Between Two Fires

There is a strong revolt, on the part of Populists and Republicans, against "Light-Headed Harry" in the First district. That is to say, those Populists and Republicans who believe in their respective principles rather than using machines to get individual pie. Those Populists who have renominated the versatile Colonel have yielded in a most every instance to the seductive promise or direct presentation of pie from the Pritchard-Duncan side-board, while the straight Republicans who have not placed themselves directly in the line of promotion under the Senator-Collector organization are contending that if Mr. Skinner is the Populist he says he is he cannot be true to Republican principles, and if he is a Republican, or "as good a Republican" as the Collector says he is, he is grossly deceiving the Populists. So, between these irreconcilable elements, the Colonel has a very hard row ahead of him. The contest in that district promises to be not only a very spirited one, but one that promises a very agreeable surprise, to some folks.—Raleigh Post

Look at Home

We owe it to the community in which we live to do everything we can in every way possible that will be to its advantage. Our neighbors' prosperity means a great deal more to us than some one's who lives elsewhere. We should bear that in mind in buying our goods. We can afford to pay our home man a firm price for his wares rather than send our money away, knowing as we do to that every dollar our citizens make will help in sustaining our school, churches and public institutions. It pays richly to patronize home industry.—Kinston Free Press.

May They all Come

Every once in a while a subscriber who has not remembered the printer for several years calls in and pays up and thanks us for being patient with him. God bless such fellows. We believe all delinquents would do likewise if they knew how many hours the printer toiled each week to give them the news all for the small sum charged for the amount of work done.—Durham Sun.

JUST FOR FUN

Impecunious coin collectors often have all kinds of money.

No, Maude dear, department stores don't sell coarse s at their lace counters.

A judgment note that every one must meet—The blast of Gabriel's trumpet.

A correspondent wants to know if deplatory preparations are good for hare-lip.

What have you been doing this year?" asked the first chicken. "Well," said the other as it proceeded to dig up the neighbor's early turnip seed, "raising vegetables, principally."

Jones—"I hear, Pat, that you're taking a great fancy for the girls." Pat—"Well, sorr?" "Well, have you met your late yet?" "Shure, Oi met wan av her father's fate lasht noight."

"Yellow and red are the Spanish colors," observes the Atchison Globe; "we still have them in yellow fever and red tape."

It is said that married men make better clerks than single ones. They are not in such a hurry to get home of an evening.

Lightning's Strange Freaks

Lightning, like woman and Providence, has some strange ways.

Anyway that is the opinion Mr. W. B. Wilder, a prominent farmer, near this city, has of it. And the antics it played about his house during the storm Sunday fully warrant the verdict.

Mr. Wilder and his family were sitting on the porch, when lightning struck a tree in the yard, ran down the trunk, then along a root to the house into the porch, knocking its occupants senseless. Then into the house it went, tearing out a hole in one of the gables, Mr. Wilder says, as big as a chair, out into the kitchen where it tore up things generally.

The thing that Mr. Wilder disliked most about the shock that banged him up against the house and kept him insensible, was, he said, that it made his head feel like it was on fire and his hair like red hot needles sticking in his head.

Though all the family were stunned by the shock, none were seriously injured.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Infant Dead

Ollen J. Warren, the 10½ month's old infant of Mr. and Mrs. Ollen E. Warren, died at the home of its grandfather, Mr. W. L. James, about 10 o'clock 1st night, of cholera infantum. The remains were taken to Greenville, N. C., this morning for burial, being taken on the 7 o'clock train. Mrs. Warren was not able to accompany the remains. She will follow as soon as well enough to travel.—Salisbury Sun, 6th.

The central and western portions of the State are being aroused as never before over the disgraceful conditions existing in the eastern counties of North Carolina. There are good men in these sections who have sympathized with and given their support to the Populist party who would have never done so had they known anything about the disgrace it would bring upon their white brethren in the east. It is only necessary that the existing conditions be made known and these men will return to the Democratic banner—the Anglo Saxon flag. Men from these sections are going through the east to see for themselves, besides numerous letters of inquiry are being received. These means of information were never resorted to before, and they mean that these sections are in more perfect sympathy with the east than they have ever been before.

He Paid for His Dinner

When the North Dakota regiment arrived at the ferry Tuesday they were, like the soldiers who preceded them, shown into the spacious dining room presided over by the ladies of the Red Cross. It was a good day for the soldier boys. The bill of fare was ample.

And perhaps the soldiers did not enjoy it! A few of them had been overcome by the long trip, but the majority of them were blessed with a good appetite—the soldier's best friend.

One of the privates in particular enjoyed the repast immensely, and when he finished he sat back in his chair and said:

"Gee!"

"Did you get enough to eat?" asked a beautiful society girl at his side, her face beaming with kindness.

"I should say so," said the soldier, rising. "That's the finest meal I've had since we started."

Then he looked at the pretty girl and fumbled in his pocket. Finally he found what he was looking for, and extended his hand with 10 cents in it.

"What is that?" asked the society bud.

"That's for the meal," said the private, somewhat embarrassed at her manner.

"Oh, we don't charge for this," she said. "This lunch is given by the Red Cross."

"Oh," he stammered, and his embarrassment deepened. "Well, you take this anyhow, and buy gum or something for yourself." "Ten cents."

Her father is worth a million! And the soldier's income is only about $15 a month

The pretty bud thought for a while. She knew it would do the young fellow's heart good if she took the money. She would take it.

"But you must let me give you some flowers," she said. And as she pinned a boutonniere in his lapel she dropped a $5 gold piece in his pocket.—San Francisco Examiner.

John H Small for Congress

Friends and countrymen; let us give thanks to our Democratic Convention that met in Edenton on Tuesday for the noble and satisfactory work they have done for us in giving us John H. Small of Washington, as a candidate for Congress in the First District of North Carolina. It is the best selection that could have been made. He is a brainy man, a pure man, a plucky and a popular man and in he takes the banner that our white people have placed in his hands and leads us in triumph through the troubled waters of political strife in this crisis of our history, then we will all rise up as one man and pronounce him blessed.—Elizabeth City Economist.

Did Not Intend It

The honest white men, who have been voting the Populist and Republican fasion ticket, did not intend to turn the white people of any town or county over to the control of negroes. And yet that is exactly what they have done!

All honest white Populists would have indignantly denied, two years ago, that their votes would put any town or county under negro rule. Indeed, many would have resented as an insult any such insinuation. And even now there are some who deny that negroes are in control of any white community in this State. And some of them say that all this talk about negro rule is a Democratic lie. We only wish it was!

Go to Wilmington, or Newbern, or Greenville, or to many other towns in eastern North Carolina, and ask the white people there if negro rule is all a Democratic lie. But if you were to go there you would not have to ask such a question, you could see for yourself.

How would the white people of any town and county in this part of North Carolina like to be under negro rule, as are some of our white brethren in the eastern part of the State? Do unto others as ye would have them do unto you, and by your votes go to the relief of your white brethren in these negro-ridden communities.—Pittsboro Record.

Bible Stained With His Blood

Mr. J. N. Gault showed us yesterday the Bible he had with him in the war. He carried it through the war and it never got wet. At the battle of Sharpsburg, Thursday, 17th of September, '62, he was wounded, the ball going through from the right eye and out behind the right ear. This Bible was in his breast pocket, and became saturated almost with his own blood, which has not yet faded out. He prizes the book very much and so do his children. It is indeed a keepsake and has a history worthy of note.—Hickory Mercury.

WHOLESOME ADVICE.

For People Whose Stomachs are Weak and Digestion Poor.

Dr. Harlandson, whose opinion in diseases is worthy of attention says when a man or woman comes to me complaining of indigestion, loss of appetite, sour stomach, belching, soar water-risings, head aches, sleeplessness, lack of ambition and a general run down nervous condition I advise them to take after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, allowing the tablet to dissolve in the month, and thus mingle with the food eaten. The result is that the food is speedily digested before it has time to sour and ferment. These tablets will digest food anyway whether the stomach wants to or not, because they contain harmless digestive principles, vegetable essences, pepsin and Golden Seal which simply just what the weak stomach lacks

I have advised the tablets with great success, both in curing indigestion and to build up the tissues, increase flesh in thin nervous patients, whose real trouble was dyspepsia and as soon as the stomach was put to rights they did not know what sickness was

A fifty cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be bought at any drug store, and as they are not a secret patent medicine, they can be used as often as desired with full assurance that they contain nothing harmful in the slightest degree; on the contrary, anyone whose stomach is at all deranged will find great benefit from the use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. They will cure any form of stomach weakness or disease except cancer of the stomach. Full size package at druggists 50c or $1.00 or by mail from Stuart Co. Marshall, Mich.

It is unmanful for men to complain that women are driving them out of employment. If every man who pretended to be a man would support some woman as he should there would be 4,000,000 places in offices, stores, shops and factories that are now occupied by women workers left free to men and the women would be at home. Many of these women workers are now supporting worthless men.—Raleigh Times Visitor.

It Surprised Him.

A Cleveland man who went east to spend his vacation brought home with him what he thinks is a new mother-in-law story. Mother-in-law-stories are a drug on the market, but this one seems to be a little less druggy than usual.

A man and his wife went to Europe and the man's mother-in-law went along. Up to this point there is no novelty in the story.

On the voyage the mother-in-law fell ill and died. Of course, she had to be buried at sea, and so the usual canvas sack was made, but instead of an iron weight to sink the body, they used a bag of coal.

In commenting on the arrangements afterwards the bereaved son-in-law, who stammered badly, said:

"I—I always knew where was m-m-m moth-er-in-law was g-going, but b-b-blame me if I s-s-supposed she'd have t-to carry her own f-f-fuel!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Mr. McBride Holt Says:

Greenville, N. C. July 16, '97.

Oneida Cotton Mills:

About two and a half years ago my little boy about four years, and my little girl about two years, each had an enlargement of the glands about the ears. The trouble appearing on each about the same time, I was inclined to think it mumps, but soon observing to the contrary, I called in the doctor, who said the trouble came from colds, prescribing accordingly, yet swelling continued to grow, until each had to hold or the face, the little boy having been lanced in three places, and at three times, his face at times, looking alarming. The nature of the trouble was termed one thing by one and another thing by another. This however, did not concern me, as I was looking for a cure, and Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy having been called to my attention so favorably I dropped the treatment from the doctor and commenced to use Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. To say that the results obtained have been satisfactory is putting it in mild terms, the children, and especially the little boy being entirely well, yet wearing the scars that will ever keep fresh in my memory the merits of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. Respt.
