difficulty in getting from one large city to another, or even in crossing the continent, but the important question is how to get from the country home to the schoolhouse, to the church, to the market. It is a gratifying fact that this subject is now undergoing thorough discussion in many of our States. The result will be beneficial. Like other important questions it will work out its own solution. I agree with Governor Markham that good roads mean advanced civilization."

When people like Mr. Stevenson begin to emphasize the need better country highways, surely there must be a great public interest to be subserved. And what are the facts? Mr. Stevenson lives at Bloomington, Ill., in the center of a district where roads are notoriously bad. It is not the only district of its kind, by many odds. There are dozens of such districts in every State in the Union. The Bloomington district if only a sample and should not be singled out as an illustration, but for a mere coincidence. A prominent paper in Illinois published an interesting dispatch from its Bloomington correspondent a few weeks since. Let the dispatch speak for itself:

"The embargo of mud is complete in central Illinois. Farmers who have lived in McLean county more than half a century declare that they have never seen the roads so utterly impassable as they are now. General stagnation in retail trade is now the result. Farmers find it impossible to come to town in a light vehicle drawn by four horses. Much of the corn stored in cribs has rotted on the cob and crumbles in the shelter. The condition of grain is giving the farmers serious trouble.—The Newspaper.

Industrial and Statistical.

A Madras dentist has, it announced, received a sum of £700 for supplying his highness the nizam of Hyderabad with a row of false teeth.

London stretches ten to twelve miles from east to west and eight miles from north to south. Two thousand omnibuses, 1,000 tram cars, nearly 12,000 cabs, and several railways are required to carry the people to and from their places of business and to the theatres, for making calls, etc.

An electric contribution box is the latest Connecticut invention. The minister touches the button and small silver cars, lined with velvet, visit each pew simultaneously, running on a slender rail back of each pew. Each car returns to a lock box at the pew entrance, and the deacons collect the receipts after the service.

Eleven years ago the first attempts were made to raise fruit in Italy from the seed of Florida oranges. Only in Rhodi was the experiment a success. This year the yield is about 10,000 boxes, of which 1,000 have recently arrived in New York. The fruit ripens in Italy after the Florida product has been marketed.

Mr. Sewall Talks.

Hon. Arthur Sewall was on his way home from California, and was interviewed by a reporter.

"Is the silver sentiment increasing?"

"Well, from my observation, which has been very extensive, I should say it certainly is. In California, about nine men out of every ten you meet are for silver. In Maine the growth of the silver sentiment is necessarily slow, but it is there."

"Will Mr. Bryan be the Democratic nominee for President?"

"I do not think there is any doubt of it in the world. If he is living when 1900 rolls around he will head the ticket. Why, my friend, Mr. Bryan is already nominated in the hearts of the American Democracy, and unless there is a revolution in all present conditions I don't see how he can help being elected when he is nominated. Of course, you cannot tell what will be the result of the present administration. So far I cannot see that times are one whit improved. As a business man I can discern no change for the better in the business depression."

"Oh, yes, the next convention will nominate Mr. Bryan. As in the last convention, it will be the people who will have the choice and he is the choice of the people."—Norfolk Virginian.

Two million pounds' worth of German toys are sold in England every year.

Improvement.

"Is it a fact," asked the cynic one day, "that you improve each shining minute?"

"Yes," answered the busy little bee modestly.

"How long have you been doing that?"

"Always."

"Well, you ought to be having a better time than you seem to have, if that is the case."—Detroit Tribune.

A Fatality.

"What has become of your backer?" asked the idle person of Barnes Torner.

"I guess I worked him too hard," replied that eminent tragedian. "I killed the goose by pulling his golden leg as the proverb goes."

Most Wonderful City.

The most wonderful city within the limits of the United States, and which has no existence whatever during the summer months, is Fish City, Mich. This municipal oddity is built on the ice of Saginaw bay regularly every winter and is occupied by men and their families who are engaged in catching, cleaning and packing lake trout and whitefish for the market. Fish City is situated in the same cove nearly every winter and is built of rough pine boards. In the winter of 1893-4 it had a population of nearly 3,000 and in 1894-5 almost twice that number.—St. Louis Republic.

Horrible Crime in Greene.
A horrible crime was perpetrated in Greene county last Saturday night. Joe Black, a negro from Cumberland county, broke into the house of Mrs. Fedora Carraway, a very old lady near Snow Hill, and assaulted Miss Stepp, a maiden lady aged about 45 years. Miss Stepp fought desperately but was overpowered and choked into insensibility by the brute.

The infernal scoundrel was tracked and captured Sunday morning. There was great excitement, and the people would surely have lynched him if he had not been taken Sunday night to another county for safe keeping.—Kinston Free Press.

The Populists of Georgia are holding a conference in Atlanta and one feature of the meeting is a demand for the resignation of Marion Butler as chairman of the Populist National Committee.
