Tetter on the Hands.

For several years I was a sufferer from Tetter on my hands. It would come in little watery pimples, and the itching was almost more than I could stand. The skin was tender and the itching would swell so I could hardly bend my fingers. Sometimes my hands would become perfectly raw from the scratching or breaking of the pimples. When I was in this condition I tried one-half dozen bottles of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and some Wash in 1884, and by the time I took it my hands were cured, and I am now well of the trouble. It has since broken out a little at times, but not enough to inconvenience me or make me try more medicine. I am now well.

BROUGHT FROM SOUTH CAROLINA.

Wanted for Obtaining Money Under False Pretense.

Monday evening Policeman J. W. Hamilton, of Columbia, S. C., arrived in Greenville with a white prisoner named E. P. Powell, who he had arrested. Powell was wanted here for obtaining money under false pretenses, the grand jury at the March term of court having found a true bill against him on that charge. Powell came through this section a year or so ago selling rights for making a certain kind of brick, claiming that it was patented and that holders of the rights would be fully protected by the patent laws. Mr. D. E. House bought the right for a considerable territory, and as he was about starting to sell individual rights it was discovered that there was no patent on it at all but anybody could use it who knew the formula.

An indictment was drawn against Powell and a true bill was found against him as above stated. It was learned sometime ago that Powell was in the vicinity of Columbia, S. C., and a requisition from the Governor was obtained for his arrest. Mr. R. W. King went to Columbia last week with authority to arrest him. Finding that Powell had left Columbia he turned over his papers to officer Hamilton and returned home. Officer Hamilton took up the search and after a few days found Powell and brought him here. He is now in Pitt county jail to await trial at the September term of court.

Another "Richmond" in the Field.

At the Planters warehouse this morning a new "Richmond" appeared on the "chin music" staff. The handsome young Romeo, Mr. Alfred Forbes, made his debut as auctioneer and the grand overture he rendered brought encore after encore. This promising young knight comes upon the field with meteoric blaze and bids fair to eclipse the choir of the "chin music" staff. Tall, erect, handsome, he is a stunner. When the girls hear of this new debutante there will be a rush for the Planters. Alf got the best prices obtained this season.

Fine Melon

Agent J. R. Moore, of the Coast Line, never stops half way on anything he undertakes. Even when it comes to water-melons he raises them just in proportion to his size. Forty to fifty pounders have been just ordinary weights with him this season. Today he brought THE REFLECTOR force one that weighed 57 1/2 pounds and measured 45 inches in circumference. This monster melon attracted the attention of everybody who passed the office while it "lay in state." Our force enjoyed the feast this afternoon with many thanks to Mr. Moore.

Lost His Horse

Mr. R. M. Kenedy, the dairyman has lost his horse. We expect many of the little folks will miss the horse as much as Mr. Kenedy does, for it was no unusual thing to see his buggy full of them as he made his rounds in the evening. He is at present making his deliveries on foot.

For Congress

I hereby announce myself a candidate for Congress in the First District, subject to the action of the Populist Convention.

S. V. LAUGHINGHOUSE

MUSIC PUPILS.

I desire a class of pupils in instrumental music, beginning Monday, Sept. 5th. Terms made known on application. Lessons will be given to pupils in their home if preferred.

The Firemen.

Hope Fire Company held its regular monthly meeting Monday night. Foreman F. M. Hodges having moved out of town tendered his resignation which was accepted. First Assistant Foreman W. F. Burch was elected foreman, and W. F. Harding was elected First Assistant Foreman. One new member was received.

Dickinson Avenue Again

It is painful to walk or ride on Dickinson Avenue and see the condition it is now in and has been since the railroad came to town. As a proposition of business it would pay the business men of Greenville to join with the town and shell the avenue from main street to the depot. Every person who goes on the avenue, (and all go more or less who come to town) are interested, and would be benefitted in the improvement of this one street more than any other. If a proper step was taken by the citizens with a patriotic effort on the part of the town, the street can be shelled at no great cost compared to the benefit derived. To that end we suggest that some one take the initiative and have the matter started by conferring with the town authorities and let the work begin as soon as shells can be procured.

"Ben Hur" is Coming

Tomorrow night in the Masonic Hall Ben Hur, Gen. Lew Wallace's masterpiece will be given illustrated by 100 handpainted views produced in Europe expressly for this subject. Ben Hur which will be given in aid of the Mission Band of the Episcopal church comes highly endorsed by the clergy and religious societies throughout the Southern States, and Capt. Rider has received hundreds of flattering notices for the skillful and masterful way in which he handles his subject. The picture of the chariot race never fails to evoke great enthusiasm everywhere and the whole series in fact holds the audience spellbound from start to finish. Reserved seats 25 cts are on sale at Wooten's drug store also from Ladies connected with the Episcopal church.

Opera House

Work is progressing rapidly on the opera house being built by Mr. J. J. Perkins on Fourth street. The building is 50x100 feet and the auditorium will be 50x80. It is expected to be completed by the first of October.

Miss Pepper's School

Attention is called to the announcement of Miss Pepper's school, which opens Sept. 5th, in the Masonic building on Second street. We have read testimonials possessed by Miss Pepper and they speak in highest terms of her as a cultured lady and excellent teacher.

Ankle Sprained

Mr. M. R. Lang was taking a nap in his hammock today, when he dreamed the Spaniards were after him and fell out. He is now laying up at home with a sprained ankle as a result of the fall. We regret that he met with the accident.

Miss Pepper's Private School.

Miss Pepper announces the opening of her school on MONDAY, SEPT. 5, 1898.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our Star Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Aug. 8, '98.

If the Spanish Ministry had any proper idea of the public sentiment in this country it would not have wasted ten days in deciding whether to accept the terms of peace offered. If they knew a good thing when they saw it, they would have jumped at those terms. In the statement of the terms of peace, last week, the administration was given credit to which it was not entitled. Instead of providing that claims of Americans for property destroyed in Cuba should be paid by Spain and disclaiming responsibility for Spanish bonds issued as a lien on the revenue of Cuba and Porto Rico, it mentioned neither, leaving those troublesome matters to be added to the numerous other troublesome things that will have to be tackled by the commission that will negotiate the treaty of peace. The only certain things in the terms of peace are that Spain shall evacuate Cuba and Porto Rico and that we shall retain Manila and Manila Bay; everything else is to be settled by the commission.

Mr. McKinley apparently fully believes that the Spanish Ministry is honest in informally telling him that it intends to accept his terms of peace, although officially it still remains silent. His faith is so strong that the orders for the reinforcement of Gen. Miles have been held up, and that nothing is being done to send General Merritt the reinforcements that he has asked for. If Spain accepts the terms, these hold-ups will do no harm, but should Spain be foolish enough to reject the terms, they may be fraught with serious consequences. Gen. Miles is still having everything his own way in Porto Rico, and being royally welcomed by the Porto Ricans, but if it becomes necessary for him to attack the strong fortifications at San Juan, he has not men enough to take that town, without a great sacrifice of life.

Notwithstanding the harsh criticism which has come from all sections of the country and from the holders of all shades of political opinion of the partiality shown by the Navy Department, in favor of acting Admiral Sampson and against Commodore Schley, that partiality still exists, and, according to current gossip, is about to be strikingly exhibited by a shifting of orders for the purpose of giving Sampson an opportunity to splurge in European waters. The orders for sending a strong fleet to the coast of Spain, issued some weeks ago, for bluffing purposes, have never been revoked, and the officials say that the fleet is to go for the purpose of "impressing Europe," now that the pending cessation of hostilities and the prospect of permanent peace have made further fighting apparently unnecessary. There being no further opportunity for Sampson to acquire either glory or prize money in Cuban waters, he is to be given command of the European fleet, and Commodore Watson, who was first assigned to that command, is to have command of all the ships that remain in Cuban waters. As Watson ranks Schley there will be no important command left for the latter. This Navy Department clique may succeed for a time in depriving Schley of honors he has won, but Congress can be depended upon to see that justice is done him.

Secretary Alger's mixing of politics with military matters has added nothing to his popularity nor to his reputation for political sagacity. In his eagerness to injure "Teddy" Roosevelt's political fortunes, Secretary Alger went to the extent of publishing a private letter from Roosevelt to himself, in which slurs were thrown at the fighting qualities of the volunteer soldiers, in order that he might accomplish it with an official imprimatur from himself to Roosevelt. Alger was so much afraid that the "round robin" signed by the Generals under Shafter, headed by Roosevelt, who is acting commander of a brigade, would be credited with the accelerated movement of the War Department in getting our soldiers away from Santiago, that he had an official statement made to the press, saying that the soldiers were being moved in accordance with plans made before the publication of the "round robin" which, by the way, Roosevelt is accused of having furnished to the Associated Press. This need not fool anybody, as it says that the Secretary of War had sometime ago notified Gen. Shafter that his men would be brought back to the United States "as soon as the fever subsided." The fever has not subsided, but the men are being brought back as fast as they are able to get aboard transport. There isn't the slightest doubt that the "round robin," however much it may have been tinged with insubordination from a strictly military point of view, caused the men to be moved sooner than they would otherwise have been moved, and that thereby many valuable lives were saved. Insubordination that breaks red tape that is killing our soldiers is not likely to receive popular condemnation; nor does it deserve it.

Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets. Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever. 10c, 25c. If C. C. C. fail, druggists refund money.

No-To-Bac for Fifty Cents. Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes weak men strong, blood pure. 50c, $1. All druggists.

The Passing of Populism

Populism died some time ago in the West, which was its original stronghold. It has managed to maintain a foothold in the South after its decease in the section in which it was born, though the evidences of its decadence in all parts have been frequent and manifest. In Alabama on Monday it received its death-blow, having cut practically no figure in the election there that day. In two or three years it will be as completely forgotten everywhere as is the Know-Nothing party of the 40's or the Liberal party of North Carolina, which was born and died in 1882. We hope that the Populists of this State will be warned in time and will seek a safer habitation before the crash comes.—Charlotte Observer.

To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic, 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

It treats you whether you continue the nerve-racking tobacco habit, NO-TO-BAC removes the desire for tobacco, with out nervous distress, or pain much, it cures, purifies the blood, restores lost manhood, restores vitality, makes you strong, healthy, and happy. 50c, $1.00. All druggists. If you prefer, send for booklet and sample free. Address: Sterling Remedial Co., Chicago or New York.

THE ISLE DU DIABLE.

The Island Near the Equator Where Dreyfus is Kept a Prisoner.

From the Joseph one can see the Ile du Diable, broiling under the equatorial sun, and to-day the figure of its solitary captive may be distinguished by his white dress from the warders who "shadow" him wherever he goes. He lives in a small wooden cabin built for him beside the quarters of his guards, who are relieved every four hours in the daytime. From sunrise to sunset he is free to walk about his rock, but they never let him out of sight, and are forbidden to speak to him on any pretext. At night he sleeps in a cell with an armed sentry at the door. According to M. Gaston Calmette, his very jailers curse their lot, and one of them has gone wrong in his mind. Dreyfus is provided with food, wine, cigars and other luxuries at his own expense. He is allowed to read and write, but all his letters are examined by the authorities. He tried to make a little garden, but nothing would grow in the arid soil. He smokes and reads much, eats and drinks little, takes long walks and sleeps well; but the unnatural life has made him an old man. His hair is white, his complexion sallow, his form bent and his step infirm. No wonder! His only scene is the muddy ocean, the adjacent islands and their prisons, the distant forests of the Korou, with here and there a sullen mound rising above it like a raincloud on the horizon. His only prospect is a lingering death in life, and then—the sharks. He protests his innocence, but however innocent a man may be, it is not easy to bear up against a fate like this, and in such a deadly climate.

History of a Brave Bird.

A great many misstatements have been made about "Old Abe," the live eagle of the Eighth Wisconsin regiment. The facts of the bird's history have been supplied by Ella E. Gibson of Barre, Mass., and are given here for the information of readers:

The Eighth regiment, Wisconsin infantry, in all its long marches during the first three years of the civil war, was accompanied by a live bird, which was carried, on a perch by a soldier. The bird was in all the battles of the regiment, but always escaped unscathed.

"Old Abe's" history is as follows: He was taken from the nest in 1861 by an Indian, in Chippewa County, Wis., and was subsequently purchased by a citizen of Eau Claire, who presented him to Captain Perkins, the first commander of Company C. In 1864 he was brought home by the regiment and presented to Governor Lewis, who transferred him to the State. He was kept in the Capitol grounds at Madison as a valuable relic of the war, until he died, March 26, 1881, aged 20 years. He was often exhibited at fairs, and was a great attraction at the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1876.

To Oblige His Wife.

"You have scarcely spoken to me at all this evening," she said, in tones of reproach.

"I—I beg your pardon," her husband returned, apologetically. "I was just trying to think of something to say."

"Is there anything on your mind?"

"Yes, to tell you the truth, there is."

"Can't I help you in some way?"

"You might, if I could suggest it without your becoming angry."

"Tell me about it. It is my duty to sympathize with you, you know."

"On my birthday anniversary you gave me a fountain pen."

"Yes. And now you are going to say that it makes a horrid mess and that you don't want to write with it."

"I'm not going to say anything of the kind," he replied stoutly. "I'm going to write with that pen every day of my life. But there is one little favor that I would like to ask."

"What is it?"

"Please make me a suit of overalls to go with it."

Handkerchiefs by the Million.

It has been estimated that in order to supply the demand in the trade for handkerchiefs that 350,000,000 are always kept in stock in New York City alone. As something like seventy-five thousand are needed for the daily output, it will be readily seen that millions yearly can easily be disposed of. The quantity manufactured in America is small; importations are largest from France, Belgium, Switzerland and Ireland, while the pongee and silk handkerchiefs come from Japan for the most part, seventeen million or eighteen millions being exported to this country alone.

Josephine's Piano.

Among the magnificent furniture made for the Empress Josephine was a piano ordered in 1808 by the Emperor Napoleon, and still considered one of the most valuable instruments of the kind in the world. It was stolen during the sacking of the Tuileries, and was afterward sold at a public auction, and is now in the possession of a London firm. The case is of the finest rosewood, ornamented with ornate pearl and tortoise shell. Napoleon's military taste is shown by the fact that one of the feet of the piano works a drum and triangle attachment.
