Planters Warehouse Makes Best Sale of the Season

The Greenville tobacco market leads the State, and the Planters Warehouse takes its stand in front of the procession for making the finest and best sale of the season.

Mr. J. B. Galloway brought in a lot of 2,502 pounds that brought the handsome sum of $497.48. The prices were $14 75, $14, $14 25, $18, $9 50, $13, $13 50, $25, $18 50, $10, $13 75, $27, $31, $30, $34, $36, $39, $28, $45, $42, $41, $40, $17, $11 25, an average of $19 88.

Where have you seen another lot this large make such a high average all through? But this is the way they hustle at the Planters Warehouse. If you want such high prices as this bring us your tobacco and you will get them.

FORBES & MOYE.

JUST FOR FUN.

Yes, Maude, dear, smasing a clock with a hatchet may be one way of killing time.

A Kensington dealer announces: Our make of baby coaches is a good thing and ought to be pushed along.

Hoax—I suppose Cleveland feels better now. Joax—Yes, he's like a plant. All he needed was a little son and heir.

Summer—I hear Polly Loveall is soon to be married. Staples—Her fiancée isn't superstitious then? Superstitious? Why: He's the thirteenth man she's been in love with.

STATE NEWS.

W. E. Patterson, of Newbern, a drummer well known over the State, was assaulted on the street in Charlotte Saturday night. His assailant used a sand bag and Mr. Patterson was badly hurt, his nose being broken and one eye severely injured.

One day last week three convicts escaped from the Caledonia farm in Halifax county. They were followed by guards and overtaken near Scotland Neck but refused to surrender. When the convicts broke to run the guards fired on them and killed one of them.

Ball Tonight

The annual ball of the Columbian Club takes place tonight in the Eastern Warehouse. In addition to Greenville's gallant young gents and lovely young ladies, several will be present from neighboring towns and the occasion is expected to be one of great pleasure. A band from Nortolk will furnish the music.

THE ELECTIONS

Big Landslide for Democracy

So far as heard from at this writing Tuesday's elections were great victories for the Democrats and a strong repudiation of the Hanna-McKinley administration.

In the contest for Mayor in Greater New York, Van Wyck was elected by 85,000 majority. Low ran ahead of Tracey about 48,000.

In Ohio the Democrats carried the State by a good majority. This being McKinley's and Hanna's State gives these two worthies a black eye and insures a Democratic U. S. Senator to succeed Hanna.

Baltimore comes in with a good Democratic majority.

Virginia lines up with a rousing victory for the Democrats.

Kentucky chimes in with the others and goes Democratic. The latest we could learn just before going to press was that Massachusetts was also Democratic.

Married Today

Mr. J. B. Randolph left this morning for Mildred, where at noon he wedded Miss Lena Rivers Thigpen. He was accompanied by Rev. A. W. Setzer, Misses Lucy Randolph and Sophia Jarvis and Ernest Forbes, R. E. Bynum and C. B. Whichard. They return to Greenville this evening and the bride and groom will be given a reception at the home of the groom's mother, Mrs. Lucy Randolph, in South Greenville.

The Song of the Hog

Oh the hog, the beautiful hog, Carving his back as he watches the dog; Delaying the law for his bread and meat; Roaming at large through every street; Hunting, grunting, nosing around, 'Til the open front gate is sure to be found—With the hinges broken and ruined quite; By the lovers who hung there Sunday night; It won't stay shut, it won't hang level, So in walks the hog and raises the ———.—E. A.

Foot Badly Cut

Today Isaac Sugg, Jr., son of Col I. A. Sugg, was in the forest near his home cutting some wood. While trimming a tree which he had felled the axe glanced, the blade striking him a full blow from the ankle down through the hollow of his foot. The cut is a very bad one and bled profusely before it could be sewed up and the flow stopped.

The number of race men here was increased by many new arrivals last night.

PLAIN TRUTHS

No man who looks high can live low.

The religion that cost nothing does nothing.

Be a blessing and you will be sure to receive one.

Faultfinding is one of the surest marks of a backslider.

True Christianity always works well between Sundays.

An oath is the devil's admission that the Bible is true.

The devil trembles when he finds a good man on his knees.

Things said and done in love always bring good fruit.

Read the Bible much and you will always find it new.

A good prayer meeting always begins before the bell rings.

We have no more right to think wrong than we have to do wrong.

The devil leads the man who is not living for some good object.

The smallest man on the face of the earth is the one who sees only himself. —Rams Horn.

Under a decision of the Supreme Court of California it has been established that a woman may be compelled to support her husband. This ruling of the court was confirmed by the best legal authority of the state, and was based upon peculiar circumstances in the case. It was that of an elderly couple living in Los Angeles county. The husband is so aged and infirm as to be unable to provide for himself, and not long ago was deserted altogether by his wife. He brought suit against her for maintenance before the Superior Court of the county, and obtained a judgment, ordering the payment to himself, of a monthly allowance of $24. Further than that, after an appeal, the judgment has been affirmed by the Supreme court of the State.

The Tennessee Centennial Exposition at Nashville has closed its gates in triumph, having entertained 1,750,000 visitors during the past six months. Considering the limited population of the adjacent region this showing speaks volumes for the enterprise and skill of the management.

HANDLES HORSES WELL

Pretty Young Woman Driver Wins a Race in Maine.

Here is a woman, young and pretty, who can drive fast horses with all the airy abandon of Budd Doble or any of his compatriots. Her name is Miss Leota Elliott, and she lives in Danforth, Me.

Who would ever suspect the staid and dignified old Pine Tree state of producing women drivers, and good ones, too, in divided skirts?

In the races at Pittsfield, Me., a few weeks ago there were four of them, but the better of all of them was Miss Elliott.

She is only 21 years old, and is the very antithesis of Lawson N. Fuller, the old gentleman driver of New York city. Mr. Fuller leans forward and seldom takes his eyes from his team.

Miss Elliott leans back as easily as though she were in a boudoir chair, with each little foot poised on the bar in front of the seat. She seems to know by instinct just what the horse is doing, and looks about her with the utmost unconcern.

"I can feel what a trotter is doing through the lines, just as a helmsman can feel his craft hauling on the rudder," says Miss Elliott.

The race won by the woman driver was the first ever trotted on a circuit track under national rules with women as drivers. Miss Elliott won the race easily.

Her opponents were Mrs. Sarah Elise Crosby, of West Brewster, Mass., 30 years old; Mrs. Hattie E. Meader, of Winslow, aged 26; Mrs. Mary Woodcock, of Ripley, 31 years.

He Was Equal to the Occasion

A lecturer encountered a particular boisterous audience one night, who, not content with hurling epithets, hurled a number of cabbages as well. The lecturer brought his entertainment to a close with the remark that he had hoped the audience would be pleased, but he really hadn't expected that they would lose their heads entirely.
