A CAMPAIGN SONG

BY W. J. MANNING.

Get your ticket, get it ready, for election day has come;
I hear the roar of Democracy bidding all welcome;
Its glorious for the white man, for the negro it is not;
For 'twas a sad day with them when they fused with the Pop.

CHORUS.

Charge, oh charge, run the Pop out,
Charge, oh charge, don't let them face about,

Charge, oh charge, tear down their fusion hall,
Hot times in this old State Tuesday night.

All they can talk about is disfranchise,
I never saw a worse set of campaign lies,

The Rev. Mr Phillips has preached it all abroad
When he'd better been upon his knees praying to his Lord.

Then the same Rev. Phillips with Rip Ward's help,

Said the ladies in Newbern were all low down whelps

But no one believes it neath the bright, blue skies

For it is just another of their campaign lies.

There is Col. Harry Skinner, he'll kiss a negro man,

For he wants to get his vote most any way he can;

After election's over he'll meet him on the street

And not even turn his head, much less speak.

There is boss John Manning, let me tell you, please,

He'll indict every man just to get his fees;

Just before election he'll give you all a dram,

But after voting day is gone he don't give a d—

They all said fuse with them, they would treat you right

We will put you in office above all the whites;

But just let me tell you, its every word a lie,

For you may do the voting and they will eat the pie.

A Card.

I have been a Republican all my life, and if there has ever been any good in that party I have not been able to find it. This year I believe the intentions of the Democratic party are good, and therefore I will join that party until I find our system of government growing worse.

LEON H. COX.

ORIGINAL OBSERVATIONS

Made by the Orange Va., Observer

No man can resist the tyranny of a woman.

Love bath its own unwritten language, which needed not an interpreter.

Of all the battles there are none like the unrecorded battles of the soul.

Some young men are so light that it is astonishing how they manage to make a masher.

Give even an angel a bad name and the simplest of us can see the evil expression in his face.

Some men who never had any advantages when young are among the quickest to take one now.

In courtship many a young man presses his suit until it is threadbare, then the girl gives him the sack.

The miner is a lucky man, for he can always take his pick—unless he's a colored man and goes to Illiacis.

Deceit is the byway leading to disgrace, where thorns of misery and weeds of contempt alone are found.

We know two brothers who have to be told everything together, for they are so much alike they cannot be told apart.

The groceryman smiles when he sees the butterfly, and the anthracite dealer laughs when he sees the coal dust.

The farmers may not be able to sow wheat on account of too much rain, but the weather is no barrier to the sowing of wild oats.

When a young man begins to feel his brow frequently, to see if his brain is growing too fast, its a good time to put him at mauling rails, or he'll get a terrible case of swell head.

Married in Danville.

Friday evening Mr. Julian C. Jordan arrived from Danville, Va., with his bride and they make Greenville their home. He was married in Danville on last Wednesday to Miss Evelyn Jones, daughter of Dr. B. F. James President of Roanoke Female College. Mr. Jordan is a member of the firm of M. P. Jordan & Co., leaf tobacco dealers of Danville, and is in charge of the branch business of the firm in Greenville. He is an excellent young man and stands high in the tobacco trade and is much esteemed wherever known. His bride is a lady of rare culture and will prove a charming addition to Greenville society. She is extended a cordial welcome to our town.

OBJECT LESSONS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

We offer no predictions as regards the race crisis in North Carolina, further than to express the opinion that the whites are fully justified in their resentment against the existing situation and the belief that, in one way or another, they will put an end to it on Tuesday next. As we have already explained in a previous article on this subject, the tax-paying, property-holding classes in the State are repeating the experiences of thirty years ago, and, as one may easily conclude in the light of past events, they will emerge from them by the same methods and with the same results.

It is a very well for the people of the North and East, dwelling under the operation of a secure conservatism, their local interests wisely administered and their property and their civilization beyond the reach of peril—it is all very well for these people to hold up their hands in pious horror at the mere mention of violence and to deplore the so-called wickedness now rampant at the South. But we should like to call their attention to the predicament of one county (Craven) in North Carolina, and to ask them how they would relish a similar condition of affairs at home. Our letter from there published in Saturday's edition of The Post says:

"There is no question that this is a negro-riden county. The list of negro office-holders includes the Register of Deeds, four Deputy Sheriffs, Coroner, four constables, twenty-seven magistrates, county commissioner, one member of the Board of Education, fourteen school committeemen, three road overseers, City Attorney three city aldermen, and four policemen. The present Representative of the county in the Legislature is a negro, who has been convicted of forgery, and who is again a candidate for the same place, while a majority of the other officers on the ticket are also negroes."

Here we find in a county whose total population is 12,000, sixty-six negro officials, one of them a convicted felon, and the others in delibly stained by associating with and recognizing him as a suitable person to hold office. The whites own ninety-hundredths of the property, pay the same proportion of the taxes, and represent practically all the culture, civilization and intelligence. But it appears that in nearly every respect in which their most important interests are affected by local government, they are at the mercy of negro officials who have nothing to lose by anarchy and who stand for nothing in the social scheme. Of course the people of no county in Massachusetts or Pennsylvania would ever have permitted the calamity to attain such a sinister development. At the first menace of negro domination in politics, they would have ushered in the regime of self protection and killed the evil at its root. They know this to be true, whatever they may say to the contrary under their present sense of safety. The white people throughout the country know it is true, and we know they know it. The question is not debatable.

Just how the situation has been brought about, we shall not now stop to consider. That the whites are largely to blame, we do not dream of denying. But the facts exist, and we can easily believe that they create a prospect which no intelligent and responsible citizen of North Carolina—be he Republican or Democrat—can bring himself to tolerate. Party enthusiasm, greed of office, the tricks of frowzy demagogues, the rocklessness of fools and knaves—these motives will always push their victims to greater or to less extremes of action. But there is a limit to even the most vicious tendencies of man, and that limit appears to have been reached in North Carolina. It has become necessary, after twenty years of uninterrupted peace and Christian civilization, to teach the Southern negroes that they cannot rule over the property and the destinies of the superior race, and that lesson will be taught on Tuesday next, we solemnly believe. It is our conviction, moreover, that the teachers will have the sympathy and approval—whether avowed or unavowed—of the whites throughout the land—Washington Post.

Long Time a Democrat

There are Democrats and Democrats, but perhaps our respected aged townsman, John F. Lyon, takes the cake for consistency. If he lives until next Tuesday it will make his sixty-third year of voting and he has always voted the Democratic ticket without a scratch.

He is over eighty and for years represented his county—Orange—in the Legislature. He has lived through exciting periods and has often heard the old song that the Democratic party was dead and buried but has always found it the liveliest corpse he ever saw, but never more alive than this year.

But speaking about his health, he will be a hand the 8th. In fact it looks like he can't be killed. In 1868 he was caught and carried bodily through a steam mill, ground up and mashed until he scarcely resembled a human being, breaking the mill to pieces which saved his life. The late Dr. Strudwick attended him and told him he could not recover; that almost every bone in his body was broken—but Mr. Lyon said he was not going to die, and he did not, though he remained in one position in bed for eight weeks, never being moved an inch, and finally got up.

He bears the marks and the effects yet, but he has never missed voting a Democratic ticket.

A man who can go through a steam mill and break it all to smash can't be broken from voting a Democratic ticket.—Greensboro Record.

Society as a Retormer

"Swearing is growing less, decidedly so," writes Edward Bok in November Ladies Home Journal. "All students of men agree in this view, just as excessive alcoholic drinking is falling into disuse. The principal reason for the decline of both excessive swearing and drinking is that men are getting more and more careful to refrain from any habit which places their self-control in peril. Society is constantly growing more impatient with a man who lacks equipoise, while the keener demands of business necessitate men being more moderate in all things. The basis of the change may be more material than spiritual, but the change is taking place irrespective of the character of the basis or motive."

Good Manners Proclaim the Gentleman

Good manners are a social obligation, and a young man should never make light of them nor pass them over as unworthy of notice. The extreme manners of the fop are silly and unnecessary, but the way a well-bred man deports himself is always worth a young man's closest study. Good manners mean comfort for others and the recognition of little social rights, which to pass over is to do generate! Etiquette books cannot instill good manners. One's deportment comes from within. Few men are bought without an intuitive knowledge of what is wrong or right in deportment, it is simply experience that develops the quality. To be good mannered generally means to have consideration for women of every rank in life, and that is a quality which young men cannot possess too strongly.—November Ladies' Home Journal.

THE SIMPLEST CURE FOR INDIGESTION,

As Well as the Safest and Cheapest.

The new medical discovery, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, digest the food instead of making the worn out stomach do all the work, give it a much needed rest, and a cure of dyspepsia is the natural result.

You get nourishment and rest at the same time because these Tablets will thoroughly digest all wholesome food taken into the stomach whether the stomach works or not. A cure is certain to result because the digestive organs are given a chance to rest and recover their natural vigor and tone. The Tablets are then no longer required.

To show the manner in which the remedy acts on different people and how quickly and effectually it cures stomach troubles we present a few recent cases:

Mr. J. O. Wondly, of Peoria Ill., writes: I was unable to eat any thing but the plainest food and even that of me distressed me, but since using one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets I can eat anything and everything I want.

Mrs. Samuel Kenple, of Girty, Pa., writes: I have been entirely relieved of my stomach troubles by your Tablets. I suffered three years with sour stomach and gas at night, I am thankful for them.

Mrs. A. Bowen, of Barnard, Vt., writes: I think Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best things for dyspepsia I ever took. I will recommend them to anyone troubled as I was.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will not disappoint because they cure Dyspepsia surely and lastingly by causing the food to be properly assimilated, and cure constipation by producing the proper quantity of bile. Sold by all druggists at 50 cents per package. Send for free book on stomach diseases to Stuart Co., Marshall, Mich.

The Sunny South is decidedly the best family story paper printed in America. It is clean and pure, yet intensely interesting and instructive, and should be in every Southern home. It is arranging for the winter a series of interesting stories and sketches which will place it easily in the lead of all other similar papers.

Weather Bulletin.

Fair tonight Tuesday, warmer Tuesday.

NOVEMBER NOMENCLATURE.

The List Changes Every Day.

Miss Rose Lettin, of Kinston, came over this morning to visit Miss Aymer Sugg.

Misses Helen Perkins and Bettie Tyson returned Saturday evening from a visit to Rocky Mount and Wilson.

B. F. Mazzer, the tobacco and cigar drummer, of Norfolk, struck town today. We understand that on the first of next January he and his brother will go in business for themselves as wholesale tobaccoists, and after that time he will be on the road for himself. He has always had a nice trade through this section and he will get a good patronage for his new firm.

On Tuesday morning M. R. Lang will leave Greenville for New York to make his home in that city. At Norfolk he will be joined by Mrs. Lang who went there a few days ago to visit relatives. Greenville people regret exceedingly to see Mr. and Mrs. Lang leave here. He came to this town in 1872 and made his home here for twenty six years. He first clerked here for L. G. Heilbronner and afterwards formed a copartnership with him and some years later went in business alone. He made a good citizen and always enjoyed the esteem of the people of Greenville and Pitt county. While we regret his departure, we wish him every success in his new home.

At the Fair.

Prof. Lomady arrived with his combination this morning with his special car decorated very handsomely from Winston, N. C. They will be the center attraction of the fair on the Midway. The Turtle Boy one of the greatest living curiosities of the 19th century. Wanda the worlds renowned clairvoyant who will tell you the past, present and future and restore stolen property. Prof. Lomady and his pack of gold wire souvenirs and the famous Hula Hula dancers at the fairgrounds.

MORE THAN PLEASED.

There is a firm, to know their name, Just on this paper o'er. Who once asked me, as they ask you, To step into their store. I bought a suit I took it home, I found it cheap and nice. And I never fail to recommend That firm for Price, Price, Price.

The more I wore that suit of cloth's The better they did please I'd never use! Munford's store until! The clerks were brisk as bees. "This suit" so kept its stylish shape, (Well made and fiscally kept). That still it takes the premium For Fit, Fit, Fit.

I took a walk, I saw all eyes Observing my new clothes: And if you'd be a stylish man, Just take me for a sample. Go to Munford's store where the grade's Are new, and cheap and nice, And see if they do not excel For style, and fit and prices.

So if you'd be a happy man, Just to low my example. And if you'd be a stylish man, Just take me for a sample. Go to Munford's store where the grade's Are new, and cheap and nice, And see if they do not excel For style, and fit and prices.
