Tetter on the Hands.

For several years I was a sufferer from Tetter on my hands. It would come in little watery pimples, and the itching was almost more than I could stand. The skin was tender and the itching would swell so I could hardly bend my fingers. Sometimes my hands would become perfectly raw from the scratching or breaking of the pimples. When I was in this condition I tried one-half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and some Wash in 1884, and by the time I took it my hands were cured, and I am now well of the trouble. It has since broken out a little at times, but not enough to inconvenience me or make me try more medicine. I am now well.

BENJ. MAY FOR CLERK

PACTOLUS, N. C., Aug. 1st '98
 EDITOR REFLECTOR:
 I wish to second the motion made by a voter in King's Weekly, last week, advocating the nomination of Benj. May, of Farmville township, for Superior Court Clerk. There is not a better man in the county, and I do not believe there is any stronger than he. His name on the ticket would give it strength. He is a gentleman of fine business qualifications, and public matters entrusted to his care will be guarded with strict surveillance.

Although he has never been an aspirant for office, yet within the private ranks of the Democratic party he has been one of its most powerful workers. The time is ripe for the nomination of men with life and energy, sense and character. To this class of men Benj. May belongs, and the party cannot do better than to place a part of the responsibility upon his shoulders.

A VOTER, TOO.

Get Stamps.

There are many people here who as a matter of convenience mail their letters at the train instead of at the postoffice. This makes no particular difference provided those who so mail their letters will properly stamp them before delivring them to the train. But the postal clerk, Mr. H. H. Wilson, tells us that so many letters are handed to him without stamps on them as to be very annoying and has become almost unendurable. He says that unless there is a change in this and the letters are stamped before delivery to him he will be forced to make complaint to the department and have all mailing at the train stopped. He does not mind being accommodating and taking the letters on at the depot but his duties do not give him time to attend to stamping them.

His Work Tells

Testimonials and recommendations are a good thing to have. They serve to introduce a man who goes as a stranger into any community. But the main test of a man's worth is what he does, the work he can perform. These thoughts are suggested by our having come in frequent contact with Dr. Byers, the skilled oculist, who has been spending some days in Greenville at the Osmund house. He came to this town bearing as high endorsements as any man could ask for, and we do not hesitate to say that these have been in every way substantiated by the work he has done. We have seen him socially and professionally, and had opportunity of judging him from both standpoints. Socially he presents the true type of courtly gentleman. Professionally he not only possesses the highest skill, but manifests that interest and conscientiousness prompted by a desire to do the greatest good possible to those coming under his care. How well he does this there are a large number of people in this community can testify. He has done work here that will cause those upon whom it was performed to long and gratefully remember him. Cases might be singled out and mentioned, but this is unnecessary. The work of Dr. Byers is thorough, and THE REFLECTOR takes pleasures in bearing the testimony to his skill and recommending him to its readers.

It is Annoying

THE DAILY REFLECTOR has been having some trouble about its carriers, it being hard to get a boy who will deliver the papers properly every time. Several subscribers missed their paper Saturday evening and we have been told that the carrier on that route threw the papers away instead of delivering them. This cannot be more annoying to the subscribers than it is to us, and we will be glad if at any time a paper is missed the subscriber will let us know as early as possible.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 2, 1898.

DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSIONAL CONVENTION

A Convention of the Democratic Party of the First Congressional District is hereby called to meet at Edenton, N. C., on August 30, 1898...

In the death of Prince Bismarck, of Germany, which occurred Saturday evening, another great man has passed from the stage of action...

Let every white man read the letter of Mr. J. W. Bailey, giving his reasons for resigning as a member of the Board of Agriculture...

Beauty is Blood Deep. Clean blood means a clean skin. No beauty without it.

Mr. Bailey's Resignation. RALEIGH, N. C., July 23, 1898. To His Excellency, Governor D. L. Russell, Raleigh, N. C.

DEAR SIR: I hereby resign my commission as a member of the board of agriculture of North Carolina.

It is due you, our people and myself that I make known my reasons for this action.

When you tendered me the position I accepted it against my personal desire and interest with the single motive of serving our Commonwealth.

By your will Mr. John R. Smith was made Commissioner of Agriculture in my absence from the city. On my return I went to see you and inquired why you had done this; and you informed me that you had to do it in order to get Mr. Smith out of the office of superintendent of the State's prison...

the opportunity to do anything good or evil.

I then inquired if you were under obligation to keep Mr. Smith in the office of commissioner for the full term: and if you would help me to have him removed at the next meeting of the board: You declared that you were under no obligation whatever to Mr. Smith and you gave me to believe that you would be glad to lend me your influence in opposition to him.

This is my first reason for resigning and my conclusive reason for making this resignation public.

I have been informed, and I give you the information for what it may be worth since I will no longer be in position to watch, that while the salary of Mr. Smith as superintendent of the State's prison was $2,500, whereas it is now as commissioner only $1,800 there exist an understanding that he shall illegally and immorally get $2,500 per annum from the board of agriculture; that Mr. Smith would not agree upon the exchange until this understanding was reached.

Again I would not fail to mention that the disposition of some of the members of the board to hold sessions of three or four days duration—being paid by the day—several times a year to perform duties which would require scarcely four hours has disgusted me time and again.

Finally, it is my opinion that the Department of Agriculture is the sheerest example that we have of paternalism. In conception it has grown into an institution for the rewarding of political workers, with little purpose of public good.

I accepted the office with good will toward you, reasoning that without regard to prejudices, it was my duty to help you as the chief servant of our people. I have done the best I could, only to discover that my efforts are defeated and right largely by your influence. The best service I can now render all concerned is to resign and make known my reasons the necessity for which I regret more than I would endeavor have you believe.

Sincerely, J. W. BAILEY.

RELIGIOUS OPINION.

TRUTH.

Truth is the corner-stone whereon All things are builded that endure; God, self-create, enthroned thereon, His universe is held secure.

Truth was before the pleiads were; Before they shone it shined afar; Creative energy, astir, Found Light in Truth—God's central star.

Within the heavens, where Law doth dwell, Truth, omnipresent, stamps its trace; Beyond Despair's abysmal hell, It compasses God's hiding place.

LEAVE IT WITH GOD.

Way to Treat the Many Perplexing Problems That Vex Christians.

In one of his letters touching a very important event in his life, George Fox wrote: "Wherefore I let the thing rest, and went on the work and service of the Lord." There is a deep and vital truth of practical living suggested by this fragment of a sentence—a truth which, received and acted upon, goes far to make the mind calm, the heart peaceful and the hands effective. There are a great many conscientious but anxious people who find themselves continually tempted to postpone work until all questions can be settled; who attempt, in a word, to anticipate the education of life by grasping at the beginning of those results which come only at the end. For there are a great many perplexing problems which can never be thought out; they must be worked out. The man or woman who wants to settle them in advance will fall alike of the settlement of the question and the doing of the work. It is through the active putting forth of one's power that light continually streams in on the questions which concern what one ought to do. In any education the understanding of the ultimate uses of things must be postponed; those uses are revealed only when the educational process nears its close. This is pre-eminently true of the supreme educational process which we call life. There are thousands of questions weighing upon every sincere and conscientious mind which cannot be settled by any amount of thinking, but which in a way settle themselves as one slowly but faithfully does the duty which lies next. This comes very near being the whole philosophy of life, which is in no sense a settlement of ultimate questions, but which is always primarily the doing of the thing that presses to be done. He who is able to do faithfully and heartily that which lies in his hand is on the road to the settlement of all the final questions. He is working his way through the experience which is to be, from the spiritual side, one of the great sources of personal illumination. To learn to leave things with God, and to do one's work as if God could be trusted, is to gain repose and full-heartedness which permit one to pour out his whole strength without anxiety, worry or distraction.

The Small Act.

It is the bubbling stream that flows gently, the little rivulet that runs night and day by the farm house that is useful, rather than the swollen flood or warring cataract. Niagara excites our wonder, and we stand amazed at the powerful greatness of God there as He pours it forth from the hollow of His hand. But one Niagara is enough for the continents of the world, while the same world requires thousands and tens of thousands of silver fountains and gently flowing rivulets that water every farm and garden, and shall flow on every day and night with their gentle, quiet beauty. So with the acts of our lives. It is not by great deeds, like those of martyrs, good is to be done, but by the daily and quiet virtue of life.

Work For a Consecrated Church.

The world has often seen what God can do through a consecrated man, but the world has seldom seen what God can do through a consecrated and united church. A church cannot be "run" on the principles that secure unity in the working of a mill or a railroad or an army. There must be sympathy, voluntary co-operation and subordination on the part of every member to the welfare of the whole body. Where these exist, the condition is fulfilled not simply for an occasional revival of religion, but for continuous triumphs of the gospel in the community blessed by such a church.

Queen Victoria's Boudoir.

The Queen's boudoir in Windsor Castle is shown only to a few favored visitors. Its state has remained unaltered since Her Majesty's widowhood. On the door is inscribed: "Every article in this room my deeply lamented husband selected for me in the twenty-fourth year of my reign." The Queen's bridal wreath, with the first bouquet Prince Albert presented her, lies withered within a glass case, and on every side are evidences of the thoughtful devotion of the Prince Consort to his wife.

SYRUP OF FIGS
NEVER IMITATED IN QUALITY.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

An exchange says: "Ask some men for an advertisement or a few locals and they will say they don't believe in advertising—paper is never read. Let one of them be caught kissing his neighbor's wife, or trying to hold up the side of a building sometime, and his tune changes instantly, and if the printing office is in a garret or in a 17-story building, he will climb up to the top and beg the editor to keep quiet—not to publish it in the paper. The paper is not read—oh, no!"
