QUINERLY ITEMS.

Personal Notes and Other Items of Interest.

QUINERLY, N. C., Nov. 29, '97.
Thanksgiving day was not observed here.
Burwell Skinner killed a mad dog near here last Wednesday.

Mrs. Spencer Brooks is very sick with plury. We hope for her speedy recovery.

Rev. J. S. Henderson, of the Christian church, was here on the 27th inst in the interest of The Watch Tower.

Dr. R. G. Maxwell delivered three lectures on phrenology at Quinerly Academy last week. He is indeed master of his profession.

I. B. Rucker, of the Eastern Warehouse, was here on the 27th and bought a lot of tobacco from L. J. Chapman. Glad to see you Rennie, come again.

The dwelling house occupied by Jesse Munford and family was destroyed by fire a few days ago, consuming nearly all his household and kitchen furniture which is indeed a severe blow to him.

Alonzo Phillips, of Haurahans, and Miss Alice Garris were married at the home of Jesse Carman on Wednesday evening 24th inst., Rev. J. R. Tingle of the Christian church officiating. We extend congratulations.

Prof. A. A. Forbes, of the Planters' Warehouse and W. P. Mangum, of the Greenville market, were the guests of J. B. Latham on Wednesday night last and the young people of the place went over at the request of Mr. Latham and enjoyed some very fine music by the Professor on the violin, accompanied by Miss Loraine Stulley on the organ and H. Cecile Brooks on the guitar. The attendants were very much pleased at the fine music and witty sayings of the Professor. We hope to have another call from him at an early date.

Lost His Pocket Book.

Mr. J. H. Moore, who lives in Farmville township, brought a lot of tobacco here Monday. After the sale he and his wife made some purchases and left for home. It was dark when they reached home, and when Mr. Moore went in to put away his money he discovered that his pocket book had been lost. He got his father and they took lanterns and walked all the way back to Greenville, 13 miles, searching for the lost pocket book but failed to find it.

The purse contained about $65, and the loss is a heavy one to Mr. Moore. If any one has found his money we hope it will be returned to him.

JUST FOR FUN.

A question of birth—Boy or girl?

An uptown jeweler advertises "Striking bargains in alarm clocks."

Hoax—"Young Phastby is dying, I hear." Joax—"At! too bad. That boy had a bright future." Hoax—"He's got it yet—also hot."

Wigwag—"While my wife was in the county she was chased by a bull." Hobson—"Good gracious! He didn't catch her?" Wigwag—"No; but her dress was gored."

"Well," said the victim, vainly trying to stanch the flow of blood from his gashed cheek as left the 5-cent barber shop, "now I understand what is meant by cut prices."

Weary Willie—"Please, ma'am, I'm an engraver out o' work an'—" House-keeper—"Well, go to work on the Wookpile and I'll give you a good meal." Weary Willie (with indignant pride)—"Pardon me, lady, I'm a steel engraver up ter dat, an' I can't degrade mesel wid wood ents."

His body swung in the breeze as the lynchers passed over the hill. Gradually, however, the shoulders began to drop. Presently the feet touched the ground. "O! I don't know," said the victim, straightening up, "there's some good in having a rubber neck." Taking the noose down, he lassoed a horse grazing near and calmly rode off.

BETHEL ITEMS.

BETHEL, N. C., Nov. 29th 1897.
G. W. Blunt, of Wilhamston, spent Sunday here.

I. H. Little and wife, of Oakley, spent Sunday here with the family of S. A. Gañer.

P. T. Cherry and wife, of Conetoe, spent Sunday in town with relatives.

J. R. Bunting, went to Conetoe on business today.

John M. Lloyd, who has charge of the painting force of the A. C. L. spent Sunday here with his family.

J. H. Johnston, who has been at the Solders home at Raleigh for some time, arrived here Tuesday night.

Elder B. R. Hall held quarterly meeting here in the M. E. Church last Tuesday night and preached a very able sermon.

Rev. B. B. Culbreth preached his last sermon for the present year Sunday night. He will leave tomorrow morning to attend the conference at Raleigh.

Many people give as Christmas presents a year's subscription to some good magazine. Leave your orders at the Reflector Book Store for any periodical wanted.

Appearance is Important.

Do you want Clothes Ready-to-wear? Do you want 'em Made-to-measure? We give great value either way. Our facilities in both departments are matchless. If you are in our Clothes you're in fashion. That advantage is worth money to you, but we charge nothing for it. Suits, Overcoats, Hats, Underwear and Neckwear are now on grand display. Hundreds of novelties and economics await your coming. A little money commands much merchandise.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)
 WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov 29, '97.

"Walk into my parlor," says the spider to the fly; "walk into my National bank scheme," says the administration to the Southern Democrats. As fast as the Southern Democrats arrive in Washington, they are button-holed by agents of the administration, who try to convince them what a boon it would be for that section and for portions of the West, where banking facilities are deficient, if National Banks could be established in small towns with a capital of $25,000, were allowed to issue currency to the par value of bonds deposited with the government, and the tax on that currency was made merely nominal. After talking up the advantage of a plentiful supply of currency at home, to meet the home demand, they try to get the Southern Democrats to pledge themselves to vote for a bill embodying these amendments to the National banking laws. It is a shrewd game, and the arguments are plausible when used to men who know how their constituents are at times inconvenienced by the lack of sufficient currency to meet their needs, and it is not surprising that some Democratic support for the idea has been secured. The administration hopes to get enough Democratic Senators to put this scheme through the Senate, in connection with other financial legislation, about which care is taken to say nothing at this time, or if that is not feasible, to put through a bill with no other feature. Anything that will strengthen the National Banking system will strengthen the gold standard policy.

Secretary Long's annual report contains several sentences that must have escaped Mr. McKinley's blue pencil by accident. For instance, he speaks of "possible annexation of islands in the Pacific," as though he entertained doubts about the annexation of Hawaii, and he acknowledges his fear of that growing Treasury deficit by saying that in expenditures for the Navy "a due regard is necessary to the relation of the national expenditures to the national revenues." It is very difficult to reconcile the decidedly peaceable tone of the Secretary's official talk about only small additions to the Navy being provided for by this Congress, and of his intention to take warships out of commission in order to pay running expenses, with the action just taken by his department in placing a large contract—the largest made since the war—for ammunition and guns.

Several hundred employes of Treasury Department find it impossible to prepare for Christmas in the proper joyous spirit, owing to the fear that the ax will in the meantime fall upon their official necks. The civil service law provides that each State and territory shall have a proportionate quota of the employes of the Government. Secretary Gage has just had a list prepared showing the residence of the employes of his Department, and has announced his intention to weed out the "barnacles." This has been interpreted by the employes to mean that dismissals are to be made among the residents of those States having more than their share in order to give the places to residents of States which have less than their share. Should this be true, many persons residing, or claiming a residence, in nearby States will have to go, as the nearby States all have more than their share, but the heaviest blow would fall upon residents of the District of Columbia, which is legally entitled to only nine clerks in the Treasury Department, but which has more than three hundred. There have been several scares of this sort before, but it isn't the sort of thing that the poor devils who have been in government employ so long that they have forgot how, if they ever knew to make a living outside, can get used to. The odd thing about it, if carried out would be that it would catch many more Republicans than Democrats, but not a few of them are political hermaphrodites, making it their business to always appear to belong to the party on top, without actually belonging to either.

Representative Hartman, of Montana, takes issue with the Republicans who are trying so hard to create the impression that the silver question is dead. He says it is the liveliest issue now before the people, owing to the absolute failure of the Wolcott Commission; that last year thousands of Republicans voted for McKinley, believing that he would do something for silver, and now they know that he will not. Mr. Hartman makes this prediction for 1900: "There will be 2,500,000 free silver Republican votes, 1,500,000 Populist votes and 4,500,000 Democratic votes for the nominee who stands for the identical principles that Mr. Bryan stood for last year."

Representative Livingston, of Georgia, who is one of the best friends Cuba has in Congress, doesn't think the outlook good for legislation favorable to Cuba. He thinks there will be a lot of talk but no action.

Postal Savings Banks.

The report of Postmaster-General Gary, embodying as it does the reports and recommendations of the assistant postmaster general, is an exceptionally important document. A large part of the volume is devoted to an argument, to our mind unanswerable, in favor of the prompt institution by this country of a postal savings bank system. The array of facts and figures marshaled to show the timeliness and importance of this step ought to make a deep impression upon the Congress-sional mind. The enormous growth of the postal money order business is adduced as showing how the people already patronize the postal service for the transmission of funds. That they would avail themselves of it to deposit their savings is beyond question. Within a very few years the deposits would be counted by the hundreds of millions. The time is certainly auspicious for the adoption of this policy of postal savings banks. Further than that, however, it ought to be possible to combine that policy with some plan for the improvement of the currency system.—From "The Progress of the World," in American Monthly Review of Reviews for December.

Words of Wisdom.

Truth is a rock large enough for all to stand upon.

If some men were to lose their reputation they would be lucky.

The only real happy animal is the goat. He can eat anything.

Children cry for the moon and when they grow up they want the earth.

Open the door of your mind to good thoughts and the evil ones will be driven out.

There are several things worse than disappointment in love Rheumatism is one.

A person is always startled when he hears himself called old for the first time.

Controversy equalizes fools and wise men in the same way, and the fools know it.

Little minds rejoice over the errors of men of genius as the owl rejoices at an eclipse.

People get wisdom by experience. A man never wakes up his second baby to see it laugh.

Neatness, when moderate, is a virtue; but when carried to an extreme it narrows the mind.—The South West.

Just try a box of Cascarets, the finest liver and bowel regulator ever made.

The Chatham Record asks: "How much 'relief' has been given the taxpayers of North Carolina by the so-called 'reformers'?"

"How many useless offices have been abolished?"

"How many fees and salaries of officers have been reduced?"

"How much have they reduced the public expenses?"

"How much have they reduced taxes?"

Let every voter take these questions and answer them according to his own knowledge and belief.

The number of offices have not only been increased, but are largely filled by men who are not nearly so competent as those they displaced. Taxes have been raised, and a law passed permitting the imprisonment of citizens who cannot pay their taxes. There have been more scandals connected with the management of the penitentiary than have ever been found in any other institution in the State's history. The administration has not only been incompetent, but in many cases, venal.—Charlotte News.

Unabashed.

The following story is told of Mr. X—, a distinguished member of the Indian civil service, well known for his wit and raciness. Being at home on leave of absence, he found himself a guest at a dinner party where all present were strangers to him.

Lord —, the host, presenting him to a very pretty and vivacious looking woman, he bowed and professed himself charmed, saying:

"I see you know everybody in the room and all about them, so you must initiate me. Now, for instance (indicating a gentleman who had evidently been taking nitrate of silver for some malady), who is that man with the blue face?"

"Sir," said the lady icily, "that is my husband."

"Oh," said Mr. X—, quite unabashed, "the very woman I want to meet. Now tell me, is he blue all over?"—London Telegraph.

Thermopylae.

The word Thermopylae simply means hot springs, and the famous pass where the battle was fought between the Spartans and the Persians took its name from the warm springs flowing from the side of the mountain. Thermopylae was in ancient times the only practicable route for an army between northern and central Greece. The road was only wide enough for a single vehicle. The morass to the east of the pass has now become an alluvial plain from the retreat of the Maliac gulf, an arm of the Aegean sea, and the deposit of the river Spercheus.

Modest.

Stephen—But, Uncle John, whom do you mean when you speak of the "best citizens?"

Uncle John—Well, there is myself, for instance, and—and—and—I presume there are others, but they do not come to my mind just at this moment.—Boston Transcript.

A Gist of What is Going On

Cotton 5 1-6.
Just one month more of 1897.
This is the last day is November.
Christmas falls on Saturday this year.
As the cold increases the coal decreases.
Odd Fellows meet tonight, work in initiatory degree.
The 1898 calendar is beginning to make its appearance.
The nicest thing in stationery is the cream and peach tint papers in pound packages, at Reflector Book Store.

FRESH TODAY—Hominy Flakes small and large Hominy, white Beans, shredded Cod Fish, Mountain Butter at S. M. SCHUTZ.

BASKETS—Work baskets, waste baskets, lunch baskets, market baskets, and all other kinds of baskets at Zeno Moore & Bros'.

Do our business men realize that Christmas is not quite four weeks off? It is time the people were being told what holiday goods you will have to offer.

G. A. McGowan & Co., have a full line of Burial Robes for ladies and gentlemen at extremely low prices, also Mourning Hat Bands for men.

The Reflector Book Store has just received a nice lot of new stationery—ledgers, day books, receipt books, record books, paper, correspondence cards with envelopes, tablets, pencils, rubber bands, etc.

NOTICE! The Public are warned not to cash or trade for Check No 7643, amount $31.80, payable to C. R. Hardy or bearer, as payment of same has been stopped at the Bank of Greenville, said check having been lost. November 19th, 1897.

Mr. John E. Ray, of Raleigh, will deliver an address here at the meeting of the B. Y. P. U. Thursday evening. His subject will be Helen Keller, the girl who is deaf, dumb and blind.

They Are a Nuisance.

A stout looking white tramp was over in South Greenville after 8 o'clock, Monday night, knocking at doors and begging for something to eat. These professional beggars that come along so often ought to be run out of town.

Got a Pair of Fine Shoes.

Hugh Ragsdale won the prize pair of Shoes for getting the largest number of Ricks & Taft's advertisement last week. The boys took their slips to the store at 4 o'clock, Monday afternoon, and the award was made to Hugh, he having the largest number of advertisements. Kinchen Cobb was a close second, being only two behind. Ricks & Taft presented Hugh with a pair of their finest boy's shoes.

Dedicatory Sermon by Their First Pastor.

Rev. J. N. H. Summerell, of Anderson, S. C., who was the first pastor of the Presbyterian church here, and to whose earnest efforts is largely due the organization of the church and building of their house of worship, has accepted an invitation to preach the dedicatory sermon on the third Sunday in December. That Sunday has been selected for the dedication of the church, and it is very fitting that Rev. Mr. Summerell should be present and take the most prominent part in the exercises.

FOR SALE.

Valuable Town Property.

ON Tuesday, the 7th day of December 1897, we will offer at public sale the residence of Mrs. M. A. Jarvis and two adjoining vacant lots, situated in the town of Greenville, on the corner of Cotanch and 2nd streets near the Macon Hotel. There are several out houses on the premises. Sale to take place at 12 o'clock M. if not sold privately before. Apply to HARDING & HARDING, Greenville, N. C.

OVERCOATS.

"Well, I must say, nobody else has such a handsome stock of Overcoats as you have," is the substance of what is told us every day, by people who have "looked around." But knew it before! There is scarcely any conceivable kind of desirable Overcoat that cannot be found here. Black Overcoats, Blue Overcoats, Brown Overcoats, Drab Overcoats, Oxford Overcoats, Covert Overcoats, Melton Overcoats, Kersey Overcoats, Cheviot Overcoats, Frieze Overcoats, Chinchilla Overcoats, Elysian Overcoats, Montagnac Overcoats, Rough Overcoats, Long Overcoats, Short Overcoats, Medium Overcoats, Loose Fitting Overcoats, Close Fitting Overcoats, Overcoats that are Shapely, but, neither close fitting nor loose, Overcoats with Velvet Collars, Overcoats with Cloth Collars, Overcoats with Strapped Seams, Overcoats with Lapped Seams, Overcoats with Plain Seams, Overcoats with patch pocket, Overcoats with ordinary pockets, Light Weight Overcoats, Medium weight Overcoat, heavy weight Overcoat, Overcoats Silk sleeve Lining, Overcoats with Satin Shoulder Lining, Overcoats of every description. Every possible item of value that we could conceive of is found in these Coats.
