WHEN WE SUMMER GOODS GO TO MAKE ROOM FOR OUR MAMMOTH STOCK OF FALL AND WINTER GOODS WHICH WILL BE IN A FEW DAYS!

6 CENTS GOOD BLEACHING. 6 CENTS C. T. MUTTONFORD, The Clothier.

Base Ball.
 Brooklyn, August 2—New York won another game from Brooklyn at Eastern park today. Kennedy again tried his hand against the Giants but in vain. Joyce played a poor game at third but Seymour's clever pitching and the New York's timely hitting saved the game. Score. Brooklyn, 8; New York, 9.

Baltimore, August 2—The Champions today won from Philadelphia in a game of no special interest. This was the twenty-second consecutive victory for the Orioles over the Quaker City aggregation, August 6, 1895, being the day of their last successful struggle with the Birds. A lightning double play of Doyle and Jennings was the only feature worth mentioning. Score. Baltimore, 4; Philadelphia, 2.

Louisville, August 2—The Colonels won a dull and slowly played game from Cleveland today. Clarke was taken out of the box by Tebeau after the third inning and Powell substituted. Outfielder Pickering has not been sold to Syracuse as reported, but was given his unconditional release. Score, Louisville, 5; Cleveland 3.

Washington, August 2—German was wild, forcing in a run in the third with a base on balls, in the second game. Swain then took his place and pitched in better form. Score. Washington, 9; Boston 7.

Second game—Washington, 5; Boston, 9.

Cincinnati, August 2—The Pirates could do nothing with Breitenstem or Dwyer today and the Reds won without much trouble. Three base hits in the ninth by both Padden and Davis and a single by Ely gave the visitors their only runs. There was no regular umpire present. Ehret and Dugden officiated. Score. Cincinnati, 9; Pittsburg, 2.

Chicago, August 2—The Colts won both games today with but little effort. Griffith's pitching was entirely too much for the Browns in the first, their solitary run at the finish being purely a gift. Grim was easy for the locals in the second, while Briggs kept his hits well scattered. Dahlen's all-round work in both games and Anson's fielding in the second were features. Score. Chicago, 10; St. Louis, 1.

Second game—Chicago, 9; St. Louis, 5.

Help Them Out.
 The Rough and Ready Fire Company of Greenville desire to send two delegates to the State Volunteer Firemen's Association which meets in Winston on the 10th inst., and are asking a small donation from the citizens of the town to help them do this. Their company cannot be admitted into membership with the State Association unless they have the delegates present. When our citizens call to mind the good work these Rough and Ready boys do when there is a fire, we feel sure they will cheerfully contribute a small amount to help defray the expenses of the delegates.

SONG GIRDLES THE EARTH.
 On a spray of apple blossoms,
 Rests a tiny minstrel's feet,
 To his mate in gladness singing,
 Eden music, soft and sweet.
 Perfume from the due clad flowers,
 Mixes with the trembling strain,
 As the breath of Summer roses,
 Mingles with the Summer rain.
 Like a mimic snow storm falling,
 Showers of petals take their flight,
 Making couches for the fairies,
 Sleeping 'neath the young moon's light.
 See the airy Summer cottage,
 Sheltered 'neath the cool green leaves.
 Looms have never half so deftly
 Woven as the wild bird weaves.
 All day long those minstrel toilers
 Seeking food, their haunts have made
 O'er the fields, and by the streamlets,
 Through the dingle, glen and glade.
 Gilded prison cannot fetter
 One sweet syllable of song,
 And each note this captive utters,
 Pleads for freedom—chides a wrong.
 Who would still the crimson pulses
 Droop the silken wing, and crest—
 Maim a sirless song bird, speeding
 To its waiting mate and nest.
 ECHO.

 The modern fisher maiden is the summer girl who fishes for compliments and gets all the young men on a string.
 The difference between a ca. and a sentence is that the cat has its claws at the end of its paws, while the sentence has its pause at the end of its clause.

What a Whopper.
 Wilmington, Del., August 2—Samuel Barnes, of this city, returned from Ocean City, Md., today suffering from a painful wound caused by a mosquito bite. While sitting on a hotel porch he was bitten on the jugular vein by a mammoth mosquito. Blood spurted from the wound in such quantities that several handkerchiefs were saturated and his shirt was covered with blood. While Barnes' companions rushed for a doctor the hotel man applied a big poultice to the wound, which finally stopped the flow of blood.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 3, 1897.

Eorn in Hance of Bell.

Since Rev. T. De Witt Talmage came to Washington he has been compelled more than once to deny rumors, apparently circulated for a malicious purpose, that he is dissatisfied with his position at the First Presbyterian church, and in ends leaving it. The story has again been revived by some one who has apparently taken advantage of Dr. Talmage's absence from Washington, and the eminent divine has telegraphed to the Post a denial couched in terms which leave no possible room for doubt as to his meaning. His dispatch follows:

SEPIET LAKE, IOWA, July 22, 97.
 Editor Post: I denounce the lying scoundrel who started the report that I am dissatisfied with my Washington church and that I will not return to it. My congregation and myself are in complete accord. They have met all their obligations to me. My vacation over, I will preach in my pulpit the second Sabbath in September. The last year's attendance was larger than any previous year and many more desired to worship with us than could be accommodated. Everything is satisfactory. That evil report was born in the very malice of hell and is one of a hundred falsehoods manufactured against me during the past thirty years, and all of which falsehoods have only enlarged my work, as this will.

T. DE WITT TALMAGE.

Money Steps a Train

A few days ago an engineer of a Boston and Maine train, while running between Winchester and Montvale, with an empty engine, discovered what looked to be money whirling in the suction caused by the locomotive drivers, says the Boston Herald.

He stopped the machine, ran back a few feet and picked up a $50 bill. Near by were two $10 bills. The engineer then started for Winchester, and the engine was rolling along at a good clip when a large bill book, wide open, was seen beside the track. The engine was stopped and the wallet captured. It contained valuable papers and the name of the owner. The money and papers were returned to the proper person with not a cent missing.

A few hours later the man whose property had been restored by the honest engineer made his appearance and handed a package to the knight of the throttle. It contained a half pint of cheap whiskey. Railroad men who heard of the case are wondering if poor whiskey is the proper reward for honesty. Some of them claim that the offering of liquor to an engineer is an insult that should not be overlooked.

It seems that the owner of the money lost it from a closet of a passing train and he had no definite idea as to where the incident occurred—New York Mail and Express.

Richest in the World's History

Representative Hubborn, of California, who has long been interested in the mining business, expresses the opinion that the gold discoveries in the Klondike will prove the greatest in the world's history. He does not think the climate of Alaska is so bad as it has been painted and is of the opinion that the rich finds in that territory will cause prospectors in all parts of the country to begin hunting for gold. Mines in California which were deserted years ago are being reworked, and successfully, with improved modern apparatus, electrical and other kinds, Judge Hubborn says, and he predicts that by 1900 more gold will be mined in California than was taken out in the golden days when the State became famous. Judge Hubborn, who is a Republican, adds the opinion that the production of gold for the next few years will be so great as to cause its demonetization.—Washington Dispatch.

Government Finance

Washington, August 2.—The monthly comparative statement of the government receipts and expenditures for the month of July, shows the total receipts to have been $39,027,264, and the disbursements $50,109,903, leaving the excess of expenditures over receipts $11,073,544. This deficit is accounted for by abnormally heavy expenditures incident to the beginning of the new fiscal year. As compared with June, the receipts were increased by $2,442,656 and the disbursements were increased by $27,166,214.

The following statement shows some of the more important items of unusual expenditures in excess of June payments, which became payable during July: Monongahela river improvements, $3,600,000; pensions, $4,900,000; interest, $6,500,000; deficiency in postal revenues, $2,500,000; State agricultural colleges, $1,200,000; bounty on sugar, $1,100,000; rivers and harbors, $1,200,000; pay subsistence, etc., for the army, $3,000,000.

As compared with July, 1896, the receipts during the last month were increased by about $10,000,000, and the disbursements increased by about $8,000,000. During the last month, the receipts from customs amounted to $16,966,801, an increase as compared with July, 1896, of about $5,000,000. The internal revenue during July last yielded $19,767,831, as compared with $14,305,532 for July, 1896.

A Negro's Palace Among Society.

The people of Peachtree street, Atlanta's street of fashion, are excited by the publication of Mrs. Smythe's intention to rent her handsome residence to Henry Rucker, the newly appointed revenue collector for Georgia. Mrs. Smythe is the wife of Major William H. Smythe, who was an applicant for the office of internal revenue collector under Mr. McKinley, but the office was given to the negro, Rucker, largely upon signatures obtained from leaders of fashion in Atlanta.

Mrs. Smythe remarked that as some of her neighbors seemed to prefer him as collector to her husband she wanted to see whether they would appreciate him as highly as a neighbor.—Atlanta Dispatch, August 1st.

A Rosy Prediction.

The South may well rejoice in the prospect ahead, for it will share in this prosperity to a greater degree than ever before. During the last five or six years the South has been putting itself in shape, getting out of debt, learning how to produce its crops and manufacture its goods at a lower cost than ever before. It has demonstrated the inherent strength of its business and financial interests; it has seen the beginning of a great southward movement of population; it has commenced to attract world wide attention to the wonderful increase in its foreign trade and the development of its South Atlantic and Gulf ports. All of this advance has been made during a period in which the rest of the country has found it difficult to hold its own. Having accomplished this much in such a period of depression, it is now in a position to enjoy to the largest extent the general activity and prosperity of the next few years.—Manufacturers' Record.

One of those men who lack only experience and knowledge to make them great editors said to the editor of the Gardiner (Me.) Reporter Journal recently. "We expect the local paper to say all of these good things about us. It goes in to help fill up the news columns, and the news is what we buy the paper for." "Very true," says the editor editorially, "but did you ever consider that the unpleasant things the local paper might truthfully say about you, but does not, would sell ten papers to the complimentary item's one? We regret that human nature is built that way, but it is nevertheless, and the fellow making a local country newspaper in the little bailiwick where everybody is supposed to know everybody else's business better than his own, finds it much more difficult to determine what to leave out of the sheet than what to put in it. Thanks, awfully, for the suggestion; you mean well, but you don't know."—Newspaperdom.

Great Britain agrees to negotiate with us on the sealing question. This in spite of the irritation created by Mr. Sherman's indiscreet letter and its still more indiscreet publication. Japan has agreed to send its troubles with Hawaii by arbitration.

These are signs showing that the world as becoming civilized. War is becoming obsolete. Men have learned at least that there are better, more rational, more civilized and much cheaper ways of settling international disputes than by spending untold millions of money in the destruction of untold thousands of lives.

Commerce, education, enlightenment of mind and practical common sense have united to bring about this result. With the approach of another century we have every reason to hope that the imperfect work thus far accomplished by these forces will be made a perfect work. We have every reason to hope that enlightened nations will submit themselves - as enlightened men long ago did - to a reign of law in lieu of the rule of brute force. -New York World.

A Boy Freezes his Arm

Jersey City, N. J., Aug. 2. -Samuel Wolf, a confectioner, this afternoon offered a dish of ice cream to the boy who would hold his arm the longest time in an ice cream freezer. A number of boys who were around Wolf's store contested for the prize, but Willie Lockwood outdid all of them. Although suffering excruciating pain, he held his arm in the freezer four minutes. When he withdrew it the arm was frozen stiff. The boy was taken to the city hospital, where, it is said, that it will be necessary to amputate the arm.

Good times are not here, nor may we expect them under the vicious rule the Republican party gives, but we can make times better if we but try. The louder we cry and the less we do, the more we will feel hard times and the harder they will become. It is natural to cry out when the reptile is sapping our life blood, but if we do nothing to shake it from us, when the last drop is gone it will be too late to defend ourselves then. Stamp hard times under foot and try to hold them down. Work to the end of making them better. -Winston Journal.

It is stated that no one should try his luck in the Klondike region without a thousand dollars. The possessor of a thousand dollars having a prospect to increase it by industry and thrift at home would be very foolish to risk his money with the added chance of freezing or starving to death in search for gold in Alaska! -Philadelphia Record.

Five acres of land in London, owned by Lord Salisbury, are worth millions. They cost his ancestors, 250 years ago, 10 shillings.

Z. MOORE & BRO.

Wonder what Job said when the "Is-it-hot-enough-for-you?" crank approached him.

The days grow some shorter, but they are hot enough to make up for any deficiency in length.

Other fruit is scarce, but the watermelons certainly struck it right this season. They are abundant and fine.

Once in a while there is some talk about opening Fifth street through Sheriff Harrington's property, but as yet it is only talk.

CAPS THE CLIMAX.—Bicycle, Tricycle, Velocipede and all other kinds of Caps for ladies and children in all shapes, colors and prices just received today at Mrs. Georgia James'.

As yet the farmers have not had time to grade much tobacco, hence the breaks at the warehouses are not very large. What tobacco is coming in is of good quality and brings good prices.

Excursions have been very numerous from many of the larger towns in the State. They became so frequent around Winston that the Sentinel says the factory men are trying to stop them because of interference with their hands.

AUGUSTUS CESAR.

Nothing About Him Here, But Many Other People Apppear.

Henry Strause went to Henderson today.

Elias Turnage, of Ormondsville, was here today.

J. L. Fournain, of Falkland, was in town today.

If men could become birds at will there would be a great many more buzzards than there are now.

The Statesville Landmark has reached the age of 24 years. Few newspapers live to reach the age of the Landmark, and a still smaller number ever become near so good a paper.

A Maine man who is ambitious to be a postmaster feels that he is amply qualified, having had several years training in running a poultry business and managing a 600 hen farm.

New Phones.

Subscribers can make a note of the following new telephones and add them to their lists:

- E. B. Fickle., factory, No. 11.
- A. J. Griffin, residence, No. 20.
- H. M. Hardee, store, No. 60.

Note the Change.

Anyone contemplating going to Ocracoke next Saturday will bear in mind that the steamer Meyers will hereafter resume her old schedule, leaving Greenville at 10 o'clock, instead of at 1 o'clock P. M. as during the last few weeks.

School at Ormondsville.

A high school is to be established at Ormondsville, in Greene county, with Mr. H. P. Harding, of this town as principal. The people of that community have secured an excellent young man for the head of their school.

The Circuit Grows Larger.

The Farmville branch of the Greenville telephone exchange has been extended to Crisp, in Edgecombe county. At that point connection is made with lines to Wilson, Tarboro, Rocky Mount and Battleboro. Manager Atkins will arrange to give local subscribers the benefit of communication with those points.

New Engine.

Clever Engineer George Smith, on this branch of the Coast Line, is about the hippest man to be seen on the road, and wears as proud a smile as a boy who has just donned his first pair of pants. And Captain George has good cause for this elation. He came in Tuesday evening holding the throats of a splendid new engine that has just been turned out of the shops especially for his run. This new engine, No. 106, is a beauty and one of the very best that the railroad company sends out. The REFLECTOR rejoices with Capt. Smith and congratulates the company on this improvement for our road.
