Latest Grape Vine News From The Reflector's War Reporter

Tramp, tramp, tramp, the boys are marching.

Folks are talking about boycotting Spanish olives.

The kids declared a blockade on the merry-go-round Friday afternoon. Every time the wheel turned it was chock full of happy little folks.

Henry Hooker is trembling. He says if the boys get marching orders today they will have to foot it to Bethel, as we have no Sunday train.

George Woodward is practicing "The Girl I Left Behind," on his piccolo. He will have that and "Dixie" both down fine when the soldier boys go away.

The popular subscription to get powder for Battery Z. was not popular enough to get up a bombardment last night, so the commander reports no new captures today around the coast.

Bernard Greens says if THE REFLECTOR don't quit putting out bulletins of the war news there will be more cripple and sick folks in Pitt county than the doctors can get around to.

A man was traveling through a rather remote section of the county, the other day, and met up with another man who remarked: "I hear some little talk about a war going to take place some where. Tell me something about it." That man don't read the papers.

Thought Their Time Had Come

Seeing a special car dropped off at the station here Friday evening badly frightened a number of colored people who were around the depot. Some one told them the car had come to take away a company of colored troops to Cuba, and the statement almost set them wild. Thinking the THE REFLECTOR knew all about it, they began appealing to the reporter who was near, and it was amusing to notice the expression of relief on their faces when they were told the mission of the car.

SATURDAY, APRIL 23, 1898.

The dispatches in Friday morning papers say that Governor Russell had telegraph to President McKinley, saying that North Carolina, on a call for troops, would readily furnish more than her quota, and tendered his own services to lead the North Carolina troops. That is all right about what North Carolina will do, but remembering how Dan Russell ridiculed the State Guard in his campaign of 1896, we doubt if there is a member of it that would be willing to follow his lead.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, April 22nd '98.

Glory hallelujah! The scales have dropped from Mr. McKinley's eyes. Americans are to have an opportunity to avenge the Maine, and Spain is to be whipped out of Cuba. This was certain when Mr. McKinley signed the joint resolution adopted by Congress authorizing the use of the United States army and navy and the militia of the several states to drive Spain out of Cuba, and forwarded an ultimatum to Spain demanding the immediate evacuation of Cuba and giving notice that unless a satisfactory answer was received by Saturday he should proceed to carry out the provisions of the resolution. The nature of the answer was made known in advance by the Spanish Minister's demanding his passports and leaving Washington, after notifying the Department of State that the French Ambassador and the Austrian Minister had been authorized to act jointly in looking after Spanish interest in the United States. So that no matter when or where the first gun may be fired the United States and Spain will be considered by themselves and the rest of the world as at war with each other on and after Sunday.

This is not the time to exploit partisan politics, but it is only a matter of justice to the Democrats and Populists in Congress to keep the record straight, by calling attention to the fact that the position occupied by Mr. McKinley and his administration and party today has been that of the Democrats and Populists in Congress since the announcement of the blowing up of the Maine. The latter are not asking any special credit for their thoroughbred Americanism which has helped the people of the country to force the administration into a fighting humor. Like the brave marine who reported to Capt. Sigsbee that his ship had been blown up, and like Capt. Sigsbee and Fitz Lee, they have only done their duty; but on the other hand, they should not be deprived of the credit due them by those who allowed themselves to be bamboozled by the trickery of the Spanish diplomacy into believing that a peaceful settlement of the account between the United States and Spain could be arrived at, until an indignant and aroused public sentiment opened their eyes to the real situation and who now claim that the present situation has been brought about by their policy, when it exists in spite of their policy. Getting himself in a fighting humor is not the only way in which Mr. McKinley has followed the Democrats. Although he opposed the recognition of the independence of the present government of Cuba with so much vehemence that he succeeded in having it struck out of the resolution after it had been adopted by the Senate, he has since practically, if not officially, recognized the Cuban republic by treating with its officials, through Gen. Miles.

Owing to the late day in which Mr. McKinley abandoned hopes of peace and the delay in ordering the troops of the regular army south, and in issuing the call for volunteers, the most that this government can do until it has succeeded in getting an invading army ready for embarkation at ports adjacent to Cuba is to blockade Cuba, with warships, and to wait for the army to be got ready. It is too late to find fault now, but the facts are stated in order that it may be understood why Cuba is not at once taken. It will be but a waste of ammunition for our ships to batter down the forts of Havana, until we have an army on shore to see that the Spaniards do not get away to the interior of the island. No half way business is wanted. It is expected that the orders to blockade Cuba will be issued not later than Sunday, and that the fleets in Hampton Roads and at Key West will move at once and begin the work. Meanwhile, the troops are being massed in the South as fast as possible.

The old gold scheme cropped up again this week. Those behind it possible to take advantage of the enthused patriotism of Congress to rush through a bill authorizing an issue of gold bonds but at the first hint of the scheme they discovered their error. The Democrats would not go so far as to support the resolution offered by Senator Allen, absolutely prohibiting any further increase in the bonded indebtedness of the country, but they will never allow a bill providing for an issue of gold bonds to pass, war or no war. They can be counted upon to give the administration every legitimate support in raising money to conduct the war, just as they have done up to this time, but they will never be tricked by any gold bond scheme.

Infernal Machine for McKinley

Washington, April 21.—An infernal machine was sent to the President to-day.

Fortunately its character was suspected and measures taken to prevent its explosion, and no harm was done.

The incident was carefully concealed, and every effort is being made to capture the sender. There was nothing to suggest from whom it came, and no clue was afforded.

The machine was inclosed in a harmless-looking cigar box.

An ingenious contrivance had been arranged, so that when the lid of the box was opened there would be a flash of powder which would explode a stick of giant powder sufficient to blow a man to atoms.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS.

Made by Orange Va., Observer

Don't let the Spanish needles stick you when you get to Cuba.

If blows of the mouth were cannon balls, Spain would have been swept from the map long ago.

In all this land of the brave and the free, there's no man more beloved than Gen. Fitzhugh Lee.

The soldier boys say they expect to have much fun in Cuba—so many balls down there, you know.

At last the truth is being heard in Congress—the honorable gentlemen are calling each other liars.

The "blue and the gray" in uniforms of brown will win a victory every day without a fear or frown.

Malaga grapes have become very sour since our consulate over there was attacked by the Spanish mob.—Better give them grape shot, quick!

Setting Type by Wire

Donald Murphy, a newspaper man of Sydney, New South Wales, has invented and patented a device by means of which an operator in New York, with a keyboard before him like that of an ordinary typewriter, not only can produce typewritten copy in New Orleans, but it is claimed, says the Press and Printer, that he can operate a typesetting machine there and deliver his matter in lead ready for the forms. Not only that, but the same operator, by using a number of telegraph lines, can set up the same copy simultaneously in a dozen different places. In this operation only ordinary currents are used, such as are capable of being relayed, and are subject to all conditions of ordinary telegraphy. The work can be done with the same speed as an ordinary typewriter is operated, and dispenses with all clock-work mechanism, synchronously moving type wheels and other cumbersome devices. It is said to be capable of manipulating eighty characters.

We are on the very edge of war, and now we recall the passage from the regular Sunday morning prayer of the late Rev. Jesse Rankin, of Lenoir, during the war between the States. After praying at length for the Southern soldiers on the tented field, he always closed with, "As for our enemies we ask nothing; we leave them to Thy righteous judgement." And may God defend the right!—Charlotte Observer.

A VOICE FROM SALISBURY.

Salisbury, N. C., Dec. 4, 1897.

From my own experience I have found Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy the best medicine known for building up the health in general. The greatest remedy in the world for dyspepsia, eczema, aches and pains and breaking up colds. Nine years ago I suffered with a chronic cold which resulted in a bronchial affection and repeated serious troubles of the throat, which was alarming. I was affected with something like croup and again and again for years was subject to attacks of laryngitis I tried Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and am now free of all those troubles and have been ever since and feel confident the Remedy has made the cure. I have kept it in my family for years and have always found it invaluable for old and young. The extraordinary effect of this grand remedy is sure to be realized by all who give it a fair trial.

Sincerely,

The Observer pauses amidst the activities incident to the war preparations, to repeat that while there is no public manifestation of admiration for him in any part of the country, its individual opinion is that nobody has borne himself any better throughout the whole business than Minister Woodford. In the first place, he has done his best to preserve peace. After that it is to be said that he has behaved, at the Spanish capital, surrounded by hostile influences, with admirable dignity and fine courage. His situation at Madrid has been no less perilous than that of Gen. Lee as Havana, but through it all he has never lost his nerve nor said or done anything that called for any American to blush for him. Let us render honor where honor is due.—Charlotte Observer.

There were differences amongst us before the trouble began, but it is now the patriotic duty of every citizen to list at least his sympathies and his moral support on the side of Uncle Sam. During the war between the States the best fighters the Confederacy had were men who clung to the Union until hostilities broke out.

A Missing Vase.
It turns out that the Peachblow vase is not in the art collection of the late Mr. Walters, of Baltimore, in whose possession it had been supposed to be. This famous little jug, which was intrinsically worth about two cents and which was sold at auction at the Morgan sale about eight years ago for $12,000, has disappeared from view as completely as if it had been buried in the earth. It looks very much as if the purchaser, whoever he was, was not proud of his judgment or of his investment.—Boston Herald.

Gone to Tennessee.

A private car of the Southern railroad was sent to Greenville Friday evening to take Mr. J. W. Morgan and family to Greenville, Tenn. For the last four or five years Mr. Morgan has been located here as buyer for the American Tobacco Company, but recently his health failed so rapidly that he had to give up his position, and desiring to return to his old home in Tennessee he decided to leave us. Not being strong enough to take the trip in an ordinary car, the special car was procured for his convenience. This car was attached to the regular north bound passenger train this morning, and took away Mr. and Mrs. Morgan and the latter's sister, Mrs. Malcom. Dr. Chas. O'H. Laughinghouse accompanied Mr. Morgan to make the entire trip with him, and Mr. H. W. Whedbee went part of the way. A large number of people were at the depot to bid Mr. Morgan and family goodbye. No people who have ever lived in Greenville were held in higher esteem than they, and all regretted to see them leave. We hope Mr. Morgan's health may be restored.

The American Tobacco Company sent the special car here for Mr. Morgan as an evidence of the high regard they also held for him. The Company did not hesitate to say that Mr. Morgan was one of the most conscientious, faithful employes they ever had. His every dealing bore the marks of the strict integrity and high character possessed by him.

AN IDYL OF SPRING.

The whitewasher sings a merry song
A song full of tender feeling,
As he dances the scaffolding along,
And slaps the stuff on the ceiling.
He slaps it on with a merry smile
That lights up his facial wrinkles,
And more on your overcoat and tile
Than upon the wall he sprinkles.

These Come and Go of Their Own Accord:

Keep it Up.

P. S. Mayfield, representing the millinery firm of Kaufman & Co., of Richmond, handed Mrs. L. Griffin $5 this morning for Hope Fire Co. Let the good work go on, as the boys want to have their engine house painted. The company through Mrs. Griffin return many thanks to the above firm.

Reflector Got a Share.

Two of the party who were out at the draining of the Forbes mill pond, Friday, remembered THE REFLECTOR with a part of their catch of fish. Mr. H. F. Keel brought us a fine chub, which he says was the largest one taken from the pond. Mr. J. J. Evans also brought us half a dozen smaller chub. Through the kindness of these two gentlemen we have enjoyed quite a feast.

Expecting Orders

Smith replied that the company was ready to go anywhere in the United States. Further correspondence is in progress between the officers.
