Are You Always Tired?

WINDSON, N. C., May 24, '97.

Five years ago I was completely run down from general debility. My liver didn't act, I had indigestion, I was just as nervous as I could be, and was always tired. The least exertion would bring on shortness of breath and it was a drag to me to keep up. A friend of mine who had been cured by using Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy told me to take it. I bought a dozen bottles and took it just because I knew I would have to try something. I suffered greatly from wakefulness, would lay awake often the greater part of the night, unable to rest or sleep. When I was on the second bottle I got so I could sleep, and when I had finished the six bottles I WAS WELL. Indigestion cured, that shortness of breath cured, and I feel like another person. Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy is a wonderful medicine. It did me more good than anything I ever took in my life.

TODAY'S WAR NEWS.

Troops Will Withdraw from Cuba—Diplomats Fix a Peace Plan—French Gunboat Stopped—Italian Squadron Sent to Spain.

Washington, July 15.—The surrender of Santiago yesterday means the cessation of hostilities in Cuba for the present, and it is believed that Spain will immediately sue for peace. The future plans of this government are not yet known, but it is likely our troops will be withdrawn from Cuba and sent to Porto Rico.

Martial law has been declared in Spain.

It is stated that diplomats have unofficially arranged these terms of peace: The United States to exchange the Philippines for Porto Rico, the Cubans are to be given independence, and the United States to have a coaling station in the Philippines. These terms may be agreeable to Spain but just wait a little while and the United States will not have to exchange for Porto Rico. It will be ours by conquest. Then we need also a coaling station on the Canaries. These, with an indemnity covering the cost of the war, Diplomats would do well to consider in making their proposals if they want Uncle Sam to listen.

A French gunboat tried to force an entrance to the harbor of Guantanamo but was stopped by a solid shot from the Marblehead.

It is rumored that the Italian squadron has been ordered to the Spanish coast.

Advices from Havana say that Governor General Blanco attempted suicide when he learned of the destruction of Cervera's fleet.

LETTER FROM WALTER PENDER.

Describing the Engagement Off Santiago.

Mr. W. I. Pender, of this town, who was one of the crew of the Merrimac before that boat was sunk to block the channel at Santiago, and who was transferred to the crew of the Marblehead, writes another interesting letter to a friend here at home from which we are permitted to make some extracts for REFLECTOR readers. This letter bears date of July 3rd, and was written on Sunday afternoon after the destruction of the Spanish fleet.

The letter describes the scene as thrilling and awful. The whole coast during the fight seemed as Dante pictures the "Infernal Regions," with the sea on fire, the smoke of torment ascending from the very bowels of the deep, the deafening roar as if the earth had blown up from the centre, fire and smoke bursting from the sides of all the war ships in a fury that was appalling, the sea purple with blood of the dead and wounded. Mr. Pender says description of the scene is impossible and he never wants to see the like again.

He speaks of the horrors of the war and the great distress of the Cubans and the refugees from Santiago. Starved almost to famishing, naked, no shelter, and always expecting to be slaughtered they are a picture pitiable to look upon.

The Marblehead is engaged in taking mines from the harbor at Guantanamo and will soon be taking them out of the Santiago harbor. All the American soldiers, he says, are recklessly brave and daring in the fight, but kind and humane to the Spanish prisoners and refugees who are astonished that they are not killed when entering the American lines. The wonder of the world is that the Cubans should show any mercy to the Spaniards falling into their hands, when their homes have been ruthlessly destroyed, their families brutally outraged, stripped and murdered, and children—infants—taken up on bayonets thrust through and and through and carried in insolent savagery as trophies of their wicked, cruel, bloodthirsty brutality.

The torpedo boats of the navy had a regular carnival after the capture of Cervera and the destruction of his fleet and the killing of hundreds of the seaman who floated around the Marblehead, with the sharks and other cadaverous monsters of the sea chasing and destroying the dead and wounded. On all the boats the soldiers raised brooms over the smoke stacks indicating a "clean sweep." A large shark was taken on board the Marblehead with a dead Spaniard, half dozen Marine knives and a machete in its stomach. Walter has one of these knives and the machete as a trophy and he will send them to his best girl back in the Old North State. The teeth of the Spanish seaman taken from the shark were distributed among the crew, Walter getting the left eye tooth to his lot. His valuables were turned over to the officers and a decent sea burial was given his body.

Thousands of scraps of the Victoria were eagerly sought by the American soldiers as souvenirs and trophies of the great battle. The flag of the Colon is regarded as the most elaborate of its kind in the Spanish navy and will be sent to the war department at Washington. Great distinction will doubtless be conferred upon Capt. Wainright, of the Gloucester, the brave fellow, who received Admiral Cervera and treated him with a courtliness that won the esteem of the gray haired Spaniard and caused him to shed tears. When Admiral Cervera learned that Commander Wainright was one of the crew of the ill fated Maine, his congratulations of the brave officer brought him to a flood of tears in which all the crew of the Gloucester joined.

Walter says he longs for a milk shake from Shelburn's and a smile from his Greenville girl, and appreciates a copy of THE REFLECTOR as much as he would a gold bond of our government. He says nothing can be bought there with "Uncle Sam's" money. In fact there is nothing to sell in Cuba except skeletons of Cubans and Spanish soldiers.

This is the wet season and it rains from three to six hours every day, invariably in the afternoon. It is a beautiful sight after a heavy rain when the clouds have passed away and the sun comes out just before setting. Great floods of water come dashing down the mountain glistening in the sunlight. Our soldiers sometimes stand under the falls to take a shower bath and it is grand. Occasionally a dead Spaniard who has been shot by some Cuban soldier, is washed down in the torrents, and a rush is made to obtain whatever may be found on his body in the way of relics. A pair of handsome gold spurs were recently taken from the body of a scout who belonged to one of the oldest royal families of Spain. They were found by a Texan belonging to Roosevelt's rough riders and were sent to Hon. W. J. Bryan, our next President.

Other thrilling incidents are related in Walter's interesting letter. He is becoming a hero in the Spanish-American war and the people at home are proud of the record he is making.

LOST.—Somewhere on the public road between Whichard station and the home of Mr. G. M. Mooring a small double case gold watch with red, white and blue chord attached, was lost. Finder will be liberally rewarded for the return of same.

FRIDAY, JULY 15, 1898.

THE SECOND REGIMENT DIVIDED.

The officers and members of the Second Regiment, in camp at Raleigh, were very much surprised over orders received from headquarters on Wednesday, the nature of the orders being so different from what was looked for. The regiment was wishing and expecting early orders to move to the front. But instead of this the regiment is to be divided, half the companies to be sent to do garrison duty at Southern forts the others to remain, at least for the present, in camp at Raleigh.

The following are the companies that have been selected by Col. Burgwyn to compose the detail and the points of destination to which they will proceed is also given:

Company A, Captain R. B. Huske of Fayetteville, to Tybee Island, near Savannah, Ga.

Company C, Captain Edmund Jones, of Lenor, to Fort Francis, St. Augustine, Fla.

Company D, Captain R. P. Gray, of Greensboro, to Fort Royal, S. C.

Company F, Captain S. J. Cobb, of Lumber Bridge, to Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Ga.

Company I, Captain C. W. Jeffreys, of Tarboro, to Fort Francis, St. Augustine, Fla.

Company M, Captain Joseph W. Cooper, of Murphy, to Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Ga.

Maj. John W. Cotton of the Third Battalion, will accompany his command. His headquarters will be at Fort Francis, St. Augustine, Fla.

Major Wilder, of the First Battalion, will accompany the two companies of his command to Tybee Island, near Savannah, Ga., where he will make his headquarters.

The Second Battalion and two companies of the First remain at Camp Russell intact. They are:

Company B, Captain W. T. R. Bell, of Rutherfordton.

Company H, Captain John W. Wagner, Jr., of Ashville.

Company L, Captain J. F. Gibson, of Nantabala.

Company E, Captain J. T. Smith of Greenville.

Company G, Captain Robert L. Durham, of Gastonia.

Company K, Captain Donald MacRae, of Wilmington.

Col. Burgwyn and his staff officers, together with the band, will remain with half of the regiment. Major Dixon and Adjutant Clark will also remain.

Hayes and the Farmer.

It is told of ex-President Rutherford B. Hayes, that, while attending school at Kenyon College he was in the habit of taking daily walks into the country.

These trips were shared by two intimate companions, who were of a fun-loving disposition, which frequently got them into trouble. On one occasion they more than met their match at repartee in an old farmer who met them on the highway. The long white beard of the farmer gave him a patriarchal appearance, and while he was approaching the student's arranged to give him a "jollying" which eventually terminated in the discomfiture of the youths.

One of them doffed his hat with great reverence and respect as he said: "Good morning, Father Abraham!"

The second saluted the old farmer and said, "Good morning, Father Isaac!"

Mr. Hayes, not to be outdone in affability and politeness, extended his hand as he said, "Good morning, Father Jacob!"

Ignoring the outstretched hand of Mr. Hayes, the old farmer replied: "Gentleman, you are mistaken in the man. I am neither Abraham, Isaac nor Jacob, but Saul, the son of Kish, who was sent out to seek his father's asses, and, lo! I have found them."—Boston Herald.

The Way to Peace.

If the United States were at war with a sane nation, having a government controlled by the ordinary dictates of common sense there would have been a plea for peace weeks ago—surely after the destruction of the only efficient squadron which it had afloat.

But there is no reckoning on Spain. The ignorance of its people is so dense, the Government is so much more concerned for the safety of the dynasty than for the welfare of the nation, that it will apparently not yield until thoroughly smashed.

Therefore the quickest and the only way to peace is to "push things" and to smash them! When Santiago shall be taken Hayaca should be shelled and Porto Rico seized. The news that Watson's fleet will start at once for the coast of Spain is a better pledge of peace than all the rumors that burden the cables.

The time for diplomacy is long past. A little more hard hitting and we shall be able to dictate the terms of peace.—New York World

The War Tax

Here are some of the things that must be done under the provisions of the new war tax law:

Put a two-cent revenue stamp on every check or sight draft.

Cancel the stamp by writing on it with ink your initials and date.

Put a two-cent stamp on every inland bill of exchange, time draft, promissory note or money order for each $100.

Pay one cent extra on each telegraph message sent.

Pay eight cents per $100 on each life insurance policy, unless taken on the industrial weekly payment plan, when the charge is 40 per cent of the first weekly payment.

Pay 25 cents on each one-year lease, 50 cents on a lease between one and three years, and $1 on a lease exceeding three years.

Pay 25 cents on each mortgage between $1,000 and $1,500, and 25 cents on each $500 additional.

Pay 10 cents extra every time you occupy a seat or berth in a parlor or sleeping car.

Pay a tax ranging from 75 cents to $15 per $100 on legacies above $10,000, according to the total value.

Pay 50 cents tax on a surety bond.

Pay one cent a pint on wines.

Pay 25 cents on each protested note.

Democratic Hand Book.

Chairman Simmons, of the Democratic State Executive Committee, has entered upon the duties of that position with an earnestness that presages success. Among other things he has determined upon a Democratic hand-book, comparing Democratic rule with that which now prevails, and has secured the assistance in its preparation of ex-Senator Jarvis and Hon. Samuel A. Ashe. The people will not only be supplied with unadulterated Democracy, but the contrast between Democratic rule and Russell-Butlerism will be presented "true to nature," so truthfully, fairly, justly, that all way-farers may understand. We congratulate the chairman and the people upon this arrangement. Raleigh Post.

Glorious Victories do not Make War Glorious.

"Glorious" victories do not make war glorious. The sinking of Cervera's fleet cost us only one life. How many lives it cost the Spaniards is not definitely known, but the number was not small, and some of the incidents of the day are shocking to contemplate. Capt. Evans, of the Iowa, reports that wounded sailors while swimming ashore were shot by the insurgents in the bushes; sharks pulled down many more behind the reef; the fires roasted others to death, and buzzards still swarm about the wrecks. Glorious victories do not make war glorious.—Charleston News and Courier.

Choice of Texts.

In the matter of the choice of texts, a curious thing happened to a curate whom I knew on his return from his wedding tour. He only reached home on Saturday evening, when he found a letter from his vicar asking him to preach the next sermon, as he knew he had a sermon not yet preached in the parish which would fit in with the Advent course of sermons then being given. The sermon was on the "Parable of the Ten Virgins." The curate, who preached written sermons, did not look at this particular one till the next morning, half an hour before service, when to his horror he found that his text was, "Behold the bridegroom cometh," and indeed this was the constant refrain of the sermon. It was too late to change, and so he put the best face he could upon it. The congregation may have forgotten the sermon, but they have not forgotten the text.—Cornhill Magazine.

Paradox.

The man who treasures up his speech—
To cite a general rule—
Is either a philosopher,
Or else he is a fool.

The man who talks and talks and talks
Belongs to the same class;
He's wiser, even, than a sage,
Or else he is an ass.

Mixed Everything Except Vaccination.

An old Georgia dandy, with his arm in a sling, was talking to another on a West End car.

"Yes, sub!" he said with emphasis, "I gone up now, fer sho! You see dis arm in de sling, don't you?"

"Yes."
"Well, sub," the old man continued by way of explanation, "I'll be 80 years old next harvest; I done sees lots of trouble in my day, but by de grace er God I miss de Ku-Klux, I miss de Vigilance Committee, I miss de White-caps, en I miss de Regulators, but now, in my old age, please God, de waxinators kitched en cut me!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Rye as Hog Feed.

On light, sandy soil, corn is a very uncertain crop, and many seasons it will not yield so much grain as a crop of rye which usually succeeds well there. Some farmers on sandy land grow rye to feed their hogs. It is excellent for growing pigs, but when fattening time comes some corn should be fed, even though it has to be purchased.

A New Theory.

A schoolboy was asked to explain the formation of dew. His answer was: "The earth revolves on an axis every twenty-four hours, and in consequence of the tremendous pace at which it travels it perspires freely."—Tit-Bits.

The Manufacture of Alibis.

"In all my experience at the bar," said a Chicago lawyer, "I never had so close a shave as Judge Blank gave me. I was defending a man charged with larceny and had worked up a beautiful alibi for him. I brought in four fellows who swore positively that at the very hour when the crime was committed the prisoner was working as a bricklayer, with themselves, upon a building in process of erection on a certain corner 'way out in the southwestern part of the city."

"Everything was working smoothly and my client seemed practically a free man, when suddenly the judge aroused himself from a doze and blurted out: 'Say, hold on a minute! Where is that building located?'"

"I instantly told him, giving the exact location by streets and the lot number."

"Well, that's queer," the court continued. "I've owned that lot for the past six years and I never knew before that there was any kind of a building on it."

"But the jury evidently preferred to believe my witnesses instead of believing the judge, for they acquitted my man just the same. I don't violate any confidence now, however," he added, "in admitting that Judge Blank probably will not have to pay taxes on the building which my witnesses erected on the lot."
HE WAS A BRIGHT BOY.

Got the Best of His Father in a Matter of Pronunciation.

There is a certain man who by the sweat of his brow—in summer time—earns his bread as a government official with an office in the big State, War and Navy building, relates the Washington Star. He also earns bread for a wife and three likely children and a servant, who manages to carry a slice of pie along home with her bread about three evenings in the week. But that is the cook's privilege always.

This official has a son aged thirteen, who is very nearly as sharp as the father thinks himself to be, especially in those things that everybody ought to know and not one person in a dozen does know. About three times a week the father comes to the office loaded with some new information which he seeks to impart to his fellow-clerks by the inductive method. That is, he induces them to show how little they know, then he springs it on them. His strong point is words and their pronunciation, and he thinks he is an authority.

The other evening while he was entertaining three or four of his office friends at a small supper the eldest boy spoke up from the far end of the table: "Say, pop," he inquired, "how do you pronounce N-e-w-o-n-e-?" and the youth spelled it out slowly.

"I presume," replied the father with the courage of his convictions, "that it is an Indian name, and by the rule I would pronounce it Ne-wo-ny."

"But that isn't the way," dissented the boy.

The father was never more surprised in his life.

"I don't quite see how it would be euphonious any other way," he said, with a mild air of offended intelligence.

"What's the matter with pronouncing it new one?" inquired the boy, with a loud irreverent ha ha, and the blow almost killed father.

COTTON SITUATION

The REFLECTOR is in receipt of the following letter from Messrs. Cobb Bros. & Co., cotton and peanut merchants of Norfolk, relative to the cotton crop and prices:

NORFOLK, Va., July 14, 1898.

DEAR SIR:—During past week the cotton market has evinced a steady conservative undertone, based largely upon the belief by the majority of the trade that the weather in the cotton belt has been very favorable for the material development and fruiting of the plant. Europe whose faith in official utterances, like the bureau report, is always pronounced, appears from the improved tenor of business and values in Liverpool today to have taken serious notice of the unsatisfactory weather which has so far prevailed for the growing crop. Values today for new crop months are from 91 to 114 points below this date last year, and we think this fact should seem to impress the minds of operators as to the very conservative basis of present values, especially in view of the threatening contingencies surrounding the crop.

Yours truly,
COBB BROS. & CO.

The Spanish government has issued a loan of 500,000,000 pesetas in Treasury bonds at 5 per cent. of which the Bank of Spain takes 200,000,000.

In this kind of weather clean linen is conducive to comfort. Send in your laundry in time for Wednesday's shipment and get your work done right.

HUGH SHEPPARD, Agent.

Dr. Byers, Eye Specialist.

THE REFLECTOR a few days ago announced the presence in Greenville of Dr. W. A. Byers, of this State, who visits our town professionally. Dr. Byers is a specialist in the treatment of diseases of the eye, and has the reputation of being one of the most scientific men in his line that can be found in the country. He comes highly endorsed and bears the very strongest testimonials both as to his character as a gentleman and to his skill and ability in his profession. Leading physicians, clergymen, professional and business men generally, as well as hundreds of grateful patients, give cheerful testimony to these facts, and he is provided with letters to show that he is just what he claims to be—master of his profession.

Coming a stranger into the town, Dr. Byers first desired to become somewhat acquainted and show who he is before opening his office. This he has done in Greenville. Among those he has visited are our excellent resident physicians, to whom he has shown his credentials and testimonials which were recognized as sufficient to secure their unqualified endorsement.

Dr. Byers will remain in Greenville a short while and those who are suffering in any way with their eyes will find it to their interest to call on him. Perhaps no other organ of the body is so much abused and neglected as that most useful of all members, the eye. Its very delicate nature makes it doubly important that we be particular about whom we consult in the hope of obtaining relief when the eye needs treatment. Dr. Byers' letters and endorsements show that no mistake is made in consulting him.

His office in Greenville will be in the parlor of the Osmund House, on Dickinson avenue. As this name, which has been given the house since Mr. W. F. Morrill turned it into a hotel, may not be familiar to all our readers, we will say that it is the splendid building formerly used by Mr. W. H. White as his residence. Dr. Byers can be found there and will be glad to have all call who may wish to consult him. Consultation and preliminary tests free.

Courage

Courage is to business what the band spring is to a watch. It is the fire inside the locomotive. It is the soul of all human enterprise. With it a merchant may achieve success, even though he lack many of the finer business qualities. Without it success is impossible. The world will never cease to admire the man who does the right thing a little in advance of others. Fortune favors him who dares. Rewards of trade are reserved for the man who looks ahead and who has the courage to act upon the evidence of his eyes.—Dry Goods Reporter.

In Dull Time.

Few men punish their stomachs for the sins of their business. Folks eat three times a day in dull times and in good times, and if they eat they must have things to eat, and they will buy those things of the man who tells them that he has them for sale. Folks may not buy as much furniture in dull times, nor as much of some other things which can be waited for, but they will buy what they have to have, and they will think about buying what they want. In dull times people select the articles—and continue to think about them—which they propose to purchase when times are good, and the progressive advertiser reaches the thinking public and places it in a frame of mind to do future business with him.—Ad Book.
