REMEDY FOR SMALL POX.

It Has Cured 100,000 Cases.

A correspondent of the Liverpool Mercury writes that journal as follows: "I am willing to risk my reputation as a public man if the worst case of small pox cannot be effectually cured in three days simply by cream-of-tartar. This is the sure and never failing remedy. One ounce of cream-of tartar dissolved in a pint of boiling water, to be drank when cold at short intervals. It can be taken any time, and is a preventative as well as a curative. It is known to have cured in a hundred thousand cases without a failure. I myself have restored hundreds by this means. It never leaves a mark, never causes blindness, and always prevents tedious lingering. If the people would only try it and report the cures to you, you would require to employ many columns if you gave them publicity." In sending the foregoing to the Chicago Tribune, a correspondent remarks that it is "a well-known treatment of Mr. Charles Rose, of Dorking, England."

Attempted Suicide.

New Orleans, February 9.—J. M. Ruffin, of Rocky Mount, N. C., today attempted to commit suicide on a sleeper on the Louisville and Nashville train by slashing his wrists. When the train arrived here Ruffin was taken to the hospital. He is in a serious condition owing to loss of blood, but was able to speak. He said he was the superintendent of a cotton mill in North Carolina and that he was coming here to the carnival. He had no family and was tired of living. He had $1,420 in cash on his person and a check and other valuables aggregating $21,000.

WINTERVILLE DEPARTMENT.

NEWSY HAPPENINGS AND BUSINESS NOTES.

WINTERVILLE, N. C., Feb. 11, '99.

Mrs. A. J. Petty is better we are glad to know.

Mr. Joseph Blow has accepted a position in Winterville Cigar Factory.

Mr. Beacham the new merchant here is getting in some goods.

We are glad to have Mr. Rowan Cooper up and stirring around again.

A. G. Cox continues to pay 12½ per bushel for Cotton Seed also will exchange meal for seed.

Mrs. William Taylor died here Thursday of Consumption, she leaves a husband and an 18 month's old child.

The wire fence business if frozen up now, but by the time you want some put up we can go to work again. All styles on hand.

Mrs. Kate Smith, of Jonesboro and Mrs. Council Dawson, of near Littlefield, came up on the train yesterday morning, spent the day here and returned last night.

B. F. Manning & Co. are head quarters for good guanoes. Foremost among their brands is Baughs, Orinoco, Electric Crop Grower, Farmers Bone, Ammoniated Bone, etc. You will do well to see them before buying elsewhere.

When this weather breaks so farmers can get to work; some of them when they start to hauling dirt are going to find that they need a new cart. Well if it is you, at Winterville is the place to buy one of the A. G. Cox Mfg. Co.

A Good Man.

The friends of Mr. R. R. Cotton, a member of the present and new Board of Directors of the penitentiary, and one of its most efficient, would be greatly pleased to see him chosen to be one of the executive committee provided for by the new law. His experience on the board and his splendid success in the management of his own large farming operations give him peculiar claims for this position, and the board will consult the interests of the institution by electing him to be one of the three to be chosen.—Raleigh Post.

That's Why.

THE REFLECTOR has been short on personal items this week. The grip kept the editor from meeting trains to report arrivals and departures and the balance of the force had too much office work to do to get out there. We don't like to leave out names, but could not help it this week.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

From Our Regular Correspondent.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 10, '99
The bill for the increase of the regular army is believed to be as dead as it deserves to be. It is understood that notice has been served upon the administration Senators that they will not be allowed to pass the Hull bill, or any other bill proposing to give the President authority to maintain a standing army of 100,000 men, at the present session. If a vote could be had, the administration might get its bill through, although it is by no means certain that it could; but the minority has the power to prevent a vote, and will not hesitate to exercise it. An informal offer has been made to agree to an amendment to the regular Army appropriation bill, authorizing the maintenance of the war strength of the regular army—62,000—for one year from the first of July, and, unless there are decided changes of opinion, that is about all the army legislation that will get through at this session of Congress.

Mr. McKinley has given out an edition of the report of the War Investigating Commission, which contains no surprises and will not convince a single individual that Alger has not been a misfit from the beginning of the war, and that beef unfit for use was not issued to the army, nor that Miles deserves censure for calling public attention to the bad meat. Great stress is laid by the administration and the friends of the gentleman who served on the Commission on the fact that the report is in keeping with the evidence, and that it was signed by them all, except Col. Sexton, who died last week. Such a claim is unnecessary, because the facts are generally admitted. What is objected to and what makes the report so much waste paper, is that no evidence was sought, although it might have been had in abundance, except that which would conduce to a whitewashing report. The money that the Commission has cost, and it is a considerable sum, has been absolutely wasted; not one single good purpose has been served by its expenditure.

The sentence of six years suspension from rank and duty, which was put upon Gen. Eagan by the President, isn't half so bad as it sounds. During the next six years, or until he reaches the age for retirement, in January, 1905, Eagan may engage in any occupation that may please his fancy, go wherever the notion strikes him to go, and continue to draw the salary of a brigadier general. Had the sentence been suspension from rank, duty and pay, it might be considered a hard one, but Eagan ought to consider himself lucky, as it is, and he doubtless does, although, of course he and his friends may be expected to let out a few howls about how severely he has been treated—given six years leave on full pay, $5,500 a year.

That men of the most economical tendencies can be kept quiet by giving their districts a slice of the public "pork" it is proposed to distribute has been often demonstrated before, but never more strikingly than when the House, in two days passed, without serious objection from a dozen members, seventy-eight bills, providing for public buildings in thirty-eight States. Quite a number of those bills provide for the erection of public buildings in places where it is known that there is neither business enough to warrant such an expenditure, nor prospect that there will be for years to come. No wonder Representative Dockery referred to the proceedings as a "hog combine." Czar Reed has allowed it to become known that he intends to prevent the House passing a Nicaragua Canal bill. The friends of the Canal, among whom are about four-fifths of Congress, have set their wits to work to beat the Czar. One way to do it, which is now being considered, is for the Senate to put the Hepburn bill, which has been reported to the House as a substitute for the Morgan bill, passed by the Senate, in the River and Harbor bill, as an amendment.

Mr. G. C. Orman, who lives near Yorkville, S. C., owned a sow of the O. I. C. breed. The sow had a litter of pigs, five in all. The mother and four pigs died, leaving one pig to mourn their loss. Mr. Orman passed by the pen and seeing that the mother and four pigs were dead, and feeling sorry for the one little pig left, picked it up and carried it to the house. He put it in a box and left it near the door, while he went to get some milk for it. His fine pointer dog, who had a litter of puppies, came along and took the pig to her bed. She nursed it and raised it to be a healthy and vigorous piggy. The only thing that perplexes her is: is it a dog or a hog?—Charlotte Observer.

Experience is a Good Teacher.

Salisbury, N. C., Dec. 4, '98
From my own experience I have found Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy the best medicine known for building up the health in general. The greatest remedy in the world for dyspepsia, eczema, aches and pains and breaking up colds. Nine years ago I suffered with a chronic cold, which resulted in a bronchial affection and repeated serious troubles of the throat which were alarming. I was affected with something like croup and again laryngitis. I tried Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, and am free of all those troubles and have been ever since and feel confident the Remedy has made the cure. I have kept it in my family for years and have always found it invaluable for old and young. The extraordinary effect of this grand remedy is sure to be realized by all who give it a fair test.

Sincerely,
MRS. M. E. RAMSAY.

History of the Spanish War

By Dr. ALBERT SHAW,

Editor of the REVIEW OF REVIEWS,

AND A LONG LIST OF NOTABLE CONTRIBUTORS.

Over 1,200 Pages and 500 Valuable Illustrations.

Three Beautiful Volumes in Half Morocco.

See special offer at bottom of this advertisement.

This Magnificent Edition for only ONE DOLLAR DOWN.

To the readers of this paper we make the following proposition to become members of the Review of Reviews History Club, and obtain the three volumes of

Our War in Two Hemispheres,

By ALBERT SHAW,

Editor of the "American Monthly Review of Reviews" and author of "Municipal Government in Great Britain," etc., and a number of prominent contributors.

EVERY American teacher possessing a library, and many that do not possess one, will be interested in the announcement of the history of the late war with Spain, now published by the REVIEW OF REVIEWS COMPANY. Much of the narrative was written by Dr. Albert Shaw during the actual fighting of the summer. This has been revised and amplified by him in the light of the official reports and documents, which have only become available after hostilities ceased. A free quotation from the critical Congressional debates and other public utterances at crucial periods aids in making this work what it is, the standard reference history of this decisive and successful struggle. But it is much more than a lively and comprehensive narrative. It goes back to the years of struggle in Cuba which prepared the way for the war; it discusses energetically all problems which confronted the United States after the war as to the Philippines, Cuba, and Porto Rico; and as a whole it forms a broadly conceived picture of the year which has seen America brought face to face with new world duties.

The important special and technical matters of the war period, generally dismissed by the historian with only slight and often insufficient discussion, are fully and authentically dealt with in continued chapters, written by men who had unusual opportunities for studying their subjects. Thus, the lessons which the war has for us as to the relative efficiency of rifles and machine guns are in a carefully written chapter by Lieut. John H. Parker, of the United States army; the military movements of the Santiago and Porto Rican campaigns are analyzed by the editor of the Army and Navy Journal; the battle with Cervera is described by the novelist, Winston Churchill, who is a graduate of the United States Naval Academy; the actual condition of Cuba before the war and the facts which caused the war are described by eye-witnesses, Murat Halstead and Stephen Bonsai.

The illustration of the book is especially valuable in the hundreds of portraits, pictures of the navies, photographed scenes of the war, and the entertaining cartoons reproduced from the Spanish, French, German, and English papers, as well as from the American.

How to obtain the handsome edition by a payment of only ONE DOLLAR DOWN.

The three beautifully bound large octavo volumes and a year's subscription to the AMERICAN MONTHLY REVIEW OF REVIEWS can be obtained by any of the readers of this paper by joining the Review of Reviews Club and paying one dollar. The volumes will be sent as soon as ready to those who remit the sum, and the purchase will be completed by the payment of one dollar per month for twelve months. The first volume will be ready early in December. The subscription to the magazine which goes with the offer can be dated from any month.

Washington's Tomb.

Washington was buried in what is now known as the old vault, which is perhaps 200 feet away from his present resting place. Before his death he had requested that a new family vault be constructed after his decease, and the reason given for this is that the earth upon the side of the hill where the old vault was placed was likely to slip away in the springtime.

No attention was apparently paid to this request, however, until about 1830, when an employee who had been discharged from the estate broke into the old tomb as an act of revenge and stole a skull which he supposed to be that of George Washington. This he took to Alexandria, and, as usual in such cases, "got drunk," and so his secret was discovered, and the skull, which proved to be that of Laurence Washington instead, was returned.

This incident led to the final carrying out of the wish of General Washington. The tomb which is his present resting place was promptly built, and in 1831 his remains were removed to it. The old vault was allowed to fall into a state of decay, and only a few years ago it was restored by the aid of drawings found in the congressional library. An iron fence has been built around it, and it now receives the same care as the new tomb.—Exchange.

A Greek Colony in Corsica.

At Cargese we have the remarkable spectacle of a Greek population with its own church settled down on the coast of Corsica. Our inn is kept by a Greek from Corfu, as his name, Corfioti, tells us, and as the loquacity of his wife would lead us to infer; for at Cargese the Corsican taciturnity has given place to the Hellenic love of talk. Rather more than two centuries ago a Greek settlement was founded in Corsica under the auspices of the Genoese republic, to which the island at that time belonged, and when the French came into possession of the country they established the Hellenic exiles, who had meanwhile founded the Chapelle des Grecs just outside Ajaccio at Cargese and built them the church which they have ever since cherished.

Intermarriages between the colonists and the natives, at first rare, have now become frequent, and it is to be feared that the Greek language will soon become as extinct there as the fustanella. But with that wonderful tenacity which it shows in modern Greece, in spite of centuries of barbarian invasions and Turkish oppression, the Greek type is sure to remain at Cargese to remind the traveler of its eternal youth and its unfailing characteristics.—Westminster Review.

Julius Caesar.

Of all great conquerors, writes Marion Crawford in "Studies From the Chronicles of Rome," he was the least cruel, for he never sacrificed human life without the direct intention of benefiting mankind by an increased social stability. Of all great lawgivers, he was the most wise and just, and the truths he set down in the Julian code are the foundation of modern justice. Of all great men who have leaped upon the world as upon an unbroken horse, who have guided it with relentless hands and ridden it breathless to the goal of glory, Caesar is the only one who turned the race into the track of civilization and, dying, left mankind a future in the memory of his past. He is the one great man of all without whom it is impossible to imagine history. We cannot take him away and yet leave anything of what we have. The world could have been as it is without Alexander, without Charlemagne, without Napoleon. It could not have been the world we know without Caius Julius Caesar.

"Ladies and gentlemen," said an Irish manager to an audience of three, "as there is nobody here, I'll dismiss you all. The performance of this night will not be performed, but will be repeated tomorrow evening."

SYRUP OF FIGS
NEVER IMITATED IN QUALITY.

THE EXCELLENCE OF SYRUP OF FIGS

is due not only to the originality and simplicity of the combination, but also to the care and skill with which it is manufactured by scientific processes known to the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, and we wish to impress upon all the importance of purchasing the true and original remedy. As the genuine Syrup of Figs is manufactured by the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. only, a knowledge of that fact will assist one in avoiding the worthless imitations manufactured by other parties. The high standing of the CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP Co. with the medical profession, and the satisfaction which the genuine Syrup of Figs has given to millions of families, makes the name of the Company a guaranty of the excellence of its remedy. It is far in advance of all other laxatives, as it acts on the kidneys, liver and bowels without irritating or weakening them, and it does not gripe nor nauseate. In order to get its beneficial effects, please remember the name of the Company—

More Snow.

Looks like we are in for it again. Snow commenced falling just after noon and with the frozen condition of things every flake seemed to stick. The ground was soon covered and it was still coming down when we went to press.

Wires Pulled Down.

Telephone communication with Stokes, Wichard and Pactolus, has been cut off for the last day or two, caused by one of the steamboats pulling down the wires where they cross the river. The water is so high that in made the mast of the boat reach the wires.

Services By a Former Pastor.

Rev. N. M. Watson, pastor of the Methodist church and who is at present in Raleigh, writes that he is suffering so with his vaccination that he will not be here tomorrow, but Rev. G. F. Smith, of Louisburg, will come and fill his pulpit for him. Mr. Smith was pastor in Greenville for four years, and our people will be glad to see and hear him again. He will arrive this evening.
