THE REVENUE ACT.

Some of the Sources to Raise Taxes.

The House of Representatives in considering the Revenue Act, on Wednesday, adopted it down to section 34. Some of the sources of revenue and the taxes levied against them are given below:

The tax on public ferries, bridges and toll gates is reduced to one per cent. Each horse and mule kept for hire is taxed fifty cents for each six months with an annual State tax of $25 on persons selling mules and horses. Every slot machine in which return is not certain, is taxed $100; gift enterprises, $20; lotteries, $1,000; itinerant dealers in any kind of prizes, $100 in each county. Billiard or pool tables or bowling alleys, $20 each, if liquor is sold on the premises, and if not $20. Liquor license of one per cent. on purchases must also be paid by a dispensary. Section 23 imposes a graduated license on merchants (doing away with the purchase tax) beginning with $1 on $500 capital and so on upward, so that $10,000 capital pays $6; $20,000 pays $13; $30,000 pays $29, etc. This was arranged at the instance of merchants and was perfectly agreeable to them—the merchants' purchase tax yielding $47,000 and this license tax it was estimated will yield $50,000. The license tax on liquor dealers is $100 annually.

Manila Partially Burned.

Manila, Feb. 23, 9:30 a. m.—Immense damage has been done by fires which are believed to have been started by insurgents last night. The fire department has experienced great difficulty in fighting the flames owing to defective apparatus. It is reported that the natives have damaged the apparatus.

There was some fighting in the streets during the night, but was quickly quelled. A number of the insurgents were killed and several American soldiers were wounded. A large market place was among the first to burn. Between six and seven hundred residences and business houses have been destroyed. Fires were started at several points simultaneously and spreading with great rapidity, resisted all efforts to control them. Hundreds of homeless natives are huddled in the streets, making the patrol duty of the Americans very difficult.

Manila, Feb. 23.—The fires in Santa Cruz, San Nicolas and Tondo districts last night were with the object of destroying and pillaging this city, and were evidently the work of the native secret militia. When the firing began insurgent bugle calls with answering blasts were heard and signal rockets were seen to rise from several points where the fires were located. The burning districts comprise an area of one square mile, Tondo comprising the largest part. The fire department was practically powerless and only by the blowing up of buildings in the path of the flames in San Nicolas district was further spread to the business section prevented. Many natives were undoubtedly burned to death, penned in by American guards.

The weather was considerably cooler, today but it was fine.

Don't Use Big Words.

In promulgating your esoteric cogitations and in articulating your superficial sentimentalities and amicable philosophical or psychological observations, beware of platitudinous ponderosity. Let your conversational communications possess a clarified conciseness, a compacted comprehensibility, a coalescent consistency and a concatenated cogency. Eschew all conglomerations of flatulent garbality, jejune babblement and asinine affectations. Let your extemporaneous decantings and unmediated expatiations have intelligibility and veracious vivacity without rhodomontade or thrasonical bombast. Sedulously avoid all polysyllabic profundity, pompous prolixity, psittaceous vacuity, ventriloquial verbosity and vaniloquent vapidity. Shun double ententes, prurient jocosity and pestiferous profanity, obscure or apparent. In other words, talk plainly, briefly, sensibly, naturally, purely, and truthfully. Keep from slang; don't put on airs; say what you mean; don't use big words.

STATE NEWS.

Happenings In North Carolina.

Judge J. W. Albertson, of Elizabeth City, is dead.

Greensboro had a warm contest over the dispensary but got it all the same.

It is said there are already some six or seven hundred cures for the grip, and now horseradish being recommended makes a grater number.

The Western North Carolina Methodist Conference has purchased the large hotel at Bessemer City, and will, it is understood, establish there an Industrial School for girls.

The county commissioners of Wilkes have authorized the county attorney to bring suit against Clarence Call, ex-sheriff, and his bondsmen for an alleged deficit of $17,000. He is a Republican.

The Longest Day.

It is quite important, when speaking of the longest day in the year, to say what part of the world we are talking about, as will be seen by reading the following list, which tells the longest day in several places.

At Stockholm, Sweden, it is eighteen and a half hours in length.

In Spitsbergen, the longest day three and one-half months.

At London, England, and Bremen, Prussia, the longest day has sixteen and one half hours.

At Hamburg, in Germany, and Dantzig, in Prussia, the longest day has seventeen hours.

At Wardbury, Norway, the longest day lasts from May 21 to July 22, without interruption.

At St. Petersburg, Russia, and Tobolsk, Siberia, the longest day is nineteen hours and the shortest five hours.

At Torenna, Finland, June 21 brings a day nearly twenty-two hours long, and Christmas one less than three hours in length.

At New York, the longest day is about fifteen hours, and at Montreal, Canada, it is sixteen hours.—Selected.

A Funeral Coincidence.

A rather singular coincidence was noted Monday by persons living on the corner of Graham and Eighth streets.

Eighth street is the entrance to Pinewood (colored) Cemetery. About 3 o'clock Monday afternoon a negro funeral coming out of Eighth street met another negro funeral which had come down Graham street, at Eighth, and the two went along Eighth to the cemetery, the hearses being parallel. About a half-hour later the same thing happened again.—Charlotte Observer.

Revenue Rulings.

Addressing Mr. S. C. Duncan, collector for the Fourth North Carolina district, Acting Internal Revenue Commissioner Wilson, says: "Referring to your letter of the 10th instant, inclosing one from Messrs. Thorpe & Ricks, who are leaf tobacco dealers, and who have paid special tax as manufacturers of tobacco, you are advised that dealers in leaf tobacco are not privileged to purchase tobacco stems, refuse scraps, cuttings, clippings or sweepings of tobacco for the purpose of reselling the same to other dealers in leaf tobacco. Tobacco stems are largely used in the manufacture of snuff, and are considered as tobacco material, and they must be properly accounted for on the book of the manufacturer, both when he purchases stems and when they are sold. A dealer in leaf tobacco has the right to sell stems which are taken from the leaf by him at his stemmery, but he has no right to buy and sell tobacco stems under his license as a dealer in leaf tobacco. The special tax stamp issued in this case should not be redeemed as these persons have under the law and the regulations, incurred liability to tax as manufacturers of tobacco."

Writing to Mr. D. N. Corningore, collector of the Sixth Kentucky district, Commissioner Wilson says: "This office has received your letter of the 21st instant, in which you call attention to the internal revenue rulings 6 and 11 (p. 17 and 18, series 7, No. 8, revised), in which it is held:

"(6) Persons who go from farm to farm and purchase leaf tobacco, and then place it in several warehouses and subsequently sell the tobacco from these warehouses, will be liable to special tax as dealers in leaf tobacco at the several places where the tobacco is stored and from which it is sold."

"(11) Persons who sell and deliver leaf tobacco from several warehouses will be regarded as dealers in leaf tobacco at each place; but where the tobacco is bought at several places and the entire lot is shipped to one place, to be resold at that place, they will only be required to pay special tax at the place where they sell tobacco."

"It appears to the office that the case you present should come under one of these rules, if not both, and that a dealer in leaf tobacco will be required to qualify and pay a special tax at each place where he is carrying on business; but, to amplify the rulings so that the case presented may be properly determined by you, you are advised that where a dealer in leaf tobacco has several warehouses in which he temporarily stores his tobacco, and from which he afterwards resells his tobacco to himself at another warehouse, from which he sells the tobacco, he would only be required to pay a special tax for the place where he last receives and sells the tobacco.

"If, in fact, leaf tobacco is purchased and placed in a particular warehouse for the purpose of being sold and delivered to the purchaser from that warehouse, the case would not come within the exception provided by section 3235, Revised Statutes, and could not be considered as having been temporarily stored at that place, notwithstanding he may have had an office and kept his books at another place.

"If the owner has a superintendent or employee at each warehouse where he buys and receives tobacco, and from which he sells and delivers tobacco, he will be required to make return and pay special tax for each place."—Winston Southern Tobacco Journal.

Secretary Wilson tells the farmers of the South that the way to make their cotton crop pay is to grow less of it. He insists that "diversification" is the gospel of prosperity for the southern farmer. He should feed his cottonseed to his own steers; make his own butter, and to that end learn the art of butter making; raise his own spring chickens and spring lambs, and spring them early on the northern markets. Diversification would afford larger opportunity for the employment of the negroes of the South, and thus help to solve at one and the same time the questions involved in land and labor in that section of the country.—Phil. Record.]

A Methodist minister in Salem, Mass., had circulars distributed broadcast in the town inquiring why men did not attend church. Many as, in the old Scripture days, "began to make excuse," but fully 90 per cent, declared that the church was a blessing to the community, although not attending it themselves. This leads The Observer to remark that the number is legion of those who are willing to patronize the church in an impersonal sort of way and to recommend it as being a very desirable thing—for somebody else.

Hold on to Them.

Hold on to virtue; it is above all price to you in all times and places.

Hold on to your good character, for it is and ever will be your best wealth.

Hold on to your hand when you are about to strike, steal or do any improper act.

Hold on to the truth, for it will serve you well and do you good throughout eternity.

Hold on to your tongue when you are just ready to swear, lie or speak harshly or use an improper word.

Hold on to your temper when you are angry, excited or imposed upon or others angry about you.

Hold on to your heart when evil persons seek your company and invite you to join their games, mirth and revelry.

Hold on to your good name at all times, for it is much more valuable to you than gold, high place or fashionable attire.—Endeavor Herald.

Government participation in international exhibitions of one sort or another is expected as a matter of course, and it is rather difficult to draw the line where reciprocity ends and exaggerated peep show jobbing begins. The safe rule of the State Department has been to recognize officially only those exhibitions which, although largely local, relate directly to fields of industrial enterprise which America seems destined to occupy. From this point of view the forthcoming International Exposition at Glasgow in 1901 seems well worthy of American participation and support. The Scotch are among our best customers, and an exhibit of products of the United States in the commercial metropolis of Scotland would largely stimulate a traffic which has already become heavy and profitable.—Philadelphia Record.

It is great relief to be rid of Judge Norwood, who did so much to bring the judiciary into disrepute. He is said to be a clever gentleman personally, and we have no reason to doubt it, but a morbid sentimentalism bolstered him up in the exalted position he has disgraced entirely too long. It is the poorest sort of business for any man, but for a preacher or a judge to persist in getting drunk as a dog, and wantonly sacrificing the sacred name of truth and justice to his appetite ought to be sufficient cause to strip him of his authority at once. Let him be retired to private life, where a great office shall not suffer for his sins.—Charity and Children.

Experience is a Good Teacher.

Salisbury, N. C., Dec. 4, '98
From my own experience I have found Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy the best medicine known for building up the health in general. The greatest remedy in the world for dyspepsia, eczema, aches and pains and breaking up colds. Nine years ago I suffered with a chronic cold, which resulted in a bronchial affection and repeated serious troubles of the throat which were alarming. I was affected with something like croup and again laryngitis. I tried Mrs. Joe Person's Remedy, and am free of all those troubles and have been ever since and feel confident the Remedy has made the cure. I have kept it in my family for years and have always found it invaluable for old and young. The extraordinary effect of this grand remedy is sure to be realized by all who give it a fair test. Sincerely,
MRS. M. E. RAMSAY.

A Boston letter carrier recently found in a mail box two bank books and some notes and papers representing an aggregate of $4,400. Investigation developed the fact that they had been stolen, together with $200, from a man at the Boston and Albany station. The thief evidently found that the bank books and notes were of no use to him, so he took the above method of restoring them to their owner, keeping the $200.

The celebrated preacher had just finished his sermon, when the reporter rose from his seat at the back and started down the aisle.

"Ah, brother," spoke the minister in a voice that trembled with emotion, "have you come to be saved?"

"No, sir; I've come for a copy of the sermon."—Pittsburg Chronicle.

HEART DISEASE.

SOME FACTS REGARDING THE RAPID INCREASE OF HEART TROUBLES.

Do Not Be Alarmed, But Look For The Cause.

Heart troubles, at least among the Americans, are certainly increasing and while this may be largely due to the excitement and worry of American business life, it is more often the result of weak stomachs, of poor digestion.

Real organic disease is incurable; but not one case in a hundred of heart trouble is organic.

The close relation between heart trouble and poor digestion is because both organs are controlled by the same great nerves, the Sympathetic and Pneumogastric.

In another way, also the heart is effected by the form of poor digestion, which causes gas and fermentation from half digested food. There is a feeling of oppression and heaviness in the chest caused by pressure of the distended stomach on the heart and lungs, interfering with their action; hence arises palpitation and short breath.

Poor digestion also poisons the blood, making it thin and watery, which irritates and weakens the heart.

The most sensible treatment for heart trouble is to improve the digestion and to insure the prompt assimilation of food.

This can be done by the regular use after meals of some safe, pleasant and effective digestive preparation, like Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, which may be found at most drug stores and which contain valuable, harmless digestive elements in a pleasant, convenient form. It is safe to say that the regular persistent use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at meal time will cure any form of stomach trouble except cancer of the stomach.

Full sized package of these tablets sold by druggists at 50 cents. Little book on stomach troubles mailed free. Address F. A. Stuart, Co., Marshall, Mich.
