

BASE BALL.

Games Played and Standing of Clubs.

Washington, August 13.—The Senators won today in spite of glaring errors, because the visitors could not hit Svrin, while Payne was easy. Washington, 7; Brooklyn, 3.

Philadelphia, August 13.—Nops pitched strictly a gilt edged ball this afternoon and the champions accorded him faultless support. In the face of this combination, the Phillies were never in the hunt. They managed to avert a shut out in the last inning on a scratch double to right by Shugart and a solid two bagger by Nash. Score. Philadelphia, 1; Baltimore, 8.

New York, August 13.—The Giants won from Boston in the first and fourth innings today, but scored more runs in the sixth and seventh. Klebanz was easy and two base hits by the Giants were numerous. Long, at short, was way off in his fielding, four bad errors being charged to him. McCreery, the ex-Louisville fielder, played a splendid game in the right field. "Bill" Clark also played a fine game, his jumping catch of Tenney's hot liner and the stopping of Hamilton's swift grass cutter being among the features of the game. Score. New York, 14; Boston, 6.

Cincinnati, August 13.—The game between the Reds and the Colts was one of the best played here this season. Clark Griffith, Chicago's crack pitcher kept the Reds' hits well scattered and succeeded in shutting them out. Score. Cincinnati, 0; Chicago, 2.

Cleveland, August 13.—The Clevelanders won a very close and evenly contested game today, chiefly through bunching hits. Pickering's batting and Cross's all around work were the features. Turner was hit a terrific blow squarely in the back of the head with a swift pitched ball in the third inning and had to be carried away. It was a very painful injury and may result seriously though he is up and about this evening. Score. Cleveland, 6; St. Louis, 5.

Library Meeting.

Attention is called to a notice, in another column, to all persons who are interested in establishing a reading room and library in Greenville, to meet on Thursday night at Harding & Harding's office.

This is a move in the right direction. One in which every man, woman and child should feel the deepest concern. Especially the parents of the town, ought to give their encouragement and support to the movement. Boys and girls frequently get in the habit of ready trashy literature simply because it is thrown in their way and not in better can be had. A library for Greenville means more towards developing a healthy intellectual and social life than we can express in words.

Let every parent for the sake of the children be there on Thursday night.

ROCHDALE ITEMS.

ROCHDALE, N. C., Aug. 16, '97.

The crops up here are looking very well, though they needed rain before the shower Sunday afternoon.

Most of the farmers are through curing tobacco and a great many have sold some.

L. A. Cobb, wife and little son, Patrick, of Grifton, were in our town the first of last week visiting the families of J. C. Cobb and G. D. Smith.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Pattie F. Smith's family have gotten almost well as several members of it have been very ill for more than a week.

J. S. Fulford, who lives up the road only a short distance, went over to take his best girl out to Sunday school, Sunday before last, and at eight o'clock they were bride and groom. The wedding supper was served at Fulford's mother's.

Robert Sheppard says the girls must be given an opportunity to ride now as he has just purchased a new horse and buggy. It is a nice turn out, too.

We are pleased to have Miss Lucy Pippin, of Washington, in our midst again. She will spend the fall up this way.

Little Miss Lizzie Braxton, of Pacolus, who had been visiting her grand father, T. E. Little, for the last six or eight weeks, returned to her home a few days ago.

Miss Bessie Tyson went over in Greenville township Sunday where she will conduct a school in the Forbes district near Ruddy Branch church.

Many of our people attended the yearly meeting at King's X Roads Sunday.

A few of the farmers around here have commenced to pull fodder.

Melons are plentiful and fine in this part of old Pitt.

Misses Bell and Della Irwin from near Salisbury, are visiting their uncle, S. P. Irwin of this neighborhood.

Filling Up.

It lacks a few weeks to Court yet and there are already seventeen prisoners in jail. At the rate they have been coming in lately the jail will be full by the time court convenes.

Delightful Music.

At the Methodist church Sunday morning Mr. Hugh Holcombe sang a beautiful solo, and at the night service he and Mrs. W. M. Bond sang a duet. Both songs were delightfully rendered and inspiring.

Changing Headquarters.

Mr. R. B. Smith, purchasing agent of the Beaufort County Lumber Company, whose headquarters have been at Ayden, has moved his office to Greenville. He will occupy a room in the Hoell building next to Moore & Moore's law office.

Colored Elopement.

Colored society here was enlivened with a runaway marriage Saturday night. Ham Slaughter had been making love to Pearl Dudley, daughter of Charity Dudley, and the old lady not giving her consent for them to marry, they decided to get married any way. Saturday night they got a license and went to the home of Elder Joe Richmond who did the marrying for them.

MONDAY, AUGUST 16, 1897.

It looks like people all over the State were of about the same opinion as regards the school tax which was voted on last week. It met with defeat everywhere. We have not seen a report of the measure being carried in as many as ten townships throughout the entire State.

The committee of office holders which met in Raleigh last week under the name of the Populist State Executive Committee, made a spread eagle brag about what the grand fusion combination had accomplished and the glorious work of the last two Legislatures. How recklessly some people do handle truth and honesty in their assertions! But those fellows are holding offices that they duped the people into giving them, and they had to say something to try and keep in. Our opinion is that the people of North Carolina are going to denounce Populism, Republicanism and fusionism in the next campaign.

A Novel Watermelon Contest in Florida.

Armed men are guarding two enormous melons on which most of the spare money, as well as much other property belonging to farmers in Middlesex county, has been staked.

One of the melons is being grown by John Henry Marsh, who recently came from Cape May county, importing melon seed with him. The other, like its owner, Abner Cornwall, is a native.

Large wagers have been made on each side as to which melon will be the bigger. Each man fears some one will destroy his melon in order to win the bet against it, and each has hired men with shotguns to prevent such an ending.—Jacksonville, Fla., Dispatch.

Dying from Cigarettes.

With apologies to the stricken family we also regret to state that Charlie Newell is now at his home in this place in a very critical condition, caused by smoking cigarettes to excess. This is one among the many cases where a once bright and hopeful life has been wrecked by those deadly poisonous things. Charlie is an excellent printer, also a splendid salesman. His present condition should be a warning to all young men who so unthoughtedly use the life-destroying cigarette. Being once a constant and inveterate smoker, we know the effect and no one who has ever smoked a cigarette can but admit that the effect is damaging beyond conception.—Nashville Optic.

A Mother Drowned Her Little Boy Because He Was Ugly

Idella Powell Banks, widow of a well-to-do cotton planter, is in the Brooks county jail tonight, charged with the murder of Albert Powell Banks, her four year old son. She has confessed the crime, and said to a minister who called upon her this afternoon that she wanted to be hanged as soon as possible.

According to her statement, the boy was so ugly in appearance and so lacking in intelligence that she was ashamed to have him grow to manhood. Last Friday she visited relatives in Dowdes county. On the train returning she made up her mind to murder the little fellow, who sat in the seat facing her and playing with the conductor's punch.

On her way to her residence she passed a pond and threw the boy into it. She says he seemed to know what her intentions were and held on to her dress so strongly that she was afraid the struggle would attract somebody.

After he was in the water she went to her home and went about her business as usual until last night, when the body was found and she was called before the coroner's jury. She is possessed of considerable property and has no other children. She originally came from the North.

The murdered boy was not bodily deformed in any way, but his face was disfigured from birth.—Quitman, Ga., Dispatch.

Death of Rev. F. S. Stickney.

Wilson, N. C., Aug. 14.—News reached here today of the death of Rev. F. S. Stickney, rector of the Monumental Episcopal church in Richmond, Va. The body will reach his father's home here today and the funeral be held from St. Timothy's church Sunday. He was much loved here and the whole community is in mourning. Two weeks ago tomorrow he preached in the Disciple's church to a large congregation. It was a great sermon. The next day with his family, who had been spending the summer at his father's, Col. J. B. Stickney, he returned to Richmond. He seemed in perfect health. About a week ago he became sick, and his disease developed into gastritis.

Mr. Stickney was born in Beaufort county thirty-six years ago. He is the only son of Col. J. B. Stickney, a wealthy retired planter. He is a grandson of Fenner B. Satterthwaite, the eloquent leader of the Beaufort county bar for many years. He was educated at the University of North Carolina and at Sewanee. He began to study law, but having been called to the ministry, he took orders in the Episcopal church. He was a missionary in Western North Carolina for a time and won the hearts of the people wherever he preached. He succeeded Bishop Cheshire at Charlotte, and a few years ago accepted a call to Richmond where he was meeting with great success. He was an eloquent evangelical preacher, and had a special charm for the young. He was what you call a low churchman, and a leader in the mission work of his church. He leaves a wife and two children.

According to Western telegrams the grain trade of one of the principal Western roads has increased 40 per cent in three weeks and is now the largest on record. This means prosperity of the kind which feeds the hungry instead of taking them until they are hungry enough to pay higher prices.—N. Y. World.

A Brave Woman

Tuesday afternoon, D. B. Stafford, of this place, started out driving with his sister Mrs. Dunbar, who is visiting here. While ascending the hill just this side of Wilkesboro, the horse became frightened, wheeled around and started back down the hill on a swift run. Mr. Stafford was thrown out of the buggy, but retained his hold of the lines, and was dragged a considerable distance, the wheel passing over him several times, when one of the lines broke. This left Mrs. Dunbar alone in a buggy behind a runaway horse with her little son. She realized her perilous condition. She neither screamed nor attempted to jump out of the buggy, as most ladies with less nerve would have done, but carefully crawled over the dash, steadied herself by taking hold of the harness, reached over and got the line that wasn't broken, talking gently to the horse all the while. She regained her seat in safety and had nearly succeeded in stopping the horse when the bridge was reached. Here they met a man who caught the animal. Mr. Stafford soon arrived and took charge of it. It was truly a thrilling scene, and, strange to say, no one was injured to any extent.

All who witnessed the scene expected to see it end in a horrible manner, and say that Mrs. Dunbar is truly a brave lady.—North Wilkesboro Hustler.

Machine for Transplanting Strawberries

In this age of progress it looks like everything will be done sooner or later by machinery. The latest labor saving machine for farm work is one for transplanting strawberries. Messrs. G. W. Westbrook and W. A. Wright are using one this week on their farm just outside of town, on the Wilmington Seacoast Railroad. It is pulled by two mules and is operated by a man and two boys. It plants, waters and fertilizes the plants as it puts them down, and will plant from three to six acres a day, according to the condition of the land. It will do the work of about a dozen or more hands.

Latest Bicycle Slang.

An awkward person is a "wobler."

A gossip travels with a "loose sprocket wheel."

If your clothes are not in style you are a "95 model."

When a man's sweetheart jilts him he is the victim of a "broken chain."

Any rider abrading the skin by a fall merely "scrapes off some of his enamel."

A stupid individual, if there be any such on a bicycle, has "sand in his bearings."

A proud person, or one unduly haughty, "rides with his handlebars raised too high."

One who is disposed to be imaginative to the extent of romancing "is geared up to 100."

The individual who shouts at night when others desire to sleep is the victim of "loose spokes."

He who looks upon the wine until his feet are entangled is a person whose "wheels do not run true."—New York Journal.

Secretary John Sherman, with the garrulousness of old age, has been running along to the reporters lately in a manner calculated to get this country into trouble with Great Britain. It is a pity that some men, after long years of public service, and after they have passed into "the lean and shiplered pantaloons," do not yet realize that they have had enough and get out and quit. However, it is President McKinley's fault, and not Secretary Sherman's, that the latter is where he is. He had infinitely better been left in the Senate than given the most important position in the cabinet; the drafts on his usefulness would not be so great, and his capacity for doing harm would be far less. He is every day living down the reputation which he has been a half century in building, and presently his star will set behind a cloud. The evidences that he is in a condition of mental decline are multiplying.—Charlotte Observer.

The Savannah News says the negro porter who robbed the United States treasury of $18 while handling money sacks for weighing, will probably be given a term in the penitentiary for his dishonesty. But Dingley, Aldrich, Jones & Co., who foisted upon the country a measure which successfully robs the people for the benefit of a few trusts, are now enjoying a rest at the seaside or in the mountains. To some men, however, it is one thing to rob the treasury and quite another to fish from the pockets of the people.

The more I live, the more I love this lowly world; feel more its Author in each little thing—in all that's great. But yet I feel my immortality the more.—Theodore Parker.

A man's full mental power is not reached before the age of 25, and the development of talent is most marked between the ages of 30 and 45 years.

You may depend upon it that he is a good man whose intimate friends are all good and whose enemies are decidedly bad.—Lavater.
