COUNTY CONVENTION

Enthusiastic Gathering—Strong Ticket Nominated.

At 12 o'clock today the Democratic county convention was called to order by A. L. Blow, chairman of the county executive committee. He said the assembling of 2,000 Democrats in their township primaries last Saturday meant business, and he knew the delegates and others were here for business today and he would not consume their time by making a speech. However, he said he wanted to say to all white men that the front door of the Democratic party was open to them and all were cordially invited to come in and participate with us for the restoration of white supremacy.

H. T. King and D. J. Whichard were requested to act as assistant secretaries, and the roll of delegates was called by W. L. Brown, secretary of the executive committee.

There being no contests from any precinct there was no need of a committee on credentials.

On motion of W. H. Ragsdale the temporary officers were made the permanent officers.

On motion of J. B. Grimes a committee on resolutions was appointed of one from each township, as follows: Sam Erwin, T. A. Thigpen, S. A. Gainer, H. W. Whichard, J. B. Grimes, J. J. May, R. R. Cotten, I. J. Anderson, W. H. Ragsdale, J. B. Little, Job Moore.

On motion of J. B. Grimes the convention proceeded to nominations beginning with the county officers, leaving the Legislative ticket to be selected last.

Nominations for Superior Court Clerk were declared in order.

The names of D. C. Moore, H. T. King and Benj. May. Pending the announcement of the first ballot H. T. King and Benj. May withdrew their names, and D. C. Moore was unanimously nominated by acclamation amid a tumult of applause.

Nominations for Register of Deeds were declared in order and the names of J. W. Smith, T. R. Moore, R. Williams were presented. On the first ballot the vote was as follows: Smith 11, Moore 53, Williams 38. On motion the nomination of T. R. Moore was made unanimous amid great applause.

When nominations for Sheriff were declared in order the convention arose almost as one man with cries for G. M. Mooring, and on motion he was nominated unanimously by acclamation with shouts.

Nominations for Treasurer being next in order the names of J. B. Cherry and S. T. White were presented. Pending announcement of the ballot the name of S. T. White was withdrawn and J. B. Cherry was unanimously nominated by acclamation. The announcement was greeted with applause.

Nominations for Coroner were next called for and the names of C. A. Blount, W. E. Warren and C. O. H. Laughinghouse were presented. On first ballot the vote was as follows: Blount 27, Warren 21, Laughinghouse 54. The nomination of Laughinghouse was made unanimous.

For Surveyor J. D. Cox was nominated by acclamation.

Nominations for County Commissioners were declared in order and on motion it was decided to nominate one at the time.

The names of J. W. Page, Benj. May, Calvin Tucker, R. L. Davis and O. W. Harrington were presented.

The name of Benj. May was withdrawn before the first ballot was announced. The ballot stood as follows: Page 14, May 10, Tucker 18, Davis 24, Harrington 36.

The name of J. W. Page was withdrawn. There then being but three names before the convention, there was a motion that O. W. Harrington, Calvin Tucker and R. L. Davis be nominated by acclamation. The motion was carried with a shout.

For Senator the entire convention called for F. G. James, and he was unanimously nominated by acclamation his name receiving a demonstration.

For the House of Representatives it was decided to vote for one at the time. The names of R. R. Cotten, W. J. Nichols, T. H. Barnhill, N. R. Cory, Jesse Cannon and Edgar Buck were presented. 1st ballot: Cotten 16, Nichols 20, Barnhill 15, Cory 24, Cannon 25, Buck 2. 2nd Ballot: Nichols 70, Cannon 27, Cory 4, Barnhill 1. The nomination of Nichols as one Representative was made unanimous.

For the other Representative the names of T. H. Barnhill and W. H. Williams were presented. The ballot resulted in Barnhill 70, Williams 31. The nomination of Barnhill was made unanimous.

The several nominees came forward and accepted the nominations and each was enthusiastically greeted.

The convention was the largest and most enthusiastic ever held in the county and the ticket is a strong one. THE REFLECTOR will have more to say about the nominees in later issues.

Can't Stomach Skinner

Mr. Elihu White, ex-collector of internal revenue in this district, was nominated by the Republicans of the First Senatorial district for a seat in the State Senate.

Mr. White declined the nomination, giving as his reason that he would not represent any district in which Harry Skinner was honored by the Republican party.

There is a big revolt among Republicans against Harry Skinner. There is a good deal of talk about putting up a straight Republican candidate for Congress. Skinner cannot poll anything like the Republican vote he has in the past. He is very distasteful to many eastern Republicans. Many of them are fully as outspoken as ex-collector Elihu White. —Raleigh Post.

who gauges the quality of CLOTHING by the price has no business to be married. Yet one of this class directed his wife to buy Clothing from another firm because they charged more for it, and "it must therefore be better." His better half bought some from us and some from the other house, and showed her husband that they were identical. This proved conclusively how foolish a man can be when he really tries. The lady of the house generally knows where she can get the most and best for the money.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular Correspondent.
WASHINGTON, D. C. Sept. 23, 98.

Frantic appeals are being made to Mr. McKinley by the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee and by Republican candidates for Congress for assistance in various ways. The most pressure is probably being brought to get the long delayed executive order, throwing down the civil service bars to a large number of Federal positions, issued before the Congressional elections. Mr. McKinley has been told that the issuing of that order within the next two or three weeks will be worth many votes to Republican candidates for Congress, because by promising those positions many of those who were at the last election Republican workers but who are now sulking could be got to work again. He is also being urged to declare the Government Printing Office to be outside the civil service law and rules. Mr. McKinley has been told that if he doesn't do these things now, there will be no occasion, so far as party politics are concerned, for him to do them at all. It is doubtful whether he will do all that he has been asked to do, but he has intimated that he will do something.

Boss Platt had a conference with Mr. McKinley this week, and there are reasons to believe that he told him that the Democrats had more than a fighting chance to carry New York this year, and asked him to use his influence with anti-Platt Republicans. There was a report that Mr. McKinley did not want Roosevelt nominated for governor by the New York Republicans, but if he had any idea of trying to throw "Teddy" down in the convention, he gave it up after talking with Boss Platt and "Freddy," is going to be nominated. While Mr. McKinley will go through the form of throwing the administration influence to Roosevelt after he is nominated, he would rather see him defeated than elected. If he is defeated he will be shelved for awhile; if he is elected, he may become the young Republican candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1900.

A War Department official is quoted as having said of Secretary Alger's trip of inspection; "Alger is shrewd." During his swing around the camps he will find any number of men who will be willing to appear before the investigating committee to testify that camp life had been one long, sweet dream; that they had been fed on the fat of the land; had been provided with all the comforts of home, and that they had never seen any sickness, suffering starvation, or dying. It is a good thing to pick your witnesses and have a quiet little talk with them before they go on the stand."

Stolen 17 Years Ago

Col. Sinclair received a package Tuesday sent from the State of Kansas. It was a great surprise package. It was a diminutive ram's horn snuff box, mounted on silver, presented to his father, Rev. John Sinclair, by his congregation on August 30th, 1836. Col. Sinclair has not seen it for 17 years at which time it was stolen.—Marion Democrat.

Nantucket, Mass., still has a town crier, who is engaged by the merchants to announce their auctions, and by summer visitors to call attention to social events. Once in a while he has to spread the alarm when a child is lost. On his own account he meets the steam boats, gets the newspapers and runs through the streets calling out the principal headlines. The old residents can keep abreast of the times merely by listening to his cries.

No-To-Bac for Fifty Cents.

White Country Boys Arrested by a Negro Constable

Four young white county boys—two sons of Kenyon Baker and two sons of a man named Garvey—were arrested yesterday by Levi Morgan, the negro constable in Kinston township, and taken before Chas. F. Dunn, a negro magistrate, for alleged trespass. The case was removed on affidavit and was heard by Justice W. F. Dibble, who, after hearing the evidence, discharged the boys, found that it was a malicious prosecution and required the negro constable, Levi Morgan, to pay the costs. How long will the white people submit to such mean negro government.—Kinston Free Press.

Typhoid fever is claiming from eighteen to twenty victims a day among the gold seekers in Dawson city, and the survivors are praying for a frost to kill the exhalations from the camp refuse. Whether in arctic or in tropical regions, and whether the quest be for glory or for gold, the higher law is still the law of sanitation. That law must be observed, else it will exact its penalty inexorably.

Instructions have been issued by the War Office at Madrid for the return to Spain of all Spanish troops in the West Indies, the sick to be taken first, and afterward the men on duty—with all archives, flags, weapons and war material belonging to Spain. This does not look like opposition or delay on the part of the Madrid Government which, after all, is apparently inclined to make the best of a losing game. The process of evacuation, however, will be greatly retarded by the lack of transport ships to convey Spanish soldiers and property across the Atlantic. Five ships will be required for the transportation of the little Spanish army in Puerto Rico; and as for Spain's troops in Cuba, the task of repatriation will tax the transportation facilities of the Spanish merchant marine for many months to come.—Philadelphia Record.

Mr. McBride Holt Says:

Greenville, N. C. July 16, '97.

Cascade Cotton Mills:

About two and a half years ago my little boy about four years, and my little girl about two years, each had an enlargement of the glands about the ears. The trouble appearing on each about the same time, I was inclined to think it mumps, but soon observing to the contrary, I called in the doctor, who said the trouble came from colds, prescribing accordingly, yet swelling continued to grow, until each had to hold or the lance, the little boy having been lanced in three places, and at three times, his face at times, looking alarming. The nature of the trouble was termed one thing by one and another thing by another. This however, did not concern me, as I was looking for a cure, and Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy having been called to my attention so favorably, I dropped the treatment from the doctor and commenced to use Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. To say that the results obtained have been satisfactory is putting it in mild terms, the children, and especially the little boy being entirely well, yet wearing the scars that will ever keep fresh in my memory the merits of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. Respt.

A GIRAFFE'S SORE THROAT.

The Animal's Peculiar Anatomy Made the Case Serious.

"Seems to me I told you once," said the old circus man, "about the giraffe having a sore throat? It is a serious matter for any giraffe to have a sore throat; bad for the giraffe and bad for the owner. When you come to take an 18-foot giraffe like ours, a sore throat means large expense and a large amount of trouble; and the big fellow hadn't more'n got over this before something else happened to him that give us even more trouble. He caught cold, and the cold settled in his throat—I suppose he was still sensitive there—and it give him a stiff neck, so that he couldn't bend his neck at all.

"You can't have any idea of what a stiff neck means until you see a giraffe afflicted in that way; we'd had all sorts of trouble with animals in one way or another, but for real bother this beat 'em all. We discovered it one day on the road. The giraffe always ducked his head under the branches that hung down, sort of like a swan or goose does, but this day, carrying his head right up straight in the air, he brought up against a branch that was at least fifteen feet above the ground. That was such an amazing thing that we knew something must be the matter, and when the giraffe's keeper came up and spoke to him, and all he did was to bend his nose down, and look down, why, we saw he couldn't bend his neck, and then we knew what was the matter.

"Well, of course, the first thing we did was to set a man to march alongside of him with a tent pole, with a crotch in the end of it, to lift the branches for him. Most of the time—almost all the time, in fact—we could steer him clear of overhanging branches, and, of course, lots of the way there was long stretches where there wasn't any trees at all; and then we'd come to places where the man would have to lift a branch to let the big giraffe go under; and a great pity it was, too, to see him compelled to go about in that manner.

"He went that way for about ten days. Ordinarily, we used to put his feed for him on top of the animal's cage, so that he wouldn't have to bend down more than eight or ten feet; but he couldn't do that now. So we set a ring in the center pole eighteen feet from the ground, and we used to reeve a rope through that and make one end fast to the bucket, with his food or drink in it, and hoist it up and let him eat there. On the road we used to throw the rope over the crotch of a tree at a suitable height. For his entry into the great tent at show time we had to cut a great slit in the canvas; but we didn't regret that, because it was a mighty impressive thing to see him march in that way. It made him look thirty-six feet tall, instead of eighteen.

"Twice a day a man used to go up on a ladder and put a strap around his head, and we'd hook on a fall, with a boy's sun's chair, and a man would ride down his neck and rub in liniment. He used to like that very much, and it helped him greatly, too, and one morning when the men went out to give him the usual rub, they were delighted to see the old chap with his head bowed down pretty near to the roof of the grizzly bear cage, which stood next to him, which showed that his neck was coming around all right, and also indicated that he'd take his breakfast this morning in the old way, if you please."

Cultivating Horse Radish.

Horse-radish is grown from small pieces of the root four to eight inches long. For cultivation in the garden, the ground is prepared as for other crops and the pieces of roots are planted in rows from two to three feet apart and 15 to 18 inches apart in the row. Mark off the ground and make a small hole with a dibble or planting stick and set so that the upper end is slightly below the surface. Press the soil firmly about the root, keep the ground free from weeds and cultivate as beans or cabbage. The soil should be rich and in good condition. The horse-radish is dug in the fall during the cool moist weather after other crops have been taken care of. The earth is all shaken from the roots and these are stored in houses or pits, to be marketed during the winter.

The Highest Idea.

Jesus teaches the best and the truest and highest idea of God that is possible for man to conceive; and of all the doctrines of God that have ever been taught or propagated in the world this alone can satisfy the cravings of man's spiritual nature and enable the soul to rest secure in the consciousness that the arm of the Almighty and the All-good is ever outstretched to protect and defend. Would you seek after a teacher that can lead you up to the author of your being, and place your spirit in communion with the God that made it, and hush your anxious fears with the assurance that the love of God is with you, and that the arms of His mercy circle you now and evermore, you must find that sacred teacher in Jesus; for in this respect it is true that "never man spake like this Man."
