LOCAL NOTES AND TOBACCO JOTTINGS

BY O. L. JOYNER.

The improvement in the quantity of the offerings of tobacco has been quite noticeable for the last few days and prices have moved up correspondingly.

A load of tobacco sold Thursday by Mr. J. P. Simpson, of Martin county showed more body, better color and finer texture than any tobacco that has been sold in Greenville in years. Mr. Simpson says his land is comparatively poor and a fine, floury grey with clay subsoil. He says he always takes his tobacco from the curing barn when it is dry enough for some of the stems to break. By doing this the tobacco never gets in high enough order to run red. Farmers should observe closely every feature and method employed by the successful tobacco farmers and then apply common sense and judgment to their individual case and success will be the result.

The Greenville market sold up to October 1st over three million pounds of tobacco, the largest increase in its sales for the first two months that we have ever made. Basing the conclusion on information received from different sections of the territory tributary to the market about one-third to two-fifths of the crop has been marketed.

JOHN A CLARK.

Of all the thoroughly original of the very many genuine characters among the tobacco men that have made Greenville their home, none exceed in pristine novelty the inimitable, inexplicable, imitable Jack Clark. He is the only pebble on the beach—there are no others. Jack is an all round, jovial, good natured, big hearted boy, full of life and fun and with these prerequisites to a happy life the enemy to sunny natures, despondency, is forced to lurk far in the distance and exclaim audibly only to its wretched self! "Jack how I envy you." On tobacco sales he is a sure preventative of that tried and haggard feeling which comes to us all and to a chronic dyspeptic with an aggravated mind he converts the nightmare of gloom into a panorama of life's extacies.

As one of the tobacco boys you are all right,
 As a ladies man you are simply out of sight,
 As a business man you get there all right and
 As a man among men you are one of them, John Clark.

The Miller's Daughter or Bound in Honor will be presented in the opera house Wednesday night, 12th. From the progress of the rehearsals we can assure the people that a rich treat is in store for them. There are some rich characters on the cast, and they are going to charm the audience.

Railroad to Farmville

Mr. S. F. Freeman, agent of the Roanoke Railroad and Lumber Company, tells THE REFLECTOR that his company contemplates building a narrow gauge commercial railroad between Greenville and Farmville. A preliminary survey of the route has just been made. Mr. Freeman says that all necessary to secure the road is to give the company the right of way and terminal point. The town of Farmville has already agreed to give a terminal site there and to secure the right of way from that town to the corporate limits of Greenville. This would leave Greenville to secure only the right of way through the town to the wharf. The purpose of the builders of the road is to tap the Coast Line near the depot here so as to connect with that road and then continue to the wharf to connect with the steamers.

Greenville should take hold of this and secure the road here. The town has been the loser in the past by not acting in time. Let the Chamber of Commerce look into this and see what can be done to get the right of way from the depot to the wharf.

Preparing for Convention.

The Baptist State Convention meets in Greenville in December, and is coming here is a matter in which not only the Baptists of the town but the people of the community generally are interested, and all are going to do their part toward entertaining the body. The committee on hospitality of which Mr. C. D. Rountree is chairman, have had a meeting and divided the town into districts to facilitate the canvas to secure homes for the delegates. During the next few days the committee will go around for this purpose and THE REFLECTOR mentions the matter in advance of the canvas that our people may be ready to tell how many they can entertain.

Two Months Sales!

For the months of August and September the Greenville tobacco market sold 3,446,773 pounds. This is the best record the market has made in any season and shows the stand Greenville takes among the tobacco markets of the State. The fact is it ranks with the best.

The last stroke fells the tree. All the others have aided, but without the last there would have been no result. Nine advertisers may all but fell the tree of public skepticism, while the tenth will complete the work. If the advertiser becomes discouraged just before the tenth, the zinc will count for nothing.—Ex.

It is rumored that a new wing will be added to the Burd Building.

A STUPID FELLOW.

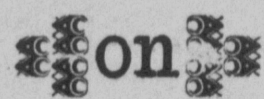

who gauges the quality of CLOTHING by the price has no business to be married. Yet one of this class directed his wife to buy Clothing from another firm because they charged more for it, and "it must therefore be better." His better half bought some from us and some from the other house, and showed her husband that they were identical. This proved conclusively how foolish a man can be when he really tries. The lady of the house generally knows where she can get the most and best for the money.

Don't it seem a little curious that the fusionists gained control of the State under an election law framed by the Democrats if that election law was the one sided affair that the fusionists claim it was? The results do not bear out the theory they advance.--Lumberton Rehearsian.

The campaign is now on. Let all white men get down to solid work for the success of the Democratic ticket. With it success will crown our efforts in the county in November. Without it the enemies of Democracy will win.

MR DAIL'S SPEECH

He Comes Out Squarely for White Supremacy

At the Johnson's Mills Democratic rally on September 29th Mr. John Dail, a former leading Populist made a speech severing his connection with that party and declaring himself for white supremacy and good government. Following is his speech delivered on that occasion:

Ladies and fellow citizens of old Pitt county; you have been permitted on this occasion to hear the issues before the people discussed in their simplicity by men too, who are capable of going into the details of the great issues that the people of our grand old State are called upon to meet face to face, on the 8th of next November.

Of course it is not expected of me to make a political speech, never having attempted such a thing in my life, but if you will be kind enough to give me your attention, in my weakness and great embarrassment, I will remind you of a few facts that are not strange to you, as you already know them as well as I do, especially you my fellow reformers who have also been deceived. I want to say something about Populism. No, not populism either, but Third partyism which simply means with our leaders, pie-hunting or money grabbing. Populism is too good a word for such corruption. And now we were made the tools of such abominable trickery--where we stand to day and what I think we as true Populists ought to do.

We all remember the great unrest that prevailed throughout the length and breadth of this great country of ours from the frozen shores of Maine to the everglades of Florida, and from the rocky cliffs of Lake Superior to the golden shores of California, which reached its climax about five years ago and how soreheaded demagogues who had proved themselves unworthy to trust took advantage of those trying, heart searching circumstances to preach reform to a downtrodden, honest, hardworking people; who were so busily trying to keep the wolf from their doors that they did not actually have time to think what would be for their best interest. Far sighted, scheming men, who had all to hope and nothing to fear, being void of principle, honor and virtue, seeing the opportunity of a lifetime, went to work. The honest toiling millions of the American people, who were as drift wood so to speak, seeking a lodging place, very naturally invited the voice of reform from any source. In the midst of this scene of confusion, one silver tongued demagogue, of the vilest type, took poor old Pitt county under his special care, swearing by everything in his reach, that she should be the happy recipient of this glorious reform promised by all the so-called leaders of reform. He exposed republican corruption and misrule, from the demonization of silver to the present denouncing, in the most bitter terms, the republican party in all its dealings. He preached for hours at every X roads and school house in the county where he could persuade the good people to tax themselves to furnish a picnic for him. And life long Democrats, as pure men as are to be found, thinking that he must truly be a reformed man, actually fell in line by the score, under his silvery speeches; notwithstanding the fact, that according to charges, which he fails to vindicate his name from, he has reduced to poverty more well to do men in Pitt county than any other man ever has. When he thought we could bear it, he began to denounce the Democrats in a mild way, where upon he became very interesting to the republicans: later, any thing to defeat the Democrats was the pass word, and the sweet sinner was received with open arms into the very bosom of the republican party, was billed to congress, and we his poor unfortunate victims, with whom lay his strength, and only hope of success, to whom, and to what? To the republican party in its purity as represented in the white house by that great and grand man--the rail splitter from Kentucky, No, not to so pure a party, represented by so pure a man, who put for his assassination, would have in all probability given this nation the greatest reform since the days of the framers of our government; who indeed did burst the shackles of slavery from the necks of four millions of human slaves, some of whom are among us to day and are good citizens.

TO CURE NERVOUS DYSPEPSIA.

To Gain Flesh, to Sleep Well, to Know What Appetite and Good Digestion Mean, Make a Test of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Interesting Experience of an Indianapolis Gentleman.

No trouble is more common or more misunderstood than nervous dyspepsia. People having it think that their nerves are to blame, are surprised that they are not cured by nerve medicines and spring remedies; the real seat of mischief is lost sight of; the stomach is the organ to be looked after.

Nervous dyspeptics often do not have any pain whatever in the stomach, nor perhaps any of the usual symptoms of stomach weakness. Nervous dyspepsia shows itself not in the stomach so much as in nearly every other organ; in some cases the heart palpitates and is irregular; in others, the kidneys are affected, in others, the bowels are constipated, with headaches; still others are troubled with loss of flesh and appetite, with the accumulation of gas, sour risings and heartburn.

Mr. A. W. Sharper of No. 61 Prospect St., Indianapolis, Ind., writes as follows: "A motive of pure gratitude prompts me to write these few lines regarding the new and valuable medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I have been a sufferer from nervous dyspepsia for the last four years; have used various patent medicines and other remedies without any favorable result. They some times gave temporary relief until the effects of the medicine wore off. I attributed this to my sedentary habits, being a bookkeeper with little physical exercise, but I am glad to state that the tablets have overcome all these obstacles, for I have gained in flesh, sleep better, and am better in every way. The above is written not for notoriety, but is based on actual facts.

Respectfully yours,
A. W. SHARPER,
61 Prospect St., Indianapolis, Ind.

Mr. McBride Holt Says:
 Graham, N. C. July 16, '97.

Oncida Cotton Mills:
 About two and a half years ago my little boy about four years, and my little girl about two years, each had an enlargement of the glands about the ears. The trouble appearing on each about the same time, I was inclined to think it mumps, but soon observing to the contrary, I called in the doctor, who said the trouble came from colds, prescribing accordingly, yet swelling continued to grow, until each had to hold or the face, the little boy having been lanced in three places, and at three times, his face at times, looking alarming. The nature of the trouble was termed one thing by one and another thing by another. This however, did not concern me, as I was looking for a cure, and Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy having been called to my attention so favorably, I dropped the treatment from the doctor and commenced to use Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. To say that the results obtained have been satisfactory is putting it in mild terms, the children, and especially the little boy being entirely well, yet wearing the scars that will ever keep fresh in my memory the merits of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy.

 FUNERAL DIRECTORS AND EMBALMERS

We have just received a new hearse and the nicest line of Coffins and Caskets, in wood, metallic and cloth, ever brought to Greenville.

We are prepared to do embalming in all its forms.

Personal attention given to funerals and bodies entrusted to our care will receive every mark of respect.

Our prices are lower than ever. We do not want monopoly but court competition.

We can be found at any and all times in the John Flanagan Buggy Co.'s building.

"Captain Dick"

This play under the management of Bertram and Willard, assisted by home talent will be presented in the new opera house here on the 20th and 21st inst. The play has just been rendered in Kinston and the Free Press says:

One of the most attractive and successful entertainments, in which our home talent have borne off honors, was the performance of Bertram and Willard's truly pretty military play "Captain Dick" at the opera house last night, for the benefit of the "Up-to-Date" library.

The audience—an unusually large one—was made up of the elite of our city and the enthusiasm with which the entire entertainment was received was a high compliment, both to Mess. Bertram and Willard, who directed it, and to the most clever talent of those who composed the cast.

H. H. Wilson, postal clerk on this branch of the Coast Line, who has been in New York on a vacation, is back on his run.

Against Skinner

Verily, Harry Skinner, the mixed candidate for Congress in this district, who tried to purchase the support of the negroes by turning traitor to the white race, is getting in a hard row. White people who formerly supported him have turned against him and now even the Republicans are forsaking him and have brought out another candidate. The Hertford Courier says:

Nine out of the sixteen counties in the first Congressional District met in the Court House of this town, Monday night, and nominated M. Joshua Whedbee for Congress.

Hons. R. A. Doughton and Donnell Gilliam and the Pitt county Democratic candidates, will speak at Gum Swamp school house, in Belvoir township, next Saturday, 15th.

Through an oversight the names of E. B. Fickien and E. G. Flanagan did not appear in the list of assistant marshals for the fair which we printed yesterday.

Greenville has some as well filled stores with as fine stocks of goods as can be found in any town. THE REFLECTOR columns tell you whose stores they are.

The first of the week the weather was bad and tobacco sales were correspondingly light, but as the weather improved they grew larger. Today the breaks were heavy. Some of the best prices since the season opened have been obtained this week.
