Are You Always Tired?

WINDSON, N. C., May 24, '97.

Five years ago I was completely run down from general debility. My liver didn't act, I had indigestion, I was just as nervous as I could be, and was always tired. The least exertion would bring on shortness of breath and it was a drag to me to keep up. A friend of mine who had been cured by using Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy told me to take it. I bought a dozen bottles and took it just because I knew I would have to try something. I suffered greatly from wakefulness would lay awake often the greater part of the night, unable to rest or sleep. When I was on the second bottle I got so I could sleep, and when I had finished the six bottles I WAS WELL. Indigestion cured, that shortness of breath cured, and I feel like another person. Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy is a wonderful medicine. It did me more good than anything I ever took in my life.

TODAY'S WAR NEWS.

Surrender Completed and Stars and Stripes Raised.

Washington, July 18.—The suspense over the surrender of the Spanish forces at Santiago to the American army has passed, and on Sunday morning the Spanish colors were lowered and the American flag raised over the city.

After the agreement to surrender had been announced there was much delay and parleying over terms. General Toral wanted all the arms of the Spanish soldiers returned with them to Spain. The American government declined to accede to this but decided that the arms will be retained by this government. The number of Spanish soldiers under the surrender is 24,000, and these will be transported to Spain.

These are the terms agreed upon:

Twenty thousand refugees to go back to Santiago.

American infantry to patrol roads surrounding city.

Our hospital corps to attend sick and wounded Spanish soldiers.

All Spanish troops in Santiago province except 10,000 under Gen. Luque at Holquin, are to come to Santiago and surrender.

The guns and defences of the city to be turned over in good condition.

Americans to have full control of Juragua railroad.

Spanish troops to surrender their arms.

All Spaniards to be conveyed to Spain and to take portable church property.

Spaniards to co-operate in destroying harbor mines.

The final report of the American losses at Santiago show a total of 1,914 officers and men killed, wounded and missing. The killed number 246, of whom 21 were officers; missing 84, including no officers.

The German artillery at Charleston fired a salute over the surrender of Santiago.

Active preparations are now in progress for the invasion of Porto Rico.

Admiral Cervera and forty Spanish naval officers have reached Annapolis and been assigned to quarters. Secretary Long has decided that the Admiral may secure a parole if certain details can be arranged and he wishes to do so.

President McKinley and Secretary Alger sent congratulatory telegrams to General Shafter, expressing the thanks and admiration of the American people for the brilliant work of his command at Santiago.

OVER THE COUNTRY.

The mines are being removed from New York harbor.

New York Custom House officials imposed a tax on George Gould's imported art treasures.

The Pacific Coast Steamship Company, at Seattle, Wash., will establish a line of steamers to Manila.

Governor Black, of New York, will not approve the bill to increase the debt limit of New York city.

Work is practically suspended at Cudahy's packing house, in Omaha, Neb., caused by a strike, over 3,000 men being out.

Anthony Pollock, the patent attorney, of Washington, D. C., who, with his wife, was lost on La Bourgogne, left $750,000, the bulk of which goes to his three nieces in Paris.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

They Meet and Read a Slate.

There was an ideal Republican county convention here this afternoon, at least a farce of a convention was held. Previous notice had been given for primaries to be held in the several townships to select delegates to this county convention. It is presumed these primaries were held, but the delegates got no voice in the county convention proceedings.

There were six white men and about forty colored men present. J. J. Perkins, county chairman, took the chair and kept it, as no regular organization was effected.

Sam Humphrey was there with a stick to holler for order when the chairman could not maintain it.

The convention started off with a wrangle. A slate had been prepared, and the originators wanted to shove this through without having any organization. A. M. Moore and C. M. Bernard pushed the slate scheme and G. W. Cox backed by several colored men opposed it. By the use of gag rule the slate was carried through and the list of delegates to State, Congressional and Judicial conventions was read and declared adopted.

J. T. Moya got the floor and offered a resolution. This resolution jumped on Congressman Skinner with both feet for not having done anything for the negroes of his district since he has been in office. It recalled Skinner's assertion in the Court House here two years ago that "the negro is not fit to hold office," and added that his actions since that time have proven that "he meant what he said." Henry Vines, Tom Wilks and some others manifested their approval of the resolutions as the reading progressed.

This resolution created much uneasiness among Bernard, Moore and the other slate crowd and they were seen to do some hasty conferring. As soon as the reading of Moya's resolution ended A. M. Moore arose to offer a substitute which was read amid confusion and cries for the original resolution. A vote on the substitute was put and declared carried, though to an outsider it sounded like the "nays" outnumbered the "ayes" two to one.

It looked like a general rumpass would follow but the immediate putting of a motion to adjourn and declaring its adoption brought the proceedings to a close.

After the adjournment there were mutterings among Cox and those who wanted to proceed under regular organization, that such proceedings would be heard from when voting time comes.

In Summer

Methods of advertising have materially changed in the past few years. Ten years ago the summer season, beginning in June, saw a reduction in advertising space. The feeling was that it was the dull season of the year and people would not buy, as they were about to begin the vacation season. Shrewd advertisers saw their advantage and advertised more liberally than had been their custom. Competition was sharp and there was a struggle for what little money was afloat. The idea has grown, and now the man who wants the buyers to come to him has to be as sharp in calling attention to his wares at any other season of the year. Given a good medium, the man who does not cut down his advertising space in summer is the man who has the largest sales.—Ex.

A man lost his hat and went into a gun store to get a cap.

MONDAY, JULY 18 1898.

A Great Summer Gathering for Sunday School Workers.

THE NORTH CAROLINA BAPTIST SUNDAY SCHOOL CHAUTAUQUA.

Shelby, August 28-29, 1898.

The programme of the Sixth Annual Session of the North Carolina Baptist Sunday School Chautauqua has been issued and presents many very attractive features for Sunday School workers.

The meeting occurs at Shelby, N. C., beginning Tuesday, August 23rd, and closing Sunday, August 28th, 1898. The citizens of Shelby have erected a large, well lighted and splendidly ventilated Tabernacle for the meetings, and have arranged for a full supply of mineral water conducted through pipes from the famous Springs near by.

The Railroads of the State will sell round-trip tickets for one first class fare, and the hotels in Shelby and at Cleveland Springs will furnish board at $1.00 per day or $5.00 for six days.

Prof. H. A. Wolfsohn, of Atlanta, Ga., a fine singer himself, will lead the vocal music, sustained by a choir of about 200 voices.

Mr. John W. Cheek, of Raleigh will be the leader of the orchestra of about 20 musicians.

Among the noted speakers and specialists on the programme from other States are: Rev. Dr. J. M. Frost, Nashville, Tenn.; Rev. L. E. Peters, West Virginia; Rev. Dr. C. S. Blackwell, Birmingham, Ala.; Rev. Dr. W. A. Nelson, Macon, and Dr. Len G. Broughton, of Atlanta, Ga.

Prof. W. L. Potat and C. E. Brewer, of Wake Forest College; Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, of Greenville; Prof. J. L. Dickey of Asheville; Prof. Crittenden, of Concord; Rev. Dr. Barron, of Charlotte; Prof. John E. Ray, and others of our own State are among those who are to give illustrations of teaching, addresses, normal lessons, &c.

Mr. W. H. Dodd and wife, of Raleigh, who have had more than thirty years experience in Primary Class work, assisted by Mr. Jo. H. Weathers and wife, of the Baptist Tabernacle School of Raleigh, will give practical illustrations of work among the little folks, using Kindergarten methods, &c.

The President of the Chautauqua, assisted by Rev. B. W. Spilman, the Corresponding Secretary, and the local committee of Shelby, are working to bring a great crowd at this meeting, surpassing, if possible, the crowds that have attended the sessions heretofore.

While it is expected that the Baptist Sunday Schools of the State will send representatives, a cordial invitation is extended to all who feel interested to be present.

We believe these great summer gatherings are not only very helpful to those who attend, but the influence is rapidly spreading over our State and quickening our Sunday School work all along the lines.

Meeting this year at Shelby, near the mountains, a fine opportunity is afforded our people for taking a week of recreation in connection with great spiritual and intellectual enjoyment.

N. B. BROUGHTON, President.

Telegraph Companies Win

Washington, July 14.—The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that all telegraphic messages must be stamped by the senders, as shown in the following letter mailed today: "Western Union Telegraph Company, New York.

"Gentlemen: Upon the question as to whose duty it is to affix a stamp required by the Act of June 12, 1898, to each telegraphic message offered for transmission you are advised that this office rules that this duty devolves upon the person who makes, signs or issues the message.

"Section 7 of the act provides that if any person or persons shall make, sign or issue any instrument, document or paper of any description whatsoever, without the same being duly stamped for denoting the tax thereon, the said person or persons shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof, shall pay a fine of not more than $100. Telegraphic dispatches are enumerated in the act as requiring the documentary one cent stamp.

"Section 18 of the act imposes upon the telegraph company a penalty of $10 for transmitting any dispatch or message that has not been stamped in accordance with section 7.

"You are further advised that the exemption of the messages of officials and employes of railroad companies as provided in section 18, is strictly limited to the transmission of those messages between stations on the respective systems of railroads of the railroad companies. All dispatches or messages of railroad officials and employes sent from railroad stations on their respective railroads must be stamped by their makers, signers or issuers, in accordance with section 7.

(Signed) "N. B. SCOTT," Commissioner.

The report of the grand jury on the condition of affairs at the County Home reveals a state of affairs that is a discredit to the county. The system of consigning these unfortunate people to care of the lowest bidder is cold blooded cruelty that should be discountenanced in any civilized community. We understand that the price paid to the present keepers of the Home is only $2.00 a month each. They cannot afford at this price to give the inmates the care the county owes them. Here is a good field for reform. A new system should be adopted. —Newton Enterprise.

As finally reported to the Adjutant General at Washington, the list of killed and wounded in the fighting at Siboney on July 1 and 2 took up to 22 officers and 208 men killed, 81 officers and 1,203 men wounded, and 79 enlisted men missing—the latter probably for the most part among the dead. The total loss of 1,594, which is extraordinarily large in proportion to the number of men engaged, may be set down as the costly premium paid by our commanders for experience with modern weapons and means of defense behind entrenchments. They know now that to assault an entrenched enemy from the open field is only to waste human life.—Philadelphia Record.

One of the captive officers of the Cristobol Colon when asked what had become of the heavy turret guns of his ship (which it appears had never been mounted) shrugged his shoulders and replied: "Probably the Minister of Marine has them in his pocket." The shameless knavery of Spanish officials who would not hesitate to send a man of war into battle stripped of her chief weapons of offense in order to make illegitimate profits is at the bottom of Spain's domestic and colonial troubles. It would be impossible to match Spanish official corruption anywhere outside of Turkey or China. Lord Salisbury hit the nail squarely on the head when in his recent address to the Primrose League he numbered the Spaniards, together with the Turks and Chinese, among the "dying nations" of the world.—Philadelphia Record.

The very air of Kansas seems to be conducive to the growth of unique lawsuits, and another peculiar legal contest has just come to notice. On July 4 a young man of Stockton took his best girl to a picnic, but she accepted so many attentions from another suitor during the jollification that No. 1 became sulky and went home, leaving her to follow as best she could. The girl hired a conveyance in which to return, for which her father paid 75 cents. The angry parent presented a bill to the sulky suitor, and, upon the refusal of the latter to pay, entered suit before a justice of the peace. Both parties have retained lawyers, and say that they will fight the case to the bitter end.

A GEORGIAN SNUFFBOX.

Though fallen from your high degree,
 Once tapped by princely fingers,
 You breathe of more than "burnt rappee."
 Round you a memory lingers
 Of those wild days of wine and wit,
 Of patch, peruke and passion,
 When sprightly Oldfield ruled the pit
 And Hervey led the fashion,
 When Walpole trimmed the ship of state
 To meet each Tory billow,
 When "poet Pug" lampooned the great,
 When Pulteney played Spadillo,
 When "worthless Moll" amused the court
 With philosophic chatter,
 When Bolingbroke pledged deep in port
 "The king across the water"
 When flashed the lightnings of the dean
 To blind the eyes of Stells,
 When soothing Congreve vowed with spleen
 The wares of Gay prunella,
 When, sated with the board's delights
 (For Georgian bucks were gluttons),
 The town sparks sought the shades of
 "White's"
 Or tossed the dice at "Button's,"
 When tabinets were all the vogue
 For feminine adorning,
 When Irish Biddy raised her brogue
 And clacked her pails at morning,
 When long and loud the conflict raged
 Betwixt the Macaroni
 As each his diva's cause engaged—
 Faustina or Cuzzoni.

Old snuffbox, could you thrill to speech,
 In gossip none were greater,
 Whose chronicles exceed the reach
 Of Tatler or Spectator.
 But, ah, as dumb as dead Queen Anne,
 You lie in peace unbroken,
 A remnant of the Georgian span,
 A Hanoverian token!
 —Louis J. McQuilland in Saturday Review.

PROUD OF HIS ENGLISH.

The Austrian Gentleman Helps Entertain an American Tourist.

An American physician was invited to dine at the house of a prominent journalist in Budapest. He was introduced to an Austrian who, the host whispered proudly, spoke English fluently.

"I saw that Mr. Fehevary was not at his ease, for his English and reputation were at stake," says the doctor.

"Our Magyar friends immediately wished us to speak English to each other, and a circle was formed around us, as if we were two prize-fighters ready for the fray. I said: 'How do you do, Mr. Fehevary?' 'Most vell,' he answered bravely.

"Where did you study English?" "In myself," he said, with great effort."

The young woman the doctor took out to dinner had come in from the country especially to meet him. She was much disappointed to find the gentleman from America was white. She plied him with all manner of questions. Dinner began with chicken soup, "and," continues the narrator, "of course my neighbor asked did we eat soup in America.

"Next came roast goose that melted upon the lips like butter. Green peas were the wheels of its chariot.

"Do you have geese?" my neighbor asked.

"Plenty of them," I said.

"Are they as good as those in Hungary?"

"I wanted to say much better because the kind I meant asked no questions, but I controlled myself and said instead that they couldn't compare with Hungarian geese. Spring chicken, fried in olive oil—the chicken better than the goose—was the third course.

"Do you have chickens?" queried my interlocutor, "and what do you do with them?"

"That depends upon their age," I said. Dessert, which has no namesake this side of the Atlantic, followed. Fruit and wine, the ladies also partaking of the latter, closed the dinner, but not the mouth of my inquisitive neighbor.

"Do the girls dress differently from the boys? Do you have bath-rooms?"

"Yes, and we take a bath once in awhile."

"How large a city is America?"

"Considerably larger than Budapest."

"At this point our hostess rising afforded me a blessed release from the witness stand. The gentlemen were going to the coffee house to read the papers, and the ladies would follow in an hour, I was told. Mr. Fehevary kept at a safe distance from me all the time. I saw him handling a pocket dictionary and knew he was getting loaded with something, for he looked very studious, and his lips were moving incessantly. At last he seemed to have it, for a look of triumph came over his face.

"We were ready to go. The servants all stood in a row, waiting for a fee. Mr. Fehevary couldn't go to the coffee house—he was too busy—but he followed me to the door, and, in hearing of all the Estetys, the whole newspaper staff, and the servants, male and female, he said triumphantly as he shook my hand: 'I been entused to make your connections'—What to Eat.

Spanish Soldiers in Cuba.

Spanish officials claim that the number of men in the field is 268,000, though unofficial statements declare that battle and disease have reduced this number one half.

Spain's soldiers are all conscripts, dragged reluctantly from their homes.

Spain's "reserves" now in the field are 70 per cent. boys between fifteen and eighteen years of age, all serving under compulsion.

Spain's rifle is the Mauser and Lebel, both modern weapons.

Spain's firearms carry a bullet much further than ours, and the wound inflicted is much more severe, but their aim is so bad that they are unable to take advantage of this mechanical superiority.

Spain's troops are drilled steadfastly by trained military men. They are uniformly armed and equipped.

Spain's army has suffered frightfully from the lack of medicines, appurtenances and from official rascality, as well as the neglect of hygienic precautions.

The poor conscripts of Spain are dirty and illiterate to the last degree being peasant children for the most part and ne'er-do-wells.
