Keep Watch Over Gen Lee

Washington, March 8—Consul General Fitzhugh Lee will remain at Havana as the representative of the United States government; but while that is so, and while the Spanish government has withdrawn its official request for his removal, it is the fact that he will remain there as an unwelcome guest.

That his life is in more or less danger—not from any harm that could come to him from Spain officially, but from the stiletto of treacherous Spaniards in their private capacity—is very evident. This fact has been made manifest within the last two or three days particularly. He is thoroughly hated and feared by the average Spaniard and by the Spanish government.

To this fact is largely due the sending of the cruiser "Montgomery" to Havana. "To keep watch over General Lee," as an official here expressed it today, is the chief mission of the "Montgomery" just now, and he will be closely looked after from now on, lest he should meet with a physical attack from some Spanish hotheads, inspired by the incendiary utterances against him by the Spanish and Cuban press, the La Lucha particularly.—Raleigh Post.

STATE NEWS

Col. J. S. Carr is having the fence, which surrounds his mansion in Durham, covered with gold. A thin layer of gold leaf is being placed on the fence.—Raleigh Press Visitor.

On Thursday morning 3rd at 5 o'clock Mr. E. S. Carr's house near Tillery was destroyed by fire. Some ashes had been left near the house in a box and the house caught fire from them.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

Mr. W. D. McLelland, who was down yesterday with some good Iredell stock, was telling of killing a hog several days ago that weighed 788 pounds, the hams weighing 100 pounds apiece. The hog was of the Polan China variety.—Charlotte Observer.

On Monday night of this week Mr. W. P. White's saw mill at Knights Station, 8 miles below Hobgood, was burned. A considerable quantity of lumber was lost with the mill, and there was no insurance. Mr. White will at once put in another mill at the same place.—Scotland Neck Commonwealth.

To Protect Wilmington

Wednesday a large shipment of submarine mines, which arrived here by the Atlantic Coast Line, were sent to Fort Caswell on the steamer Wilmington. These "mines" are big round torpedoes and are shells of iron, each loaded with 500 pounds of dynamite. They are 33 inches in diameter, and each of them weighs several hundred pounds.

These mines will be kept at Fort Caswell and are intended to be planted in the channel of the bar in case of emergency. They can be planted in little or no time and will sprout if need be. They will be connected with wires to an electric battery in the fort and the touching of a button will cause them to explode with terrific effect. Any one of them would play havoc with a big ship. In the event of war with any other power a net work of these will be placed in the channel.

The shipment of munitions to Fort Caswell was just the beginning. We learn that a large number of other mines, powder and projectiles are expected at any day. We are informed that this is but carrying out the plans when the fortifications at Fort Caswell were projected a couple of years ago.—Wilmington Messenger.

Keeps Improving

A traveling man who comes to Greenville about every thirty days, remarked to THE REFLECTOR, Wednesday, that Greenville is improving every day. Each time he comes he notices something in the way of progress.

A negro by the name of John Andrews was arrested here Monday morning with a stolen horse, which was the property of Mr. C. L. Fountain, of Edgecombe, who lives about eight miles above Tarboro. Mr. Fountain came and got his horse, and took the negro to Tarboro where he was committed to jail.

Shouted for Cuba in Church.

An Atlanta special says:

The Third Baptist church, one of the most fashionable in Atlanta, was the scene tonight of remarkable enthusiasm for Cuba.

Dr. L. G. Broughton, formerly of Virginia, preached at the church for the first time tonight, and the edifice was filled by a throng attracted by his reputation for eloquence. He selected Cuba for his topic. The preacher reached his climax when he shouted: "The carnage in Cuba has gone on long enough!"

At these words the congregation rose to its feet, and Dr. Broughton added:

"Let American manhood vindicate itself."

Shouts and cries of, "We will, we will!" and demands for war were heard. The men sprang on the seats and waved hats and handkerchiefs.

The minister stood dumbfounded at the spectacle before him, and shook hands mechanically with the shouting men who pressed around him. When the people had been sufficiently quieted to permit his voice to be heard, Dr. Broughton said:

"Let us begin the work tonight by collecting money for Cuba."

This suggestion met with a ready response.

THURSDAY, MARCH 10, 1898.

You may make fun of the ground hog tradition as much as you please, but it certainly proved true this year. There has undoubtedly been more wintry weather since the 2nd of February than before that day, when the ground hog so wisely went back into its hole—Chatham Record.

Fitzhugh Lee now becomes a very conspicuous figure in the war controversy and his courage and loyalty command universal admiration. His position is such as was expected by the people of the South, among whom the name of Lee is revered.

The passage, by an entirely unanimous vote, of the Cannon bill through the House yesterday appropriating $50,000,000 for the national defence will doubtless have a salutary effect both in America and Spain.

Habit.

Much is said, and well said, upon the power of habit. It is almost impossible to exaggerate the extent of its influence upon life and character, and for this reason the formation of good habits is rightly esteemed one of the first and most important elements of an ethical life.

Aged Man.

In the southeastern portion of Raleigh, in a little hut all alone, there lives an old negro man who is perhaps the oldest person in the State. His name is Austin Devereaux.

A reporter found the old man in the capitol this morning and asked him what he remembered about the great men of long ago. "Lor dat was white folk business whut I know or kept bout that den."

Uncle Austin is a great believer in dreams. He says that some folks call chem dreams, but they are not. When a man says that he had a dream that means that the Lord took his soul out of his body.

SIMPLICITY ITSELF

A Simple, Harmless Remedy, Yet It Cures the Worst of Dyspepsia and Indigestion

Dr. Jennison, who has made a life study of stomach troubles, says: All forms of indigestion really amount to the same thing, that is, failure to completely digest the food eaten; no matter whether the trouble is acid dyspepsia or sour stomach, belching of wind, nervous dyspepsia or loss of flesh and appetite; a person will not have any of them if the stomach can be induced by any natural, harmless way to thoroughly digest what is eaten, and this can be done by a simple remedy which I have tested in hundreds of aggravated cases with complete success. The remedy is a combination of fruit and vegetable essences, pure aseptic pepsin and golden seal put up in the form of pleasant tasting tablets and sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. One or two of these tablets should be taken after meals and allowed to dissolve in the mouth and mingling with the food in the stomach, digests it completely before it has time to ferment, decay and sour.

On actual experiment one grain of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest three thousand grains of meat, eggs and similar wholesome foods.

It is safe to say if this wholesome remedy was better known by people generally, it would be a national blessing, as we are a nation of dyspeptics and nine-tenths of all diseases owe their origin to imperfect digestion and nutrition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a secret patent medicine, but a fifty cents package will do more real good for a weak stomach than fifty dollars worth of patent medicines and a person has the satisfaction of knowing just what he is putting into his stomach, which he does not know, when widely advertised patent medicines are used.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, full sized packages, 50c.

A Chicago drummer recently compelled the Illinois Central Railroad to carry him from Fort Dodge, Ia., to Sioux Falls, S. D. in a private car berth from Chicago to Sioux Falls, but at Fort Dodge the conductor informed him that as he was the only occupant of the car the company desired to run it back to Chicago. The drummer refused to wait for the next train, threatened a damage suit, and was finally carried to his destination in a special car.

The Best Evidence

We find that the great trouble in this world is that a man doesn't know when he is well off—He can never learn to let well enough alone. A tramp called at this office the other day and said he hadn't had anything to eat for three days. We could ill afford it, but we gave him the paste pot and told him to help himself. While he was eating, and apparently relishing it, he related his simple story. His parents were well to do, and wanted him to marry a girl in the neighborhood, and he wouldn't have it that way, so he ran away and married an actress. His parents disinherited him, and his wife ran away with a lightning rod agent. He finally got a job clerking in a store, and was one night chloroformed and the store robbed, the robbers putting a little of the booty in his pockets, making a clear case against him. He was sentenced to ten years and served his time. He went west and was arrested for a train robbery, for he was on the bumpers stealing a ride when a train was robbed, and he was of course captured. Being an ex-convict he could prove nothing. He served another ten years at hard labor. Then, being an outcast, he started to tramping, and one night was sleeping in a barn, and the barn was set on fire by horse thieves and he was captured and the neighbors hung him. He was cut down by some medical students and hastened to the dissecting table, and when they cut off his right arm his animation refused longer to suspend, and the students allowed him to depart in peace. The paste having been devoured he bade us good bye, saying there were several other trifling incidents of his life, of which he had suffered—and yet he had never committed an unlawful act, or harmed any one.—Fairbrother's Farrago.

Tricks of the Types.

A writer in Macmillan's Magazine offers in an article on printers' errors some superb "mixes," as blendings of alien paragraphs are called. We borrow a couple. The first owes its character to an interpolated line from a report of a public meeting: "On the 3d inst., at Elkington, the wife of J. S. Terry, schoolmaster, of a son. He spoke indistinctly, but was understood to say that on the 3d inst., at Ripon, the wife of Joseph Landseer, tailor, of a daughter."

The second occurred in a description of the campaign of Roman Catholic missionaries in central Africa:

"They are accustomed to begin their work by buying heathen children and educating them. The easiest and best way to prepare them is to first wipe them with a clean towel, then place them in dripping pans and bake them until they are tender. After which cut them in slices and cook for several hours."

Culture of Licorice.

Surely, in some part of our great country, licorice would be found to thrive. And yet, so far as has come to the knowledge of Meehan's Monthly, all attempts to cultivate it have failed. The difficulty seems to be with the summer sun. Leaves blight and turn brown as soon as the weather becomes warm, but this would probably not be the case in submountainous regions. When it is remembered that nearly 20,000 tons of these roots come into the United States every year from the old world its culture here is surely a prize worth contending for.—Meehan's Monthly.

Spiders.

Spiders have played important parts. It is said when Mohammed fled from Mecca he hid in a cave and a spider wove a web over the entrance. When his pursuers came thither, they saw the web and believed no one was there. It is said a spider performed the same kindly act for David when Saul was hunting him.

Try It.

Without being partial to a new favorite, it is not too much to say that "The National Magazine" is one of the best ten cent magazines published. It has handsomely illustrated articles on topics of lively interest, and some of the fiction published. Every month sees an addition to the galaxy of young authors that are making the magazine as much sought after as any 10 cent magazine published. Subscriptions taken at REFLECTOR office.

Why One School Closed

Mary Matthews, a nice little girl, lived so far from the schoolhouse that she rode a little blue-eyed, confiding mule to the hall of learning. The teacher thought it unwise to allow the animal to graze about unharmed, so he attempted to stab it away. The rest of the story is told in these expressive lines:

Mary had a little mule,
 It followed her to school;
 That was against the rule,
 The teacher, like a fool,
 Got behind that mule
 And hit him with a rule,
 After that 'there was no school,
