Base Ball.

Pittsburg, July 8—There was enough hitting today to make the game interesting and the errors on both sides were costly enough to make it uncertain. The winning run was made on Ely's wild throw to the plate. Warner was put out of the game for saying naughty words to the umpire. Score. Pittsburg, 4; New York 5.

Louisville, July 8—The Colonels played like champions today and the Orioles were never in the game. Cunningham kept the visitors hits scattered and his support was gilt edge. The batting of Clark and Wergen was a feature. Score. Louisville, 7; Baltimore, 3.

Cincinnati, July 7—The Reds won from the Phillies in an interesting game here today. Both Dwyer and Taylor were hit hard. In the first inning Cooley was caught off of first base and put out. After kicking for a few moments, Umpire Hurst sent him to the bench and Orth took his place in centre field. The fielding of Hoy was the feature. Score. Cincinnati, 6; Philadelphia, 3.

Chicago, July 8—The Colts defeated the coming champions today in a tenning game, the most exciting and best played game here this season. Boston scored their only run in the first on two singles and a wild pitch. A double, a sacrifice and single tied them in the fifth and the winning run came in the tenth, Griffith batting it in, after a single and a steal. The visitors played a wonderful game in the field, but were unable to hit Griffith. Score. Chicago, 2; Boston, 1.

St. Louis, July 8—The Brooklyns won from the Browns today by a score of 1 to 0. The playing of both sides was fast. The local team claims it was shut out by the umpire. Score. St. Louis, 0; Brooklyn, 1.

Cleveland, July 8—The Senators were never in today's game. Although they hit Young hard, they were unfortunate when they had men on bases. Score. Cleveland, 10; Washington, 5.

Wooden Legged Turkey.

Mr. C. B. Tripp, of Chicod township, has something that the REFLECTOR will go a wayer no man in North Carolina can show a parallel to. It is a turkey gobbler with a wooden leg. Three months ago something got wrong with one of the feet of this gobbler. The trouble kept getting worse until Mr. Tripp concluded to cut the lame foot off. The operation was successful and healed nicely, and after it was well Mr. Tripp made the gobbler a wooden leg and fastened it to the stump. The gobbler now gets around on his wooden leg as lively as any of the fowls.

Miss Bettie Tyson gave a moonlight boat ride, Friday night, complimentary to her guest, Miss Olive Joyner, of Baltimore.

JUNE BUG TURNS TO FROG.

At Least a Frog Was Found in Place of the Bug.

Thursday evening little Miss May Schultz caught a June bug. She tied the bug to one end of a string and fastening the other end to a stick amused herself at seeing the bug fly. When the supper bell rang she put the stick, string and bug down in the yard until she should return. Coming back out she went to look for her toy. There was the stick and one end of the string, but the other end and bug were nowhere in sight. She gave the string a pull but the other end seemed fast. Calling some one to her assistance a harder pull was given the string when out came the other end from the grass with a frog dangling to it.

May did not like this kind of a play thing and lost no time in putting all the space possible between her and the frog. While she was in at supper the frog had made a meal of the June bug, but could not get away with the string and stick. Her little brother Alfred declared that this was too good to keep and that he was going to tell the "Daily Deflector" about it.

SIGN BOARDS.

MR. EDITOR:—Please let your REFLECTOR reflect a few of my reflections.

I lately drove twice across your county, found good roads, saw beautiful homes and farms, and received the kindest hospitality; but, as I started from Greenville up the river, I soon came to a told fork in the road with no sign board, right soon to another and then to a bold cross road with nothing to tell a stranger which way and how far any place was. This is hard on the stranger and his horse.

I wish to present to your County Commissioners the appeal of Moses to Israel: "Ye know the heart of strangers."

Praying that you and all your county may find your way to Heaven's gate, I am most sincerely yours,

A. D. BETTS.

Hot Weather Don'ts.

Don't complain of the weather, Complaining won't help it, and besides you'll be sorry next winter for all the hard things you yave said about summer.

Don't drink any thing with alcohol in it.

Don't wear and more clothes than the law requires.

Don't eat heavily, especially of meat.

Don't be scared if you can't sleep for the heat. You will sleep when sleep is absolutely necessary.

Don't walk on the sunny side when there is a shady side.

Don't fill yourself full of iced water.

Don't quarrel with anybody about anything.

Don't imagine that this sort of thing is going to last long. It never does.

Don't hurry. Don't worry.

Don't run to catch a car. There are others.

Don't shave too close.

Above all things don't ask anybody, "Is it hot enough for you?" There is incitement to murder in that question. —New York World.

While the Pitt County Rifles were at Ocracoke they had a target practice in which Sgt. W. S. Briley was winner. His score was 18.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.) WASHINGTON, July 9th, 1897.

Another proof has been given of the power of the money kings over this administration. Mr. McKinley has virtually been compelled to send a special message to Congress, asking for legislation to carry out the wishes of the bankers for the appointment of a commission to report what financial legislation the country needs.

The Senate this week passed the tariff bill; the House declined to accept the Senate amendments, and the trust-made document is now in the hands of a conference committee. The confidential agents of the various trusts are in Washington in force to see that their interests are taken care of by the conference committee.

Knowing that the will of Czar Rec's, his utter disregard of the Constitution and his parliamentary somersaults when cornered as Representative McMillin cornered him this week when he moved to suspend the rules and adopt the Morgan Cuban resolution, are sufficient to prevent any action by the House, the Republican Senators are trying to bamboozle the voters of the country by a little anti-Spanish buncombe.

The sad intelligence of the drowning of two sons of Mr. W. E. Blackman, Jr., reaches us from Grantham township. While the father went to Goldsboro, Saturday morning, the boys—Sam, aged 14, and Will, aged 13,—after finishing their farm work about 11 o'clock, went into Neuse river bathing, and about an hour afterwards their clothing was found on the bank by their mother, who had missed them from home.

CONDENSED NEWS.

A prominent physician of Kansas City, Mo., was shot and instantly killed by a merchant in that city. The merchant claimed that his wife was assaulted by the physician while she was on a visit to the latter's office as a patient.

The house of Hugh Joeson, near Pineville, Ky., was set on fire and destroyed Tuesday night. The entire family of five perished. Four deaths from heat in Chicago, nine in New York, two in Indianapolis, and eleven in St. Louis was Thursday's record in those cities.

coal is advanced from forty cents to sixty-seven cents a ton, yet Senator Elkins, himself heavily interested in coal mines, says the increase will not result in adding one cent to the pay of the miners, although he admits that the price of coal to the consumer will undoubtedly be advanced. In other words the 27 cents a ton added is a gratuity to the mine owners.

The last, for which he is now under arrest, for the abduction of Miss Adeline Jacobs, a 12-year-old girl, and carrying her so South Carolina under promise of marriage. Her mother, learning of her whereabouts, went after Adeline and brought her home.

The sad intelligence of the drowning of two sons of Mr. W. E. Blackman, Jr., reaches us from Grantham township. While the father went to Goldsboro, Saturday morning, the boys—Sam, aged 14, and Will, aged 13,—after finishing their farm work about 11 o'clock, went into Neuse river bathing, and about an hour afterwards their clothing was found on the bank by their mother, who had missed them from home.

Consistency? Yes.

The Davidson Dispatch says: While the last campaign was in full blast, they all said, let the dear people elect the county commissioners and the magistrates. Let the people say by their votes who they will have to fill these places. They railed and they frothed at their mouths. They were elected and they went to Raleigh and created scores of new offices, such as school supervisors, at $2 an l $3 per day, and county boards of education at $2, and a place for Deceiver Reed Parker at $4 per day, and they absolutely forgot that the people ought to vote for these men. They are all appointed. "Consistency, thou art a jewel."

True enough. But what else? Why, taxes were too high, and they were going to reduce them. Salaries and fees were too high and must be reduced to correspond with the reduced prices of agricultural products. All things were out of joint, and they were going to reform them. Did they reduce taxes? On the contrary, they raised them. Did they reduce salaries and fees or either? Not that anybody knows of. Where are the promised reforms? In the matter of the public printing, perhaps. But it won't do to talk about such things. It might hurt their feelings and they won't fuse with us next year.—Charlotte Observer.

Paine's Celery Compound.

Best Spring Medicine in the World---It Makes People Well.

There is one true specific for diseases arising from a debilitated nervous system, and that is Paine's Celery Compound, so generally prescribed by physicians. It is probably the most remarkable remedy that the scientific research of this country has produced. Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., L. L. D. of Dartmouth college first prescribed what is now known the world over as Paine's Celery Compound, a positive cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, liver complaint, neuralgia, rheumatism, all nervous diseases and kidney troubles. For the latter Paine's Celery Compound has succeeded again and again where everything else has failed.

Senator Isham G. Harris, of Tennessee, died in Washington on Thursday of this week. He was somewhere near eighty years old. For many years it is said that he would not give the date of his birth for publication in the Congressional Record. He had been in public life for a long time, and no man ever died with as long a political life against whom less could be said than Senator Harris. He had held almost every office in the gift of the people and in none of them did he ever bring discredit upon himself or his constituents.

He was the best parliamentarian in America, and for this reason, became President protem of the Senate when the Democrats came into control in 1892. He was a Confederate soldier and the war Governor, of Tennessee, in which position he ranked along up with our own Vance. At the close of the war he disappeared for a time with the State's valuables and a large sum of money, even risking, it is said, his own life to save these. Parson Brownlow the Military Governor who succeeded him advertised for him offering a reward for his capture. When it could be safely done, Senator Harris walked into the office one morning and delivered to the Parson the valuables and the money which he had thus saved to the State. He was a man of great force of character, and the entire nation sustains a loss in his death.

Bringing It Home to Him. "Half the world," sagely observed Mr. Billus, "never knows what the other half is doing." "That's generally true," retorted Mrs. Billus, eyeing him sharply, "as to the better half."—Chicago Tribune.

THE CYCLE PATH AGAIN.

MR. EDITOR:—I notice "Wheelman's" article on a cycle path, also your favorable comment on the same. We have also observed that both Kinston and Tarboro have each over three hundred wheels, while Greenville (with a population very near equal to Tarboro and larger than Kinston) has only forty-eight wheels. Why such a difference? Can it be that our neighbors of Kinston and Tarboro appreciate the wheel more than we do? I think not, but I am inclined to the opinion that it is because Kinston and Tarboro have better streets than we have and the wheelmen there get more real enjoyment out of their wheels than can be obtained by us who have to run through deep sand, across washouts and over bad bridges.

Now wheelmen, let us come together and contribute liberally of our means and build a track from which we can get some comfort in our hours of leisure as well as convenience in our hours of business. In what can you invest a few dollars that will yield more solid comfort than a permanent cycle track.

I have learned that a couple of gentlemen are now estimating the cost of a private track 800 yards long. Why not join them and while the matter is being agitated build a track two miles long? What do you say, wheelmen?

ANOTHER WHEELMAN.

[The REFLECTOR wants to add that it thinks the above solves the reason that there is not more wheels in Greenville. The miserable streets here are the greatest hindrance to riding, and if there were better streets there would be more wheels. We notice also that some towns encourage wheelmen in securing better facilities for riding; first, because those towns deem the wheelmen entitled to some consideration, and second, because every wheel that comes into a town makes that much more taxable property. Fayetteville, for instance, offers to help build a good path if each wheelman contribute a small sum to the fund. Greenville might do something along this line. We are in sympathy with the wheelmen in getting a good place to ride on and hope it will be secured.—ED.]

A Moonlight Row.

It was a cloudy and somewhat damp evening when a few ladies and gentlemen gathered at the wharf for a moonlight row given complimentary to Miss Olive Joyner. Notwithstanding a few minor difficulties they at last started. Among those present were:

Geo. Woodward and Miss Rosalind Rountree

T. J. Suggs and Miss Helen Perkins.

N. H. Whitfield and Miss Bettie Tyson.

J. B. Jarvis and Miss Olive Joyner.

After an hour of pleasure they went to port where they proceeded to lunch and after toasts by the gentlemen and sweet songs by the ladies, they returned home, each one declaring it the most enjoyable occasion of the season. *
