The Singin' Skule Friday Night

The "Singin' Skule" the entertainment which is to be given at Perkins' Opera House Friday night under the direction of Bertram and Willard is not a play, but an entertainment, the chief aim of which is to amuse and in no way offend. The situations are unique and original, overflowing with clean, wholesome and refined humor. Mr. Bertram plays the part of Mrs. Jedediah Bobbins and Mr. Willard plays Jedediah Bobbins.

The "Singin' Skule" is not confined to music numbers alone, though it contains several numbers that are very bright and catchy, but it presents some quaint character sketches, delineations and impersonations true to nature and strictly within the limits of an entertainment appealing to the taste of the refined, moral and intellectual.

The Kinston Daily Free Press says: Mess. Bertram & Willard, assisted by our local amateurs, gave a performance of the "Singin' Skule" at Loftin's opera house last evening to one of the largest audiences ever assembled at a performance in Kinston.

The performance consisted of songs, humorous speeches and other amusing doings by the "skollers," and many phases of splendid acting by Mr. Eugene Bertram, as Mrs. Jedediah Robbins and Mr. Basset Willard, as Mr. Robbins. Most of the numbers were humorous but among them were a few very beautiful and well rendered selections.

All acquitted themselves handsomely and deserve much credit for the nice performance they gave. Admission 35 cents, Kids 15 cents. Reserved seats 15 cents extra—on sale at Dr. Wootens Thursday—tomorrow morning.

Boy Hurt.

On Monday Master Durwood Wilson, a little son of Mr. W. B. Wilson, was painfully hurt. A cannon cracker exploded in his hand and tore it in a fearful manner. He has suffered intensely from the injury.

Married.

Mr. E. R. Tull, of Kinston, accompanied by his brothers, Messrs Isaac and John Tull, Rev. J. A. Lee and Mr. Clarence Oettinger, came over on the morning train. They drove out to the home of Mr. D. M. Edwards, near Farmville, where the latter's daughter, Miss Nellie, and Mr. E. R. Tull were married this afternoon by Rev. Mr. Lee. The party will return to Kinston on the evening train.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, Dec. 28th.

Charlie Kittrell has moved to town.

Mrs. J. C. Cox was visiting her children here Christmas.

A. G. Cox is on the market for Cotton Seed, Shingles, Field Peas.

We are to have another wedding this week. Will tell you all about it Saturday.

J. A. Manning is moving his family here. He will occupy the house with Mrs. R. P. Davis until she moves.

John Jarrell begins work today in the cigar factory. They now have five cigar makers, and the best stock of cigars they ever had.

Miss Laura Cox returned home from Greensboro Saturday morning where she has been attending the State Normal school. She will not go back at once, but will teach a school at Hanrahan's.

The wire fence makers will soon have enough Christmas and be back turning those old fence machines again. They have got something to make it as fast as people want it.

Rev. R. D. Carroll, his wife and wife's sister, Miss Davis, who have been spending about three weeks in this community, took the train for their home in Carteret county last night.

The Christmas tree exercises at the Baptist church Saturday night were a success and all passed off quietly, followed by a fine display of fire works by the boys.

Don't you need a New Year Wagon, Cart, Plow, Saddle or Cart Saddle? If so, The A. G. Cox Mfg Co. can supply you with one ready made or can make one to order on short notice.

The Methodist Sunday school had a Christmas tree and party in the opera house Tuesday night. It was a very successful occasion and everybody present enjoyed it.

Eclipse.

When the moon rose Tuesday evening it was in eclipse and continued so for some hours into the night. It had not become clear when clouds formed which obscured further view.

The "regulators" did not get in very much mischief this Christmas. They did more damage around the male academy building than elsewhere.

Will you need a new set of books for the new year? The Reflector Book Store has a lot of double and single entry ledgers, day books, &c.

Accept our many thanks for your liberal patronage during the holidays and we promised to keep up our reputation for goods at LOW PRICES.

Frank Wilson, The King Clothier.

Thank you good people for your liberal patronage during the past week. We will keep at the head of the procession for good goods and low prices.

JUDGE AVERY'S PLAN.

One trouble about Judge Avery's plan is that he would have a Legislature and a Constitutional Convention in session in Raleigh at one and the same time. He proposes that the Convention shall meet the first Monday in January, 1901. The Constitution, Sect. 2. Art. 22. requires the Legislature to meet first Wednesday after first Monday in January 1901. So three days after the Convention meets under Judge Avery's plan the Legislature would meet. This would be inconvenient to say the least of it. The Legislature about to assemble may change the time of holding the "next General election" but it cannot change the time for the meeting of the Legislature for that is fixed by the Constitution.

It is not well for the people to expect too much of the Legislature. That body will find perplexities at every step it takes in dealing with the difficult problems which confronts it. Do the best it can it will be sure to disappoint somebody.

The Charlotte News filled the whole Christmas stocking. The Christmas issue of that paper was 64 pages and it has the distinction of being the largest newspaper ever published in North Carolina. It was handsomely illustrated and contained much interesting matter about Charlotte and the Western portion of the State.

A Way to Reach the Tutsts.

If the Congressmen who declare that they want the Anti-Trust act made more severe are in earnest they can strike a blow at many Trusts without invoking the aid of the Courts, which move so slowly. That is to reduce the customs duties on articles the domestic production of which is controlled by industrial combines. Then foreign competition will curb the rapacity of home monopolies. If tinplate manufacturers or sugar refiners combine, lower the duties on tinplate and refined sugar. The Welsh tinplate manufacturers and German sugar refiners will not enter into a conspiracy with American producers, and the latter will be forced to reduce their prices to a reasonable figure. There are many ways of hitting at Trusts if Congressmen really desire to do so.—Chicago Tribune.

INKY ICICLES.

Every time Satan closes a door he opens a larger one.

Distance is often responsible for lasting friendships.

The man who is in love with himself has no fear of being jilted.

The rooster is a tidy bird. He invariably carries a comb with him.

Courtship and romance are more interesting than marriage and history.

The man with a narrow mind usually makes up for it in the length of his arguments.

It's a consolation to some men who are short on hair to know that they are long on brains.

The frankness with which a 17-year-old girl refers to herself as an old maid is certainly amusing.

Incompatibility of temper always means that both parties have the same kind of temper and plenty of it.

A pessimist says that the only way to avoid trouble, escape hardships, dodge calamities and all that sort of thing is to die young.—Chicago News.

The Confederate veterans of Memphis have passed a resolution condemning Senator Butler's recent blundering violation of good taste and dignity in his proposed resolution to Confederates on the national pension rolls. The Memphis veterans wish it understood that, while they think the Southern States ought to make better provision for their crippled and destitute ex-Confederates they "condemn the introduction of any measure in Congress looking to the pensioning of ex-Confederates by the United States government." The Norfolk Landmark thinks that all over the South the same condemnation of Butler's tactics ought to be expressed without delay. Southern pride requires that this thing be brought to a speedy termination. That paper truly observes that "the admission of ex-Confederates to the national soldiers' homes is very different from admitting ex-Confederates to the pension trough. It is cause for regret that a Southern member of Congress proposed the former; it is cause for indignation that a Southern member of Congress proposed the latter."—Charlotte Observer.

We Must Hustle.

The statement is made that $2,000,000 will be invested in manufacturing enterprises in Richmond, Va., next year. It is safe to say that these investments did not, or will not, drop into the lap of Richmond without any effort on the part of that city. What effort is being made by Raleigh, or by other towns of this State to attract investors? There are towns in this State with excellent facilities for manufacturing enterprises, but too often they are never brought to the attention of men with money to invest. The result is that the investors stop at Richmond or pass on through to Atlanta or other cities further South. We are aware that some of our towns do not pursue the sit-down-and-wait policy, but none perhaps does all that it can to bring enterprises into the State.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Young Men's New Year Resolutions.

"To be perfectly frank, I have very little faith in New Year's resolutions which are made at the beginning of a year," writes Edward Bok in the December Ladies Home Journal. "At the same time, there are people who fancy the idea of making resolutions at some arbitrary division of time, such as the first day of a new year. But the characters of those resolves should emanate from one's own heart and not be suggested by another. Yet an excellent resolution for a young man to make is this: triangular one: Be industrious, shun all intoxicating liquors, and put into a good saving bank at least fifteen cents of every dollar earned during the year."

A YEAR OF GREAT EVENTS.

The Record of 1898 a Memorable One.

WARS AND DISASTERS.

Diary of the Conflict With Spain.

DEATH'S HEAVY ROLL.

Fatal Explosions and Shipwrecks. Fierce Storms and Destructive Conflagrations—Many Noted Names in the Obituary List—Personal, Miscellaneous and Sporting Events—A Chronological Summary From January to December.

The powerful young republic of the western world torn by what some of her leading men regard as the relentless grasp of destiny from her policy of international isolation, the political relapse of one of the ancient kingdoms of the orient and the dismemberment by force of a monarchy dating from the middle ages are three events of 1898 the results of which upon the progress of civilization cannot be so much as conjectured. Of minor importance, yet of far-reaching and still unknown significance, came the Dreyfus agitation in France and the Anglo-French imbroglio in west Africa. All of these movements were accelerated by the developments of the opening months of the year.

In January the Maine was ordered to Havana, a step followed by the infamous Do Lome letter and the explosion in Havana harbor, two incidents arousing the American people to a degree which carried the nation beyond the control of her conservative statesmen. In January, also, the prosecution of Zola for libel in the defense of Dreyfus opened an endless chain of startling denouements, which bid fair to unsettle the domestic peace of France. The year ushered in sensational rumors of the partition of China, and in the first weeks the powers seized each a fragment, Great Britain declaring that her interests would be defended as against Russia, France and Germany "at the cost of war" if necessary.

In February the French crossed the Niger, the Maine was blown up while resting under the safeguard of "Spanish honor," and Russia was found secretly plotting for the lion's share in China. April, the historic month in American annals, saw the Spanish war an established fact, the Cuban ports blockaded and both the Spanish and American fleets active.

May day was crowned with a new significance by Dewey's victory at Manila, a blow so surprisingly novel and audacious that the brightest statesmen of the universe have not yet ceased to marvel at it. During this month Cervera's squadron reached the Caribbean sea unmolested, taking, as some thought, the second trick in the game of naval strategy, but the advantage was lost by his speedy retreat into Santiago harbor.

In May, also, Italy was convulsed with bread riots, the Carlists threatened to overthrow the monarchy in Spain, peace was barely preserved among Germans and Slavs in Austria-Hungary, and the prospect of an Anglo-American alliance set the whole world to figuring upon the future arbiter of the destinies of the nations.

During June and July all interest is centered in the invasion of Cuba and the military occupation of Manila harbor. From the hoisting of the flag at Guantanamo, on June 10, until it replaced the standard of Spain above the governor's palace at Santiago, July 17, there were skirmishes daily, and the three desperate battles of July 1, 2, and 3 resulted in bringing the doomed city under Shafter's guns, with the luckless Cape Verde squadron, Spain's last hope in the west, lying wrecked upon the Cuban shore.

In August Porto Rico fell under American sway, the city of Manila also, and the peace protocol was signed. The last question in dispute was settled by Spain's acceptance on Nov. 28 of America's demand regarding the Philippines. Meanwhile military occupation of distant lands has given the American people a sterner sense of the problems involved in the new national departure.

During the months of greatest international excitement, May and August, two of the world's most influential men, Bismarck and Gladstone, passed away. To crown all, in the passes of the ancient valley of the Nile was settled at a stroke the great problem of modern warfare by the annihilation of an army of 30,000 dervishes at the hands of a few skillful artillerymen whose machine guns literally "piled the ground with Moslem slain." This unparalleled military achievement followed close upon the heels of the czar's manifesto urging general disarmament in the interests of peace, and may have hastened the approval given by the powers to the farsighted autocrat's well timed appeal.

Then, as a sort of an anticlimax to the cumulative series of startling events, came the royal tragedy enacted in the peaceful environs of a free city of Switzerland, when the dagger of a wandering anarchist put an end to the troubled life of Austria's venerable and most estimable empress. Man knoweth not indeed "what a day may bring forth," much less a year of 365 days.

A gentleman remarked recently that had a stranger or an outsider come to North Carolina, and made the cures among our people that Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy had made, the people would have been stirred as never before. Read this and suppose a case:

Eleven years ago I had a child that was delicate from birth, and for six months she was under constant care of the best physician we had in our town. But his medicine seemed powerless to control the bowel trouble, which had become chronic dysentery. She also suffered from some aggravated blood trouble, which caused large sores and risings to break out on her body. Oft time there would be as many as 20 or 25. We had several doctors to treat her at different times, but nothing reached her case. They would lance these risings, but as soon as one was cured another broke out, and the doctors gave me no hope of her cure. After she had led a life of agony and suffering for six months, I was inspired to try Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. There was a change for the better in twenty-four hours, it seemed to check the bowels at once, and after using a few bottles my child was entirely cured, and has never since had any sign of trouble and is now in perfect health. A few years after this I had two sores to break out on my ankle, and strange to say I did not think of Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy. I was under the treatment of doctors for three years, but the sores continued to get worse until they had eaten to the bone. I then thought of trying Mrs. Joe Person's Wash and did so, and it is almost useless to say it soon made a cure.

I wish I could speak so that every man, woman and child, in North Carolina could hear, that I might tell them what Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy and Wash did for me and mine. I advised one of my friends who had been a terrible sufferer for a long time, with nurses sore mouth. She used the Remedy and Wash, and it soon made a cure.

I have recommended it to ever so many of my friends, for indigestion and other ailments, and I have never known it to fail to cure yet. There is no medicine equal to it.

The Eastern Reflector

TWICE-A-WEEK.

Is only $1 a year and contains the news every week, and gives information to the farmers, especially those growing tobacco, that is worth many times more than the subscription price.

THE DAILY REFLECTOR

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Fair tonight and Thursday, colder Thursday night. Hoist cold wave signal. Cold wave for North Carolina, temperature will fall sixteen to twenty degrees by Wednesday night.

WINE OF CARDUI MONTHLY SUFFERING.

Thousands of women are troubled at monthly intervals with pains in the head, back, breasts, shoulders, sides hips and limbs. But they need not suffer.

These pains are symptoms of dangerous derangements that can be corrected. The menstrual function should operate painlessly.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

makes menstruation painless, and regular. It puts the delicate menstrual organs in condition to do their work properly. And that stops all this pain. Why will any woman suffer month after month when Wine of Cardui will relieve her? It costs $1.00 at the drug store. Why don't you get a bottle to-day?

For advice, in cases requiring special directions, address, giving symptoms, "The Ladies' Advisory Department," The Chattanooga Medicine Co., Chattanooga, Tenn.

Mrs. ROZENA LEWIS, of Genaville, Texas, says: "I was troubled at monthly intervals with terrible pains in my head and back, but have been entirely relieved by Wine of Cardui."

WINE OF CARDUI

Everybody seemed to enjoy Christmas. There was not altogether as much noise as usual, and there was less drunkenness than we ever saw at Christmas.

HOLIDAY NEWS.

Little Bits Picked Up Between The Christmases.
