Plot to Assassinate Czar

By Cable to Reflector.
London, June 15—Advices from St.
Petersburg tell of a plot to assassinate the Czar at the consecration of the church at Usarskoe Seloe by undermining the spot where he was expected to stand. It is believed to be the work of secret police for a scare in view of the abolition of lucrative posts in that department.

French Cabinet

By Cable to Reflector.
Paris, June 15—The French Cabinet has decided to resign.

The Day in Congress

By Telegraph to Reflector.
Washington, June 15—Newland's Hawaii annexation resolution will come before the House this afternoon.
Washington, June 15—A bill passed the House granting American registers to foreign steamships, Specialist and Ulionist, to be used as transports.
Debate on the Hawaii annexation resolution resumed. Fitzgerald, of Massachusetts, arguing the opposition, said it violated the fundamental principles of the Democratic party. The government rested upon the consent of the government of forty thousand natives of Hawaii who were unconsulted in the matter of annexation. Berry, of Kentucky, followed, favoring annexation.
Said he was confident time would show the opponents their error. A vote will be taken before adjournment this afternoon. It will undoubtedly be adopted as a large majority, practically all Republicans and a number of Democrats will vote in its favor. The fight in the Senate will begin immediately. The only danger confronting the resolution there is the possible attempt at filibustering to prevent a quorum on the final vote.

A general deficiency bill appropriating $224,000,000, over $2,000,000 of which are for war purposes, was reported in the House this afternoon.

JUDICIAL CONVENTION.

A Democratic convention to nominate a candidate for Solicitor of the 3rd Judicial District of North Carolina, to be voted for at the ensuing November election, is hereby called to meet at 1 o'clock P. M., on July 6th, 1898, in the public hall at Rocky Mount.

The counties in the District that have not held conventions to select delegates to this convention will take notice hereof and govern themselves accordingly. By order of the Committee.

F. S. SPRULL,

Chm. Dem. Ex. Com. Third Judicial District.

The War Board.

There appears to be a great misconception on the part of the public and the newspapers as to the nature of this board, its composition, functions and manner of work. According to popular mind, this board sits in the navy department, and with autocrat orders, directs the movements of fleets and the execution of plans of campaigns down to the very smallest details. This conception has led to a good deal of comment, some humorous and some serious, at the expense of the board, and the idea had even spread to Europe, where so conservative a paper as The London Times has delivered itself of this criticism:

"It would be wise in the future to leave the direction of operations to naval commanders. Councils have never proved capable directors of war. Their proper function is to obtain information and to forward it to the admirals, who must be, as Nelson claimed the right to be, free to act when the opportunity arrived."

Now, Secretary Long is a member of the war board; at least he is frequently with it during its sessions, and he says that the views of The Times as to the proper functions of a war council express exactly the functions conferred upon and exercised by the naval war board. It has worked ceaselessly and intelligently to learn the movements of the enemy and the enemy's plans, and to gather all kinds of information that would be of value to the United States naval commanders now at sea. It has not undertaken to hamper them with unnecessary instructions, but, supplying them with all information obtainable that might assist, has kept ever in mind the principle that the commander on the spot is the person best qualified to act. The board has not made a single mistake since the beginning of the war, was the tribute that Secretary Long paid it.—Wil. Messenger.

The time is past for pushing into office immoral, bad men whose Democracy consists in what they can make and whose hurrah begins and ends in the five loaves and two fishes, very pertinently suggests the Wilmington Messenger.

Captain Henry's Adventures.

Capt. Charles Henry is a colored man somewhere around sixty years of age and lives at Beaufort, N. C., and is a native of this place. Whatever adventures Capt Henry had in his early days, are reserved for his later years an experience that would have tried the endurance and pluck of a much younger man.

On the 25th of last April he went fishing off the shoals that make down below Beaufort harbor. While twelve miles off Cape Lookout a violent storm came down upon his frail boat. It became unmanageable, the fury of the wind and the quickly raised seas dashed his craft about. It soon became a wreck and left the Captain clinging to the portions that the fury of the storm had spared.

Captain Henry drifted about in the ocean and was carried in a southerly direction. No help reached him until the second day of May. By that time he had reached South Carolina coast and was about thirty-five miles off Georgetown.

Here the steamer J. H. Miller bound from New York to Tampa, Florida, to be used to transport troops to Cuba, came in sight and picked up the castaway. He was taken on board and carried to Tampa. There he obtained passage on a vessel bound to Baltimore, and thence came by boat to Newbern where he arrived yesterday.

His friends all thought Capt. Henry was dead. They will welcome him home and he will be glad to get home after his hardships for he is as one "cast up by the sea."—Newbern Journal.

When The Big Guns Are fired.

The largest guns used in the navy are seldom used save for business; firing them is too expensive a matter. A letter received in Baltimore, Md, from a young officer on one of the battleships before Santiago de Cuba describes the sensations on board a ship when one of the guns goes off. The extract is from the Baltimore Sun:

"This was the first time that many of us had seen the big guns fired. The experience was novel and interesting. The handling room, from which the ammunition for the big guns is sent up on the hydraulic lifts, is in the lower part of the turret just under the breech of the 13-inch guns. This room after the firing ceased was eight inches deep in water. As soon as a gun is fired it is washed out with a hose, and the water pours down into the handling room, drenching the men at work there. When the big gun goes off the sensation all over the ship is one of jarring, and there is a great rush of air, but very little report within the ship."

In opposition to the idea that trusts cheapen the price of products to consumers, the News and Observer mentions the fact that the price of printing paper has advanced a half cent per pound since the organization of the paper trust, a few months ago.

General Woodford, ex-Minister to Spain, does not believe anybody need be in a hurry to obtain a commission in the army for fear that the opportunity to wear shoulder straps may vanish through an imminent termination of the war. His knowledge of the Spaniards enables him to say that they will see a victory in every defeat, and that "they will fight until they shall have been absolutely flattened out." Self-delusion is a characteristic trait of the countrymen of Don Quixote, and in their minds the incomplete or obsolete hulks at Cadiz and Carthage will be as readily transformed into invincible armadas as flocks of sheep were transformed into armies in the disordered brain of the Knight of the Rueful Countenance.—Philadelphia Record.

With the old hawk Cervera well caged at Santiago, the little butcher bird Temerario about to be hooted off its roost in Paraguay and the cuckoo Carranza routed out of the Canadian nest, the American eagle may take a high perch and complacently plume himself.

STRANGE, 'TIS PASSING STRANGE.

That All Who Suffer Do Not Use

MRS. JOE PERSON'S REMEDY.

HOPEWELL, MECKLENBURG CO N C. December 1st, 1896.

Last June I was suffering terribly from some bladder trouble which was so severe and extreme that the physicians said an operation would have to be performed and the stone crushed. I dreaded it so much and had so much faith in Mrs Joe Person's Wash that I determined to try it first and see what it would do. I applied it three times a day and in thirty six hours the inflammation subsided, the swelling and enlargement was reduced and the stone passed without any trouble. The stone was large and no one can know except those who have so suffered what it was. I do not believe I could have stood an operation and believe I would died had it not been for Mrs. Joe Person's Wash. If anyone is suffering from this bladder trouble let them try it. My pain would be so great I would have to be put in a tub of hot water to relieve those terrible paroxysms of pain. It made a perfect cure of me. Oh, that everyone could realize what a medicine is within reach and try it, how much suffering would be relieved. Mrs. Person herself does not say as much for her Remedy as it deserves.

His Opinion Changed.

Two citizens of Nebraska were caught in one of those violent funnelshaped clouds, and as they scooted along in the midst of the ruins of buildings and flying trees one of them remarked:

"This is the worst cyclone I ever saw."

"Ignorant man," cried the other in tones of scorn that were almost drowned by the rush of the storm, "can't you distinguish a cyclone from a tornado? Are the teachings of science altogether lost upon you? This is a tornado, and as described by Prof. Loveland and Meteorologist Gere, it is—"

Just then a church steeple transfixing the speaker and he perished in great agony, while the other man drifted along for ten miles or so and was dumped softly into the sandbank. As he brushed the sand out of his teeth and ears he remarked:

"Well, that was the worst cyclone I ever saw!"—Nebraska State Journal.

Youthful Forethought.

Mamma—Why, Johnny, how wet your hair is! I hope you haven't been in bathing when I told you you mustn't.

Johnny—But I fell into the water, mamma. You can't blame me for that.

Mamma—But how does it happen that your clothes are dry?

Johnny—I took them off just before I fell in. I thought you wouldn't like me to get 'em all wet.—Boston Transcript.

It is admitted by the Spaniards that thirty-six shells thrown by American war ships into one of the Havana batteries the other day resulted in the killing of a war horse. This is not a bad showing as bombardments go. The Germans at Belfort during the war of 1870-71 killed or seriously wounded only sixty persons with 99,453 projectiles, or an average of one victim for 1666 shells. We have killed a mule at Montanzas and a horse at a cost of less than 125 shells; by and by the Spaniards may grant that we have dismantled a few guns and done other damage. Truth-telling is hard work for people who are not used to it.—Philadelphia Record.

A Negro Controls the White Deaf, Dumb and Blind School.

There were more reasons than one why Jim Young, now a major, left his troops and came to Raleigh this week.

He controls the deaf, dumb and blind institution at Raleigh as absolutely as the Czar of Russia controls his private secretary. Not a move can be made in the white institution without his consent. He was here this week to press the screws on his white associates. He has given them notice that unless they let him run things as he pleases, he will turn out the white lady teachers in the white institution. There is no doubt of this.

How is it that Jim Young can kill and make alive? It is because Governor Russell gives him the power. His white associates on the board have no real commissions as directors. With possibly one exception each one of them has a string tied to his commission. He holds their signed resignations, to be accepted whenever they dare to go contrary to his orders. As Jim Young is the medium through which his orders are issued, they are all in the hollow of Jim Young's hand. If he chooses to squeeze Jim will squeeze if they refuse to sneeze when he takes snuff.

Here's a pretty howdy—do!
The chief educational institution of the state, established for the instruction of the white unfortunate children of the state, controlled by a negro politician, and controlled for political ends.

The people will not forget that Professor Chas. F. Meserve, a life-long republican, refused to serve on the board because of the low plane of public morals upon which Jim Young and Dan Russell ran it. Mr. B. F. Montague, long chairman of the board, was forced off because it was no place for a respectable man who desired a decently managed institution, and Mr. James Briggs, who had been on the executive committee for fifteen years, resigned for the same reason.

If the governor has any desire to have even a pretense of white rule of the white institution he ought to accept the resignation of Jim Young and his "dummies" and appoint decent white men to manage the white institution.
To continue the present control is to insult the unfortunate children of the state who have no other place at which they can secure instruction.—Raleigh

Sudden Death

Mr. Richard McGlohorn, of Winterville, died at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening. During the morning he was at his work and apparently in the best of health. About noon he was taken with a severe case of colic and an hour or so later went to a physician for relief. He was suffering such intense pain that a small dose of morphine was administered. It relieved him and soon after becoming quiet he went to sleep. He never woke again and died about 8 o'clock. Unfortunately Mr. McGlohorn had some heart trouble, of which the physician was not aware, and his constitution could not stand morphine.
