THE TRUTH OF THE MATTER

MR. EDITOR:

Sometime ago a friend living in Catawba county wrote me a personal letter asking for information concerning the political situation in Eastern North Carolina. I replied to his letter, giving him some idea of what I knew existed in this section of our State. He saw fit to publish this letter in the Newton Enterprise from which paper it was copied in the Raleigh Post. I am informed that there is a misconception as to some of the statements made in the letter. These misconceptions have grown out of the fact that many who have read it think that it purports to give the facts only as they exist in Pitt county. This is entirely foreign to the intention of the letter.

There were some things said in the letter that were in special reference to Greenville and Pitt county; but the statement made in reference to Post Masters and white lady school teachers was intended to refer to the entire eastern section. It was never my intention to say that Greenville has a negro Post Master. I have always looked upon Mr. King as a high-toned gentleman, a good Democrat, and an efficient officer. My reference was to other towns in this eastern section whose mail is handled by negro officials and I have it from good authority that ladies do not go to these offices for their mail. The statement in regard to juries may be a little overdrawn as to the number on each jury, but not enough to change the fact of their service in too large numbers to be agreeable to white men.

In this I do not mean to retract any statement in the letter published in the Newton Enterprise and copied in the Post; but I have written this explanation that my intentions and my meaning may be clear.

I have not the slightest disposition to misrepresent any facts, therefore I have written this that there may not be the slightest cause for any man to misconstrue what I have said.

A. W. SETZER.

THREATENED RIOT

Almost a Collision Between The Races

Saturday night Greenville came uncomfortably near having a race riot, and nothing but cool headedness on the part of some of our citizens prevented it. Mr. John Clark was standing in front of a store talking to some parties when a negro man walked up close and stopped to see what they were talking about. He was told to move on and did move but very soon came back and walked insolently against Mr. Clark who at once turn around, knocked the negro down and jumped on him. A crowd quickly gathered and for awhile the situation looked serious, but the crowd dispersed without further collision.

After this a number of negroes went around to some of the stores trying to buy pistols and knucks.

Later at night, between 11 and 12 o'clock, a negro went to Starkey's store and bought a can of oysters from Mr. Jess Starkey. He wanted crackers, vinegar and pepper to go with the oysters given to him, and upon Mr. Starkey's refusing to give these without the pay the negro drew a pistol and fired at him and ran. Fortunately Mr. Starkey was not struck. The negro has not been found since.

There have lately been several instances here in which negroes have crowded white people off the sidewalks and been insolent in many ways, and it has reached the point that white people have restrained themselves almost to the limit. No one wants to see any trouble between the races, but unless the colored people behave themselves and stop encroaching upon the rights of the white people it may come. It is the part of wisdom for all to avoid giving any offense.

Good Resolution.

Just after the nominations were completed by the county convention, Saturday afternoon, the committee on resolutions retired to make up its report. While the committee was out ex-Gov. Jarvis was called for and entertained the immense crowd with a stirring speech. He first complimented the convention on the excellent selections made for their candidates and then went into a strong discussion of the issues that confront us. He showed the short comings and extravagance of the fusion administration, pointed out how even the Populists had abandoned the principles they once argued for and were being led into the Republican party, and urged all who wanted good government and white supremacy to return to the Democratic party. It was a fine speech, and at its close Prof. W. H. Ragsdale, for the committee on resolutions, stated that the committee had only the following to offer:

Resolved, That the Democratic party of Pitt county in convention assembled cordially and heartily invites every man who favor good government and white supremacy to unite with us in the coming struggle.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by the convention.

who gauges the quality of CLOTHING by the price has no business to be married. Yet one of this class directed his wife to buy Clothing from another firm because they charged more for it, and "it must therefore be better." His better half bought some from us and some from the other house, and showed her husband that they were identical. This proved conclusively how foolish a man can be when he really tries. The lady of the house generally knows where she can get the most and best for the money.

The censorship of the press leads to amusing expedients for filling up space in the newspapers of Madrid and Barcelona. The most sensational of Spanish newspapers are now forced to print a good many cooking recipes, remedies for mosquito bites, etc., to fill up.

The editor of the Northeast (Pa) News makes this earnest appeal for more to a recent issue: "Fellow readers, in these piping times of hustle and bustle, and when you are receiving an advance upon your grapes, just take time between breaths and roll a cart wheel into The Breeze office to apply to your subscription. We are gosh-hanged hard up, and don't care who knows it either."

A Pernicious Practice

Rear Admiral Sampson's share in the four million dollars or thereabouts realized from the sale of prizes captured by our navy during the war with Spain will amount to $100,000. Rear Admiral Dewey will receive about $9,000 and Rear Admiral Schley $5,000, all or nearly all of which was earned by the destruction of Spanish ships of war. Three-fourths of Rear Admiral Sampson's pile was derived from merchantmen caught in the act of running the blockade. The Cuban blockade was by far the most profitable of all the adventures of our navy—if it be permissible to use the language of the counting room in speaking of feats of arms. There was absclutely no danger involved in stopping unarmed vessels and putting prizes crews aboard; and yet the blockade will yield a net revenue to the fleet under Rear Admiral Sampson's command his share whereof will be $75,000. Prize money, therefore, cannot be regarded as a reward of extraordinary heroism, but as a stimulant to the money-getting instincts of naval officers. The system is indefensible, and the more closely it is examined the more sordid and repulsive it appears.—Philadelphia Record.

Reformatory for Young Criminals

The action of the Penitentiary Directors yesterday directing that a Reformatory for young criminals be established on one of the farms now under the control of the State is a move in the right direction. We do not know what authority of law exists for such a step, but it is one we are sure the best sentiment of the people will sustain. There are youths sent to the penitentiary under 16 years of age. Heretofore, for the want of other arrangements, these have been kept with the other more or less hardened criminals, though we believe they have been given lighter job about the prisons. Such should neither be associated with the older or more vicious, or should they be put in the clothing usually worn by convicts. We are not of those who believe the penitentiary, or prison of any sort established for the punishment of crime, can be made even a bypath leading directly to Heaven, though we do think it a proper resting place for those who are determined to go to the other place; but we are willing to see every proper effort made to reach the young who may have fallen or been led into evil ways the great sin of their conduct, and thus give and take chances to make of them people creatures. Some may be saved, and this will be compensation enough for the honest effort to save all.

This is one step on the part of the present Directory which is entitled to the highest commendation.—Raleigh Post.

Gen. Stephen D. Lee, the distinguished Confederate General in a letter to Mr. Richard H. Edmonds of Baltimore, editor of the Manufacturers' Record says:

"I regard your pamphlet 'Facts About the South as the most condensed presentation of the condition of the South industrially before and since the war I have ever seen * * * Your facile presentation of statistics (as to the progress of the South before the war) is almost incredible in this direction, and brings out the fact that the resources of the South in agriculture, in her iron and coal beds, in her development of manufactures, in her lumber production and in every other line shows the possibility of wealth development which puts the South far ahead of almost any other equal section in the world. The wealth producing elements are almost in juxtaposition and are found in in exhaustible quantities. It also brings out the fact that, while the South has been represented, as having an inert, non-progressive population, they are, on the contrary, full of energy, valor and intelligence.

"I repeat, I consider your pamphlet the most important issued since the war in demonstrating by indisputable facts the condition of the South before, during and since the war, and removing false and untrue impressions as to the South and her people, showing also her marvelous recuperation from ruin and her present wonderful prosperity.

"Your new edition of that pamphlet should be put in the hands of all leading business men, bankers and others in the South, the North and generally distributed in every direction. It should be scattered broadcast. It was a revelation to me, and I have used its contents more freely in the interest of the South than any publication in my reach." This pamphlet should be read by every man, woman and child who wants to know about the South, what it accomplished before the war and what it is doing today. It can be had by sending 20 cents to the author, Richard H. Edmonds, Baltimore.

DANGER IN SODA.

Serious Results Sometimes Follow Its Excessive Use.

Common Soda is all right in its proper place and indispensable in the kitchen and for cooking and washing purposes, but it was never intended for a medicine, and the people who use it as such will some day regret it.

We refer to the common use of soda to relieve heartburn or sour stomach, a habit which thousands of people practice almost daily, and one of which is fraught with danger; moreover the soda only gives temporary relief and in the end the stomach trouble gets worse and worse.

The soda acts as a mechanical irritant to the walls of the stomach and bowels and cases are on record where it accumulated in the intestines, causing death by inflammation or peritonitis.

Dr. Harlandson recommends as the safest and surest cure for sour stomach (acid dyspepsia) an excellent preparation sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. These tablets are large 20 grain lozenges, very pleasant to taste and contain the natural acids, pectones and digestive elements essential to good digestion, and when taken after meals they digest the food perfectly and promptly before it has time to ferment, sour and poison the blood and nervous system.

Dr. Wuerth states that he invariably uses Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all cases of stomach derangements and finds them a certain cure not only for sour stomach, but by promptly digesting the food they create a healthy appetite, increase flesh and strengthen the action of the heart and liver. They are not cathartic, but intended only for stomach diseases and weakness and will be found reliable in any stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

All druggists sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at 50c per package. A little book describing all forms of stomach weakness and their cure mailed free by addressing the Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich.

Mr. McBride Holt Says:
 Graham, N. C. July 16, 1897.

Oneida Cotton Mills:

About two and a half years ago my little boy about four years, and my little girl about two years, each had an enlargement of the glands about the ears. The trouble appearing on each about the same time, I was inclined to think it mumps, but soon observing to the contrary, I called in the doctor, who said the trouble came from colds, prescribing accordingly, yet swelling continued to grow, until each had to hold or the lancet, the little boy having been lanced in three places, and at three times, his face at times, looking alarming. The nature of the trouble was termed one thing by one and another thing by another. This however, did not concern me, as I was looking for a cure, and Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy having been called to my attention so favorably, I dropped the treatment from the doctor and commenced to use Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. To say that the results obtained have been satisfactory is putting it in mild terms, the children, and especially the little boy being entirely well, yet wearing the scars that will ever keep fresh in my memory the merits of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy.

A KENNEL FOR YOUR DOG.

Any Boy Who is Handy With Tools Can Make One in Half a Day.

There are undoubtedly any number of boys who have a dog, but no kennel to keep him in. Almost any kind of kennel, people think, will do for a dog, so long as it affords him a place to sleep in and protection from the rain and cold. If he gets a big dry goods box with a hole in one end large enough for him to go through he is better off than the average of his race, but a kennel made especially for his use is much better, and it can easily be made in half a day.

Its size will depend, of course, on the size of your dog, but for a canine of medium size a box 36 inches long, 22 inches wide and 32 inches high from the ground to the roof peak will give ample room. If it is made larger or smaller, the same relative proportions should be maintained.

First make the front and back with peaked tops, then the side and bottom. In the front cut the entrance hole and be sure to have it large enough. Don't force your dog to squeeze and scrape every time he crawls in or out. This opening should be marked with a compass and cut with a keyhole saw to obtain the curved line. Above it, in the peak, bore four holes and with the same saw cut away the wood between them, as shown in the picture, so as to make a ventilator for dogs as well as other animals need pure air. The back can be treated in a similar manner, so that a circulation of air can be had.

Now nail the sides to the bottom, and the front and back to the bottom and sides. Between the two peaks nail a strip of wood to form a ridge pole, against which the upper ends of the board forming the roof are to be nailed. Next put on the top, nailing it securely to the ridgepole, the top edges of the front and back, and also to the upper edge of the sides.

Under the front and back nail a piece of joist to raise the floor of the kennel from the ground. When this is done, look inside and see that there is no nail ends visible to tear the dog's skin or stick into him when he lies down.

A staple with a chain attached, to the end of which may be a snap, can be driven in at one side of the front if it is desired to keep the dog fastened. If necessary a door may be fitted to close the hole in front at night, so as to keep the dog warmer in winter, but you must never forget to open it in the morning, as it would be very disagreeable for a dog to be shut in so small a place when he is awake. If it is thought desirable to paint the kennel the nail holes should be puttied up and the entire outside treated to several successive coats. A light colored paint is best.

Always place plenty of straw on the floor of the kennel to make a soft bed for your dog. He will be more grateful to you in his canine way than you have any idea of.

SEE THAT?

What is it?
 It is a picture of the celebrated
Parker Fountain Pens

It is a big hit in fountain pen making, and is a distinctive Parker feature. No other does it feed the ink perfectly, but prevents ink from clogging the nib.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—
