BASE BALL.

Games Played and Standing of Clubs.

Brooklyn, August 23.—Brooklyn won two games from Pittsburg today. One was postponed from the last trip. In the first game Hawley was easy, while Payne kept his opponents hits well scattered. The second game was a pitchers' battle. Padden's fall after catching Jones' fly in the third inning gave the run that won the game. Umpire Horst was struck in the left temple with a foul tip from Donovan's bat in the fifth inning of second. He fell like a log and for a time it was feared that he was seriously injured. He recovered after fifteen minutes. Score. Brooklyn, 12; Pittsburg, 6.

Second game—Brooklyn, 1; Pittsburg, 0.

New York, August 23.—The Indians were in the lead in their half of the sixth inning when the rain began to fall. Tebeau wanted to stop, but Emshie said "no." The Giants tied the score on their turn at the bat. In the seventh the Cleveands got two more runs and it looked as if was all over. But bases on balls by Powell, a hit and more bases by Young, who was substituted for Powell, followed by a wild pitch, gave the Giants three runs and the game. The contest was featureless. Score. New York, 8; Cleveland, 7.

Boston, August 23.—The Bostons climbed two more runs of the pennant ladder today by winning both games from Louisville, the first of the series here. The attendance was small. The cold east wind made winter overcoats very comfortable and the enthusiasm was missing. Score. Boston, 4; Louisville, 1.

Second game—Boston, 9; Louisville, 3.

STATE NEWS.

A land suit in Buncombe county lasted over a month and the costs amounted to nearly $4,000.

Claretta Avery, the wonderful colored girl preacher, is holding a meeting in Kinston.

Rev. John Burns, keeper of the State Capitol at Raleigh has been arrested and bound over to court for making an assault with a knife on a colored man in the capitol square. Burns has been making himself very officious since he got in the keeper's place.

Stung to Death by Bees

Mr. O. L. Joyner had a pet dog which he kept at his home two miles above town. Tuesday this dog got his chain hung in a fig bush near which were some bee hives. The bees became annoyed by the presence of the dog, and swarming upon him stung him so badly that he died in a few hours.

THE MASQUERADE.

An Hour's Rich Fun With The Young Folks.

Tuesday night in the Academy building the juveniles had a masquerade party which for uniqueness and fun was a roaring success. It was mostly on the order of the humorous and ludicrous, and there were some of the most side splitting costumes and make-ups that could be imagined.

The little folks were after fun and they found it, and at the same time contributed no small stock of amusement to the spectators as the latter vainly tried by guessing to disclose the identity of the several masqueraders. There were boys and girls, and girls and boys, but to tell "one from t'other or t'other from which" was just past finding out, so clever were the disguises.

After promenading for sometime they lined up to unmask, and amid much more merriment the spectators discovered how badly they had missed guessing right.

The following were in masque, representing the characters mentioned:
 Glenn Forbes, Red Riding Hood.
 Bertha Patrick, Sweet Sixteen.
 Mamie Hines, Market Woman.
 Lucy Forbes, Baby Mine.
 Nina James, Ancient Lady.
 Minnie Funstall, Liz, (the Yellow Kid's girl.)

Janie Tyson, Angel.
 Sudie Harding, Mrs. Noah.
 Helen Forbes, Flower Girl.
 Mollie Harris, Old Time Lady.
 Della Forbes, House Maid.
 Carrie Andrews, Gypsy Girl.
 Harvey Hines, Yellow Kid.
 Frank Skinner, Clown.
 Fred Forbes, Nice Old Girl.
 Walter Wilson, Sailor Boy.
 Harry Skinner, Daughter of the Regiment.
 Willie Bond, Brownie.
 Charlie Skinner, Regular Sport.
 David James, Belle of Black Jack.
 Charlie James, Seventeenth Century Girl.
 Argall Vick, Country Girl.

ANOTHER PITT COUNTY BOY.

Who Has Made His Mark in Texas

Mr. John B. Tripp, a former Pitt county boy, now of Houston, Texas, has been visiting relatives and friends in the county for the last few days. He left on Saturday to attend a business engagement in Atlanta before returning to his adopted home in the Lone Star State. Mr. Tripp has succeeded in business and while here was zealous in his efforts to induce Col. I. A. Sugg to cast his fortune in the great State of Texas, and says that it is the finest opening in the world for the Colonel.

In his boyhood when Col. Sugg was doing a great deal to help the boys and girls of the county, he contributed only a very slight service to Mr. Tripp but this started him on the road to success and he has never forgotten his benefactor. It is doubtless a gratifying pleasure to Col. Sugg to feel that this loyal young man feels so great an interest in his welfare, for verily gratitude is seldom shown. It is a great delight to the many friends of Mr. Tripp to know that he is made of such stuff and that with it, he is succeeding. Pitt county is proud of her worthy sons and wishes them God speed where ere they go.

Butler and Brodie

Some where in the New Testament a judgment is pronounced upon those who pervert the Scripture and turn it to their own use. We are frequently struck with the flippancy with which the name of the Master is employed by hounds trying to justify their meanness, a late instance being that of a United States Senator, making speeches in North Carolina, glorying in the fact that he is a calamity howler, and saying by way of justification, that "Christ was a calamity howler." A later instance is afforded by the case of the negro Brodie, convicted at Henderson last week of an atrocious crime and sentenced to be hanged in a few days now. In a special to the Raleigh News and Observer, of date the 20th it is said that he made a full confession, Tuesday night, saying that "it was exactly as the girl stated on the stand," the special concluding with these words: "He says he has no harm against anyone; that Christ was persecuted, and that he did not expect anything better."

Here are two cases exactly of a kind. Brodie confesses his crime, but forgives his "persecutors," upon the ground that Christ was persecuted. The Senator confesses his guilt in appealing to the base passions of the people, and claims warrant for doing so in the example of Christ, who, he says, did the same thing. We do not mean to be too hard on Brodie. He has as much ground to stand on as has Butler.—Charlotte Observer.

Individual Effort

The sum total of individual effort constitutes community effort. This is a fact that is, apparently, often lost sight of, and the individual citizen fails to realize that his actions, or his failure to act, has an important bearing upon the success or nonsuccess of his town or section. What one man or a dozen men cannot accomplish may be pushed to fruition with comparative ease by the united and harmonious purpose and effort of an entire citizenship.

Let each do his part, cheerfully and enthusiastically, placing due value upon his responsibility and privilege, and then we come to put these individual efforts together and court the result it will be found that we have builded wiser than we knew and that we have moved forward the car of progress. One of the marks towards which this individual effort may be directed with community benefit is home patronage for home enterprises. Let us not forget that.—Winston Sentinel.
