House and Store Broken Into.

Mr. Frank Carroll lives in (Chick) township. Sunday while himself and family were gone to church somebody went to his house and broke open one of the back windows. The middle door in the house was locked so the thief could not get through to the front room, but he went around to the front of the house and broke open another window and went in these rooms. The thief scattered the contents of bureau drawers and boxes over the floor, and with an axe broke a trunk in pieces. There was a little money, less than $1, in the trunk and nothing else has been missed from the house. The thief then with an axe cut the sash of the back window to Mr. Carroll's store and made a hole of sufficient size for a small person to enter. There was a general ransacking of drawers and boxes in the store, but some cheese and tobacco were the only things missed. Evidently the thief was looking for money. About a year ago Mr. Carroll's store was entered in the same way, at which time about $6 was taken.

Don't Let Them Stop

No announcement was made calling the appointment off, but the White Government Union did not get together in the Court House Monday night. Perhaps everybody waited for somebody else to light up and ring the bell. THE REFLECTOR believes the white people could do nothing better than to keep up the organization.

The New Band

Since the new band received instruments a week or so ago, it has been decided to get enough additional instruments to increase the band to twenty pieces. An orchestra of ten pieces will also be organized so that the band will be able to furnish music for any occasion. From the men who compose the band and the way they are going in to practicing it is safe to say that Greenville is going to have one of the best bands and orchestras to be found in the State.

Jarvis and Simmons

We can all take a rest. North Carolina is a dear old State to live in. Our civilization is safe. Our homes are safe and the negro population is safe now and more contented than at any time since the war. Three cheers and thanks to Chairman Simmons. Walk in and help yourself. The office seeks you. You sought not the office. How would Jarvis and Simmons of North Carolina look on the rolls of the United States Senate?—Elizabeth City Economist.

STATE NEWS

The Times says the horse of Mr. John Cook, of Elkin, ran away a few days ago. A bystander threw a brick at him to stop him. The brick struck the horse and he fell and died in a few minutes.

In the Houstonville neighborhood (redell county, a little five-year-old girl of Mr. Pink Campbell found a jug of whiskey in the house while her parents were out and drunk so much of it, that it put her in a stupor from which it was impossible to arouse her.

Substituting White Labor

Wilmington, N. C., Nov. 18.—During the campaign the White Government Unions set on foot a movement to substitute white for negro labor. Employers urged their negro employes not to register and vote against their interests, but most of the negroes disobeyed these wishes, and the consequence was that bands of negroes were discharged and white men were employed in their places.

Since it has been understood that white labor is preferred, hundreds of young men are coming here from other states, seeking employment in all kinds of positions. A labor bureau was established under the auspices of the White Government Unions and James Kyle and N. W. Jacobi were placed in charge of it, with a view to securing positions for white men when employes are wanted. In this way it is hoped to make a "white man's town" out of Wilmington.

While it is regarded that the negro, to a certain extent, will be eliminated as a factor in politics, the problem is by no means settled. As tending to a more effectual solution of the race problem, it is proposed to distribute the negroes through the United States, and one of the plans for doing this is to employ white labor and compel the negroes to go elsewhere. A movement is to be set on foot to organize white men's unions throughout the south for encouraging the employment of whites.

We learn that the Democratic leaders of Greene county held a meeting last week and finally decided to contest the election in that county on the ground of illegal votes. They have clear proof of at least 11 illegal votes cast by the fusionists and this number taken off from the fusion vote elects all the Democrats except for sheriff, the fusion nominee for that office having received 27 majority according to the returns. It is thought that Mitchell, fusion nominee for the legislature, will not even make a contest with Capt. E. W. Sugg.—Kinston Free Press.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From our regular Correspondent, WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 21 '98.

Nobody need be misled by the backing and filling of the Peace Commissioners and the weekly crisis, on paper, always accompanied by an alleged ultimatum sent by this government.

It is the easiest thing in the world to get people accustomed to and indifferent to large public expenditures. Only a few years ago the appropriation of a billion dollars by a Republican Congress aroused the public opinion of the country, and elected a Democratic President and Congress.

Mr. McKinley has shown his adroitness as a politician by deciding not to recommend any legislation at the coming session of Congress for Porto Rico or the Philipines.

Assistant Secretary of War McKeljohn wishes to be the Hanna-McKinley candidate for the Senate from Nebraska, and his friends say that he thinks he will be, the condition being that he shall promise to support the administration in all things in the Senate, and that he shall secure a solid McKinley delegation from Nebraska to the Republican Convention in 1900. The same sort of pledge is being exacted as the price of administration support of all the other candidates for the Senate, in States where the legislatures to elect Senators are controlled by the Republicans.

It is announced that the Canadian American Commission, now setting in Washington, has made great progress, but the announcers take good care to accompany the announcement with the statement that the agreements reached by the Commission have been only upon minor matters, and that the important questions are still up in the air.

The Republican United States District Attorney, for South Carolina, spent two entire days consulting with the administration, upon what should be done by the Attorney General, if anything, about the race troubles in that State.

It has been definitely settled that Mr. McKinley will in his annual message to Congress, recommend that the regular army be increased to 100,000 men, and that he will endorse the recommendation of Secretary Long that three battleships and twelve cruisers be built, and twenty thousand men and two thousand, five hundred boys be enlisted in the navy.

How some men's heads do grow after they get an office. During the years that Perry Heath did newspaper work around Washington nobody ever suspected him of greatness, although he was always on the lookout for the main chance and got his name on the public payroll at every opportunity—for a long time he drew pay as a laborer in the folding room at the Capitol, hiring a man at half his salary, to do his work—but he got into Boss Hanna's good graces, and lo! he became First Assistant Postmaster General; and now he wants to be Senator from Indiana.

Should that want be granted, he will have to have his hats made to order. His head is already swelled out of the recognition of many of his old friends.

The amount of money in the United States averages $34.25 per capita. The amount in circulation averages $22.49 per capita. The difference amounts, in the aggregate, to $856,310,320 of idle money.

A young man named Stewart, from Harnett county, is under sentence of death in Mexico. He killed the chief of police in a Mexican town.

Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke your Life Away. To quit tobacco easily and forever, be magnetic, full of life, nerve and vigor, take No-To-Bac, the wonder-worker, that makes weak men strong.

At Maysville Ky., on Wednesday last John D. Kelly, a ragged penniless tramp, a typical knight of the road, saved Miss Lottie Ross' life at the expense of his own. The girl tried to cross the track at the depot in front of an approaching train.

The Pony Express. W. F. Bailey contributes to The Century an article on "The Pony Express," between St. Joseph, Mo., and San Francisco.

At first the schedule was fixed at 10 days, an average of 8 miles an hour from start to finish. This was out down to 8 days, requiring an average speed of 10 miles. The quickest trip made was in carrying President Lincoln's inaugural address, which was done in 7 days and 17 hours, an average speed of 10.7 miles per hour.

To Cure Constipation Forever. Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic. 10c or 25c. If C. C. C. fail to cure, druggists refund money.

Hardly. Miss D.—Angelina, why don't you marry Lieutenant Y? Miss A.—First, because he has no brains—and he can't ride, dance or play tennis.

China's Great Garden. There is an immense garden in China that embraces an area of 50,000 square miles. It is all meadow land and is filled with lakes, ponds and canals.

In the orange fields of New Zealand the crop has been known to net as high as $1,000 an acre.

ODDITIES IN WILLS.

SOME PECULIAR BEQUESTS AND CURIOUS CONDITIONS.

A Patriotic American's Desire to Be Heard After Death—Wills Which Proved That in the Cases of Their Makers Marriage Was a Failure.

The admiration of our American cousins for their country is a prominent characteristic of their daily life, and some years ago a Mr. Sanborn desired that in death as in life his body should proclaim the glory of the republic. He left £1,000 to the late Professor Agassiz, in return for which he was, by an extremely scientific process set forth in the will to tan his (Sanborn's) skin into leather and from it have a drum made. Two of the most suitable bones of his body were to be made into drumsticks, and with these a Mr. Warren Simpson—to whom Sanborn left the remainder of his property—was "on every 17th of June to repair to the foot of Bunker hill and at sunrise beat on the drum, the parchment of which had been made out of the testator's skin, the spirit stirring strains of 'Yankee Doodle.'"

A somewhat similar bequest was made by a German in 1887. He died in Pittsburg and by his will directed that his body should be cremated and the ashes forwarded to the German consul at New York, who was to deliver them to the captain of the steamship Elbe. When in midocean, the captain was to request a passenger to dress himself in fautical costume, and ascending with the funeral-urn to the topmast, to scatter the ashes to the four winds of heaven. These strange directions were faithfully carried out.

Quite as peculiar were the directions for the funeral of a Mr. John Underwood. He willed that he was to be buried in a green coffin with a copy of Horace under his head and of Milton under his feet, a Greek testament in his right hand and a small Horace in his left. Six friends, who were not to wear mourning, were to follow him to the grave and there to sing a verse of the twentieth ode of the second book of Horace. After this they were to "take a cheerful glass and think no more of John Underwood."

Wills may also be admitted as evidence of the mixed blessings of the matrimonial state. A nobleman wrote, "I give and bequeath to the worst of women, whom I unfortunately married, 45 brass halfpence, which will buy her a pullet for supper."

A Glasgow doctor, dying some ten years ago, left the whole of his estate to his two sisters, and then came this extraordinary clause: "To my wife, as a recompense for deserting me and leaving me in peace, I expect the said sister Elizabeth to make her a gift of 10 shillings sterling, to buy her a pocket handkerchief to weep in after my decease."

A Mr. Sydney Dickenson bequeathed to his wife the sum of £60,000, "on condition that she undertakes to pass two hours a day at my graveside, for the ten years following my decease, in company with her sister, whom I have reason to know she loathes worse than she does me."

Another husband stated that he would have left his widow £10,000 if she had allowed him to read his newspaper in peace, but as she always commenced playing and singing when he started to read he left her only £1,000. Such instances could be multiplied indefinitely, but one other is worthy of note.

A husband left his wife £12,000, to be increased to £24,000 provided that she wore a widow's cap after his death. She accepted the larger amount, wore the cap for six months, and then put it off. A lawsuit followed, but the judge held that the testator should have inserted the word "always" and gave judgment in favor of the widow, who the day after re-entered the state of matrimony. Thus the husband's little plan for preventing his widow marrying again failed.

But the most curious will which the writer has ever come across is that of M. Zalesky, a Polish landlord, who died in 1889, leaving property valued at 100,000 rubles. His will was enclosed in an envelope bearing the words, "To Be Opened After My Death." Inside this was another envelope, "To Be Opened Six Weeks After My Death." When this time had passed, the second envelope was opened and a third uncovered, "To Be Opened One Year After My Death." At the end of the year a fourth envelope was discovered, to be opened two years after the testator's death, and so the game went on until 1894, when the actual will was discovered and read. It was quite as eccentric in its dispositions as the directions attached to its opening. The testator bequeathed half his fortune to such of his heirs as had the largest number of children. The rest of the property was to be placed in a bank and a hundred years after his death to be divided, with the accumulated interest, among the will maker's descendants. Thus by 1989, at 5 per cent compound interest, the 50,000 rubles will have swelled into 6,000,000 rubles. But what will this be among so many descendants?—Household Words.

The psaltery of Spain is supposed to have been introduced into that country by the Moors. It is still in common use among the peasants.

SYRUP OF FIGS

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe, nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

A Warm Number

Two colored boys had a spell of "hot jacket" out at one of the tobacco warehouses, Monday afternoon, using a piece of board one inch thick and six feet long to do the warming act with. The contest over the piece of plank was something furious, the holder of it taking occasion to pluck his antagonist over the head with it. First one and then the other of the combatants would get the board.

Remembered With Love

In making acknowledgements to the different chairmen, speakers and editors who deserve special thanks for their services in the recent campaign, Rev. Jesse H. Pige and Rev. A. W. Seizer should not be overlooked. Their letters which were first published in the Enterprise and afterwards in most of the other State papers, were the best campaign documents that appeared in Western North Carolina. They had a great deal to do with the revolution in this part of the State.—Newton Enterprise.

Last Sunday several of the Sunday schools decided to change the time of meeting from the morning to the afternoon, for the winter.

MORE THAN PLEASED.

There is a firm, to know their name, Just on this paper o'er: Who once asked me, as they ask you, To step into their store. I bought a suit. I took it home; I found it cheap and nice. And I never fail to recommend That firm for Price, Price, Price.

I took a walk, I saw all eyes Observing my new clothes: I was a model and admired By friends, also by foes. I set the fashions for the town, And travelled many a mile To tell the people where to go For Style, Style, Style.

The more I wore that suit of clothes: The better they did please I advertised Munford's store until The clerks were brisk as bees. 'This suit so kept its stylish shape, (Well-made and firmly knit), 'That still it takes the premium For Fit, Fit, Fit.

So if you'd be a happy man, Just for low my example And if you'd be a stylish man, Just take me for a sample. Go to Munford's store where the grade Are new, and cheap and nice, And see if they do not excel For Style, and Fit and Prices.
