Points About Advertising.

The greater number of people who know that a man is in business and what he sells, the better his business will be. Advertising is the quickest and best way to impart this information.

The selection of the medium is the first and most important point. The writing comes after. Even a bad ad in a good paper will bring some business. A good ad in a poor paper is sheer waste.

Once in awhile the one-time advertisement, on a special occasion, will bring good results, but not one time in a hundred, unless the advertiser has been fairly well advertised in the community before.

If the paper is one that is looked to by the community generally as an authority on the questions of the day, it will make the people all the more likely to believe and pay attention to the advertising it publishes.—Bates.

STATE NEWS

The next State senate will contain 48 Democratic senators, 6 Republicans and only 1 Populist. The house will contain 94 Democratic representatives, 24 Republicans and 2 Populists.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer says that there are people, and not Democrats, either, who express the belief that Governor Russell will resign in 90 days.

As a result of a collision in the Cape Fear river, at Wilmington, Tuesday morning, between a steam tug and a sharpie, Capt. E. L. Ward, of the latter, lost his life.

There is said to be little or no doubt that the next legislature will create the office of insurance commissioner, and then separate it from the office of Secretary of State.

A. A. Aldridge arrived here Wednesday night from Greenville in a bad condition. He was taken to the doctor's office for treatment, where he remained until next day, when he was carried to his home, near Johnson's mill. He appeared to be in an unconscious condition.—Ayden Journal.

The Western Union Telegraph Company reports that 515,550 messages were sent by patrons of the company at North Carolina offices during the last fiscal year.

The State Auditor estimates that there will be $120,000 available for pensions this year. This will be an increase of about $18,000 over last year's appropriation. It does not follow, however, that there will be an increase in the individual pensions, as there is a large number of applications on file, many of which will be granted. During the past year forty-eight pensioners have died—thirteen soldiers and thirty-five widows.

OVER THE COUNTRY

The Tallent Banking Company, of San Francisco, Cal., has retired from business.

The British ship Lord Rank, from China for Portland, Ore., 75 days out, is supposed to have been lost.

Naval reserves of Illinois who served in the war with Spain will organize the Illinois Naval Veterans' Association.

Important to Democrats

The justices of the peace elected November 8th for the ensuing two years, must qualify before December 1st, 1898, or their offices will be vacant and the appointment to fill vacancy will fall to Governor Russell. It is important that the Democrats elected qualify at once.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1898.

Poor Bob Deal, of the Wilkesboro Chronicle! His county, Wilkes, noted chiefly for the production of "moonshine," went Republican by about 990 majority, and Bob expresses himself on it in these few lines:

"Providence seems to have been watching over all other sections but Wilkes in the recent landslide"

Southern Pines and the Negro

Southern Pines in Moore county, this State, is a typical Northern community. It was built, is settled and is governed by people from the Northern and New England States, and it is interesting to know how the negro is treated there. Dr. Edwin Gladman, a physician of Washington City, is conducting a sanitarium at Southern Pines, and in Washington, a few days ago, he said to a Post reporter: "I am in a North Carolina town which is altogether outside the zone of race disturbances. It is equal to Washington Irving's Sleepy Hollow for freedom from bloodshed and disturbance, and also affords a very good illustration of how circumstances alter cases. Southern Pines was founded by Eastern capitalists as a resort for invalids, and hundreds go there every winter seeking restoration of health. Its founders, notwithstanding their birth-place and traditions, did not allow any sentimental notions about the negroes to enter in their plans. No negro is allowed to live or do business in Southern Pines. They are all congregated in a place called 'Jintown,' and when they visit the town proper, are models of quiet and orderly behavior."

It is invariably the case that when the Northerner comes South he changes his views on the negro question. Southern Pines is the only town in North Carolina in which negroes are not allowed to live. They are not even employed as servants, the hotel help being white girls and white men being employed for other menial duties. And yet Southern Pines is a Northern man's town. Look at it every way you will, the truth stands that the negro's best friend is the Southern white man. The Northerner, as a matter of fact, cannot tolerate the negro. The Southerner feeds and clothes him; builds school houses, hospitals and asylums for him; goes his bond to keep him out of jail; lends him money; gives his family medicine when they are sick, and sets up grog for the men, bananas for the women and tricks for the children at Christmas time. That is the way he is treated in the South, with the exception of Southern Pines.—Charlotte Observer.

Malicious Gabble.

If there is any one thing of which the people of the United States have had enough it is sectional animosity. If there is any one class of politicians whose day is past, it is that which devoted itself to the damnable industry of fomenting sectional hatred. If in view of the events of the last eight months, there is a locality, anywhere in this country whose people will be patiently tolerant of an attempt to revive the old-time bitterness between the North and the South, pity for such persons is drowned in contempt.

We cannot imagine it to be possible that Chicago will be a congenial field for revived exploitation of a dead and buried crusade that is as false in fact as it is inimical to her interests and repulsive to her sense of justice. It is strange beyond all possibility of explanation or comprehension that one of the leading newspapers of that city has undertaken this vicious task.

The Chicago Tribune knows why Democracy and not Republicanism is dominant in the South. It knows that a Democratic vote cast in Georgia, for instance, is no more indicative of animosity toward the North than it would be if cast in Illinois. But the Tribune, referring to the people of the South, says:

"The discredit cause of this unanimity is hatred of the North. The sons of the man who were reared in and fought for the secession principles of Jeff Davis have not been able wholly to emancipate themselves from that feeling of hatred for the North which their fathers felt so keenly."

The Post will not insult the people of the South by going into a needless defense of them against that contemptible accusation. The restoration of amity between the sections is ancient history. It was established long before the war with Spain began. But the record of events since that conflict became imminent ought to have made it impossible for any newspaper to perpetrate such malicious gabble as that of the Chicago Tribune quoted above.—Washington Post

Warm Congratulations

Chairman J. D. Murphy of the county Democratic committee has received a congratulatory letter from Rev. J. D. Huffman of Henderson, N. C. Dr. Huffman is pastor of the Henderson Baptist church, and one of the leaders of his denomination in North Carolina. Because of the prominence of the writer and his warm words of commendation, Mr. Murphy justly feels great gratification over the receipt of the letter which follows:

"Suffer this word of joyful congratulation on the noble fight which you made and the glorious victory which you have won in Buncombe. It was a special mercy to us of the east that you were in Asheville. No other man could have done your work so well. Besides your great courage, industry and administrative ability, you were able to tell the people out of perfect knowledge the miseries and horrors of nigger rule. Many sons of North Carolina have done well in this great campaign but none of them has surpassed you. A little later the people will say to you, 'Friend come up higher,' and the writer of this scrawl will respond joyfully, 'Amen and amen.' God bless you my dear friend." Asheville Citizen

He Rode White

Greensboro has a colored citizen who is almost white. He looks and behaves like a white man. He is possessed of some means, and on a recent visit to Columbia, S. C., to look after some property he entered the colored folks' car when leaving. The conductor came through, looked at him a moment and said: "Look here this car is for negroes; you go into the white people's car where you belong." Aaron Mandenhall, for he it was, was greatly tickled, but he picked up his grip, and on the command of the conductor, rode with the white people. It is a good joke on the conductor, and no one appreciates more, as a joke than does Aaron.—Greensboro Telegram.

It is said that the well meaning negroes of Wilmington were very much incensed against the negro Manly, who after he had succeeded in stirring up the race war, sneaked out of town and allowed innocent negroes to bear the brunt of the white man's wrath, taking good care for his own safety. One feature of the recent trouble that will always be a cause for regret is that none of the evil men who incited the negroes were in evidence when the negroes needed them, having disappeared before the storm broke. Now a party of negro preachers away up in Brooklyn hold a meeting and urge the Southern negroes to deeds of blood and violence, well knowing that however much trouble they may get their Southern brethren into, they themselves are out of harm's way. The Southern darkey has been doing some thinking for himself lately, and his false friends are going to find it a more difficult matter to use him as a cat paw than has heretofore been the case. There is not an intelligent negro in the South who will not look upon these Brooklyn preachers as enemies to their race.—Charlotte Observer.

A PECULIAR REMEDY.

Something About the New Discovery for Curing Dyspepsia.

The Rev. F. I. Bell, a highly esteemed minister residing in Weedsport Cayuga Co., N. Y., in a recent letter writes as follows: "There has never been anything that I have taken that has relieved the Dyspepsia from which I have suffered for ten years except the new remedy called Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Since taking them I have had no distress at all after eating and again after long years and sleep well. Rev. F. I. Bell, Weedsport, N. Y., formerly Idaho Colo.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet is a remarkable remedy, not only because it is a certain cure for all forms of indigestion, but because it seems to act as thoroughly in old chronic cases of dyspepsia as well as in mild attacks of indigestion or biliousness. A person has dyspepsia simply because the stomach is overworked, all it wants is a harmless, vegetable remedy to digest the food and thus give it the much needed rest.

This is the secret of the success of this peculiar remedy. No matter how weak or how much disordered the digestion may be, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food whether the stomach works or not. New life and energy is given not only to the stomach but to every organ and nerve in the body. A trial of this splendid medicine will convince the most skeptical that Dyspepsia and all stomach troubles can be cured. The tablets are prepared by the F. A. Stuart Co., of Marshall, Mich., but so popular has the remedy become that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can now be obtained at any drug store at 50 cents per package. Send for book on stomach diseases free.

You neglect your duty to yourself, your family and your friends, if you do not send at once to Mrs. Joe Person, Kittrell, N. C., for one of her pamphlets, showing how others—some of the most prominent people of the country—have been cured. It cured them. It will cure you.

THE CYCLONE.

How This Wonderful and Destructive Air Fury is Formed.

To get an idea of a cyclone's formation imagine a large circular pan or tub with quite a large hole in the middle of the bottom. With this hole plugged, fill the vessel with water; then draw out the plug and watch. There is first a rush of water from all directions toward the hole and a turbulent effort to get through. Then the water surface above begins to sink and swirl, the particles gradually circling around and around and rushing, ever faster, toward the center. At last there is actually a hollow space through the center, around which all the water in the tub is whirling, sluggishly near the rim, but with more and more violent rapidity toward the middle until it rushes downward through the bottom. Now, if that water were air, you would be watching a little cyclone turned upside down, for the air rushes upward instead of downward.

In the cradle of cyclones during the summer months, when the land and the water grow hotter and hotter because of the longer days than nights, a layer of air, hot, light and full of vapor, is for a time held down by denser air above it. Restless, expanding, tumultuous, it moves about like a beast at bay until a thinner place in the air above is found. Then up it madly rushes and into the vacuum left behind the lower atmosphere hastens from all directions, pushing and twisting and pouring upward until it has fallen into a regular spinning around a common center.

The cyclone, once formed, rushes away from the tropics toward the pole, and begins its career of destruction, bruising, wrecking and sinking the luckless ships which happen to be in its path. More and more of the surrounding atmosphere is drawn into the whirl until the storm often covers an area nearly 1,000 miles in diameter. Sometimes it flings itself upon our Atlantic coast and tears fiercely through forests, fields and cities. Then again it sweeps away across the broad ocean and dashes itself upon the coasts of Europe. Once in awhile it so adroitly avoids the land that we never know it has passed until ships come in torn and broken.—St. Nicholas.

BACKBONE OF OUR NATION.

The Brain Power of Our Country Comes From the Farms.

"It is from the farm and the country districts that the great brain power of the country has come, is coming today and must come in the future," writes Edward Bok in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Instead of deprecating country life and saying that to live in the country means to live out of the world, intelligent people know that the free, untrammelled life of the country unquestionably gives broader views. The human mind always grows to suit its outward surroundings. Originality and a development for great things have naught to check its growth where one can look with earnest eyes from nature up to nature's God. To speak of the ignorance of the rural regions' is to stamp oneself as an ignoramus, not the country people. There is a soundness of core and an intelligence in the back country of this nation of ours that people who live in cities and think themselves wise never suspect. We can talk all we like of 'social revolutions' and kindred evils that are supposed to threaten this nation. When they do threaten our institutions, the danger signal will not come from the back country. Such thoughts are born and fed amid the foul atmosphere of the cities. In the clear country air of the farm nothing threatens this country, and when anything in the shape of a socialistic, anarchistic revolution does menace this land the true voice which will stamp it out will come from the country. The backbone of this land rests in the country and on the farm."

Pianists Practice Too Much.

"While studying with Rubinstein, Josef Hofmann practiced three hours a day," writes Mary B. Mullett of the famous pianist in The Ladies' Home Journal. "He believes that most students make the mistake of overpracticing. When he came to this country the first time, he was practicing an hour a day. For two years after his return to Germany he practiced two hours a day. During the next two years he averaged four hours daily, and after that until he went to Rubinstein, six hours daily. This he regards as excessive.

"One's mind grows stupid and confused," Hofmann says, "and one's fingers follow the confusion of the brain. Another mistake of young pianists is that they use too much force in practicing. One should play just hard enough to keep the fingers and wrists from getting stiff. One is not aiming for artistic results as one is in concert playing. It is the fingers which need constant practice."

Hair Powder.

The cause of the general disease of hair powder was the high price of flour. It was thought little less than criminal that flour, which was almost beyond the reach of some of the very poor, should be used by the rich as a mere fashionable luxury of dress. Voluntary associations were formed, the members whereof bound themselves not to use hair powder. In a similar way the abolitionists bound themselves not to use any sugar whose production involved the employment of negro slaves.—Notes and Queries.

Wild Turkey in Town.

About midday today several people in the vicinity of W. B. Wilson's office were startled by hearing something crash into the telephone wires overhead. Looking up they saw a wild turkey tangled in the wires. The bird soon became untangled and flew on against a front window of C. T. Munford's store, then dropped down on the sidewalk and sought refuge inside the store. The clerks discovered the bird and after a lively chase about the store captured him. Another turkey was along with this one but passed on over town. A drove of them have been feeding near town for the last few days and the hunters have been after them.

C. T. MUNFORD.

MORE THAN PLEASED.

There is a firm, to know their name, Just on this paper over. Who once asked me, as they ask you, To step into their store. I bought a suit, I took it home, I found it cheap and nice. And I never fail to recommend That firm for Price, Price, Price.

I took a walk, I saw all eyes Observing my new clothes. I was a model and admired By friends, also by foes. I set the fashions for the town, And travelled many a mile To tell the people where to go For Style, Style, Style.

The more I wore that suit of clothes The better they did please I advised Munford's store until The clerks were brisk as bees. This suit so kept its stylish shape, (Well-made and firmly knit), 'Tat still it takes the premium For Fit, Fit, Fit.

So if you'd be a happy man, Just follow my example And if you'd be a stylish man, Just take me for a sample. Go to Munford's store where the grade are new, and cheap and nice, And see if they do not excel For Style, and Fit and Prices.
